GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Wheat Closed of the Highest Point Tous Par for the Year-May Corn Declined-

Pork Products Closed Lower. By Telegraph to the Morning Star. CHICAGO, October 20 - Wheat closed to-day at the highest point thus far for the year. Early indications gave no intimation of the boom seen in the closing half hour. Some indifference abroad was disclosed by the cables, and especially those from Liverpool. America looks to Europe for direction in the present instance and when a decline at the place mensioned was reported, the enthusiasm here underwent moderation. Bradstreet's was expected to announce a his increase in the world's stock, and on the prospect thereof a few of those people who have not yet been convinced of the legitimacy of the advance were tempted to sell a little wheat short. When it was learned that the report would not be made public to-day, there was a change in front, no one caring to remain short over night. Then, when sales of 300,000 bushels at New York for export to Lisbon were reported, together With heavy gold im-portation, the sentiment rapidly assumed a bullish appearance and from that time until the close it was only a question of wheat opened 77% @ 77%c sold between 78% 675%d. closing at 78%c--1c higher than yesterday. Cash wheat was irregular, closing firm at 1c advance.

Corn—May corn opened at 291/c, declined to 28% 328% c. closing at 29% c — %c under vesterday. Cast corn was weak and %c lower, closing a little May oats close unchanged from yesterday. Cash oats were easy and Mc Provisions were quiet, generally speaking, and in response to a lower bog market, exhibited a tendercy to sag. Late in the session the bulge in wheat helped prices of provisions a trifle. January pork closed 716 lower, January lard and ribs each 25c lower.

SPOTS AND FUTURES.

New York's Sun's Review of the Cotton Market,

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. NEW YORK, October 20 -The Sun says: Spot cotton here was unchanged. Liverpool declined 1-88d on the spot, with sales of 10,000 bales. Fotures there opened two polats lower but rellied, closing unchanged to one point lower. The receipts at the ports were 66,950 bales. The exports approximated 80 000 bales, Future prices here advanced four to five points but reacted slightly, closing very steady at a net advance of two to five points, with sales of 121,100 bales. The speculation to-day was a small local affair, with slight fluctuations in prices. At the opening the tone was somewhat easier, in sympathy with a decline in Liverpool, but subsequently prices rallied and advanced slightly on reports of frost in the Atlantic States and predic-tions by the Signal Service of frosts in Arkansas, Oklahoma and the Indian Territory. There was very little dieposition to sell and prices were easily adbefore the close even part of this small advance was lost in the absence of buyers. The movement to the ports and the interior towns continues heavy and checks speculative buying.

Youngstown and Other

Planes. By Telegraph to the Morning Star, MARTIN'S FERRY, OHIO, Oct." 90:-The last day of William J. Bryan's Onlo campaign was begun by the candidate with very little physical preparation for the speech-making ordeal. He did not get to bed or board the "Idler," his special car, until after 1 o'clock this morning. That was at Zanesville where the people waited more than three hours beyond the time set for Mr. Bryan's ap-pearance, and heard three speeches by him after midnight. The "Idler" was pulled out of Zanesville at 180 a. m. and waited on a siding near Bellaire until 6 o'clock. Then it was taken to the railway station of that Ohio river town, where about 2,500 people were gathered. They shouted for Bryan and a band played "Dixie," while the nominee was trying to get an extra forty winks, but ne did nat appear until 8 o'clock. He made a short speech, and fifteen minutes later the train resumed its journey.

With one exception, the Emesville demonstration was the most remarkable some particulars of any in which Mr. Bryan has been the central figure. The exception was Aberdeen, S. D. where he candidate arrived at nearly 2 o'clock a the morning to find that three large gatherings, that had been expecting him during the many hours his delayed train was endeavoring to make up fost time over the Dakota prairies, had stuck persistently to their places, and woke up full of enthusiasm and good humor. ast night the conditions differed, in hat Mr. Bryan reached Zanesville an hour sooner than he arrived at Aberdeen, but when it is considered that one of his audiences in the Onio town stood n a pouring rain to hear him speak and did not permit the wetting it received to dampen its partisan ardor, the Zanes-ville affair may be considered the more emarkable after all.

Many of the excursionists who went to anesville yesterday to hear the Demoratic candidate had decided to leave by ate trains and were obliged to return to heir homes before Mr, Bryan's much belated train came to a standstill at the 2 anesville station. Many others waiting for their trains to go surrounded the al of being left in Zanesville over night, ot rid of their bottled up eathusiasm in. he neighborhood of the station. Mrs. Bryan, although very much fatigued, went with her husband to all three meetings. The rain was coming down hard they were conveyed in a closed carlage past cheering crowds in the streets o a hotel, from the balcony of which he poke for fifteen minutes to 8,000 people who were seemingly unmindful of the downpour. Then he was taken to a lace with the suggestive name of Gold fall, said to hold 1,500. It was crowded to the doors and the audience made up for its long waiting in ringing cheers. The third and last address was delivered a crowd of 4 500 in Memorial Hall. qually demonstrative."

Then Mr. and Mrs. Bryan west back to the "Idler" to the accompaniment of more cheers at the station. The "Idler" was attached to a regular Biltimore and Chio train, that had been held two hours for Mr. Bryan's accommodation, and twitched off at the siding mentioned, and twitched off at the siding mentioned. At Bridgeport the second stop of the merning was made. Friteen hundred people some of whom had been waiting since daybreak heard him. Yellow Mc-Kinley badges were the most conspicuous objects in the crowds at Bridgeport and Martin's Ferry. At the latter place terrace beside the track was covered SANDUSKY, OHIO, Oct. 20,-A sortie to McKinley's Congressional district was the most interesting feature of Candidate Bryan's last day in Ohio, which ended with a speech at Sandusky to-night, several hours behind the time called for by the programme. The loyformer Congressional district was manifested at several places by demonstraasm for the Democratic nominee. The manner in which the supporters of the Sa Louis ticket showed their present feelings was the same at every place, where such demonstrations occurred.

At Wellsville, the first town within the district at which Mr. Beyan spoke, the attempt to offset any influence his appearance and speech might have was particularly marked. Yellow badges, yellow neckties, yellow hat-bands, with yellow streamers tied to brooms, and yellow flags were numerous. Cheers for Mc-Kipley were heard quite frequently, and Mr. Bryan's address was interrupted so often that he finally turned on his annovers and addressed some very vigor-ous remarks intended for their benefit. This rallied his supporters, and they cheered him with a heartiness that made him understand his standard had still plenty of followers. It was the same at East Liverpool, where golden-hued persocial adornment was practiced to quite as large an extent. Bellaire and Martin's Ferry also farnished gatherings, in which the innigola of the gold standard was prominently displayed. The earlier part of Mr. Bryan's trip to-day brought him to places along the west bank of the Ohio river. He made a little force unto Pennselvente. made a little foray into Pennsylvania and spoke at Rochester and New Brighton in that State. Youngstown gave him his greatest reception, at least 20,000 being in one of the three audiences he addressed there. His speeches nembered twenty-one and were delivered at Bellaire. Martin's Ferry. Bridgetown, Steubenville. Toronto, Wellsville. East Liverpool. Rochester, Pa., New Brighton, Pa., Youngstown (three times). Alliance, Ravenna, Kent, Akron (two), Medina, Elvria and Sandusky (two.) SANDUSKY, Ou October 80 - Gold badges were noticeable in the throng of 6,000 at Steubenville, but not nearly so o,000 at Steubenville, but not nearly so numerous as at Bridgeport and Martin's Ferry. Some young mes who wore the yellow intercepted the speech several times, and Mr. Bryan answered their comments with some display of leaking. "My triands," he said, "I am surprised at these interruptions. You show me a man that believes in a gold standard and I will show you a man who is afraid of public discussion, because the gold standard dare not meet public discus-sion (Cheers) We are leaving those who accuse us of being Anarchists to interfere with public meetings and to prevent discussion of a measure that concerns every man, woman and child in the United States. (Cheers.) A Republican platform for the first time in the history of this country, proposes American ditizens, but we want foreign estions to take care of us, and then their badge will mean something." (Cheers)

"Mr. Bryan had been told that one of "the generals" had said at Stendenville yesterday that the Democratic nominee had declared in the House of Representatives that the pension coll was not sentatives that the pension roll was not liness, which follows the use of Syrup of a roll of honor, and in beginning his Figs, is unknown torthe few who have speech there this morning he said: not progressed beyond the old-time "Before emersing upon the discussion of medicines and the cheap substitutes any question. He delivered a number of speeches at towns along the Otto river, and was made to real ze at some of them that he was really in the enemy's country. It was at Wellesville, where 2,500 people were waiting for him that his train made its first stop in Major Me-Kinley's old Congressional districtional the most pronounced counter demonstration of the Democratic candidate's campaign was witnessed there. A large number of the spectators wore the conspicuous yellow badges encountered earlier in the day at Beliaire and Martin's Ferry, and some of the Republicans in the crowd bore American. lags and brooms, adorned with golden streamers. The first sentences uttered by Mr. Bryan started the opposition. We can support our position in this campaign." he said, by the authority even of those who to-day are silent upon the subject. I can call your attention to a speech made, by Mr. McKinley in 1891, in which he denounced Mr. Cleve, and's administration." Cheering for McKinley began as he concluded the sentence, but the nominee's contingent of the audience railied to the support of their standard-bearer, and made him understand by their shouts that he had plenty of friends around him. Then Mr, Bryan started in to have his innings in this way: "My friends, I am glad to know that there are those here who cheer for him because I want to know which McKinley they cheer for— the McKinley who six years ago wanted more money, or the McKinley of this year who does not want any more money?

"Do you want the one who six years ago believed in the American people having an American system of finance, or do you want the one who believes now in the American people and English sys-tem of finance? (Cheers) Do you believe in the one that attended a convention and wrote a platform which declared that the American people from tradition and interest are in favor of bimetallism, or do you believe in the one who says that the American people can have bimetalliam whenever foreign nations will

The assemblage at East Liverpool was double that at Wellesville. Another McKinley demonstration was attempted there. The vellow was everywhere. Women wore it in bows on their hats and and at their throats, while men and boys had golden collars and neckties. Bryanites appeared to be in the majority, but the advocates of the gold standard shouted long enough and fre-quently enough to call from Mr. Bryan remarks similar to those he had made at the Wellesville meeting.

Nearly everybody on the station platdecorated with the Republican colors, but the train did not stop. It continued on across the Ohio line to Rochester.

At Youngston, Mr. Bryan addressed an audience of ladies at the Opera House, In espiving to the presenta-tion of a basket of flowers there, he quoted from the letter read last Sunday at the Westminster Presbyterian church in Detroit, while Mr. Bryan was present, telling of how hard times had affected home missionary work, and said: "Nothing has stirred my indignation more in this campaign than that the monaychangers send money to the churches and missionaries begging them to stand by the gold standard and help them to perpetuate a system of financial bondage." He added. that this question, which was first a. political question and then an economic question, had become a great moral question as well.

Mr. Bryan also addressed a dense crowd from his carriage at the Pennsylvania depot. On the run from Youngstown Mr. Bryan addressed crowds of 3,000 at Ravenna and 2,000 at Kent.

Akron was reached at 6.15, three ours behind the time set for Mr. Bryan's arrival.

Creuzot, a process based upon the fact, well known, that gas, under great heat, deposits carbon in solid form, upon this depending its light effects, and also the formation of the so called retort graphites, a thick covering of pure carbon on the walls of gaslight retorts, the gas that strikes the walls depositing part of its car-bon upon them. Hardening iron and steel plates formerly consisted in covering the plates with layers of coal and heating them till they glowed. In the new process two plates are put into a furnace, one on top of the other, with a bellow space between, this space made gas tight by means of as-bestus packing put on around the edges, and the plates heated redhot, while a stream of gas is poured into the hollow space indicated. The earbon thrown out by the gas is readily taken up by the glow-ing plates until they are quickly covered, and the depth of this carbon covering can As was the case upon the occasion of last Tuesday's hearing, the court room was crowded with friends of the de-fendants, curiosity seekers, etc. Before the proceedings were opened Hou. R. Roosevelt, first secretary of the United States embassy, had an interview with Mr. Castle in an ante room. Mrs. Castle looked somewhat pale when she entered the court room, but did not isplay anything like the nervous agitation which she so plainly showed at her

The President of the greatest nation on from $2.00 to 800 each. Men's earth to-day, is quietly sitting in his big arm Chair of State, enjoying his wealth and position, while there is raging even at his very door the greatest political war on record, and he is taking life quietly and easily; and this is the case with many of our well-todo Dry Goods merchants. They have their stores in fine apple pie order with the brush of neatness on every shell and counter. They are not realizing the fact that there are others in the Dry Goods line who are cutting the prices of Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes and Underwear. We are in hopes that they will not wake to realization until one day after the feast,
