

MOB LAW IN KENTUCKY.

Trouble at Mayfield—Chas. Fishburne
Keeper of Billiard Tables and Low
Dives—Several Men Shot.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.

PADUCAH, Ky., December 22.—Mayfield, where Jim Stone, who assaulted Mrs. Green, was lynched and killed with pistol shots, was hit up by incendiary fires last night. To-day Charles Billa, twenty-seven years old, white, tall, with a revolver wound in the neck, while a dozen negroes are fleeing beyond the reach of mob law, and the blackened ruins mark former location of billiard tables and low dives. Two dive-keepers were wounded and one may die. The lynchers, having satisfied their vengeance on the body of Stone, started last night to weed out the negroes block. An assault was made on a resort run by Tom Chambers. Tom opened fire and repulsed the attacking party. Both were severely and slightly injured. A second attempt to storm the house was successful. Chambers escaped, but the building, with a valuable stock of goods which operated as a saloon, was destroyed by rough negroes, were fired and destroyed.

The mob then began pursuit. The negroes fled in every direction. One man was captured and severely whipped. A dancing man, accompanied by his wife, was ordered to leave town.

To-day Mayfield was filled with armed and excited men. Trouble is expected at any time. The town house is used as a headquarters. Posses are in part sent to the negroes and more lynchings are expected.

CUBAN AFFAIRS.

Spanish News—Continued Denunciation of the U. S. and General Weyler Again Takes the Field.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MADRID, December 22.—The Madrid and provincial press continue their campaign of denunciation against the United States, but their columns contain nothing new in the way of news.

The Government. It is asserted that the Spanish Government has been secretly preparing for war for some time past.

A dispatch to the Imparcial from Havana says that 3,000 troops have sailed for Matanzas to join the forces sent that place in an attack upon the insurgents under Gen. Garcia, who is now holding the road to Havana.

HAVANA, December 22.—Captain General Weyler, accompanied by his staff and son, Don Fernando Weyler, who recently arrived in Cuba from Spain, left Havana at 9 o'clock this morning for the province of Matanzas, and at 3 o'clock this afternoon proceeded to the field of military operations.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

What Closed Firm and Higher—Corn Unchanged—Wheat—Produce Lower.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, December 22.—The wheat market maintained the firm tone which developed yesterday, with but slight variations throughout the day's session. May wheat opened from 89 1/2 to 90 1/2, and closed at 89 3/4. Closing at 89 3/4. Cash wheat was firm and 3/4 cent higher.

May corn opened at 85 1/2, advanced to 85 3/4, closing at 85 3/4. Cash corn was steady and unchanged.

May soy closed 3/4 to 1/2 higher. Cash soy was steady and unchanged.

The product of the past week has been the general holiday aspect. Fluctuations were confined within narrow limits. An easy feeling was communicated to prices by a decline in hog prices, but this was offset in a measure by the firmness of wheat. May pork closed 3/4 lower. May lard and ribs each a shade lower.

SPOTS AND FIBURES.

New York Sun's Review of the Cotton Market.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.

New York, December 22.—The Sun says: Spot cotton here was unchanged; sales of 41 bales for spinning and 300 delivered on contract.

Dallies was the principal feature of today's market. The trading at times was almost lifeless, but nevertheless prices secured a small improvement for the day. The Liverpool news was better than was expected, and prices there rallying after a weaker opening, and besides Liverpool was a good buyer here to day. Some local shorts covered, and there was also some buying at prices prevailing at the interior towns were smaller than a week ago, and those at the present time are expected to be early estimates, but the movement was nevertheless heavy or the rise in prices might have been greater. Manchester advices were more favorable.

ALABAMA LYNCHING.

A Colored Man Hanged For Critically Assaulting a White Woman.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.

BIRMINGHAM, Dec. 22.—Chas. Johnson, colored, was lynched at midnight last night in front of Strickland's store, at Woodstock, forty-five miles southwest of here, in Bibb county. It is alleged that he attempted to assault Miss Fannie Smith, the seventeen-year-old daughter of a prominent citizen of that place, while she was on her way to school yesterday. The negro was pursued last night to Kimbro's postoffice, ten miles above Woodstock, carried back to the place where the alleged assault was made and taken before the young lady, who fully identified him, whereupon he confessed and met his punishment.

NAVAL STORES MARKETS.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, December 22.—Roe's quiet; strained cotton good at 77 1/2 to 78. Spirits turpentine steady at 37 to 37 1/2.

CHARLESTON, December 22.—Spirits turpentine—market quiet; strained cotton good at 77 1/2 to 78. Spirits turpentine steady at 37 to 37 1/2.

SAVANNAH, December 22.—Spirits turpentine firm at 35; sales 863 casks; turpentine receipts 781 barrels; A. B. C. D. E. F. G. H. I. J. K. L. M. N. O. P. Q. R. S. T. U. V. W. X. Y. Z.

SENATE AND HOUSE.

SENATOR VEST DID NOT CALL UP HIS RESOLUTION.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, December 22.—The speaker who had assembled in large numbers in the Senate galleries to-day in expectation of witnessing interesting scenes and of listening to the exciting debate in connection with the Cuban question were disappointed, the only thing that came up having any relation to that subject at all being a resolution of inquiry as to the circumstances attending the death of an American citizen by Spanish soldiers in the island of Cuba.

Mr. Vest did not call up, as he had given notice that he would do so, a bill to amend the constitution in relation to the question presented by the Secretary of State in his press statement touching the power of the President to ignore a law of Congress.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

The morning hour, in which that subject might have been discussed, was occupied by Mr. Morgan in a long speech against the Pacific Railway Funding bill, and in favor of the proposed extension of those roads, which he contended, it was his right and duty to do wherever default in payment of the bonds occurred.

CHICAGO BANK FAILURES.

A HEAVY RUN BY DEPOSITORS IN SAVINGS INSTITUTIONS.

Further Disclosures Concerning the Suspension of the National Bank of Illinois—Failure of a La Sa Co.—Continuing Firm a Heavy Debtor.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, December 22.—Without any apparent cause, except for the fact that a general lack of confidence had pervaded the timid depositors in the savings department, a heavy run on the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, in the Rookery building, began as soon as the doors were opened this morning for business. There is not the slightest connection between the failed National Bank of Illinois and the Illinois Trust Company. During the excitement yesterday there was only a small number of withdrawals from the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, and the officers of the bank said they were willing to let the depositors in the savings department have their money at any time they called for it, as it meant a big saving of interest money for the bank. The bank anticipated a run of $500,000, but there is such a heavy reserve fund of idle money in the vaults that President John J. Mitchell has no misgivings as to the ability of his bank to pay a few million dollars more.

The run on the bank was not confined to the savings department, but there were four lines of men and women in the bank opposite the savings paying teller and the bank clerks who enter the bank books and other evidences. There were two hundred people in line, as they fell out with their wants satisfied other their places. The bank does the largest trust and business in the city, and has a capital and surplus of $4,000,000. It is now holding a $300,000 loan for its own use near to the site of the old Grand Pacific Hotel. At the Garden City Bank and Trust Company's bank the run of yesterday was actually run out of length. Not half a dozen persons were at the paying teller's window at one time, and a policeman stationed outside the bank kept the crowd from entering. Officers said they did not expect any more trouble. At the other national, private and State banks there was the ordinary transaction of the day, and no more people paying their respects to the paying teller than to the exchange teller. In banking circles the general opinion is that yesterday's failures will end the present trouble.

There was a steady stream of creditors at the National Bank of Illinois, sending in their books and other evidences of claims. As soon as their accounts are balanced and claims adjusted, the first dividend will be paid. Creditors were not so sure that they would receive anything through the mail when the first payment would be made. There was little discontent, the situation being accepted with confidence by the creditors. Many called for claim blanks, but had to be turned away, as there were no blanks ready.

The financial firm of Farson, Leach & Co., on the same floor as the National bank, was doing a quiet business. The liquidation of the firm is not connected with the National Bank of Illinois and it is claimed owed the institution over $200,000.

A heavy run of depositors on the National Bank of Illinois, which is a branch of the National Bank of Chicago, was reported by the National Bank of Illinois and it is claimed owed the institution over $200,000.

The officers of the bank are: William Dawson, president; Robert A. Smith, vice president; and William Dawson, Jr., cashier. The directors comprise the leading men of the city, and have been the depository for the city treasury since the city was organized. The bank has been the depository for the city treasury since the city was organized. The bank has been the depository for the city treasury since the city was organized.

The officers of the bank are: William Dawson, president; Robert A. Smith, vice president; and William Dawson, Jr., cashier. The directors comprise the leading men of the city, and have been the depository for the city treasury since the city was organized. The bank has been the depository for the city treasury since