After a Brave Struggle, He Died at Sunset Yesterday.

After a long and brave battle for life, Albert Gore died at his residence in this city yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock in his 37th year. He was the son of William Iredell and Rachel Ann Gore, was born at Little River, S. C., and came to Wilmington with his parents in 1869. In 1881 he married Miss Bessie Ledford, who with five children, survives him.

He began his business life as clerk and book-keeper for his father, and was afterwards a partner in the firm of W. I Gore & Co., and for some time in that of Corbett & Gore. For two years, or more, however, his health had been failing, and he was compelled to abandon active business almost entirely. Though naturally modest and somewhat reserved in his manner, he had a kind heart, and those who knew him best were his warmest friends.

Very early in his business life he deeloped a talent for mercantile pursuits showing excellent judgment and a keen penetration in trying emergencies. But consumption, that insiduous destroyer, fastened its relentless hold on him so early in life as to deprive him of all hope of reaching the position as a man of business which nature seemed to have fitted him for. His family and friends had for some ime realized the serious nature of his sickness; but, buoyed up.by the indomitable spirit that was a part of his nature, he was hopeful to the end; and but a short time before he breathed his last he told the kind friends who were watching by his bedside to go home and restthat he "would be all right in a day or two." But even then the lamp of life | dec ding vote and hold the balance of was burning with unsteady flame; and as the last rays of the setting sun lingered on his home, seeming to beckon him to rest, his spirit passed beyond the portals of earth-to

One, with 30 000 spindles, was withdrawn because the minimum of £6,000 ($30,000) was not reached. The other, with 81,000 spindles, was also withdrawn, as the best bid obtained was £8 500, or $43,500.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

What the Pop-Replicans Propose to Do With Raleigh-Two Plans Are Under

Just now the following from the Raleigh News and Observer will be read with interest in Wilmington and several other North Carolina cities and towns: Ever since the Fusionists read their title clear to the State, and the fullness thereof, they have been talking, and talking, and talking about what to do with the cornucopia of things the god of politics poured into their laps last November. And as the time for action draws near tongues wag faster. One of the pet schemes of these people is the re-districting of the cities of the State. It is said that Raleigh. Charlotte, Wilmington, Durham, Winston and other big towns will be sliced up in various ways. Many Fusionists want to be conservative enough, but the most radical element want to gerry mander the cities in a way that will turn them over to the negroes, Raleigh Republicans are already arranging their little schemes of gerrymander. Two plans of re-districting the city are proposed. Both have for their object the turning over of the corporations to the hungry Republicans. One proposition is to extend the corporate limits a quarter of a mile all around, by this move bringing in the East Raleigh Republican stronghold. With the capitol square as the centre, the plan is to divide the city into four wards, with an equal representation in the Board of Aldermen from each ward. Halilax, Hilsboro and Fayetteville streets and Newbern Avenue are proposed as the dividing lines. The two north wards will be controlled by the Democrats and the two south wards by the Republicans. This leaves equal power in the Board of Aldermen. In the event that there was a tie in the Board of Aldermen the Mayor would cast the power. The Mayor is to be elected by popular vote and not by the Board of Aldermen as at present. The extension of the corporate limits would enable them to elect the Mayor. the gerrymanders think, and thus would they hold the city without making such a change as would set the people against Another plan is to let the arrangement of the wards remain as they now are, except to put all north of Martin treet into the First and Fifth wards ex tending the Third ward up Fayetteville street to Martin street. Then to take in enough of the territory east of Wilmingon and west of Salisbury streets to make the Third ward Republican. This would give the Republicans three wards and

This latter plan is favored by the most radical element, while the conservatives favor the former plan."

THE COTTON CROP.

Hubbard, Price & Co's. Review of the

The opening of the New Year has brought no consolation to the holders of cotton, and the market closes to-night within 1/2c of the lowest quotations of prices, even were it not well understood that the result would be disastrous to weeks, but in comparison with last year movement which is so largely in excess those years, that there is no change in the current estimate as to the ultimate outturn of the crop. Nine million five hundred thous and bales is now the accepted commercial crop of this season. although it may vary a few hundred thousand bales one way or the other from such a yield, depending upon the course of the market for the balance of the year, and were it not for the unceftainty felt as to the reduction in the land devoted to cotton for the ensuing year the trade would be willing to ats irb the surplus of the crop at the basis of present prices. But it is felt by every one that we must look to the next crop for relief from the present over supply, and until it is determined that the South is willing to pursue the same course which reduced the crop of 1893 to 6,700,000 bales, the market will be a hesitating one with little disposition to accumulate more than the necessary supplies by both planters and merchants. Spinners have bought so freely that they are now in a position to await the effect of the pressure of the remainder of the crop before taking any further large amount of the raw material. Therefore the factor which is be

There is also a feeling of discouragement regarding the future, which is difficult to account for in face of the known inability of the South to produce another large crop of cotton at present the entire country. A sharp falling off has occurred in the movement of the crop as compared with that of previous or with 1891, the receipts still show a ing regarded by both spinners and merchants throughout the world with the greatest interest is the prospect of the curtailment of the crop to be planted the next ninety days. So far as reports have been received from those States using commercial fertilizers it is probable that there will be a reduction in their use of at least 40 per cent. as compared with last season, and the question of acreage will remain to be determined later when the question of advances becomes a momentous one with every merchant in the cotton States.
