There is a proposition to have Washington's Farewell Address read on the 22d inst. before the Pennsylvania State Senate. It will be news to some of the Solons.

It is said that President Harrison is receiving some large offers from publishers for articles from his pen. One on "How I Didn't Get There"

The casualties so far reported from the Kansas war are a "bloody nose." In this respect the Kansas fracas gets away with the Hawaiian "revolution," which was entirely bloodless.

General Alger does not seem to be in love with Mr. Harrison "who," he says, "never acknowledges a favor and with great regularity sat down on every man who had been useful to him." Perhaps Mr. Alger may find something soothing in the way the people sat down on Mr. Harrison.

Property owners along the line of inaugural parade are getting rich enough now to live for the next four or five years without work. Sights from which to view the parade are selling at about $4.50 square inch. This sort of grab isn't exactly the square way of treating the unsophisticated sojourner who hasn't in the past quarter of a century had much opportunity to witness Democratic entertainments of that kind.

WHAT YOUR PAY WILL BE. Federal Positions in North Carolins-A

WHOLE NO. 8,058

Nearly Complete List With the Selaries

We print below a list of Federal positions in North Carolina, for which we are indebted to the Washington correspondent of the Charlotte Obssrver. The list is not quite complete, U.S. District Attorneys and their assistants and U. S. Marshals and Deputies being omitted, for example. A number of errors, chiefly in the salaries of Postmasters, have been corrected by the STAR, and in its present shape the article will be read with much interest by the numerous office-seekers to be found everywhere. Reminding the aspirants that a good many of these positions come under the Civil Service rules, we will keep them no longer in suspense, so here's the list:

The engrossing topic being the offices, find no better use for this space than to give facts compiled from the blue books which many people in the two Carolinas would like to learn. The Colonel.

This delightfully merry play has taken a firm hold on the hearts of the people. Not in a decade has it been chronicled where a play has gone in public favor with such rapidity, and at the same time taken a hold which clearly demonstrates that it has come to stay. Mr. Oscar P. Sisson, a comedian whom everyone remembers with pleasure, handles the comedy part in a manner which leaves nothing to be desired. His wit and humor is the essence of merriment and his every word and gesture bring hearty laughter. Josephine Florence Shepherd, an artist of famed ability, is a happy foil to jolly Oscar. To miss seeing "The Colonel," is to miss a treat.

SENATOR DAY USED HIS FIST

Ten lines solid Nonpareil type make one square.

On Mr. Josephus Daniels in the Senate Chamber Yesterday at Baleigh,

[Special Star Correspondence.] RALEIGH, N. C., February 18.—There was an exciting scene in the Senate Chamber this morning just before that body was called to order. The cause of the flurry was a personal altercation between Senator W. H. Day, of Halifax. and Mr. Josephus Daniels, editor of the North Carolinian. The facts appear to be that Mr. Day seeing Mr. Daniels in the aisle of the Senate talking, called him up and told him that he had been misrepresenting him and his motives. He said that Daniels had been saying that he (Day) had fought him for public printer because he was the attorney of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad. Mr. Day told Mr. Daniels that this was a lie and that he would so denounce it on the floor of the Senate. Mr. Daniels retorted that Mr. Day was representing the interests of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad in the Senate, whereupon Mr. Day struck him a staggering blow with clenched fist squarely in the face. Mr. Daniels retreated backward and did not attempt to return the blow. Several by standers ran in and taking hold or Mr. Day bodily carried him off to another part of the chamber, he roundly denouncing Mr. Daniels all the while. The Senate chamber was already crowded, the hour of meeting being just about at hand. A large number of ladies were seated in the gallery and they gazed down upon the combat in the arena below with apparently as much awe as the packed amphitheatres have watched the gladatorial contests of preceding centuries. The excitement surged for a few moments during which some of Mr. Daniels' friends seized the opportunity to run around among the Senators and propose upon the strength of the fight to hold a Democratic caucus and vote Mr. Daniels his old pay of fifteen per cent, again as Public Printer. This boom, however, did not meet with heads. The Senate was soon called to order and the excitement subsided. It is understood that Messrs. Day and "It is almost certain that crinoline and hoopskirts will return, and I believe that the ladies will not only wear them, but will welcome their return," said one of the best-known Philadelphia modistes, She added: "For the protest will be of no avail. What fashion decrees the ladies will accept." And this is the opinion of nearly all the fashionable The present outcry against the hoop-skirts and crinoline is only another instance of history repeating itself. Since the first advent of this style of dress, kings and emperors of different countries have issued decrees against it; the churches has preached against it, and societies have been organized to wage war against it. But crinoline and hoopskirts thrived upon all this, and the crinoline grew stiffer and the hoopskirts stouter, so that at one time it was not unusual to see a skirt seven or eight yards in circumference.

The settlement of the vexed railroad question at Raleigh, which was foreshadowed in the STAR yesterday, is a fit subject for sincere congratulation. RAILROAD QUESTION SETTLED

ceptable to All Parties Concerned. Special Star Telegram. RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 18.—The Legislative Railroad Committee and officials of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company to-day arrived at a final settlement of the surrender of exemption and back-tax question, and the last proposition made by the Committee to the Railroad Company has been agreed upon. The Committee modified the terms so as to make them acceptable to the Railroad Company, and they signified their acceptance to-day. Representative F. S. Spruill, Chairman of the House branch of the Railroad Committee, authorizes the following statement of the settlement with the railroads: The Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company is to pay to the State three years back taxes on branch lines and a sum equal to three years taxes on the main line and all other propertythe years designated being 1890, 1891 and 1892-and is to pay to counties on branch lines, three years back taxes, and and 1892. All immunities are to be surrendered, and all rate-fixing rights. The Railroad has accepted the proposition and the matter has now only to be ratified by the General Assembly

Dr. and Mrs. Peschau's Birthday Recep-Many friends of Dr. and Mrs. Peschau called at their residence yesterday and congratulated them upon their birthday anniversary. A delegation of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals waited upon Dr. Peschau and informed him that he had been elected an honorary member of the association and at the same time presented him with an autograph album containing the names of officers and members of the association. In the evening Prof. Miller's orchestra called and rendered some fine music. Dr. and Mrs. Peschau were the recipients from friends who called dura collapse of the hoopskirt by such special pleading as this: "No woman ribbed around with steel would feel comfortable in an electric car, and the consequences of a car full of crinoline and electricity might give the News a full page local. The anti-crinoline club owes the News a vote of thanks for this pointer, for, deprived of street car privileges, the women of Charlotte couldn't get along at all." Electricity in a street car will possess no terrors for the wearers of crinoline, for the women all know, and Wade Harris knows, that every well regulated electric car is provided with a reliable

For two days they were water-bound, so to speak, not being able to take the fields on account of the heavy rains. They had about six hours of fine sport one day, bagging thirty-five partridges. The Sheriff played the "old Harry" with feathers "and sich." He had plenty of shots, but unfortunately he shoots from the "left" shoulder, and, consequently don't always shoot "right." In other words, he sometimes gets "left." But when it comes to twisting a Chatham county rabbit out of a hollow
