The pressure has risen throughout the central valleys and the E st. It is highest in Southern Illinois, with a barometer reading of 3 50 inches. The accompanying cold wave has pushed eastward to the Middle Atlantic States and southward, and is especially severe through the Lake region and the Onio valley, where the highest temperature of the day was but six to ten degrees above zero. By Friday night freezing temperature will probably extend to the east Gulf coast and to Northern Florida.

For Friday, fair weather and continued low temperature is indicated in the Middle and North Atlantic States, fair and colder weather in the South Atlantic and lower Mississippi Valley; fair and slightly colder in the West Gull States.

Mr. Borden Introduced the cartain of the schooner Roger Moore, a vessel which runs between this port and the West Indies. The captain said he had been here thirty times with his vessel and that station where you could always find a pilot boat. Mr. Geo, Harriss said he had told the captain that he ought - to make his complaint to the commissioners.

Mr. Geo. Harriss said the stevedores' charges were less here than at other ports, and that in regards to shipping by rail that the advantage the railroads had was, that they delivered the goods into yards or warehouses; that he could furnish all the vessels, if Wilmington could furnish the cargoes.

boat, which cost them $25,000. If you abolish compulsory pilotage, it would make wreckers and looters; that he did not make this as a threat, but it is what would take place.

Mr. C. E. Borden said that he thought they were looking at it from the wrong standpoint. By passing the bill, Congress would make it a universal law. That the majority of vessels coming in will take a pilot. If a ship meets with an a accident coming up without a pilot, that it will be the captain's and owner's loss. That abolishing compulsory pilotage will have no effect upon insurance. It is very difficult to get a loss of the stand solution. Will make the second of the stand solution and the stand solution and the stand solution. But no ad, taken for less than 20 cents.
