The New York man who declared that he would never have his hair cut until woman suffrage was established in that State is as bald as a billiard ball.

The possibilities and probabilities of another bond issue are being discussed in Washington. Secretary Carlisle hopes to be able to weather through without it. He will wait until he sees what Congress is going to do with the tariff before he will take any action in that direction.

HAAS MAY GET IT. Mr. Sol. Haas May Be Commissioner of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association. The 22nd day of August will be a fateul day in the affairs of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association, says the Atlanta Constitution. On that day will be held at Manhattan Beach the meeting of the controlling forces of that organization, who recently adjourned at a critical stage of their proceedings, without accomplishing the most important purposes for which they had met. At that meeting two or three things vitally affecting the association may occur. There may be a change of officers. There may be a lack of agreement on the part of the representatives of the railroads. And there is a rumor current to the effect that there is a bare probability of the disintegration of the association. Few can be found among the railroad men of the country who believe that the theless occurrences at the last of the association, which ad fortnight ago, gives slight cold report. One of the most important a esting stories concerning th meeting of the association is th refers to the probable change of officers of the association. It is said that Hon. E. B. Stahlman, the present commissioner, may decline re-election, and in the same connection it is said that there is opposition to Mr. Stahlman from certain sources.

MAY BE MR. HAAS. Two of the lines who are understood to oppose the commissioner are the Norfolk and Western and the Merchants and Miners' Transportation Company. Neither of these belong to the associa-tion, having withdrawn some time ago, after being heavily fined on two or three counts prepared by Mr. Stahlman. It is said that these roads went to the association meeting recently with the proposition that if a new commissioner were elected they would return to the associa-

It is said that Mr. Sol Haas will be elected to the commissionership in the event that Commissioner Stahlman goes out. And it is said, too, that if there is any opposing candidate when the election comes off that it will be Mr. Haas. There are those who favor him for the place and it is known that he is not disinclined to the position.

Mr. Haas is reported to be anything but satisfied with the position that he now has as assistant to President Spender the management of Messrs. W. S. cer of the Southern, and he has been Partrick and George E. Butler. The spoken of for several new positions recently. In the past few days it has been reported that he would be made first

The imports for the fiscal year ending June 30th last amounted to $617,841,449, against $815,059,709 for the previous year. The exports for the same period amounted to $869,207,941, a difference of $251, 466.942 in our favor. But a good deal of this difference was paid in freights to foreign ships.

Russia is pushing her great Sibe rian railway to the Pacific, and expects to have it completed by 1901. With this she expects to be able to control the commerce of China, while it will also develop a vast territory in Siberia, rich in agricultural and mineral resources. It is the most colossal railway enterprise ever undertaken.

An English doctor rises to the defence of the much discussed corset and says it is a very innocent and very much misrepresented institution, while a lady writer in one of the Northern journals accuses it of being the cause of no less than seventy separate and distinct ailments in women. Whenever the corset comes up you always find a woman in it.

Prof. Wiggins, of Canada, has settled the question of the new light spots seen on Mars. He says the inhabitants of the earth originally slipped off Mars and dropped on the earth, and ever since then the Martians have been looking for their long lost brothers. They have recently discovered the electric lights in our cities and this suggested the idea of signalling to find out if any of their folks were down here!

Ex-U. S. Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, in a published interview, advises the workmen to vote for the highest protective tariff they can get. That's what a good many of them have been doing ever since the Republican tariff was invented, and we see the result in armies of tramps, strikes without number, riots by the score, lockouts and knockouts and all sorts of devilment that we never heard of until the high protective tariff era set in.

The Hottest of the Season.

Yesterday was the hottest day of the season in Wilmington, the mercury reaching 95 degrees, as recorded at the Weather Bureau Station. High temperature prevailed throughout the South. In the Wilmington district of the cotton belt, the highest point reached by the mercury was at Raleigh where 96 degrees was recorded. At Charlotte, Greensboro, Lumberton and Weldon, 94: Newbern, 92, and Goldsboro, 90.

The records of the Bureau show that the highest point reached by the mercury at the Wilmington station in 1893, was 97 degrees, on the 8th of July, and on September 20th, 1893, the maximum temperature was 95.
