Indiana Silver; Men Won the Fight Easily in the Democratic State Convention. INDIANAPOLIS, IND., February 20.-The Democratic State Committee met to-day to fix the date of the State Convention. There had been an active contest between the silver and sound money wings of the party, the former desiring to have the State gathering before the National in order that they might make a showing of strength there, and the latter desiring to have it after the National meet in order to avoid a controversy over the State platform. The influence of Senators Voorbees and Turpie was thrown with the silver wing and it won the fight easily, the date being fixed at June 24. two weeks before the National Convention.
