Some Japanese brewers of sake, the Japanese national beverage, have confidence enough in its exhilarating properties to ship a lot of it to the World's Fair for free distribution. They say a few pulls at it would make a fellow paint the "White City" red all over.

M. Turpin, the inventor of melenite, which brought him fame, money and also sent him to prison, but who utilized his time in prison by several new inventions, claims that he has a gun which he can mount on a light wagon and in fifteen minutes discharge 25,000 projectiles over an area of 22,000 square metres. That would be an ugly thing for the festive mob to tackle.

A Miss Perkins, of Maine, didn't propose to have her will mixed up and get into the courts, so Miss P. wrote her own will, but seems to have missed it, for up to this time twenty-six lawyers have had a pull at it, and the returns are not all in yet. Women are generally supposed to have a will of their own, but it doesn't seem to hold in this

An inventor has patented a device for killing weeds along railroad tracks, by means of an electric brush which sends an electric current into the weeds and electrocutes them, as it were. When the inventor gets up an apparatus by which we farmers can rig up our little dynamo and knock the stuffing out of the weeds in our cotton corn and ingin patches, won't we have a daisy time?

Complaint is made that the French government has shown bad faith with other governments by failing to keep the agreement made at the Dresden Sanitary Conference, where each of the governments represented pledged itself to inform the others promptly of the appearance and spread of epidemic diseases within its borders. Although there have been more than 500 cases of cholera and 200 deaths in cities near the mouth of the Rhone, the French officials instead of making the facts known, as agreed to, have endeavored to conceal them, and they have become known only through the crude turpentine, 91 bbls. vigilance of British consuls.

RAILROAD NOTES.

- Augusta, Ga., June 20.-Torday a mortgage given by the Augusta & Manchester Railroad to the Safe Deposit and Trust Company of Baltimore was filed here for record. The mortgage is given on everything the railroad possesses, but it does not specifically state the exact amount borrowed. The only reference to the loan made is that it is for $15,000 a mile and an additional $200,000 for the construction of the road, which makes the full amount about $1,500,000. The bonds run fifty years and bear 5 per cent. in gold. The Atlantic Coast Line is back of the Augusta & Manchester and that is a guarantee that the new line will

- ALBANY, GA., June 21 .- The Central railroad people complain that the Savannah, Florida & Western railroad absolutely refuses to place their cars for melon shipments, with the result that the Central's business is very largely curtailed and the Savannah, Florida & Western is getting the hon's share of the melon business. Within the past two weeks there has not been less than one hundred orders for Central cars from shippers along the line of the Savannah, Fiorida & Western, which the latter has paid no attention to, thereby forcing shippers to use Savannah, Florida & Western cars and connections in order to get their melons to market.

A GOLDEN WEDDING.

Rev. Charles F. Deems Celebrates the Fiftieth Anniversary of His Marriage-Many Tokens of Esteem.

The Herald of the 21st has the followng interesting account of the golden wedding of Rev. Dr. Deems, so well known and so highly esteemed in Wilmington and throughout North Caro- over:

The Rev. Dr. Charles Force Deems, pastor of the Church of the Strangers, in Mercer street, celebrated yesterday the Real estate.......... 118,809 19 fiftieth anniversary of his wedding to Anna Disoway.

No invitations were sent out to the golden wedding and the callers were nearly all warm personal friends and parishioners of Dr. Deems. Few were allowed to see Dr. Deems, as it was feared he would not be able to stand the excitement, as he has not fully recovered from the stroke of paralysis he had on December 16 last. Many persons brought flowers, and before night Dr. Deems' rooms was a floral bower. A photographer was sent for at noon to take a a picture of Dr. and Mrs. Deems, surrounded by their floral gifts. The aged couple were very anxious to secure a good photograph.
Dr. Frank M. Deems and the Rev.

Edward M. Deems, the aged minister's two sons, and his daughter, Mrs. Marion I. Verdery, were with their parents most of the day.

Dr. and Mrs Deems are at present living with Mr. and Mrs. Verdery. The other daughter, Mrs. John Paul Egbert, resides in St. Paul, Minn., and could not attend the golden wedding. Dr. Deems has eleven grandchildren living. PRETTY GIFT TO HIS WIFE.

Ex-Judge James C. Spencer, an inti-mate triend of Dr. Deems, was an early caller. He was present when the Doctor called his children and wife to his side Dr. Deems took his wife's hand, and, placing a new ring on her finger. said:-"With this ring I thee do wed."

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Church of the Strangers presented through Robert Scott a gold loving cup, appropriately inscribed. The Sisters of the Strangers, a church organization, sent a little gold casket in which there were fifty gold coins-one for each year of married life.

The Junior Society of the Church presented a gold spoon. A number of poems from members of the congregation were also received. The Rev, Mr. Hudson, who is occupying Dr. Deems' pulpit during the latters' illness, called during the S. V. WHITE'S GREETING.

Many telegrams were received. The May golden afternoon sunsets shed their radiance upon a life which has been golden in its richness to mankind. Some two hundred cards bearing the names of Dr. Deems' parishoners were sent to the Doctor, tied together with golden cords. Among the callers were Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Latham, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Groesbeck, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Virgin, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. David

More Bank Capital.

The movement to establish a new bank here has not yet assumed definite shape; but the question is being serilevel-headed is the Coast Line manage- ously discussed, and the new bank will no doubt come, but probably not until confidence in business circles is at least partially restored. It is impossible for a city like Wilmington to do business successfully on a banking capital of about $150,000. This capital must be largely increased, either by the two banks now in operation or by establishing one or more new banks with ample capital There is room here for $500,000 banking capital, and probably more could be used with profit both to the public generally and to the banks.

A stockholder in the Bank of New Hanover sends to the STAR the following inquiry:

I would like to know to what extent stockholders are liable-whether or not they can be assessed in the event of the bank being unable to pay depositors and other creditors in full.

In reply, the STAR states that stock holders in State banks cannot be assessed at all to make up a deficiency, such as our correspondent refers to.

$1,605,416 08 The capital stock and undivided profits and unpaid dividends, (amounting to $353,994.44)-all of which it is conceded the stockholders must lose-if deducted from the total liabilities ($1,605,416.08) make the net liabilities, $1,251,-421.64. To meet this, the bank has, as before stated, assets amounting to $1,605,416.08, or $353,994.44 more than its liabilities to depositors and other creditors, and should there be a loss or shrinkage of this amount ($353,-994:44) in the assets, they will still get one hundred cents on the dollar. Pursuing the calculation further, if an additional loss of 25 per cent. on assets is conceded, this would still vield seventy-five cents on the dollar to all creditors. Twenty-five per cent. of $1,251,421.64 is $312,855.41. So, the sum of $666,849.85 may be utterly lost and deducted from the gross assets (1,605,416.08), and still leave seventy five cents on the dollar for all creditors. Those interested can make the calculations in their own way, taking the foregoing statement as a basis.

FAYETTEVILLE ITEMS.

The annexed extracts from the Fay etteville Gazette are of interest:

Receiver LeDuc of the Peoples' National bank tells us this morning that the stockholders are paying their assess-ment about as well as could be expected, in view of the hard times; that as soon as a sufficient amount is taken in he will recommend to the authorities at Washington the payment of another dividend of twenty or twenty-five per cent. The Chicora Reel Team No. 1 has gone into training preparatory to competing in the racing contests, which will form part of the programme of the State Firemen's Association annual tournament to be held in Wilmington in July. The team is composed of some of our best young men, all of whom are interested in the welfare of the Association.

Base Ball at Hilton.

A very interesting game of base ball will be played at Hilton Park this afternoon, instead of at Carolina Beach, between the Recreation and Carolina Beach teams. The battery for the Recreation team is, Smith, catch; Andrews, pitch. Carolina Beach team, Pearsall, pitch: Bennett, catch. Recreation team's support, Johnson, 1st base; Wright, 2nd base; Shutte, 3rd base; Bray, short stop; Burkhiemer, left field; Tolar, centre field; White, right field. THE RAILROAD COMMISSION.

Raleigh News and Observer. The following cases were disposed of resterday by the Railroad Commission: Wright vs. Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company. This was a complaint for failure to make as close connection as practicable with the Richmond & Danville Railroad at Selma. It appearing that the failure on the part of the defendant was due to its through connection at Wilson and the defendant in its answer having assured the commission of its purpose to avoid this inconvenience to the public as far as t can without disturbing its through connections, it was considered that no further order was necessary. Hundley Bros. vs. Richmond & Danville Railroad Company. Complaint for discrimination in the matter of freight. It appearing that the discrimination complained of has been corrected and redressed and that no further investigation was necessary, action was dismissed. Atlantic Coast Line to the Railroad Commission. This was an application for the discontinuance of agency at House. The commission declined to consent to the discontinuance.

Faison vs. Southern Express Company. This was a complaint for failing to give proper facilities for transaction. It appearing that the grievance complained of has been redressed by the defendant, action was dismissed.
