This would have satisfied everybody had not the Weather Bureau began issuing warnings of gales, cold waves, &c., but even then people were in hopes that "Old Prob" might be "off" this time. Not much! About eleven o'clock the wind veered to west and then to northwest, increasing in force, and by noon was rolling up a record for a genuine March gale. The rain turned to snow about 1,15 p. m., which lasted some ten minutes; and about this time the wind reached a velocity of 48 miles per hour from the northwest, and though moderating slightly, continued to blow a gale all last night. with the temperature dropping below freezing at a very discouraging rate; it being 31° at 8 o'clock, with promise of falling several more degrees before this morning.

This storm has been several days in coming to its severe focus. Thursday it appeared in Western Texas in the shape of an area of low pressure, which, by Friday morning, spread out over the interior, with the lowest pressure 29.78 inches over the lower lakes. This was flanked by a decided "high" in the Northwest, which was accompanied by a well defined cold wave. By yesterday morning, the low pressure area instead or moving off toward Canada, veered to the southwest, concentrating off the North Carolina coast, the barometer at When the Democratic primaries are the Wilmington station dropping as low

The Revival Meeting at Fifth Street M. E

The meeting at Fifth Street Methodist Church, in this city, has been going on for five weeks with increasing spiritual power. It was the purpose of the pastor to discontinue the meeting last week, but he could not do so because of the deep interest. It may be continued longer yet. A large number have professed conversion, and the church has been very much quickened by the revival. Services will be held at this church to-day at 11 o'clock, a. m., class-meeting at 2 o'clock, and preaching at night. The public is cordially invited to all services,
