Senator Platt takes pleasure in announcing that there is no bar in the Senate restaurant. The Senators don't need any bar. They drink only "cold tea" and they take it out of the bottle.

Hon, Levi P. Morton, whom the reported. Republicans talk of nominating for Governor of New York, is now in Europe, where he has had two of his toes amputated. Think of a man 70 | p. m. Tickets good on both trips. years old and minus two toes running for anything.

Alleghany county, Pa., in which the city of Pittsburg, with its numerous highly protected industries, is located, was supposed to contain a good many wealthy people, but according to the statement of the commissioners there are not 200 persons in the county, including the city, who have incomes amounting to over $4,000 a year, and there is not an extraordinarily large number of newspaper men there, either.

The mass of men who engage in strikes are perhaps as much entitled to sympathy as reproach, for the majority of them are duped by their leaders. The Slavs who were engaged in the strikes in the Pennsylvania coal region say their leaders deceived them and kept the strike up by false representations and promises. For a week or more after the bottom fell out of the Debs strike, he kept issuing bulletins assuring the trikers that victory was certain.

Governor McKinley rises to exclaim that "proper protection must be restored to every industry that suffers from this (the Wilson tariff) legislation." Very well. Let us see what industries suffer and then find out what "proper protection" is, and then we can talk about it. The indications are that the industry that will suffer most is the industry of the Republican high tariff politician. The probabilities are that he will have to shut up shop and go out of Recently a shaft of a coal mine in China which had not been worked in 400 years was opened and revealed the bodies of 170 men who had died from "choke-damp," as the miners call it, or carbonic acid, while imprisoned in the mine by disaster which closed up the shaft. The bodies seemed to be in a state of perfect preservation, and looked as if they had just died, but on the attempt to remove them for burial they crumbled away and left nothing but a little dust and some remnants of clothing. This scared the Chinamen who never saw any thing like that before, and they got out of the shaft as fast as they could climb and left the ashes and lots of coal there.

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, AUGUST 23, 1894.

A somewhat remarkable outcome of the Japanese-Chinese racket in Corea is that while the Chinese went to war with Japan to protect Corea, Corea has joined Japan in the fight against China. A writer in the New York Post, who writes as if he was posted, says the banana is the oldest of all cultivated fruits, and is a lily. The average colored muncher thinks it is a

The heaviest bicycle rider in the world is said to be Dr. Meldon, of Dublin, who weighs 378 pounds and keeps his bicycle down like a daisy.

Corea has three telegraph lines but no railroads. They probably wouldn't know what to do with railroads if they had them.

A Boston man has started an agitation against the use of engagement rings. This anti-ring man is probably a "reformer."

Vessels from Foreign Ports Must Bring Certified Bills of Heelth.

The Secretary of the Treasury has sent circulars to the Collectors of Customs concerning consular bills of health which contain matter of interest to the ship-owners as well as to the people of the different ports.

Every vessel arriving from a foreign port is required by law to present to the custom house officers a consular bill of health from the port whence she sailed and any failure to procure the necessary document, through negligence or otherwise, will cause considerable inconvenience and expense.

The circular issued by the bureau of navigation directs collectors of ports to notify the Secretary of the Treasury promptly by telegraph of the arrival in port of any yessel from a foreign port without the consular bill of health prescribed by the act of February 15th, 1893. This notification must state the port of clearance of the vessel and any ports of call, with the dates of each, number and class of passengers, genera nature of cargo, and the present sani-tary condition of the vessel as reported by the quarantine or health authorities of the port entered. The collector will thereupon be instructed by the department as to the entry of the vessel. The collector is also instructed to notify the United States attorney of his district of the violation of law, and to report thereafter to the department the master's reasons for failure to produce the required bill of health, giving his judgment of their validity, and any mitigating circumstances.

THE BEST PROTECTION.

How to Make a House Burglar-Proof-Chesp, Convenient and Effective.

The STAR can testify to the efficacy of the plan stated below by a correspondent of a Southern paper, one of its staff having seen its value practically illustrated. It is by no means certain, however, that the "fice" is the best dog for the purpose, as it has a born propensity for barking on very slight provocation, and for this reason might create numerous false alarms. There is no sort of doubt, though, that a dog kept in the house at night, if he understands his business, is the best possible protection against thieves. It is the best burglaralarm ever invented. But here is what the correspondent says:

Many years ago this writer heard the confession of a reformed burglar, in which he stated that the thing most dreaded by those of his trade was a dog in the house. Struck by the force of this, the writer has always had a dog inside the house at night, and any one may readily convince himself of its efficiency by making the trial. For this purpose a small dog on the "Fice" order is best, and it is easily trained to be as cleanly and orderly in the house as any child. If kept in the yard it can easily be gotten rid of, but inside the premises, and with all the inside doors left open, it is not possible for any stranger to gain admission without alarming the dog, and at the first sound of its voice the would-be burglar must see that it is a hopeless

This infallable safeguard is within reach of every one, it costs very little either in money or care, and for those who are located in the suburban regions it is especially desirable, and more effective than any watchman. But, say some, perhaps, "We don't like dogs; well, then you prefer the burglar, you take your choice, and you lose your money The Orphan's Excursion.

The orphans from the Odd Fellow's home at Goldsboro, who have been in the city since Monday, returned yesterday delighted with their visit. Besides the pleasure given to the children the money realized for the Home by the excursion down the river, etc., amounts to sixty dollars.

The people of our city who have been seeing Major Hale going back and forth on the streets every day since his return from the State Convention, where he did such good work for the party, were astonished to find the evidence of their senses discredited by the "Warm Wirelet" in your issue of this morning stating that he was in Washington, D. SIXTH CONG. DISTRICT.

Democratic Convention at Lumberton-An Immense Gathering of Delegates and Others Present-Intense Excitement but the [Utmost Good Feeling-Organization Perfected and Ballo ing Begun-Bellamy in the Lead.

[Special Star Telegram.] LUMBERTON, Aug. 22.

9.15 A. M.—Hardly a fourth of the delegates are yet here, but it seems now that for all practical purposes Adams may as well be eliminated from the contest, leaving the battle royal to Bellamy, Lockhart, LeGrand and McNeill. Telegrams from Mecklenburg, received late last night, assure Bellamy 25 votes from that county on first ballot. The general impression here is that it will be a prolonged contest; but it is not improbable that Mecklenburg may come in with her avalanche of votes and settle the nomination at any moment after a dezen or two ballots have been taken, 11.00 A. M.-The Karolina Sentral specials from Wilmington and Charlotte are just in, bringing a large number of people. A great crowd is here, estimated at 800 strangers in town. There is intense excitement on the result and much interest, but the utmost good feeling exists among friends of rival candidates, with the exception of some friction between LeGrand and McNeill men. It is claimed that Pender will be allowed three additional votes and Richmond two, on account of townships thrown out at the last election. . The impression is gaining that it will be a protracted fight for the nomination. The Convention meets at noon.

12 30 P. M .- The convention was called to order at 12 o'clock sharp. The Opera House is jammed and a large crowd is outside. N. A. McLean is temporary chairman. The immense crowd is causing much confusion and greatly delaying business. There is not likely to be any balloting for two hours or

The Committee on Permanent Organzation was appointed at 12,20 p. m., and the convention adjourned until 2 p. m. to receive reports. Impossible to forecast the result for a candidate yet, but Bellamy will have considerable lead on the first ballot and his friends confidently expect increased votes on subsequent ballots.

4.25 P. M .- The Committee on Credentials has just reported. The report was adopted. W. G. Burkhead is permanent chairman. It will probably be two hours before the balloting for candidates begins. A resolution endorsing Osborn for the U.S. Senate was laid on the table. Nomination of candidates was ordered. Dr. McNeill, of Brunswick, nominated Frank McNeill, of Richmond county; C. W. Tillet, of Mecklenburg, nominated J. T. LeGrand; E. T. Candler, of Mecklenburg, nominated H. B. Adams; Mai. P. F. Duffy presented the name of Jno. D. Bellamy, Jr., in a fine speech, which created great enthusiasm; T. J. Armstrong, of Pender, nominated Lockhart, of Anson. Mr. O. F. Campbell, of Richmond, seconded the nomination of Legrand; Dr. Lucas, of Pender, seconded the nomination of Bellamy; G. B. Patterson, of Robeson, seconded the nomination of McNeill; Hamilton McMillan, of Robeson, seconded Bellamy's nomination. Bennett, of Anson, seconded Lockhart's nomination. First ballot-Adams, 63; Bellamy, 104; LeGrand. 75; Lockhart, 75; McNeill, 61. Second ballot-Adams, 62, Bellamy, 105; LeGrand, 74; Lockhart, 39; Mc-Neill, 39.

Third ballot—Bellamy, 110; McNeill, 56; Lockhart, 57; Legrand, 67; Adams, 63. Sixth ballot-Adams, 52; Bellamy, 111; LeGrand, 68: Lockhart, 51; McNeill, 56

Fractions not counted. Twenty-third ballot—Adams, 46; Bellamy, 122; LeGrand, 68; Lockhart, 60; McNeill, 40. Fifty-sixth ballot -Adams, 35; Bellamy, 126; LeGrand, 76; Lockhart, 52; Mc-

Neill, 41. 75th ballot-Adams, 41; Bellamy, 107; LeGrand, 72; Lockhart, 79; McNeill, 39. 101st ballot-Adams, 41; Bellamy, 125; LeGrand, 71; Lockhart, 65; McNeill, 36. On the above ballot Brunswick gave Bellamy 6; Columbus, 16; Mecklenburg, 30; New Hanover, 48, Pender, 12; Robeson, 13. Fractions omitted. On the 123d ballot there were only four candidates ballotted for. Bellamy received 152 votes; Lockhart, 100; Le-Grand, 49; Adams, 29.

August 23-2 A. M.-129th ballot-Bellamy, 156; Lockhart, 104; LeGrand, 38; Adams, 45. Necessary to a choice 173. At 5.30 o'clock this morning the Convention was still in session, but no further report of ballots had been received.
