SPOTS AND FUTURES

Manchester Markets-New York Sun's Review of the Cotton Market.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. MANCHESTER. July 31 .- The Guardean, in its commercial article, says: The demand for manufactured cottons has been anything but vigorous, and the offers of buyers have mostly been declined. Occasionally manufacturers, however, are sufficiently anxious for business to accept orders, which, under no mal conditions they would incontineutly refuse, while others accept business at a loss, which is no greater than would be incurred by allowing their looms to remain idle. The difficulty in securing satisfactory employment for looms throws a gloom over the yarn market, in which the experience of sellers is most discouraging. The spindles that are generally engaged in producing yarn from American cotton are running full time, while the takings are much under the current production, Unless the demand for this product develops very soon the necessity for curtailing the supply will become impera-

NEW YORK, July 31 .- The Sun says Cotton advanced seven to nine points, closed steady, with sales of 74,400 bales. New Orleans advanced seven to eight points. Liverpool was easier on the spot, but without quotable change; the sales were 10,000 bales. Futures there declined one half to one point, but recovered this and advanced one-half to one point, distant months showing the firmness, closing very steady. In Manchester varns were weak, closing irregular. The port receipts were 126 bales, against 259 this day last week and 572 last year. Spot cotton was 1-16c higher here, with sales of 1,102 bales for spinning. Southern markets were generally slow and unaltered. Mobile declined one-eight of a cent.

To-day's features: To those who supposed that the crop conditions of late had been favorable, the weekly Government report must have been an unpleasant surprise Too much rain in Louisiana and Arkansas, too much grass in Mississippi, shedding in the Carolinas, Florida and Louisiana, and irregularity of the size of the plant in Texas, where, moreover, it is one to three weeks late, were not features calculated to make the shorts content to stand by their position. On the contrary, there was a good deal of covering, owing to this adverse crop news, and prices made a very fair advance, considering the continued narrowness of the market. Liverpool opened easier but closed slightly higher, and the spot sales there were larger, while here in New York a very good spot demand prevailed at some advance. It is understood that a larger business has been done in spot cotton here of late than has yet been reported officially. Most operators are disposed to hold off for a while awaiting further developments, but there is no doubt that the bears were less confident

Wheat, Corn and Oats Dull-Pork, Ribs and Lard Weak and Lower.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

CHICAGO, July 31,-Wheat began below where it left off last night and with occasional interruptions, whilst the bears took their profits, continued its descending course through the session. Scattered liquidation of "Long" wheat and steady selling by believers in a lower standard of values kept kept prices on the move all day. Shortly before the close there was a few more buyers than offerrings could quite accommodate and nearly a moderate rally occurred. The day developed no new leatures of the situation and holders disposed of their wheat at a sacrifice. September wheat opened from 70% to 70%c, declined to 69% to 69%c closing at 69%c-1/2 to 1/2c lower than yesterday. Cash wheat was weak and from 1 to 11/2c. per bushel lower. Corn-The friends of corn were either out of town or in hiding. Very few traders had the courage to buy it for a rise and as a matter of fact, the offering did not indicate any aggressive activity on the part of the short sellers. A nar-row range and an easy tone explained the condition of to-day's market. Sept mber corn opened at 42%c, sold between 43 and 42%c-closing at 42% to 42%c-¼ to %c under yesterday. Cash corn was steady to ¼c lower.

Oats kept in about the same relative position as corn. No particular trading took place, the transactions consisting mainly of sight scalping operations for local account. September oats closed Mc lower than yesterday. Cash oats were easy to steady. Provisions-Some of the packers afforded a little support to the product at different periods in to-day's session, but as a rule very light and by no means permanent. The demoralization of the hog market and the weakness of grain were too powerful in their influence to be as sted The closing moments were the weakest of the day. September pork lost 40c; September lard 10c, and September ribs 1716 to 20c by the trading.

MARYLAND DEMOCRATS THE STATE CONVENTION AT BALTI-

MORE. John E. Hurst, the Millionaire Merchant, Nominated for Governor-A Victory for Gorman Over the Cleveland Democrats-

Points in the Platform Adopted.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star RALTIMORE, MD., July 81 .- Mr. John E. Hurst, senior member of the well known Hopkin's Place dry goods firm of Hurst, Purnell & Co., was this afternoon nominated for Governor by the Democratic Convention on the first ballot. Senator Gorman and I. Freeman Rasin thereby scored a decisive victory over their opponents, the Cleveland Democrats. The ticket was completed by the nomination of Marion DeKalb Smith, of Kent county, to succeed himself as Comptroller of the Treasury, and of State Senator Chas. C. Crothers, of Cecil county, for Attorney General. The surprise of the committee was the almost total desertion of the re-assess-ment advocate, State Senator Thomas G. Hayes He received but two votes on the roll call. A stormy scene is said to have taken place between Mr. Hayes and Senator Gorman just before the committee met, which undoubtedly accounts for Mr. Hayes' lack of votes. It is creditably stated that Mr. Hayes accused Mr. Gorman of base deceit and double-dealing, and ended up his tirade by charging the senior Senator with having sold him out. Not fitty delegates were in the auditorium of the Harris Academy of Music at noon, the hour named for calling the committee to order. It soon became noised about that the dearth of delegates was due to a conference at the Hotel Carrollton, which had not been concluded at the noon hour.

Senator Gorman was reported as having encountered unexpected opposition rom the counties toward the head of he slate fixed up last night. Mr. Hurst's known anti-reassessment views made it impossible, the county leaders told Mr. Gorman, for him to command anything like a full Democratic vote. Several conferences followed this bombshell, and as the delegates came struggling into the convention hall there were many rumors of new deals and combinations. Chairman Talbot of the State Central committee rapped the convention to order at 12:20 o'clock. There was an entire absence of decorations in the hall which had rapidly filled up until 2,000 persons were in the seats. Mr. Talbot made a brief address and introduced Bernard Carter as temporary chairman. In addressing the Convention Mr. Carter, who is one of Baltimore's leading lawyers and an eloquent speaker, said that he expected the nominees to be o high character and fully qualified to fil the positions to which they might be named, and he therefore expected for them the unanimous support of all Democrats. Not only was the Governorship. Attorney Generalship Comptrollership at stake this year, but majority of the Legislature, so that a Democrat could be elected to the U. S. Senate to succeed Charles H. Gibson. Several of the State Senators to be elected this Fall will also have an opportunity to vote for a successor to Arthur P. Gorman two years hence. In concluding, Mr. Carter begged for harmony among the factions and united support of the Convention's nominees. It was evident that the galleries had been packed in the interest of Mr. Hurst. Mr. Carter's address was frequently interrupted by cheers for Hurst, until finally Mr. Carter warned the crowd that further interruptions would not be tolerated, but that summary action would be taken if the offence was further indulged in, excepting at appropriate

The usual committees were appointed. A motion was adopted that all resolutions be referred to the Committe on Resolutions without debate. There was quite a volume of noes when the question was put, but Chairman Carter very quickly decided the motion as

While the Credentials and Resolutions Committee were out the occupants of the gallery yelled themselves hoarse and the band played stirring music. The crowd in the Academy had been augmented by a few hundred persons, most of them being brought in in Mr. Hursts interest. They were of the leatherunged variety, and yelled all other noisy yellers to a standstill. Meanwhile the delegates who were not out with the committee sat in their seats glum and silent The scene was in striking contrast with former Democratic conventions in Maryland. Heretofore the dove of peace floated above, and a feeling of harmony prevailed throughout: to-day ill-feeling and discontent filled

Hall, when he froze up and disappeared. Senators Gorman and Gibson were reported to be under the Academy roof, but they were not visible to the 300 leaders who sat on the stage, nor to the persons in front thereof. The Committee on Credentials reported that there were no contests, and recommended that the temporary officers be made permanent, The report was unanimously adopted, and Chairman Carter stated that no further business would be considered until the Committee on Resolutions reported. Col. Victor Baughman, of Frederick county, chairman of the resolutions commutee, reported a platform, of which the essential features are as follows: "Upon the declaration of principles set forth in the National Democratic platform of 1892, and under the inspiring leadership of our great candidate, Grover Cleveland, [great cheering] the Democracy of the Union obtained control of the executive and legislative departments of the Government in the memorable contest of that year; and in full view of current events which have since occurred, the representatives of the Democracy of Maryland in State Convention assembled, proclaim their irm adherence to the principles declared in that platform, and their unabated confidence in the wisdom, patriotism and fidelity of President Cleveland.

platform to Senator Gorman. It was stated this was his desire, and he gave as a reason, that his course at Washington was not an issue in this campaign. The platform was unanimously adopted. A roll call was begun for nominations for Governor at a few minutes before 2 o'clock, William Grass, of Baltimore county, was the first to take the floor. He placed in nomination ex-Judge Wm. A. Fisher, of Baltimore city. Mr. Bernard Carter vacated the chair to put in nomination Mr. John C. Hurst, the millionaire merchant of Baltimore. As Mr. Carter stated that Mr. Hurst was under no obligation to any man, a cry of 'Gorman!" was heard. That part of the crowd opposed to Hurst instantly took up the cry, and whenever Hurst's independence or honesty of purpose was alluded to "Gorman!' came from every part of the house, to the great amusement of Hurst's opponents and to the discomfort of the speaker. William L. Beidler, of the Third Legislative district of Baltimore, placed Ex-State Senator Hayes in nomination. When Carroll county was called B. Frank Crouse seconded the nomination of Hon. Wm. A. Fisher in an address which elicited a good deal of applause from the anti-Gormanites.

Jones, and two for Thomas G. Hayes. Before the announcement of the result was made, the vote cast for Haves and Jones were changed to Hurst. giving him 86, but Judge Fisher's supporters remained steadfast. After the announcement a motion was adopted to make Mr. Hurst's nomination unani mous.

There were no scenes of enthusiasm and but little applause. The galleries and orchestra circle rapidly thinned out when it became apparent that Mr. Hurst would win on the first ballot; many of the delegates also slipped away, and in a few minutes the academy looked bare and deserted. At 3:30 o'clock the convention adjourned sine die.

A Deplorable Tragedy in Patquotank County, N. C .- The Murderer Arrested in Nor folk. Va.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, D. C. July 31 .- A special from Norfolk, Va., says: Seventeen-year-old Lee Sawyer, of Rosedale, Pasquotank county, N. C., was arrested in Norfolk yesterday and carried back to North Carolina upon the charge of paring of his father as follows:

"Father ran into the house after the house, and while there one of his sisters came to borrow a gun cap from the neighbor in whose house I had taken refuge. She told me that father was coming over to kill me, and in a few minutes she returned home with the cap. I saw father come out of the front door with a gun in his hands. I gathered up the neighbor's gun, for I could not escape, and when he was within a distance of twenty steps I fired, the load taking effect in his groin. Then thinking I would also be shot, I threw down the gun and ran, not knowing that I had killed father until arrested. I am willing to return without requisition

He also claims that his father often treated him harshly, and that recently had been taking out spite against him for buying a pair of shoes without his consent and had been whipping and cursing him daily until the fatal ending.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Section 25 of the Revenue Act of North Carolina Declared Unconstitutional. By Telegraph to the Morning Star-ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 31.-Judge

Chas H, Simonton, of the U.S. Court, has handed down a decision in an important case. On the 20th of July a warrant was issued by Justice Carter, against W. J. By Telegraph to the Morning Star. JACKSON, MISS., July 81 .- Jackson is full of Populists who have taken possession of the representative hall, the lobby of the capitol and the cheap boarding houses. The object of the meeting is to nominate a Governor and State officers, which some of them have hopes of electing. As far as numbers are concerned the Convention is first-class, but that is about all that can be said in their favor. Three-fourths of them are men who were never out of their county before, and to whom the mule cars, electric lights and water works of Jackson are sights worth gazing
