CONDITION OF CROPS.

B-port of the Weather Bureau-But Little Change in Cotton-Picking Progressing R.pidly.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, September 8.-Following are extracts from the summary of the weekly climate and crop bulletin of the week: North Carolina-Week not too warm; will be beneficial; showers but badly distributed; favorable for farm work; absence of a general rain cutting short all late crops and preventing of seeding of winter grains; all cotton will be open by October 1; rice and peanuts ordinary;

peas and potatoes still good. South Carolina-Hot; rain in the western counties; cotton being picked rapidly, no top crop; cane deficient in sap; fine rice harvest weather, but unfavorable for truck interest; late peas not

Georgia-Practically no rain during the past week, while cool nights, warm days and abundant sunshine were detrimental to all crops; about half the cotton open and picking progressing rapidly; cotton too far advanced to be benefitted by rain; pastures parching and stock water very scarce: rain needed to get ground ready for Fall seeding. Texas-Dry weather has prevailed during the week. except scattered showers near the coast; cotton picking has been rushed in all sections and over some portions of the State will be completed during the present month; the yield is very light and there is very little top crop which can mature outside Southwest Texas. Arkansas-No change in the condition ol cotton except some damage in localities by wind and rain staining the fibre; picking has become general, except in northern portions.

ARKANSAS ELECTION.

A Majority of About Bixty-five Thousand the Democratic State Ticket.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 8.-Chairman Armstrong of the Democratic State Central Committee gave the Southern Associated Press correspondent the following signed statement at noon:

DEMOCRATIC STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE. Indications are that 165,000 votes were cast at yesterday's election in Arkansas. The combined opposition received about 50,000, leaving a majority of about 65,000 for the Democratic State ticket. This more than doubles the majority received by the Democracy two years ago, and that received four years ago. The issue in this State was ought out on the money question, the ard. The opposition on the part of the Republicans was more active than ever before. No disturbances of any kind occurred anywhere in the State, as far as reported,

SPOTS AND FUTURES.

New | York Sun's Review of the Cotto Market. By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, September 8 .- The Sun says: Cotton closed steady at a net advance of twenty-three to thirty-two points, with sales of 240,000 bales.

Cotton causerie: The sharp rise in Liverpool was reflected in an active and advancing market here to-day. But aside from the Liverpool news, there were other bullish developments in the speculation which contributed to strengthen the tone. Spot markets here and in Liverpool were active and higher, unfavorable crop advices continue to be received, the weekly Government report was bullish, there was no pressure to sell, Liverpool bought, and local shorts and longs bought. An estimate of the Texas crop of 1,750,000 bales and the expectation that the Bureau report on the 10th will show a decided drop in the condition of the growing crop also favorably affected sentiment. So prices advanced rapidly Toward the close there was some real izing for local and Southern account, and part of the improvement was lost, but the last prices showed a substantial improvement for the day.

May oats closed 1/2 1/2 higher than Saturday. Cash oats were weak, prices ranging from 1/2 to 1/4c lower than on Saturday.

Provisions-The tone of the market was fairly steady, that being the feeling existing in the hog market. A firmer tone, in sympathy with the rally in wheat, appeared later in the session. January pork closed 5c higher than on Saturday; January lard a shade higher, and January ribs a shade lower.

HIS SECOND HOME-COMING TO LIN-COLN. An Hathusiastic Outburst of His Fellow Townsmen-Five Thousand People

Crowded the Ground-The Issues of the Campaign Discussed. By Telegraph to the Morning Star. OMAHA, NEB., September 8 .- It was not certain on which of the two trains Mr. Bryan would come, but when he arrived on the local train half an hour later than the express, 1,500 people were at the depot waiting for him. His reception was enthusiastic. At Ashland, reached at 10 o'clock about 600 people gathered around Mr

Bryan as he appeared on the rear platorm. Mr. Bryan thanked the people of Sanders county for their past support and said he hoped they would do better at the coming election. "The people are all interested," said he. "Everybody is plause] either for or against us. None are neutral." He asked the people to vote, and. as there were ladies present, to use their best interests.

who have suffered under it, and we are now confronted with a proposition that we must keep this system until foreign aid comes to our relief. [Applause, and cries of "We will never do it." My friends, we have a right as American citizens to discuss this great overshadowing issue and determine each for himself what ought to be done. The Republican platform, without defending a gold standard, declares that it must be maintained until the leading nations of Europe shall join in the substitution of a double standard. That is the platform, and the candidate who stands upon it has emphasized that declaration. My friends, if the heads of those corporations assert the right to control the votes of those who work for them, then we have presented to the American people even a greater question than the silver question. [Applause.] If a corporation has the right to control the vote of an employe on one question it has the right to control it on every other question. [Cries of 'Right you are" and ap-

Those corporations were not insti tuted for any such purpose. They are creatures of law. Has the law given unto these corporations any such power? Cries of "No, never."]

Continuing Mr. Bryan said: My friends, do you think you are under a government of the people? I want to ask you what you think will be the result if we get to be a government by the bankers? [Applause.] It we could trust our affairs to a New York banker we might endure it for a time, but when you remember that the New York banker is under control of London, l ask you to reflect before you submit the destinles of a free people to a few figanciers. We have been told that we cannot borrow money from abroad unless we have a financial system that is satisfactory to the people abroad. My friends, you let them control your financial system and you will never see a time when you can get out of the clutches of those who are dominating your financial policy. [Great cheering.]

Wny is it? It is because the Democratic party has declared against the issue of bonds in time of peace and the trafficking with syndicates. ["That's right!' from the crowd.] It is because the Democratic party is opposed to trusts and the prices which the trusts have instituted. It is because the Democratic party believes in the control and the regulation and the restriction of all corporations so that they will serve the purpose for which they were allowed to exist. [Great cheer ng.] If those connected with trusts are flocking together in the Republican party, may we not appeal to all the smaller business men who have felt the iron hold of the trust and who have been driven out of business by its unlawful competition. [Great cheers.] If we are to lose all the attor neys of these great trusts [a cry of "Let them gol']. may we not appeal with connominee from Chicago. Escorted by fidence to the support of the people, two brass bands, the Bryan Flambeau who have been plundered by these trusts and their attorneys have received a part of the plunder.
[Cheers and shouts of "yes."] We are cal reception committee, Mr. B yan was not responsible for the arraying of one not the producers of wealth, but the exchangers of wealth, or those who try to corner the wealth, and they are trying to array them against the rest of the people. But if a man goes on the Board of Trade and makes a million an hour betting on the price of wheat you raise, he becomes a business man. These people who have attempted to array a few of the people against the rest of this Government shou'd be put in the hands of a few. When we have complained, what euphonius names they have given to us. They have been calling us disturbers of the peace, and they have called us anarchists. My friends, these terms simply express the contempt which they have for the great mass of the people of this country. [Cries of They've been doing it for twenty-five years."] These names they call us simply prove that they are not willing to trust the destines of this republic in the hands of the people who have created its wealth in time of peace, and who have ought its battles in time of war. [Applause.] Show me these people who now call us anarchists and I will show you a class of people who if we had a war would never go to the front, but they are the people who slander those who would fight the battles to save their own property. [Applause and cheers] Mr. Bryan said that when he was called a disturber of the public peace it was gratifying to meet the toilers of his own city who endorsed him as one they were willing to trust. He said he expected a majority of these in Lancaster county and a majority of not less than 25,000 in Nebraska. He thought even this majority was large enough. Continuing, he said: "My friends, gentlemen down in New York called attention to the fact that sentiment was all on our side in this campaign, and one man said that a man could not write a poem in favor of syndicates running the business of this country. [Applause.] "Do you know what word rhymes with syndicate? It is hate. And you cannot write a poem and you cannot sing a song in favor of the syndicates controlling the financial policy of this na-

a business administration conducted by

FORMAL NOTIFICATION TO BRYAN OF

HIS NOMINATION.

His Speech in Reply and in Acceptan of the Nomination as Their Candidate For President of the United States and Mr. Sewall For Vice President.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. LINCOLN, NEB, Sept. 8 .- The Na tional Silver party through its regularly appointed committee to-night formally notified William J. Bryan of his nomination by its convention at St. Louis. The ceremonies attending the notification were in strong contrast to those at the meeting at Madison Square Garden last month, when Mr. Bryan and Mr. Sewall were officially informed that they were the choice of the convention. Instead of the spacious Auditorm with its boxes and galleries, to night's function took place in the open air on the plaza and lawn in front of Nebraska's Capitol building. With the exception of those seated in a few score chairs on the speaker's platform, directly in front of it, all the audience were standing.

to-night's ceremonies and those in New York was the fact that Mr. Bryan did not read his speech in answer to the information given by the committee of the Silver party. He made a speech neither long nor short, without the aid of notes, and was frequently applauded, Lincoln's appreciation of Bryan's second visit home since his nomination was shown by the indefatigable parading of free silver clubs, the display of fireworks and frequent exercise of lung power through tin horns and the old-fashioned yell. A big crowd received the candidate on his arrival from Chicago this morning, and he was escorted to his home by brass bands and campaign organizations. There were more brass bands and a larger number of marching clubs in the parade that to the State House, where a good-sized audience assembled to hear him deliver a political address. To-night a third parade occurred.

It was 9 o'clock before the first flaring flambeaus, heading the candidate's escort were spied by those at the Capitol as feet back was black with people.

Norris Humphrey, of Lincoln, called the assemblage to order and in a few words presented George A. Groot, chairman of the committee appointed by the National Committee to notify Mr.

and Mr. Bryan began. He said: interests of their country above the welfare of their party. (Loud cheering, shouts of 'good.") bring the Democratic party to an endorsement of free coinage, the question was put to me whether in case of failure I would support the Dem. ocratic nominee on a gold standard platform. I never believed that such action was probable in the Democratic party, but when those who questioned me were not content with probabilities but asked again whether in the case of that event I would support the nominee, I said, as you will remember, that under no circumstances would my vote be given to the man who would in the executive office use his influence to fasten the gold standard upon the American people, [Great cheering.] My convictions upon this subject are not shallow convictions. I may be in error, my triends. None of us can claim infallibility. But we have the experience of history to guide us and our judgment and our conscience, and I stand where the members of that silver convention stood. I would rather have the approval of my conscience than the applause of the earth. I may be in error, but I believe that the gold standard is a conspiracy against the human race. (Great cheering.) I would no sooner join the ranks of those whose purpose it is to fasten that upon the American people than to enlist in an army that was marching to attack my home and kill my family. (Renewed cheers) I can say, therefore, that I can appreciate the spirit which animated those who

And in 1891, on the 12th of February, in Memorial Hall at Toledo, Ohio, on the Lincoln day banquet, the present candidate for President upon the ticket used the words which I shall now read to you. I have found these words housed in a Toledo paper and they have been published so long without correction that we may safely assure you that he was years at the head of the Government he was dishonoring one of our precious metals, one of our own great products, discrediting our silver and enhancing the price of gold. He en-deavored before his inauguration to office to stop the coinage of silver dollars, and afterwards, and to the end of his administration, persistently used his power to that end. He was determined to contract the circulating medium and demonetize one of the coins of commerce, limit the volume of money among the people, make money scarce, and therefore, dear. He would have increased

After Mr. Bryan concluded, Mr. Harrington, of the notification committee, notified him of Mr. Sewall's nomination and the Presidential candidate made a brief response, accepting in behalf of his running mate.

LINCOLN, NEB, Sept. 8.—The second home-coming of William Jennings Bryan since his nomination by the Chicago Convention was made the occasion of an enthusiastic outburst on the part of his fellow townsmen that differed from his first reception here as a Presidential candidate in that it was strictly partisan. It was 10.45 when Mr. Bryan's train reached the Burlington station. Several thousand people were waiting there, and as the nominee stepped to the platform he was given three cheers that must have warmed the cockles of his heart. It was a real Western welcome that was accorded Mr.

This morning permit me to say that I appreciate this very cordial welcome. You assembled, at least a few of you, when I left here to receive the notification in New York, and I know from what you have said that you have fol-lowed the journey to New York and return, and I am delighted to have you In the alternoon a mass meeting was held in front of the State Capitol building. A parade, composed of the Bryan Flambeau clubs and Free Silver clubs, some in uniform and some in plain dress, and including floats bearing silver devices, and several hundred men on horseback from neighborlocalities, formed at the City Hall square and escorted Mr. Bryan to the State House. He rode with Mrs. Bryan, Lawrence Humphrey, chairman of the local reception committee, and Geo. A. Groot, chairman of the Mational Silver Notification Committee, in an open carriage and drawn by four white horses. As the head of the procession neared the Capitol grounds a salute was fired by a volunteer battery. The stand from which Mr. Bryan spoke had been erected on the north front of the State House and was covered with bunting and the walls of the building were also decorated. A large photograph of the Democratic nominee above the platform May corn opened at 24, declined to 23%, closing at 23%—14c under Saturday. Cash corn was easy and 14c the Republican State office-holders had placed in the windows of their offices. Among those who had seats on the stage were John A. Creighton, of Omaha, John A. Martin, of Missouri, who was sergeant-at-arms of the Democratic National Committee; Gov. Holcombe, of Nebraska; Ignatius Donnelly, Chairman George A. Groot and a number of the members of the Silver party notification committee. Five thousand people crowded the ground. Mr. Bryan was in-troduced by E. E. Brown, a former Republican and president of the Columbia LADIES AND GENTLEMEN-I am only going to talk to you a little while. There are others who are prepared to discuss the issues of the campaign in your presence, and I am trying to do as little work as possible. I think I have been doing my share so far as time is concerned [cries of "You are right"], but I want to avoid getting tired by resting before I get tired, and therefore I am going to ask you to listen to me but a short time. It is now just one month since I left Nebraska, and turned homeward. It has been an interesting trip. I want to assure you that the sentiment in favor of the free coinage of silver is

It was 10.45 before Groot concluded "Mr. Chairman, chairman of the Notification Committee and members of that committee: I beg to reply at this time without the formality of a letter. The platform adopted by the Silver Convention contains but one plank, and that plank, the plank upon the money question, or upon the silver question, is identical in substance with the silver plank of the Chicago platform, As I have already discussed at length that plank it will not be necessary to enter into any extended discussion at this time. I beg to assure the committee that I accept the nomination so generously tendered by them on behalf the Silver party, in the spirit in which the nomination was tendered. I can appreciate the feeling which animated those who assembled in the convention. I can appreciate the hesitation in which those assembled there turned upon the party with which they had been associated. I know something of the strength of parties, and because I was in a position where I looked forward to a possibility of like action on my part, I can appreciate the depths of a conviction that led them to place the
