OUTLINES.

The Senate passed an appropriation bill and discussed the Nicaragua Canal bill; the Indian Appropriation bill considered in the House. A Minnesota farmer kills his wife, her parents and himself. Miss Mary L. Stevenson, eldest daughter of Vice-President Stevenson, died in Asheville yesterday. Washington news—the condition of the U. S. Treasury; no instructions have been given to U. S. District Attorney Glenn to proceed against the American Tobacco Company, of Winston, N. C.; strong opposition has developed in the Senate against the ratification of the Japanese treaty. The Mercantile National Bank of New York swindled out of nearly $150,000. Kanakas and half-white Royalists revolted in Hawaii, but were suppressed by the troops of the Republic. A prize-fight at Coney Island between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Ryan resulted in the defeat of the former. Troops called out to aid the police of Brooklyn in protecting street railways from strikers. Chicago grain and provision market. Cotton spots and futures. N. Y. markets. Money on call was easy at 1 per cent. last loan at 1 per cent, and closing offered at 1 1/2 per cent. Cotton quiet; middling Gulf 6 cents; middling uplands 5 3/4 cents; Southern fall dull but steady; common to fair extra $3.10 @ $3.00; good to choice do, $3.10 @ $3.50 wheat dull and unchanged but steady; No. 3 red in store and at elevator 60 1/2 @ 61 cents; soft 62 1/2 cents; corn dull and firm; No. 2 at elevator 51 1/2 @ 51 1/2 cents; soft 52 1/2 @ 53 cents; sprouts turpentine quiet and firm at 38 1/2 @ 39 1/2 cents; good; rosin steady; strained common to bid $1.85 @ 1.40.

Grave fears are entertained for the safety of the Nansen North Pole expedition, which sailed from Norway in June, 1893. This is Gen. Lee's birthday, an anniversary which ought to be respectfully observed and honored throughout the South. Senators Hill and Gorman are said to be jealous of each other, but to the unsophisticated citizen at a distance it does not appear what they have got to be jealous of. It is predicted by some who are keeping an eye on the cotton mill movement Southward that $100,000,000 will be invested in mills in the South within the next five years. One hundred bales of cotton were shipped the other day at Selma, Ala., for Kobe, Japan. This cotton which has been extra compressed and bagged and banded to make it more secure, went by rail to New York, where it will be shipped and go to its destination by way of the Suez Canal. Edison, the electrician, seems to have come from a nicotine-proof family. When he is hard at work he smokes twenty cigars a day, and ordinarily ten, and strong ones, too. This ought to kill him, but his grand father, who lived to be 103, was a hard smoker and chewer all his life. Some men are fearfully and wonderfully constructed. A Northern contemporary informs us that "Hon. Jeter C. Pritchard, nominated by the Republicans of North Carolina for the U. S. Senate, will be the first Republican from that State to sit in the Senate for twenty-two years." We don't think he will sit for twenty-two years, and will probably retire at the end of two. Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, got into a stew by the report that he said that a good many of the New York preachers traded off the passes they had over his road. When confronted by a committee of preachers who demanded a retraction he declared he never said it, but that it was the wicked invention of some born prevaricator. Ohio, Mr. McKinley's State, seems to be on the ragged edge. According to a special dispatch to the New York Post the farms in that State are worth $50,000,000 less than they were a year ago, while the indebtedness of their owners is $8,000,000 more. Mr. McKinley's plan of high protection to bring prosperity to everybody, the farmers included, does not seem to have panned out in his State, nor anywhere else, for that matter. An authority on vital statistics in New York says it isn't the Russian grip which has now got Gotham but an old Irish grip which flourished in the beginning of the sixteenth century and was known as coccoluche. The impression has prevailed for some time that the Irish had the grip on New York, but it may be incidentally remarked that the coccoluche isn't a bit more popular than the Russian grip, if it is of Milestan origin, for nobody is rushin' to catch either of them.

Homer, Homer, were among the arrivals in the city yesterday. THEY ALL TALK ALIKE. What Cotton Mills Have Done for Rock Hill, S. C. Here is what another practical business man says of cotton mills: FIRST NATIONAL BANK. The establishment of cotton mills in this section has had the healthiest possible effect upon the business interests of this community. They have materially added to the business and prosperity of the town. We have also much improvement in the financial condition of the farmers adjacent to our mills, owing to the fact that a higher home market is thereby furnished for cotton and other farm products. The bulk of capital invested in cotton mills in this vicinity is local money. Our cotton mills have been very profitable in our town. Local investors consider our mill securities of the best class, and additional investments in mills in this section must of necessity prove profitable with judicious management. W. L. RODDEY, President. BY RIVER AND RAIL. Receipts of Naval Stores and Cotton Yesterday. Wilmington & Weldon R. R.—438 bales cotton, 19 casks spirits turpentine, 84 bbls rosin. The Newspaper Men at Raleigh. It is said that there is now the greatest gathering of newspaper men at Raleigh ever known there at any Legislature, and the office of Principal Clerk, S. P. Satterfield of the House, is always crowded with the busy reporters who are on the alert copying bills and gathering information. Mr. Satterfield is an efficient officer and has already made the reputation of being very courteous and accommodating to the newspaper men, as are also his assistants, Messrs. Stanford, Lidsay, Lillington, McDuffie, Conrad and Reading Clerk Chapin. Mr. Halliburton, doorkeeper of the Senate, is also a clever and accommodating officer. Preparations for the A. M. E. Conference. The general conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church met in this city on Wednesday evening last, and on yesterday completed arrangements with the city and suburban churches for the entertainment of the delegates during the general conference that meets here in 1895. Bishop Arnette left for Charleston yesterday. Bishop Gaines will remain in the city a few days longer to arrange with the railroad authorities for transportation of delegates. The American Encyclopedic Dictionary is now complete in 49 Parts. Send in orders at once.

LOCAL DOTS.

Items of Interest Gathered Here and There and Briefly Noted. The Produce Exchange will be closed to-day. Mr. C. W. Dahlgren has organized a class in gymnastics at the Y. M. C. A. Kale (Norfolk) quoted in New York at $5.00; spinach (Norfolk) $1.50 @ $2.00; Baltimore, $1.35. This is the anniversary of the birth of one of the world's greatest men—Robert Edward Lee. Messrs. Cronly & Morris sold by auction yesterday 51 shares of Navassa Guano Co. stock at $110.00 per share. This will be the song in Washington opera. Cayuse Butler coming, coming; Pycasue Butler's coming to town. There was 17 feet 8 inches water in the river at Fayetteville at 8 a. m. Thursday; a fall of 7 feet 8 inches during the previous 24 hours. The Y. M. C. A. boys have their favorite talk to them to-morrow. Geo. C. Worth will speak at 3 p. m. A large number of boys will no doubt be there. "City Charities Sunday" will be observed in the First Presbyterian church at the morning service. In the evening Dr. Hogg's subject, in the course of which doctors to young men, will be "Parpore." Sam Smith, colored, charged with stealing a hand-cart, was sent to jail in default of bail by Justice McGowan to answer the charge of larceny at the next term of the Criminal Court. Local forecast made yesterday: The weather will probably remain fair in this vicinity for the next two days, but with increasing cloudiness, rising temperature, and winds increasing in force. At St. Andrews' Presbyterian Church to-morrow the usual morning services will be conducted by Rev. Jas. M. Rawlings, D. D., at 11 o'clock. Mr. Thos. C. Diggs will give an object lesson at night. The British steamer Turquoise cleared yesterday for Liverpool, Eng., with 6,055 bales cotton, weighing 938,998 pounds and valued at $1,858,875. Vessel and cargo by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son. The announcement that the "Six Smith Sisters" would appear at the Opera House was incorrect. These famous ladies furnish the fifth and last entertainment in this year's Elite Course, and will sing in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium Friday night, February 1st. Miss Janie Hewett, a young lady eighteen years old, niece of Mrs. I. B. Rhodes, died at the latter's residence in this city Thursday evening, after an illness of four days with typhoid fever. Her remains were carried to her home at Royal Oak, Brunswick county, yesterday morning for interment. Strong, the Reform Mayor of New York, is in favor of keeping the saloons on Sundays from 9 p. m. until 11 p. m. This is an acknowledgment that the Sunday liquor law cannot be enforced in New York, and that it is obeyed only by the better class of saloon-keepers. Strong's position has almost paralyzed Dr. Parkhurst. A correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, writing from Clarkton, says: "All the persons recommended to the Legislature for Justices of the Peace from this township are negroes." This is because the Bladen Pops have been reading Butler's Caucasian, which until recently carried at its masthead the flag of "white supremacy." EDITOR DANA'S ADDRESS. He Shows How Easily the Circulation of a Newspaper Can Be Increased. Charles A. Dana, the brilliant editor of the New York Sun, recently delivered an address before the class in journalism at Cornell University, from which the following is taken: There is one other curious point which I passed over without reflection when discussing the present cheapness of printed paper, and which will come back to you. It is a pretty interesting curiosity. Paper is so cheap, that supposing you are interested in proving that the circulation of your newspaper is something immense, enormous, you can do it for certain with very slight expense. Having got your plates, your presses and everything ready, you can print up a couple of hundred thousand extra papers at a cost which is almost nothing compared to the advertising you may get from it; and then, instead of a circulation of 500,000 every morning, you can show a circulation of 700,000. The utility of that mass of printed paper is not destroyed. They are not sold, to be sure, but their printing is recorded truthfully by the presses, and they show in the figures of your circulation, which the advertisers love to examine. Then you can transport them, so I have heard, let us say, to Glen's Falls, where we will suppose there is a factory in which they make paper boxes; and you can send your 300,000 sheets which you have printed for advertising display, and have them brought back to you in the form of paper boxes, that are really useful and may be sold for something. The advertisers are most impressed, but they don't get the boxes. (Laughter.) Suitable for Boys and Girls. A pleasant "Sociable" was given last night at the Y. M. C. A. by the Ladies' Auxiliary, to the boys and girls who took part in the "Brownies" entertainment recently given there, and the members of the Boys' Branch of the Association. There were about seventy-five persons present. Mrs. McClure and Mrs. Latta had charge of the arrangements. Saturday Night Prayer Meeting. Prayer and experience meeting of a working and business men as usual at 8 o'clock to-night at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, N. W. corner Front and Mulberry streets. Masters of steamers and vessels with their crews are invited to attend.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

BILL TO REDUCE BOND OF SHERIFF OF PITT COUNTY FINALLY PASSED. Senate Refuses to Honor Lee's Birthday—House Contained Election Case from Pender County Decided in Favor of Croom, Republican—G. Z. French Declines Complacency in the Swooping Swindlers of 1898. Raleigh, N. C., January 18. SENATE. The Senate was called to order at 11 o'clock by President Doughton, and prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Tuttle, of Raleigh. The Journal was read and approved. Mr. Carver introduced a bill to protect owners of cattle and other animals. Mr. Hamrick, to abolish the Geological Survey in North Carolina. Mr. Ammons, a bill to amend the Laws of 1893 in regard to inspectors in Buncombe, Mitchell and Madison counties. Also, a bill to amend the Constitution of North Carolina. Mr. Dilly, a bill to authorize James A. Fowles, of Granville, to collect arrears of taxes. Mr. Sharp, to compel witnesses to testify in certain cases. Mr. Fowles, to amend the Constitution so as to reduce the homestead exemption. Mr. Fortune, for the relief of M. N. Reynolds. Also, for relief of Lawson Reynolds. Mr. David, to amend the Act of 1893, incorporating the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company. Mr. Fowler, to regulate the rate of interest. Mr. Stephens, to make the fee for marriage license $1.00. Mr. Grant, to amend chapter 180, Laws of 1893, changing the times of Jones, Pender and Craven Courts. Also, bill to amend the law creating the State Board of Health. The clerk read a communication from the Secretary of State in response to a resolution of inquiry, in which he stated that there were 177 general agents, about six hundred special agents, and that about two hundred licenses had been issued in the State to insurance companies. Mr. Fortune moved that 250 copies of the bill introduced by him on the general election law be printed for distribution to the members of the House. Bill to amend chapter 248, Laws of 1891, to protect owners of stock in Hyde county, passed this reading. Mr. Fortune moved that the clerk of the town of Mt. Airy so as to regulate liquor licenses, passed this reading. Bill to reduce the bonds of the Sheriff of Pender county, taken up at 12 o'clock. This is the bill which created much discussion in the House and finally passed. Mr. Corbee, of Pitt, first took the floor upon the bill. He said that the bond had formerly been $75,000. He said that this bill was not meant to affect the particular case of the present Sheriff of Pitt county, but that the bill was intended to be a general law. He said he had been told by Sheriff King, of Pitt, who was re-elected by the Commission Friday night, that $50,000 was enough for the sheriff's bond. Mr. Fortnes went on to say that if this bill was passed, it would mean that the Sheriff of Pender county, who is a Democrat, would be bonded in a few days, and hold the office two years more, and keep Mr. Thigpen, the Democrat, out of the office. This he did not accord very well with his state of the opportunity to hedge in this market rather than in Liverpool. The demand for cotton from the Continent has not been so large, as in the offerings of the Southern markets, and maintaining prices above the level of the market to improve. The basis for the investment buying would seem to be the probabilities of a decrease in the acreage next season, and a reduction in the acreage of the crop. Both of these methods of labor which must follow from the removal of the intelligent supervision upon large plantations. Our advice would be to hold on to the crop, and not to speculate in it. The arrangements for the net crop are now being made, and to the effect that those who have heretofore employed labor for the purpose of raising the crop are adopting two different methods of procedure. One portion of the large planters appears to be simply reducing the acreage to improve. This is turning it over to the tenant who employs and arranging with them for the payment of a rental in the shape of cotton. On the last hand, a large number of these methods will of course reduce the yield, as those who rent the land will not have the same supervision as in previous years. The crop will be badly cultivated and poorly fertilized. In the meantime the market remains on a very low basis, with fluctuations representing only the temporary needs of local traders. Those who look for a further decline, believe that the stagnation in speculation will eventually bring about the liquidation of these investment holdings on the theory that it is simply a question of time when disgust will take possession of holders at the failure of the market to improve. The crop might be expected to follow had the interest been accumulated on an advancing market, but the cotton which has been produced is now being marketed and has been purchased with a full idea of the magnitude of this crop, and in that respect recalls the long interest which was shown in the market of 1894, and in Europe to liquidate until the short crop enabled them to do so at a profit. It requires no perspicacity to discover reasons why cotton should be so low, and the reasons found. It calls for an insight into the future to find substantial reasons for an advance other than that cotton is now selling below that which is usually believed to be the cost of production. "CHARITY SUNDAY." At a meeting of the clergy of the city in the Autumn, it was determined, with the approval of the Board of Directors of the Associated Charities, to change the "Charity Sunday" from October to January. To-morrow is the day agreed upon as most convenient for all. To-morrow collections will be taken up in all our churches for the work of the Associated Charities among the poor of the city. To-morrow the religious community will acknowledge its duty to help and care for its sick and needy; and it will endorse the one common work undertaken for that purpose, and will contribute towards its support. The work and its object deserve a general endorsement and a liberal contribution. Both in this country and in Europe "Charity and Hospital" Sundays have proved to be blessings to the poor and afflicted. We trust our "Charity Sunday" will not fall behind in this good work. Let every man and woman in the city remember that this collection is taken daily once in the whole year, and to-day let each recollect and prepare for the offering to-morrow. Blessed is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble.

TROUBLES OF THE TRUCKERS.

SOME OF THEM LIE IN THE COMMISSION HOUSES NORTH. A Truck Farmer's Observations on the Subject of Commission Sales. A gentleman, who has been closely identified with the trucking business of Charleston, said to a reporter of the News and Courier that the vegetable farmers had had many things to contend against in recent years, and that they had sought many remedies for their troubles, but he believed that the manner in which the commission business in New York and other Northern cities was conducted was responsible for the greater part of the hardship which the truckmen had to suffer. "As matters now stand, and as the business is now conducted," he continued, "the producer is completely at the mercy of the commission merchant. Whatever the merchant says his stuff brought the farmer has to accept as final, and as a satisfactory consequence there are many abuses which might be brought to light if there was any possible way of having a full and complete investigation. Some years ago the farmers organized an association and some efforts were made to better the condition of the truck raiser. The first thing the Association did was to make a violent attack on the transportation and some effort was made to stop it. I believe that the fight that was made obtained some beneficial modifications in rates. Sufficient, at least, was accomplished to stop such an organization, if well maintained and conducted in an aggressive manner, would be a disaster to the farmer. "I had had say-so in the matter I should have urged the Association to turn its attention to the commission business in New York. The Association might have urged its members to have representatives in New York while their produce was being marketed, or it might have still better sent a man on to those business men to find out how they looked after the interests of all the truckmen of this section in a general way. "There are undoubtedly plenty of men in the commission business in the North who are thoroughly reliable, but there are also plenty of others who, to the least of it, will be watching. I could mention plenty of cases where men have sent say ten or twenty barrels of potatoes to New York on the same day, some consigned to one merchant and some to another. The potatoes had been dug from the same field, as I have explained in the same card, they arrived in New York at the same time and were sold the same day, and yet when the merchants made their returns one had sold for half again as much as the other. A slight variance in price might easily and legitimately be accounted for, but such large differences as I have sometimes seen under these conditions can only be explained in one way, and they have convinced me of the fact that every large truck producer should have some means of protecting himself against dishonest commission men. "I am glad to say that something of the kind is going to be done by some of the farmers this year. I know of one farmer, at least, who is going to have a personal representative in the Northern market, and the Spring, of course, I am sure that the farmer will have some means of sending a man North and that is the very reason why I was anxious that the Association should have taken this matter up. It would not be impossible, however, for the truckmen of each section to combine their interests in so good a cause, and unite in keeping a man in the market whose business it would be to look after their affairs." DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS. Nominations for Successors to Senators Ransom and Vance. Raleigh, N. C., January 18.—The caucus of Democratic members of the General Assembly to-night nominated Hon. Thos. W. Mason for United States Senator, to succeed Ransom, and Hon. Lee S. Overman for the short term, to succeed Vance. O'Conor, Armfield, Crawford and Bennett received votes also for the short term, and C. B. Aycock and James H. Pou for the long term. (By South Carolina Associated Press.) Raleigh, N. C., January 18.—At the meeting of the Democratic caucus here to-night for the nomination of U. S. Senators—a nomination whose business only the following gentlemen were offered by their friends for the Eastern Senatorship: Mason, Aycock, Pou and Governor Carr. The latter was nominated on the first ballot by a vote of 20 to 16 for the other three candidates. There were present 38 members of the Legislature. At the outset it was agreed by all to eliminate Ransom and Jarvis from the contest; and so they were not named. MR. G. Z. FRENCH. The Republican Representative from New Hanover, Creates a Sensation. Raleigh, N. C., January 18.—Mr. G. Z. French created a sensation in the House to-day by arising to a point of personal privilege, and denouncing as lies statements made in the daily newspapers of the city (referring to the News & Observer), in which allusion was made to French's connection with Swepson's operations in 1888. The News & Observer will to-morrow reply to Mr. French and publish his record in full. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. For Rent.
