The General Outlook Very Encouraging -Estimates of the Crop Barring the Hur-

The rice crop in the fields tributary to Charleston, says the News and Courekr, is said by the planters to be in good condition, and they hope to see it harvested without serious loss or damage. The rice planters for the last year or so have a series of storms and unfortunate weather conditions to contend with, and they have consequently been heavy losers.

The season so far has been encouraging and unless the storm now threaten ing is severe enough to damage the crop the farmers expect to pull through this year with a handsome balance to their credit. Some of them seem to think that the acreage this year is considerably smaller than it was last, but they expect a handsome yield from every foot of ground that has been planted. The rainy weather which prevailed recently in this section has done no material damage with the exception of flooding an occasional field. The total crop of rice for the year Wednesday evening, October 10th, at is estimated at about 6,000,000 bushels, about 2,000,000 of which will be grown on the Atlantic coast. An estimate of what the receipts will ton 350,000, Newbern 350,000, Georgetown 550,000 and Charleston about 750. 000. Of course these are merely rough estimates, but they can be relied upon in a general way. They are made up of the best information now attainable There is no room to believe that the year will be a bad one for prices. The quality of the product is expected to be very good, and on the whole planters look for a prosperous season if they only get off with the pending cyclone.

This should be an incentive to Wilmington to add to the interest of her Welcome Week, as it can be made to result in a much larger attendance here from many points in South Carolina. Doubtless our W. W. W. Executive Committee will consider this matter at their meeting to-night.

THIS LOOKS LIKE BUSINESS.

Whi Boot and Shoe Trade in Boston, New Elizwork and Philadelphia-Active De-BOSTON. There is an active demand for nearly everything that is staple, largely for immediate delivery. The orders are of sufficient size to keep most of the factories in steady operation for some time: There is also a good demand for shoes in stock, but the drafts on such have been so constant of late that there are few left; it is difficult to fill an ordinary order. The market is in a sensitive position, and while manufacturers are filling all supplementary orders at un-changed prices, there is no guarantee that they will continue to do so much longer. Leather has advanced somewhat. The lowest grades of leather show the greatest advance, and it is on these also that the market is so closely cleaned up, and as all buyers are calling for low-priced shoes, manufacturers are likewise calling for low-priced leather. The time is near when jobbers will need to place a portion at least of their spring orders. Under existing conditions. they would doubtless like to close goodsized contracts. Manufacturers can hardly be as ready to commit themselves, with leather advancing. NEW YORK. Business is more active than ever, The manufacturers are all busy. Orders for fall shoes are coming in freely from a distance, and the near-by dealers, who are always the latest to stock up, are laying in their supplies. There are fewer buyers here than there were. Most of them have gone home, but the mails bring in demands for shoes which make up for their absence. Some of the man-ufacturers have made up samples of spring shoes, and have started their salesmen who traverse the Pacific Coast off with them. Others will leave the first of next week, and a majority a week later than that.

PHILADELPHIA. Trade is very brisk. Low-grade shoes are about 20 per cent, cheaper than they were two years ago. Every retailer has increased his quota of them and the pressure for delivery is great. Manufacturers are busy; those who sell Southern trade are especially so. They are 'not making high-grade shoes. Department stores are putting in orders for 5,000 and 10,000 pairs for immediate delivery. Auction sales are for large amounts. Small retailers' declining business furnish some stocks every week. This indicates that the large houses are driving out small ones.

The News and Courier says: The British steamship Glenwood, Capt. Mehegan, is stuck on the north breaker of Swash Channel. When the news reached the city yesterday afternoon it occasioned no surprise. The master had not been able to get his vessel ready by 5 o'clock, after which hour the pilots had said they would not take her out. The master thereupon insisted on starting as it proved, imperfect knowledge of the harbor. He also tried to go out by the old "Swash Channel," which is more complicated than the Jetty Channel, and although his vessel drew only fifteen fee of water ran her aground on the north It was so evident to those versed in such matters that this was what would happen, that a tug boat went down just behind, in anticipation of the supposed event, to be on hand to render assistance nd thereby earn a large fee.

which hour the Glenwood will proba bly be pulled off. It should be borne in mind that, while it is unfortunate that the first cotton ship of the season should have grounded the accident was due to no lack of water nor to incompetency of pilots, but solely to the fact that Capt. Mehegan thought that he knew the Swash Channel well could to secure a very low rate on the enough to take his vessel out when he

> THE CIRCUS IS COMING. Walter L. Main's Circus Will Be Here

Wilmington is going to have a circusgenuine three ring circus. It is the Walter L. Main "Grandest and Best Shows on Earth," and this is its first visit South. They travel on their own special trains of 60-foot railroad cars, and come very highly recommended from Northern cities. The date of the show is Monday, October 15th, and the price of admission is fifty cents, exactly the same charged by this show in the North. Of the show the Saratoga, N. Y., Daily

Eagle says:

The Walter L. Main Big Shows exhibted here vesterday afternoon and evening. The Main Show is the grandest exhibition that has ever been in Saratoga in former years, and its mammoth tents were packed. They have the Riding Lion, the Baby Monkey, and the Baby Lions which were born on the show's arrival here this morning. The cute baby monkey whose mother clings to it as a mother would cling to her child, attracted the most attention, even more than the double-horned Rhinocerous. In the three rings of the circus there was some thing going on all the time, and it was a clean show from start to finish.

The friends of General Raleigh E. Colston will read the annexed, from the Richmond Dispatch, with interest: General R. E. Colston was brought to this city yesterday from Washington and taken to the Soldiers' Home. Prior to the war General Colston was professor at the Virginia Military Institute, and during the war was Brigadier-General in the Confederate army. After the cessation of hostilities he went to Egypt and for some time was in the service the Khedive. Of late years he had been a clerk in the War Department at Washington, and, having been paralyzed, was allowed to do his work at home until a recent ruling of the department forbade it. He was met at Elba by a delegation o ex-cadets, consisting of Colonel W. E. Cutshaw, General Charles J. Anderson, Colonel John B. Purcell, Colonel Thos. greatly affected by this evidence of regard. At the home, his daughter, Mrs. Ragland, of Petersburg, was waiting to receive him.

BENNETTSVILLE, S. C., September 26. -The Breeden-Moore homicide case was terminated last night at eleven o'clock. This was one of the most important cases ever tried in this county. The case was commenced one week ago. The jury was confined all the time. The speeches occupied more than eight nours. Solicitor Johnston, T. I. Rogers and T. W. Boucher made the biggest effort of their lives. The court house was filled every day. The case was given to the jury yesterday at 1 o'clock. They were out ten hours and brought in a verdict finding Breeden, the defendant, guilty of manslaughter. This verdict demonstrates that men of nfluence and wealth can be convicted in Marlboro county. Public opinion generally endorses the action of the jury and says that the verdict could not have been less. The attorneys for the defence are endeavoring to induce the jurors who tried the case to sign a petition praying the judge to be as lenient as possible. The judge has not passed sentence.

The celebrated Raybon and Terrell case will be tried to-morrow.
