Material of the Several Clubs-New York Has the Strongest Pitchers-Speculation as to the Winner of the Pennant. A base-ball expert speculates as folows on the outcome of the work of the National League this season: The one great query just now is, Who will win the pennant this year? Somebody may guess it; no one can answer it. There is an adage which has existed since the game became professional: "Base-ball is mighty uncertain." So much depends upon what is called luck-good and bad-in the game. Accidents necessarily happen to players, and some teams meet with more than their proportionate shares. Sometimes the very players upon whom the club depends most for its prospects fail or tall off in the standard of their previous year's work. All these elements of doubt make forecasting the final results a very difficult proceeding. It is this very uncertainty, coupled with the positive knowledge that the game is hon-estly and fairly played, which makes it such popular sport with the masses. A Cincinnati newspaper, year before last, offered a monetary prize to the first reader who should send to the office a correct guess, placing the twelve clubs in the order in which they should close the race. Nearly 20,000 guesses were

had the first seven clubs right, but failed on the eighth. As yet Louisville has made no claim for pennant honors, but recently in the breast of local fans there is some hope. Cincinnati, St. Louis and Washington are also not making any promises as to what they will do with the silk flag at the close of the season. That the Louisville team will cut a big figure in the race is believed by those who have seen filed, and in not one case was the combination named the correct one. The guesser who came nearest to the result he players together. At least seven of the twelve clubs have chances to win. Five of the seven go into the fight bunched in public favor, and very nearly equal so far as can be judged this early in the year. The five are: New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Cleveland. The Brooklyns and the Pittsburghs will bear watching. If any team has more than a 1 to 8 chance for the pennant, at the best, the knowledge of it is concealed. However, the five mentioned clubs are each making great claims for the pennant. The New York's great predominant strength lies in their pitchers. Rusie and Meakin when "good" have no peers in the League. That fact is conceded by all their opponents, each of whom, to offset the concession, has asked: What i one of the two should get disabled That is banking on a possibility which hangs over every other club. Rusie and Meekin in form are in a class by themselves. Last year neither worked up to a his abilities until the end of June, and in that time the team lost enough games through weak pitching to cost him the

As a team Boston has no equal, The

ry, "Look out for the Phillies," is raised every year. This is the greatest batting team in the League, but it is weak in pitching material. Baltimore is an uncertain quantity, capable of causing any sort of surprise. Cleveland has a strong team which will bear watching. If the opinions of managers as expressed below be carefully considered and compared they will be found to pretty generally agree in pointing towards the Bostons and Philadelphias as the most probable winners on paper prior to the season's opening.

Spring, had similar information been sought, Boston, Philadelphia and Pittsburg would have been named, in that order, yet their teams finished third, fourth and seventh. The New Yorks last Spring were not rated better than fifth by any two manages of the League. It is, therefore, significal, that they are generally accorded a better or higher place in the race than they were one

Funeral of Mrs. Samuel W. Westbrock. One of the saddest funerals ever seen in Wilmington was that of Mrs. Florence Westbrook, vesterday afternoon, from Grace M. E. Church, of which deceased was a member. The church was crowded to its doors. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Norman, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Robert Strange, rector of St. James' and Rev. A. D. Mc-Clure, pastor of St. Andrew's Church. The music was by a quartette from the choir of St. James'-Misses Minnie Schwarz, Jennie Cameron and Messrs. Alex. S. Holden and Jno. Baker, with Mr. E. P. Boatwright at the organ. The choir sung, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus," "I Would Not Live Always," and "Asleep in Jesus." The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful, ranging from the single basket of flowers to the most handsome and elaborate designs, offerings from societies and organizations Mrs. Westbrook had at different times assisted in musical entertainments.

After services at the church were concluded the funeral cortege followed the remains to Oakdale Cemetery, where the interment took place. The pall bearers were: Active-Messrs. Charles H. Robinson, Jr., J. D. Nutt, E. A. Hawes, Louis Skinner, Benjamin Jacobs, Chas. Foard; Honorary-Dr. W. J. Love, Captain Jno. H. Daniel, Messrs. H. M. Emerson, W. I. Woodward.

Criminal Circuit Court. Judge O. P. Meares, of the Criminal Circuit Court, will hold court for Mecklenburg county in Charlotte next week, and the week following in Lumberton, for Robeson county. Mr. C. A. Cook has brought action in shape of a quo warranto against Judge Meares, returnable to the next term of the New Hanover Superior Court, Judge Hoke presiding, which will meet in this city on the 15th inst. So, the case will be heard at that term and will then be taken on appeal to the Supreme Court now in session in Raleigh. A decision will probably be rendered by the first of May, next. Judge Russell, of Wilmington. L. C. Edwards, of Granville county, and T. P. Devereux, of Raleigh, are Mr. Cook's counsel, and Geo. Rountree, of this city, and Burwell & Walker, of Charlotte, counsel for Judge Meares.

A New Publication.

Salmagundi is the name of a new paper published by the management of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Company for gratuitous circulation. Its purpose. as stated in the first issue of the paper, is not merely to advance its own interests, but to promote the development and welfare of the South-especially those sections interested or reached by its main, diverging and connecting lines.

"Its leading purpose is to arouse a spirit of inquiry and investigation among dissatisfied residents of the New England, Northern and Western States, and induce them to accept the superior advantages of soil and climate the South now offers not only to men of means, but to all worthy and industrious immigrants, especially farmers who wish to mprove their present condition and future prospects. In this laudable work it asks the co-operation of its friends and patrons in the South, and will gladly make use of such facts and figures as they will furnish, only stipulating that they are truthful and emanate from trustworthy sources."

The Hotel St. John. The new hotel to be built at Hamlet

by Mr. John McK. Alford, of Maxton, is to be called the Hotel St. John. It will have the influence of the Seaboard Air Line, and is to rank in all respects with the best houses on the line. It will contain forty sleeping rooms, and in addition to others for hotel purposes, four or five rooms on the first floor are to be used by the S. A. L. for telegraph, ticket and freight offices, waiting-rooms, &c. Mr. Alford will be commander-in-chief, with Mr. Neill Carter, of Maxton, as chief-of-staff. Work on the building will begin very soon, and the intention is to e te before September 1st. "WANG."

At the Opera House To-Night. "Wang" with its wealth of former prosperity comes this season with everything bright and new. Preparation for the tour has been goingo n the past Summer with a costly elaboration that utterly ignored hard times. It will be seen at the Oprea House to-night in all its splendor and already the demand for seats is large. "Wang" has but two acts, Bell Telephone Company (appellant) yet the drops spoken of for its production will cost several thousands, while the total bill for scenery and accessories but little more than the avereage cost of mounting comic operas in these days. When it is considered that these figures do not include thousands spent on costumes, nor the further thousands required for lithographic work, the thousands for the railroad transportation for nearly a hundred people, and the thousands necessary to have to fall back upon for salaries in case of bad business, it can readily be imagined that the theatrical business, especially in the department of comic opera, is one requiring abnormal business qualifications as well as almost unlimited capital.

TAYLOR'S BAZAAR.

Spring Opening-Handsome Display of Millinery.

Taylor's Bazaar, No. 118 Market street, was crowded with ladies yesterday-the first day of the Spring opening of millinery and fancy goods at this establishment. The millinery display was probably the chief attraction, although the exhibit of fancy goods, etc.. tastily arranged, was admired by all the visitors.

Miss Lamoine Gookins, of New York, the new milliner employed by the house, made a splendid display of handsome hats and bonnets, of latest styles, that excited the admiration of the ladies. The "Dutch" bonnets, French flower bonnets, the "Anna Gould" hats, and other styles, all elaborately trimmed, were features in the display. The house, this season, has a department separated from the store, especially for ladies' hats and bonnets.

The "opening" will continue to day, Westbrook, wife of Mr. Samuel W. when new styles and goods will be Opening Day at "The Backet." Braddy & Gaylord's grand opening began yesterday morning. Hundreds of No. 111 Market Street. ladies visited the store during the day and large crowds were present last night. The store is handsomely decorated and the various lines of goods are artistically arranged in the different departments. The building was brilliantly lighted last night, and the millinery parlors, which are up, stairs, showed up to an advantage. The clever set of clerks were kept very busy showing the spectators through the store during the entire day. The proprietors, Messrs. Braddy & Gaylord, are to be con-
