Delayed Trains. The passenger and mail train on the C. F. & Y. V. railroad, due here Thurs day night at 11 o'clock arrived yesterday at noon-thirteen hours behind time. The delay was caused by a snow blockade on the outskirts of Fayetteville. The train consisted of an engine and three coaches. An extra engine was brought into requistion to force a way through the snow-drift, but in the effort one of the engines and two cars were derailed, blocking the track. The "shoe fly" on the W. & W. railroad due at 11:30 o'clock yesterday was delayed by the snow and ice and did not get in until 5 o'clock in the after-

In behalf of the monument to the private soldier and sailor of the Confederate. States, whose valor and devotion have won alike the undying gratitude of our people and the admiration of the world; and in behalf of the Memorial Museum to be established in the mansion occupied by President Davis as long as the Confederacy lasted, this appeal is made, to which every citizen of the Southern States is earnestly asked to give sympathy and support.

It is designed that the monument shall speak for each State of the Confederacy, of its sacred love and reverence for the dead, the name of each State graven on the stones forming the magestic column upon which will stand the stalwart figure of the Confederate private: and in the museum, where one may learn the true story of that dire struggle, and imbibe the spirit of that self-sacrifice which gladly gave its all at the call of duty, it is intended to assign room to each State (bearing its name), in which shall be placed the sacred relics of the glorious past; and that it shall also be represented on the Board of Managers by a lady regent from that

Throughout the South there are many patriotic monuments erected to the memory of the gallant leaders of the Confederacy, but none to the heroic private, who won its glorious victories and bore the severest hardships. These memorials are to commemorate the virtues of all the heroes from all the Southern States.

Perhaps no one spot so speaks of the people of the Confederacy, or is more associated with their unparalleled heroism, than Richmond, the Capital, on whose most lotty hill, overlooking those fields once drenched with the blood of the soldier from every State, and that on-sweeping river so gallantly defended ov the intrepld sailor, it should be our monument-the combined offering of love and gratitude from the entire Southern people. And surely within the walls where so often gathered the valiant men and true, these lasting memorials of the noble sons and daughters of all the South should be sacredly guarded, that the past may be ever held in honored remembrance, and our children's children may learn-

> "How sublime a thing it is To suffer and be strong.'

To this end, there will shortly be held in this city a Memorial Bazaar. In it there will be a table, or tent, for each State, bearing its name, shield, colors and motto; and it is earnestly desired that each State shall assist its own table with contributions of all kinds. This bazaar will be under the auspices of the Memorial Associations and Confederate Camps, and direct appeals will soon be sent out by them to enlist the active cooperation of those who never failed to nonor-what now is only a memory dear to every heart-the cause they believed

Superior Court-An Interesting Case.

The January term of the Superior Court for New Hanover county will convene in this city next Monday. Judge Connor will preside. One of the most interesting cases on the calendar is the suit for damages in a large amount brought by Mr. C. P. Lockey against Judge Daniel L. Russell for linel. Lockey and Russell are leaders or representatives of warring Republican tactions. and the suit is the outgrowth of the bitter hostility that has existed for some time between the two. The counsel named in the case are-for the plaintiff. Col. A. M. Waddell, Mr. Iredell Meares and Mr. Jno. D. Bellamy, Jr.; for the defendant, Messrs. Ricaud & Weill, Bryan, Robinson, Rountree and McClammy.

The case is set for trial on Tuesday,

January 24th.

Generous Merchan s of Bladenboro, Messrs. R. L. Bridgers & Bros., and Mr. S. L. Furgeson, two prominent merchantile firms of Bladenboro, N. C., made a proposition to Conductor Bowden, of the Carolina Central railroad, that they would each give a car-load of wood to suffering poor of Wilmington it the railroad officials would have it hauled here free. Capt. Bowden reported the matter to officials of the road here, who agreed to do it, and the wood will be turned over to the Chief of Police, or some charitable organization, who will distribute it to the ones who most need it. These gentlemen deserve the thanks of the community for their generosity.

BRANCHING OUT.

The Coast Line to Build a New Extension into the Yadkin Valley.

Charleston News and Courier: It is stated upon good authority that the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad has completed a preliminary survey for a new railroad from Wadesboro, on its Cheraw and Salisbury branch, to Winston, North Carolina. The road will be ninety miles long, and will penetrate the Yadkin Valley, which has one of the most remarkable water powers in the country. the fall being about 200 feet in the mile. At Winston the road will connect with the Roanoke and Southern, a branch of the Norfolk and Winston, which has its terminus at that place. The building of this connecting line will give the Norfolk and Western a Southern outlet for the products of the Pocahontas coal fields, and the Norfolk and Western is, therefore, thought to be in close sympathy with the enterprise, and it is considered probable that it will facilitate its construction. In fact it is reported that the Norfolk and Western, as well as the Coast Line, is an endorser upon the bonds for constructing the line. When opened, however, the road will be operated by the Atlantic Coast Line. It is further stated upon the same authorny that the work of construction will be commenced just as soon as the locating surveys have been completed, and that it will be pushed to completion with all possible rapidity.

About half-past eleven o'clock in the forenoon fire broke out in the residence of Mr. Geo. L. Morton, on Fourth between Hanover and Brunswick streets. The fire was caused by a defective fireplace. The firemen cut a hole in the ceiling of the room and put out the fire with extinguishers carried on the hook and ladder trucks. The damage is estimated at about $50 00 and is fully covered by insurance with Mr. J. H Boatwright. Dr. A. L. Scott, who is laid up with rheumatism, occupied the room in which the fire broke out.

RELIEF FOR THE POOR. Suggestions by Citizens Concerning Fu

and Provisions. Editor Star:-I see that citizens are contributing very liberally to help the worthy poor, but it is the opinion of one who sees a great deal of this suffering, that if this money is now placed in the hands of Mrs. Roger Moore, Mrs. Daniel or Mrs. Empie, a great deal more good could be accomplished, as these ladies are seeking out all worthy cases and assisting them, while sometimes it happens that two or three parties assist the same family and other needy ones have to do without. A concentration will cause all to be assisted. ONE WHO KNOWS.

Editor Star:-There has been already good deal of suffering in our city, and if the weather of the past three weeks continues there must necessarily be much more suffering in our midst, not only for food, but also fuel, as many have been thrown out of employment, and a good deal of outdoor work stopped. In the emergency of the case would it not be wisdom for the railroad authorities to encourage by reasonable rates of freight and prompt transportation the bringing of wood to the city, for should the supply of fuel be exhausted our people would be in an awful situation.

The comedy presented at the Opera House last night was all that it has been represented to be. At Sylva, N. C., in the Blue Ridge section, Tuesday, the temperature was down to 28 degrees below zero.

Partridges are starving and freezing to death at many places in North Caroina and Virginia.

Parties at Norforlk from Currituck Sound say the canal near Coinjock is perfectly jammed with vessels unable to move. The freeze has made it little or no trouble to kill ducks and geese on the sounds. Every air-hole in the ice is filled with them, and they are gentle to what they usually are. Myriads of fowl are taking to the woods and fields in search of food.
