Paul D'Enjoy enjoys the notoriety attendant upon the assertion by him that he has discovered the "missing link" in the forests of Indo-China, on the borders of Annam. It is something like a man, with hair and tail a la monkey, but can talk. He saw several of them, found that they can talk, but they got away from him. He says he talked with one of them through guides who understood their language, which they call the Moi language. It seems to us we have heard about these Moi people with tails, how they made pottery and sundry other articles for domestic use, but this last tale about these tailed people rather staggers us.

According to the official returns from the respective States there were cast at the last election for President 13,732,498 votes, divided as follows: McKinley, Republican, 7,044,884; Bryan, Democrat, 6,452,218; Palmer, decoy, 116,608; Levering, Prohibitionist, 104,427; Brently, National Prohibitionist, 10,678; Matchett, Socialist-Labor, 9,942. After all the boasting of the great victory for "sound money" McKinley, notwithstanding the many millions spent to elect him, has a majority of only a little over 350,000, out of a vote of thirteen millions and a half.

The country is safe now, Henry Watterson is back with us again. If he can prevail on the Democratic party to fast and pray, and the party could prevail on Henry to lead the prayer meeting, there is no telling what the result might be. The party might think more kindly of Henry, and he might scold less because it didn't take his advice and follow his example in bolting the platform and the nominee.

"Just tell them that you saw me" was the favorite exclamation of R. Pitcher Woodward, of Brooklyn, N. Y., as astride of a demure donkey he started from his town last Saturday to ride the donkey across the continent, in tulfilment of an agreement made before the election, if he should lose, and he lost. In this case the donkey is entitled to sympathy for such a long stretch of enforced association with the other ass.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

REPORT OF HON. J. C. SCARBOROUGH SUPERINTENDENT OF PUB-LIC SCHOOLS.

Senator Marion Butler Expected in Raleigh -Another Populist Declares He Will Not Support Pritchard for Re-election - Dynamite Accident - The Legislature to be Asked to Pass a State Dispensary Law. [Special Star Correspondence.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 1. Senator Butler is expected here this afternoon from Sampson county. He will likely have a discussion with the Populist leaders as to the policy of the Populists in the Legislature. Y. C. Morton, of Richmond county, writes the editor of the Caucasian that he will not support Senator Pritchard for re-election under any circumstances. He declares himself in favor of Col. O.

Last evening John Gill, a young white boy, while playing in a store on Martin street exploded a package of dynamite. The young man's arm was torn off and he was very seriously injured. He is yet alive with prospects of recovery. Four prisoners in the penitentiary two of them serving life sentences and the other two twenty years terms, administered morphine to three guards in an attempt to escape, which might have resulted fatally but for prompt medical attention. James Brantly, who headed the gang that killed J. B. Bonner, was the prisoner who made the plot to escape. The four confederates worked in the brick yard, and through a driver from the city they obtained a vial of morphine. This they induced a Croatan Indian, who waited in the dining room, to put in the coffee of these guards. Morphine is bitter, and the guards naturally detected something wrong be-fore taking all their coffee. Epicac was given two of them and they soon recovered. The third guard was made deathly sick. The Biblical Recorder publishes the following: By the courtesy of Hon. J. C. Scarborough, Superintendent of Public Instruction, we are able to give facts and figures of his report on our public schools for the present year, in advance of the publication of the report. There are 635,455 schildren of school age (between 6 and 21 years) in North Carolina. Ninety-five per cent. of these, which is 608.678, are dependent on the getting out of bed, with pistol in hand he write. Such is the great responsibility of North Carolina. If she does not he started down the stairway to the first | provide schools, 603,673 of the children floor of the building he saw a man at the in her borders have no hope, no opportunity but to grow up illiterate, ignorant utterly. If she provides poor schools, sorry teachers, and keeps them only a few weeks in each year, the chances for these 603 673 children are but slightly improved. And it is no reflection on the teachers to say that this is the condition of the average public school; the reflection is upon the State; it is a shame upon the General Assemblies which have met without making better provision; it is a shame upon the people who are intelligent enough to recognize these conditions and to deplore them but who have indifferently tolerated them. No patriot can stand by and see 603,673 children out of the total of 635,445 in the State coming to manhood in ignorance because night by mistake he entered Mr. Collins' they have no schools, or because/such as bey have are so meagrely supported that they are not even kept open long enough to teach a pupil to read or write or figure. Do you question? Let the facts bear us out: There are 7,171 public schools in North Carolina. The amount expended upon them for teach ers is $690,161.54, which is an average of $95 for each school a year. Can any one expect to get a fit teacher for this pitiful Rewarded for His Services and Open Boas ed of the Horrible Deed He Had Done.

[New York Journal] KEY WEST, FLA., November 29 Unable to crush the insurgent armies, Captain General Weyler has, according to Cuban advices, renewed his war on non-combatants with savage energy. It is stated that he some weeks ago issued a secret order to his commanders in the various provinces to clear the country of non combatants. This order has been interpreted by the Spanish commanders as an edict to massacre old men, women and children, and the result is an appalling list of butcheries. Colonel Struch, who has been operating in Pinar del Rio at the head of a thousand men, seems to have been most active in carrying out Weyler's savage edict. On November 18th he and bis command started on a raid. They visited Rio Hondo, Palacios, Paso Real and other small towns in the southern portion of Pinar del Rio.

At every place Colonel Struch gave his troops license to loot, burn and murder, and the result was that every hamlet visited was destroyed. During the raid the Spanish troops made pris oners of over 800 Cubans, the great majority of whom were women and young girls. These unfortunates were forced to follow the troopers.

BUTCHERED HUNDREDS OF WOMEN, On the night of November 23, Colonel Struch and his men drank heavily, and then followed one of the most horrible occurrences of the war. Inflamed by drink, the Spanish soldiers rushed upon the helpless prisoners, tore off their cloth-ing and subjected them to horrible treat-Finally, Colonel Struch significantly told his men that it was no use to be longer bothered by the "Cuban cattle." The soldiers took the hint and immediately began firing on the old men, women and girls. Volley after volley of lead was fired at the cowering and shricking creatures, until not one was The bodies of the victims were left for the vultures, and Colonel Struch march-ler that several insurgent camps had been "raided and over 800 rebels killed." REWARDED FOR THEIR "BRAVERY." Colonel Struch and many of his officers received furloughs in consideration of their services and returned to Hayana. Since going to Havana Colonel Struch has, it is said, openly boasted of the awful slaughter of innocents. . From other provinces come stories of massacres of innocents, but none so well authenticated as the one related above: Weyler's edict offering pardon to those who surrender is proving to be simply a device to lure Cubans to death.
