CORONER'S INQUEST

In the Case of the Colored Boy Killed by Street Car-The Jury Fully Exonerate

the Motorman. Coroner Jacobs held an inquest yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the court house, to inquire into the circumstances attending the death of the colored boy Edward Spearman who was struck and instantly killed Wednesday afternoon by a street car on Castle street near Fourth. The testimony of witnesses did not vary from the account already published in the STAR. Dr. J. C. Shepherd, county physician, who made a post mortem examination of the body, said that the unfortunate boy's right arm 'from the elbow to the hand was crushed, and his chest was mashed in and crushed. Other witnesses testified that the car was not running very fast at the time of the accident.

The jury after consultation returned a verdict as follows: "We the jury of ward Spearman, came to his death by boat on arrival, and had Gause taken to corner of Fourth and Castle streets at every attention. about 5.80 o'clock p. m., March 4th, 1896 "We further find that the death was the result of a pure accident, or was due Mebel Paige and Company in the "Little Egyptiat"-"Diana Dimple" Will be the Play To-nicht.

"The Little Egyptian" was the bill presented last night at the Opera House by Mabel Paige and her clever company. The play is a musical farce comedy. Various pleasing specialties were introduced during the performance. Miss Mabel played the role of Violet Brighteyes, with the same ease and grace that has won for this little star the admiration of all theatre-goers. Miss Rena Tru nbull, as Leora Dalton, deserves special mention, and the acting of this lady in the last act was an exceptional strong piece of emotional work. The characters of Wm A. Bokus, Mr E. Bokus and Mrs E. Bokus, as played by Mr. E. H. O'Connor, Mr. Geo. Yale and Josephine Florence Sheppard, kept the audience convulsed with laughter, and were admirably acted, as was, in fact, each role of the piece by the different members of the company. The dancing of Miss Mabel Paige, Miss Amy Parge and Mr. E. H. O'Connor was especially good.

To-night the three-act comedy "Diana Dimple" will be presented. Mr. Sisson will appear in the cast.
