In addition to sundry other beverages, the Philadelphians annually consume 1,800,000 barrels of beer, for which they pay five cents a glass, including the foam.

There are three brothers in Berks county, Pa., named Winter Winter, who are, respectively, 94, 92 and 85 years of age. They are hale and hearty, and all shoemakers by trade, stickers to the last.

It is said that Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, doesn't know the value of money and is just as apt to give a street beggar a ten dollar gold piece as a quarter, if his hand strikes it first when he dives into his pocket, which he always does when he meets a beggar.

VOL. LIV.-NO. 115.

The total immigration for the fiscal year ending June 30, was 311,404, against 497,936 for the previous year-a very healthy falling off. This is the lowest showing since 1879, when the number was 177,826.

Charles McIlvaine, a fungi expert, says he has made square meals out of four hundred different kinds of toadstools and was never once poisoned. Perhaps he is provided with a sewer instead of a stomach.

During the past forty-six years the proprietors of the Parker House, in Boston, have paid out $8,188,906 for edibles for that hasherie and there wasn't $1,000 worth of beans in the lot.

Estimates on the wheat crop for this year range all the way from 385,-000,000 to 490,000,000 bushels. This is a big country and the guesser has plenty of latitude.

Senator Gorman and a few other Senators are Trust-ies, but they will bear a good deal of watching.

Ladies' Tournament at Marion, N. C.

The Record gives the following des cription of a ladies' tournament which took place last week: "All the young ladies looked lovely without a single exception, and the riding was excellent. Miss Yancey was adjudged the prize, amidst rounds of applause as the most skillful and graceful rider, while Misses McKesson and Sinclair competed for the prize for fast riding. Misses Cutlar and Davis of Wilmington were marshal and bugler for the occasion, and very gracefully did they fulfil their office After the competition of the races, the young ladies formed a column of twos and paraded the streets. The costumes won the admiration of all who beheld them. At night the tournament participants held a reception at Mr. D. W. London's residence. Each young lady called a young man out on the back porch with an air of mystery about it, and they all marched into the parlor and required

THE TURPENTINE SITUATION. The Views of a Buyer-He Thinks the Factors Cannot Hold Out-The Standard Oil Company Said to Be Taking a Hand. Another view of the situation in the Savannah surpentine market is thus.

To all appearances the naval stores fight has not yet been concluded, The buyers are taking a determined stand, and continue to say they have no orders for turpentine at 28 cents a gallon. clock. One of them said yesterday that very little had been said about the buyer's side of the contest, and on this account the impression had been spread that the factors were winning everything, hands down, which, he says, is by no means the case. "The reported large sale of spirits at 28 cents," he said, "was not made at all. Only 1,000 barrels were sold at 28 cents to place the market, while 10,000 barrels were sold at 27% cents instead of 20,000 at 28 cents, as was reported. This is the true state of that deal, and instead of holding out at 28 cents it can be seen that they did not do it from the start, PREDICTS INLAND BUYING.

"The factors are hurting themselves and the producers by the stand they have taken to a greater extent than they will ever be able to benefit them, The producers will suffer from the reaction which is bound to come on account of the heavy stocking of the port. The action of the factors will lead to interior buying. I would not be surprised to see agents at almost all of the cross-road towns within a comparatively short time, and the result will be to the detriment of Savannah, as the first naval stores port of the world.

"Consequent on this heavy stocking of the port are dangers and losses which ought to be taken into account. With 62,000 barrels of spirits here the total leakage must be something unusual while the insurance being paid out is rapidly piling up. The warehouses are over-stocked, and there are cars which cannot be unloaded. With this state of affairs comes the danger from a fire, which, should it break out in this large quantity of spirits, could hardly be checked unless caught in its very incipiency, and which would be a terrible menace to a great deal of the property of the city. "The buyers are not going to take the spirits at the price quoted, and they are not in as great need of it as the factors claim. HEAVY DOMESTIC SHIPMENTS PRE-DICTED.

One of the factors said yesterday that they had chartered two yessels, the barques Noe and Emulie, which would

At Hilton Park To-Night.

The Street Railway Company has made extensive and elaborate preparations for the entertainment and comfort of persons attending the performance to be given to-night at Hilton Park by Mile. Cyrene. The Park will be brilliantly lighted, and the stage upon which the performance will be given will be tastily decorated with bunting and flags loaned by the Light Infantry and vessels in the harbor, with Japanese screens and lanterns, and potted plants and flowers. Mississippi papers say the planters of that State are in a better condition to stand low prices this year than formerly, because with the low price of farm stock, supplies, &c., they have been able to make their crops at about 25 per cent, less cost than in former years.

Of six Japanese subjects educated by their Government at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, four are now in the Japanese navy, one a rear admiral, one a commander, one a captain and one a lieutenant. Perhaps this accounts for some of their good shooting.

The oleomargarine business is one that has not only held its own despite the depression in other things, but has been progressing right along. In 1890 the exports of oleomargarine amounted to 2,535,926 pounds, and of oleo oil 68,218,098 pounds; in 1894 there were 3,882,141 pounds of oleomargarine and 123,295,815 pounds of oleo oil. The average monthly production has increased from 2,800,000 pounds in 1887 to 1890, to more than 5,600,000 pounds in 1893 and 1894. The internal revenue collected from it for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, was $1,-723,489.

Mrs. / Dominis, ex-Queen Lil, of Hawaii, will now try to content herself if this Government will give her a pension. If the Republican party was in power she might stand some chance for that as President Harrison suggested something of that kind, about $20,000 a year. As the Republican party is not in power she had better turn her attention to Mr. Dole's Government. Perhaps she might get about $7 a month out of that, which would buy about all the crude turpentine, 2 bbls. provisions she needs, as they are cheap in Hawaii. But she would have to put on less style, and curb her propensity for fun, etc.

probably be loaded by the first of next week, and that they would ship the stuff direct. "We will sell in a moderate way," he said, "at 28 cents. The Iris will clear in a day or two with 8,500 barrels from this port, and with 2,500 barrels from Wilmington, which will go to Antwerp. "Heavy shipments to the West and by the coastwise steamers may be looked for in a few days. The business is not active as yet by any means, but we are satisfied it will hold its own. All the available freight room on the New York steamers have been chartered for the next two weeks, and it is highly probable that this freight room will be loaded with spirits of turpentine." Another factor reiterated the statements made with regard to the large deal and said the amount sold was 20,000 barrels.

From the statements made about the heavy domestic shipments it looks as i the Standard Oil Company had a hand in the transaction, as this concern in known to do about the largest domestic shipping business in spirits. This, too, is being talked among some of the buyers. It remains as yet to be seen which amounted in the aggregate to what will be the outcome of the situa tion.

MR. MYERS RESTING QUIETLY.

He is Receiving Every Care and Attentio Anxious Friends Can Bestow,

Anxious friends called hourly yester day at Mr. T. L. Alexander's, says the Charlotte Observer of yesterday, to ascertain the condition of Mr. J. M. Myers, who was shot by Mr, Fred Oliver Monday morning, Dr. Misenheimer was seen early by the Observer, and said the patient was resting comfortably. He was then asleep. Since being wounded Mr. Myers has not been able to lie down. He sleeps in a chair. Yesterday he walked from one room to another, but made no effort to try to leave the house. He has not asked anything about Mr. Oliver nor the trouble, and no one has mentioned it to him. The young men of the city have nursed him faithfully. I wo or three of them have been with him day and night. The advisability of taking him to the hospital was discussed vesterday, but it will be some days yet before he could be removed. His mind acted rationally and was quiet and easily controlled. Mr. Meyers' friends are all deeply grieved at his condition and the results of his state of mind. He is well known as one of the best salesmen who travel in the South, and is held in such esteen by the house he travels for that he would be in no danger of losing his position though he should not be able for a year to attend to business. He has always been generous to a fault, is a willing and effective worker in his occupation and cherished a warm memory of any kind-ness shown him. He has the good will and sympathy of all right-minded people. and it is hoped that he will soon he in shape to take up his work again.
