"Sound Money" Democratic Committee, has put himself in correspondence with Administration leaders in Washington. Among others he had addressed a letter to Secretary Carlisle and asked him to furnish the "sound money" committee at Chicago with a list of known 'sound money Democrats in the South." The Secretary has studiously refrained from saying whether or not he will support McKinley and bolt Bryan, and Mr. Bynum's apparent assumption that he will take that step is the cause of some adverse criticism on the part of Mr. Carlisle's friends.

SENATOR STEWART SAYS THEY WILL SUPPORT HIM.

Will Present Nothing For His Acceptance of Rejection to Give Oppertunity to Divide the Friends of Figan-

oial Reform. By Telegraph to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, July 28. - Senator Stewart, of Nevada, who was one of the active forces at the recent Silver and Populist Conventions in St. Louis, returned to the city this morning. A United Press reporter asked him what importance he attached to the published report that Chairman Jones, of the Democratic National Committee. and Gov. Stone, of Missouri, were considering the advisability of withdrawing Bryan's name from the Populist ticket. In making his reply Senator Stewart drew freely upon his picturesque, forcible and well-stocked vocabulary of inglish. He said: "None whatever. Neither Jones nor Bryan nor any other individual can prevent the Populists from using Bryan's name and voting for him. The people have some rights as well as the candidates. The vast majority of the Populist Convention are friends of Bryan and will do everything in their power to secure his election They will present nothing to him, for acceptance or rejection, to give the enemy an opportunity to divide the friends of financial reform. Bryan's record is all the platform any true financial reformer can possibly desire." "Will any communication be made by the Populist leaders of the convention to Mr. Bryan?"

"I see no propriety in communicating to Mr. Bryan what occurred at St. Louis at the Populist Convention or calling upon him to discuss the Populist platform. Any proceeding of that kind could have but one object, namely: to embarrass and defeat him. The Populists who voted for him in convention don't want to defeat him. It is their desire to elect him."

"You have no doubt then," Senator Stewart was asked, "that the Populists will cheerfully co-operate with the Democrats for this purpose?"

"The Populists," :eplied Senator Stewart, significantly, "will join with the Jeffersonian Democracy of Chicago, which eliminated the spurious, modern John Sherman, gold-bug, swindling Democrats from the ranks. There is no difference between the 620 American citizens of the Jeffersonian stripe who nominated Bryan at Chicago and the thousand other patriotic citizens who did the same thing at St. Louis. They have united their forces against the combination of monarchists, aristocrats, monopolists, despots, property-wreckers, swindlers, gold gamblers, and enemies of civilization, with headquarters on the other side of the Atlantic, and doing an active business in that section of this country known as Wall street. ### STEAMSHIP BERMUDA.

Said to Have Been Bought by an Englishman for the Cuban Junta and Soon to be Sent Out on an Important Expedition.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. PHILADELPHIA, July 28 .- The filibustering steamship Bermuda was sold today to J. Milliard, a marine architect, whose office is in New York. He is a British subject and will at once take steps to have the ship's English custom house registry restored. This can only be done through the admirality office in England, which some time ago cancelled the ship's custom house registry after she had returned from a successful and sensational filibustering expedition to Cuba. The cancelling of the ship's registry virtually made her a prisoner. Since then she has been a ship without nation, unable to obtain clearing papers from the custom house. Several attempts have been made to have her cleared but each time Capt. Clipperton, the British consul, has filed a protest with Collector Read. John Hart, the managing officer of the ship, refused to talk about the terms of the sale. Just what the ship's new owner proposes to do with her could not be learned. It was said to-day that the steamer will sail next week for Jamaica. where the transfer to the new registered owner will be made, and legal formalities complied with on British soil. It was also said that herearter the vessel will not be engaged in filibustering expedi-Various rumors concerning the Bermuda were in circulation to day. One had it that Mr. Milliard had purchased the ship for a German firm in New York, who has been commissioned to buy the ship by the Cuban Junta, and that the vessel would be sent out as soon as possible with an important expedition, consisting of men and arms. It was further stated that Col. Aguirre had been sent to this country by Gen. Gomez with special instructions to purchase the Bermuda, or any other suitable ship so as to hurry up the expedition. Col. Aguirre is now in New York.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. Indianapolis, July 28 .- The State Populist Convention assembled here at 10 a.m. Out of 1,400 delegates, about 350 were in attendance. After organizing, Mr. Landers, of Indianapolis, made a speech, during which he said, that if the Populists would endorse the State Democratic ticket, they would be given representation on the executive ticket which would insure the election of a free silver Senator from Indianapolis. He was greeted with loud cries of no, no," from all parts of the house. After he sat down the chairman made few remarks, in which he said he did not consider it right to allow their party to be swallowed up by the Democrats or any other body, and urged that a separate ticket be put in the field. There was no attempt to introduce resolutions relating to the Chicago Convention, and altogether the meeting was n session not more than fifteen minutes. MONTPELIER. VT., July 28 -The Populist State Convention was called to order here at 10.80 a, m., about twentyfive delegates being present. Bowen made a short address, scoring people who possessed wealth, and mentioning Dr. W. S. Webb as the exponent of wealth in Vermont, Miles F. Baker, of Burlington, delegate to St. Louis, made a few remarks, stating that free silver was necessary to save the country. Miles F. Baker, of Burlington, spoke again on the money question. The platform will declare for the free coinage of silver and will endorse the St. Louis platform, but whether the National can-

Wind of Cyclonic Fury - Raging Floods - Dwellings Demolished - Houses Swept Away in Allegheny, Pennsylvania - Frightful Cloud-Burste in Indians.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. PITTSBURG, PA., July 28 .- The cyclone which struck Western Pennsylvania last evening caused wide-spread destruction of property and several lives were lost. John Fiegus and George miller, with several companions, were in camp on the banks of the Allegheny river, near Ashpinwall. Their tents were sheltered beneathla large sycamore tree. Either the lightning or the wind tore a huge limb from the tree and it dropped upon the tent. Fiegus' skull was crushed. Miller was pinned to the earth and his back broken. Five other members of the party were held to the ground under the heavy limb, all severely injured. Their more fortunate companions came to their relief. John Auflader met his death while striving to reach a place of shelter, on Second avenue near Green-

Oil wells and shanties occupied by oi producers and workmen are thickly located along the banks of Cecil creek. The torrents swept through like mad. Samuel McKinney's house was swept away, carrying with it his wife and two children. Two oil men sleeping in their shanty were drowned and a girl named McElhany, who lived in the village of Cecil. The bodies of Mrs. McKinney, James McKinney, Jennie Holmes, Wilkinson Hoggins and an unknown oil man have been recovered. The Chartiers creek is higher than ever before known. The bursting of Sheliem dams added to the flood which swept through the valley. Of the sixteen bodies swept away five bodies were recovered. One man was rescued yet alive from the branches of a tree, in which he had lodged. He had not yet regained consciousness when last heard from. LONDON, July 28 .- The case of Dr. ameson, Major Sir John Willoughby, Major Raleigh Grey. Col. H. F. White, Major R. White, and the Hon. Henry F. Coventry, who took prominent parts in the recent raid into the Transvaal, was continued in the High Court of fustice this morning before Lord Chief Justice Russell, Baron Pollock and Mr. Justice Hawkins. The defendants, it will be recalled, were charged with violating the Foreign Enlistment Act of 1870. Yesterday counsel for the defence and the prosecution submitted their cases, and at half past ten o'clock this morning Lord Chief Justice Russell began to sum up the case. At that time the court room was crowded, interest in the case reviving as it drew to a close. Among those present were many well known society ladies. Lord Russell concluded his summing up at 4.90 o'clock and the case was then given to the jury. who at once retired to consider their verdict. The jury remained in their room until 8 25 o'clock, when they filed into the court room and, in response to a question by the clerk of the court, announced that they had agreed upon their verdict, which was "guilty" against all the defendants. After the usual formalities had been complied with, the court sentenced Dr. Jameson to fifteen months' imprisonment. Major Sir John Willoughby was sentenced to ten months, Col. H. F. White to seven months and the other defendants to three months' imprison-

SOCIALIST CONGRESS.

The International Gathering in London-Anarchist Delegates Porce Their Way into the Hall.

By Cable to the Morning Star. LONDON, July 28.—The International Socialists' Trades Congrees met again in St. Martin's town hall to-day. In view terday's meeting, there was a large crowd of outsiders present who apparently were anxious to see a repetition of the trouble. As the delegates presented themselves for admission, a close scrutiny was made of their credentials, it being feared that some of the Anarchists would endeavor to get on the floor and make trouble. Some of those who bore credentials which were not in exactly the right shape were relused admission to the floor of the hall. Herr Singer, the well known Socialist

English fluently, acted as chairman at to day's session. He referred to yesterday's disturbance and announced that order would have to be maintained. After the usual preliminaries the Congress took up the question of the admission of Anarchists, against which a large majority vote was cast vesterday. Several speeches for and against their recognition as delegates were mide. The speakers were very much excited, and hose in favor of the admission of the Anarchists hotly contended that if they were not admitted the Congress would not be internationally representative in its scope, and that its decisions and conclusions would not carry the weight which they would otherwise have. The opponents of the proposition declared with equal spirit hat the admission of the Anarchists would have the effect of leading the

It was finally decided by them to force an entrance into the hall, and the decision was no sooner arrived at than it was carried out. A rush was made for the doorkeepers, who were speedily upset, and the crowd of Anarchists made their way to the gallery. Then arose a periect babel. The delegates shouted n their native tongues, Russian, Polish, French, German, Italian, Spanish and English that the intruders should be put

Speakers opposed the proposition and the excitement waxed until it appeared that there was a decidedly favorable chance of yesterday's disgraceful scene being repeated. Herr Singer finally succeeded in obtaining a little order and it was then agreed that properly accredited Anarchists should be admitted, but should be allowed to take no part in the debates. Then another vote was taken and it was decided to uphold the Zurich resolution, which, in effect, provides that an Anarchist shall not be admitted. There the question remains at present.

THE STRANGEST INSECT. It Is Half a Plant and Is Found In New

The aweto, as the Maoris or natives o New Zealand call it, or Hipialis virescens, as naturalists term it, is found in New Zealand and is a vegetable caterpillar of from 3 to 4 inches in length, and so far science has not been able to say whether it is a vegetable or an insect. It is always found at the foot of large myrtle trees that have beautiful red flowers on their stems, and a beautiful creeping clematis as white as the snow. The Maoris call this tree by the name of rata. The awete buries itself among the roots of the rata, a few inches below the ground, and there lives until it is full grown, when it undergoes a most wonderful change. The spore of a vegetable fungus, termed by naturalists Sophoeria robertsii, fastens itself to the neck of the caterpillar, just between the head and the first ring, and then grows upward to the height of from 6 to 8 inches. Many people assert that there is never more than one stem, but such is not the case, for some have been found with two stems, although very rarely.

The stem shoots up out of the ground.

above where the caterpillar is living, about 2 or 3 inches. Below the earth it grows into the aweto until it fills up every possible space within the outer skin without changing the form of the insect in the slightest way whatsoever, but simply substituting a vegetable matter for animal matter. As soon as this takes place both the plant and caterpiller become dry and hard and die, but retain exactly the same form as when alive. The whole has a brown color, and the insect appears a wooden caterpillar with a huge horn anding up from the back of its neck. How the caterpillar manages to propagate its species no one can tell. Usually the caterpillar becomes a chrysalis, the chrysalis changes into a moth, the moth lays eggs, and these eggs again become caterpillars, and so on without stopping. Many reasons are given why the plant shoots up from the back of the neck of the aweto. One is that the aweto has a slimy substance oozing out boring at the foot of the rata tree for its only food, catches the seeds of the fungus and holds it fast there till the latter begins to grow. When it has sucked all the vegetable life out of the aweto, it must naturally die, for it finds no further nourishment. The aweto is often found in large numbers.—Boston Transcript.

DON'T KILL THE DOG.

Good Advice to Persons Who Have Beer Bitten and Fear Hydrophobia. "If you are bitten by a dog, don't kill the beast, but take every precaution to let him live for a few days at least." Professor Logoria, chief of the Pasteur institute in Chicago, made this statement to a reporter, and he is supposed to be an

"It is a great mistake people make," he said, "to start in at once to kill a dog that has bitten them, or have it killed. It has been proved scientifically, and is admitted now by all physicians who are posted, that hydrophobia is not a spontaneous disease and cannot be given to a person by a dog bite unless the dog be mad when it cause the wound. The dog's condition, if it be mad, will be manifested within two days or two weeks at the latest. By permitting it to live, therefore, the physicians can tell definitely whether the person bitten is liable to have hydrophobia. If the dog goes mad within that time they know the person bitten may be inoculated with the same dread disease, and may have the same fate. If the dog does not go mad, then there is no fear of hydrophobia, and the wound can be treated as any other wound would be. By killing the dog you destroy the chance of certainty as to the fate of the person bitten and leave the imagination full rein to fear the worst results, when it might have been possible to know in advance that hydrophobia was impossible.

"Of course," continued the doctor, there are exceptions to this rule that will suggest themselves to persons. When a dog is so vicious that to leave it alive is to endanger other people, then the first duty would be to destroy it unless it could be carefully secluded where the possibility of harm would be removed. But even in such cases where the dog is killed it should be done by a physician, who should keep a portion of the brain, by which can be deermined whether the dog had rabies or not."—Chicago Tribune.
