COCKRAN ON SLAVEHOLDERS. .Will you submit to this conspiracy between the professional farmers, the farmers who cultivate the quarrels of their neighbors, farmers who labor with their jaws, Populist agitators of the West, and the unreconciled slave-holders of the South This is a conspiracy between professional farmers, who want to pay low wages, and the unreconciled slave-holders, who would like to pay no wages at all. - (Extract from the speech of Bourke Cockran, delivered in New York August 18th.)

PRINCIPLE AND PELF.

There never was a political party in this State the leaders of which have so trifled with the rank and file as the Populist party, the rank and file of which is honest, although the leaders are not. Two years ago they fased with the Republicans, with whom they had nothing in common save the greed of spoils, and this year they have done the same thing where the grasping demands of the Republicans did not prevent a trade. While pretending to be actuated by principle, their sole inspiration has been the spoils of office, upon which they have kept a steady eye in every movement they made.

If the honest Populist could strike hands with any other party his nat ural ally should be the Democratic party, to which at least eight out of ten of the Populists of this and of other Southern States belonged when they changed their political fellowship and joined the Populists. Every leader in the party to-day was, not many years ago, a Democrat, and therefore we say that they had less to surrender by seeking alliance with the Democratic party than with the Republican party at any time, but especially now when the Democratic party, national and State, is contending for a principle which their party several years ago proclaimed a cardinal principle, although they did not attach much importance to it until the Democratic party made it the issue between the Republican party, and constituted it by a friend of the Doctor to the crats, the former of whom wears a the main plank in its platform. Then the honest rank and file of the Populist party forced its leaders to recognize that declaration of the Democracy, and to make common cause nominating Tom Watson for the depreciated currency than it can stand Vice Presidency, which they knew would complicate matters and handicap the friends of Mr. Bryan in their efforts to elect him, which was doubtless their intention. If they had been really anxious to secure the election of Bryan they would have accepted the whole ticket and not weighted Mr. Bryan by nominating Watson when they knew there was no possibility of his election and that the only effect of nominating him would be to prevent the chorough cooperation of the Populists with the Democrats in the struggle for Bryan and free silver. Of course they had to give some excuse for this tricky action, and the excuse was to "save the party;" which was Tom Watson's reason for accepting the nomination, and it had about as much in it as Palmer's and Buckner's reason has for accepting the Indianapolis decoy nomination -namely, to "save the Democratic party." If the leadership of the Populist party was as honest as the rank and file are there would be thorough co-operation, both on the National, Congressional and State tickets, and we would not find them handicaping Bryan, nor dickering with Republicans for seats in Congress, nor for joint control of State and county governments and seats in Legislature, as they have been doing in North Carolina. They began this bargaining before the Republican State Convention met and it was only because the Republicans, who claimed to have the most votes, demanded too much that the bargaining was not closed before the Republican Convention did its work, but left the bars down so that the Populist traders might come in later. They traded on Congressmen, on county tickets, and on the legislative ticket wherever they could make a satisfactory deal and to day there are so-called Populist-Republican candidates for the Legislature who are pledged to vote for the Republican caucus nominee for the United States Senate to succeed Pritchard, knowing full well that that nominee will be a gold standard man, and probably Pritchard, who violated his pledges to them, and is a candidate for re-election. Hal Ayer, chairman of the Populist State committee, hopes to profit by the dickering by being elected to the position of State Auditor and therefore he has been favoring the dickering with the Republicans and opposing co-operation with the Democrats, and hence the Caucasian, the paper which he edits, has been vigorously fighting the Democrats and giving aid and comfort to the State - Landwier Worth hopes to profit by it and therefore the Progressive Farmer, controlled by his comfort to the Republicans.

S. Otho Wilson, Railroad Commis therefore he started the Hayseeder to help in the election of the Republican ticket with the Populist attach-

There is not one of them who although they called a convention and went through the form of nomi-

What respect can honest Populists shown such a dickering and venal disposition, in which principle and decency were entirely lost sight of might win or hold places and profit by trading on the fidelity of the plain, honest men of their party?

They assumed and presumed too much, for thousands of Populists that proposed to barter their votes repudiated it as self-respecting men should, and the result is that thousands of them have washed their hands of the whole dirty business and gone back into the Democratic party, where they found fellowship before they were enticed away by the appeals of these mercenary tricksters, who have no more regard for principle than a boss pirate has for the ten commandments. They do not want Watson elected Governor, nor Guthrie. They prefer Russell to either, and they prefer a Republican Legislature with a mixture of Populists, for this gives them a better chance of holding their grip and sharing the spoils. Honest, thinking Populists see this, and are therefore in many counties supporting the Democratic ticket, National, State and county, as the most effective way to rebuke and defeat it.

TWO GOOD REASONS.

Dr. Richard H. Lewis, of Raleigh, well-known to many of the readers of the STAR and well-known in Wilmington, to which he makes occasional professional visits. He is a gold standard man, but he is also a loyal Democrat, and gives the following good reasons why he is supporting Wm. J. Bryan for the Presidency of the United States, as told | Morton both call themselves Demo-Charlotte Ivews:

"I am a gold standard man, but there are some things more important than adherence to that standard. One of these things is the keeping faith with one's party associates. A citizen who with it by ratifying at St. Louis that declaration, which they did by the nomination of Wm. J. Bryan.

But even in that they, with a few conspicuous and honorable exceptions, trifled with their following by one's party associates. A citizen who goes into a caucus, convention or primary to determine what issue or what candidate shall be chosen for the party in the campaign, is under obligation if deleated in his desires to stand by the platform and nominees selected. But I am a Bryan man for another reason. I feel that the country can better stand a crime."

the election of a candidate who, whatever his private views may be, will owe his election to the great bloated trusts and other overgrown corporations, a man who cannot use his own independent udgment, but who is already the recipent of personal benefits from the very people to whom he will owe his election if he is elected. They paid Mr. McKin ey's debts. His election would inaugurate the reign of trusts and we do no know when that reign would end."

ALITERAL MARKET

These are not only the utterances of a loyal Democrat who subordinates his individual views to the de clarations of the duly constituted authority of the party to which he professes allegiance, but of a patriot who believes there is danger to his country in the defeat of the Democratic party and in the restoration of the Republican party to power, for which the Republican managers are depending mainly (leaving out of consideration their money) upon the assistance of the so-called "sound money" Democrats who are supporting Palmer and Buckner.

MINOR MENTION.

Ambassador Bayard has not made much reputation for himself since his residence in London as the representative of this Government. He has made a number of public addresses to English audiences, and while some of them were much misrepresented by the Republican organs in this country, for partisan purposes, there was disposition enough in all of them to pander to British sentiment and British pride to make him amenable to just criticism from an American standpoint. He has recently seen fit to write a letter in condemnation of the Chicago platform and in support of the so called Democratic ticket which has been put in the field in opposition to the nominees of the Chicago convention, which was so thoroughly unAmerican as to call from the Washington Post, an independent gold standard paper. the following rebuke:

"The truth of the matter is that every well informed Englishman realize the absurdity of the stock outcries about free silver. They understand fully that free coinage by the United States would be a bad thing for Great Britain, but they are not by any means sure that it would be a bad thing for us. And when they hear Mr. Bayard bleating out a lot of stupid platitudes - empty phrases that would discredit a backwoods spouter-they naturally grieve over a shattered idol and wish that he had been wise enough to muzzle himself for once, Mr. Bayard does not grasp the situation at all. He talks not like a statesman of independent thought and broad perception, but like a lackey whio would please his master. Any well-trained parrot could have delivered itself as wisely. There is much to be said against the free and unlimited coinage of silver but the United States, acting alone, but Mr. Bayard did not say it. He was the very flunkey of an

Aside crited rebuke of this volunteer agent of the English gold power who is firing at W.J. Bryan chief clerk, has been giving aid and at long range, the declaration by the Post, that "every well-informed Englishman realizes the absurdity of the sioner, hopes to profit by it and stock outcries against free silver. They understand fully that the free coinage of silver by the United States would be a bad thing for Great Britain, but they are not by any means sure that it would be a would give the toss of a copper to | bad thing for us," is worthy of note see Guthrie and Dockery elected, as coming from such a respectable gold standard paper as the Post. They fully understand that it would be a bad thing for Great Britain, hence they are opposed to it, and have for a leadership which has they are not sure it would be a bad thing for us, which is another reason why they are opposed to it. If they were sure it would be a bad thing and ignored, and all that the traders for us they would be more disposed to favor it, for they look upon this country as the only commercial rival that Great Britain has to fear. This has been one of the contentions of the advocates of free coinage all have seen through the tricky venality along, and one of the reasons why we advocate independent action, befor pelf, and they have spurned and cause it will free us from British dominion, be a bad thing for Great Britain, as far as her commercial supremacy goes, and a good thing

> The managers of the McKinley campaign have been working to strengthen McKinley in the North and central West, by appealing to sectional prejudice, because they recognize the fact that the South i solid for Wm. J. Bryan and free silver. In this they have had the cooperation of some men who call themselves Democrats, as Bourke Cockran, for instance, who in his Madison Square speech opened the programme with his reference to the "unreconciled slave owners of the South." Secretary Morton, who has shown a superserviceable zeal in behalf of Wall street, threw Cockran in the shade when a few days ago in a freak of anger he delivered himself

> "The finance which they teach is en irely Confederate fiat. In the Southern Confederacy the same leaders who now are in command of the picket guards for free silver at 16 to 1 were eading financiers. And Harris, Pugh, Morgan, and the other Confederate Generals now in command of the Bryan campaign seem to desire to accomplish, by false finance, that which they falled to bring about by arms-national disbonor and disgrace."

Bourke Cochran and Secretary McKinley tag, the latter a Palmer ticket. In this they are in accord with the New York Press, McKinley organ, which blows the following blast to "the working man" of the

In view of the fact that Mr. Mc. Kinley blandly tells his Southern "pilgrims," a few of whom have been sent to him at Canton, that the sectional issue is happily dead, this is interesting, but yet the strife-stirrers who talk thus are appealing to Soothern Democrats to join with them in the flank movement on the Democratic party, the South's defender, and help them in their hypocritical, treacherous efforts to elect McKinley and put the Republican party back into power. Henry George who, as the representative of the New York Journal, spent five weeks in the Central Western States, studying the Scampaign movement, now feels confident that Bryan will carry the States in which Hanna's "battle royal" is being fought. He didn't think so at first, but after free intercourse with people of all classes, and observation of public sentiment, this is his conclu-

--- Chairman Jones' quick action with regard to a "national flag day," will completely nullify Chairman Hanna's plan of a big Republican flag hurrah just prior to the election. When both Democrats and Republicans hang out flags, it will be impossible to distinguish between them. It is not likely, by the way, that the suggestion of the chairman will be followed to a very great extent in this section of the country. - Savan nah News, Dem.

It will be recalled that he was convicted of breach of promise to marry and sentenced to a term of two years in the State prison. He did not succeed in perfecting his appeal bond, it seems, hence the case was carried no further. Efforts are being made to get the Governor to pardon him.

- Greenville Reflector: Cyrus Thompson, the Populist Republican nominee for Secretary of State, spoke here to-day. His speech was quite lengthy, the bulk of it being bitter abuse and denunciations of the Democratic party, though he professed not to be dealing in abuse at all. He accused the Democrats of dishonesty in the advocacy of silver, and dishonesty in everything else, and that they were only trying to get back into power. If the Republicans had been looking for a man to make a speech for them, they could not have found one to abuse the Democrats more to their fancy than Thompson. APPOINTMENTO.
