Why do we say so?

Do not the advocates of protection declare that it should be the established policy of this great, progressive Republic to protect its manufacturers and those whom they have in their employ from competition with "foreign pauper labor" by the imposition of tariff duties which would make it impossible for the competing manufacturers of other countries to ship their goods to this country at a profit ?

We make no point here on the absurd pretence that it is the foreign manufacturer who pays the tariff tax and that the way to keep him out is to tax him out, but we assume that to the city to witness and partic!this is their motive and that this is the way they propose to do it.

Remarks That Have Been Made Around the Table.

A good story is told of a lawyer in Chicago who considered himself a great authority on whist. He wrote a book on the subject, and sent it ton famous Milwankee player for his opinion of it. In about a week the book was returned to him, with the following letter:

MY DEAR SIR-Your favor of the - inst. accompanied by your book, was duly received. I have read it very carefully. It seems to be a very good game, but I don't think it is as good a game as whist. Sincerely yours,

It is no unusual thing to hear a player at whist remark, after being berated by his partner for very bad playing, Well, I play whist for pleasure." He does not stop to think that he gives his partner anything but "pleasure." Such players cause their partners many "un mauvais quart d'heure." It might be a great "pleasure" for a novice to play a duet on the piano with Paderewski. One can readily imagine how much "pleasure" Paderewski would find in the performance. If a man wants to play whist, he should study the books and familiarize himself with them be fore inflicting his play on a partner who knows anything of the game, or else devote his great mind to dominos.

It is related of one of these gentry that, after a hand at whist, his partner asked him, "Why in thunder didn't you trump that queen of clubs?" He naively replied, "Why, I only had one little trump." Sometimes, as in this case, the humor-unknown to the perpetratorcarries off the bad feeling engendered by his horrid mistakes and ignorance It is so easy, if one would devote a lit tle time and ordinary intelligence to the study of the game, to learn to play a fairly good game of whist.

Four players started a game of whis not long since, a noted wit being one of them. He was dealing and made a misdeal. He dropped his cards and burst into laughter. "That reminds me," said he, "of my dear old friend, Judge Peck ham, father of the present judge. He was a great whist player of the 'old school' and had scant patience with a him." poor player. I was passing the cardroom one day and met one of the poorest players in the club coming out. 'Have you him?" been playing whist?' I asked. 'Yes,' said 'Who was your partner?' 'Judge Peckham,' he replied. 'Did he pitch into you pretty strong?' 'No, indeed. He only made one remark. I was dealing and made a misdeal. The judge said, "Why, you fool, you don't even know how to deal!" This is the only remark he made during the entire game.' "-Washington Star.

Patriotic.

A bright and patriotic American girl who was recently in Oxford, England, attended an afternoon tea while there, and soon found herself, her country, its institutions and customs objects of great interest. The conversation was animated and prolonged well into the evening, and the young American took a conspicyous part therein. Physically exhausted thereby, the maiden knelt for her customary devotions at her bedside that night in a mood somewhat less attentive than usual, so that, as she confessed confidentially 000. to her friends, she discovered herself saying, "Thy will be done, on earth as it is in America!"-New
