SECOND DAY'S SESSION

OF THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST CON-VENTION.

Reports R ceived From Various States the Outlook for Home Missions-Work Among the Negroes Urged-Report on Foreign Missions Discussed-Committees Announced-Proceedings of Meeting of the Woman's Missonary Union.

The second day's session of the Southern Baptist Convention began at 980 yesterday morning. On invitation Rev. C. T. Walker, D. D. (a colored minister from Augusta, Ga...), approached the stand and addressed the convention. He said that in listening on the preceding afternoon to the report on foreign missions, the thought had struck him, why do not the white brethren do something for the negro heathen at home?

Tie that Binds," after which the convention was led in prayer by Rev. Dr. A. E. Onen, of Virginia, The order of business was the hearing of representatives on the outlook for home missions in each of the States. Vice President J. P. Eagle, of Arkansas, FLORIDA

Rev. S. M. Provence spoke about the destitution in the State of Florida, and described vast tracts of country there where the gospel was never heard. LOUISIANA.

He was followed by Rev. E. D. Ware' who said he didn't know Fiorida and Louisiana came so close together unless it was because they were so much alike. Florida could beat Louisiana raising oranges, but when it came to raising Cain Louisiana took the lead. Louisiana had suffered greatly from the destructive floods; and her sister States ought to come to her relief. TEXAS.

Rev. J. B. Gambrell, having been asked to talk at night on home missions in Texas, did not join in the discussion. Before the next State was heard from the hymn 'Nearer My God to Thee,' was sung and the convention was led in prayer by Rev. Dr. T. P. Bell.

Rev. Dr.W E Hatcher arose to make averbal correction in one of the pararaphs of Dr. Wm. H. Whitsitt's communication to the Board of Trustees, The correction was the change of the word "its" in paragraph 8, to 'God's," making the phrase read "to God's Commands," instead of "to its" commands. ARKANSAS

Ex-Gov. J. P. Eigle spoke of the home mission work in his State. For fifteen years the Baptists of the State had been working in co-operation with the Home Mission Board and the advanced position now occupied in home mission work could not have been reached but for this co-operation. There were still, however, many places needing help.

WEST ARKANSAS AND INDIAN TERRI-TORY.

Rev. L. W. Wright, a man who travelled five days to get to the convention, addressed it on the needs of the Indian Territory and Western Arkansas. While there was more or less of destitution and a very crying need of school facilities, the Indian Territory ranked along with the great State of Texas as to contributions to various objects. Rev. Mr. Manners, an independent Baptist, spoke about his own work in the Territory.

MISSISSIPPI. The situation in this State was described by Rev. Dr. A. V. Rowe, who said that for twenty-three years he had been wrestling with the problem of the development of the Master's cause in Mississippi. At the conclusion of his remarks, the congregation joined in singing, "Oa, for a Closer Walk with

Rev. Dr. J. N. Prestridge, of the mountain section of Kentucky, next addressed the body. He made a special plea for the mountaineers who, he said, according to Dr. John Hall, were the purest specimens of the old Anglo-Saxon type. For the people of WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA

Rev. Dr. J. F. Felix, of Asheville, spoke. He said that that part of the State was one place where there were actually Baptist churches a plenty.

NEGRO WORK. Rev. J. E. Wnite spoke on the results of co-operation with the American Baptist Educational Society in work among the negroes. North Carolina was the first to take up the co-operative plan. The venture had been most successful Mr. White grew eloquent in his plea for the negro, and when at the close of his remarks he said that the time had come when a good deal of our prejudice had to be laid aside, there was an audible expression of approval from the delegates. Mr. Wm. Etlyson spoke of the benefi-

Northern brethren in Virginia. Rev. Dr. Seamore, of the American Baptist Educational Society, read a telegram, announcing improvement in the condition of the secretary of the society. Dr. A. L. Morehouse, whose death would not have been a matter of great surprise. Dr. T. S. Danaway, of Virginia, led in a prayer of thanksgiving. Dr. Henry McDonald, of Atlanta, the President of the Home Mission Board, spoke for the remainder of the morning session. He called special attention to the need of mission work in the cities. need of more schools and the in portance of teaching every church the grace of growing. He was deeply gratified that the Home Mission Board had come up to the convention free from

The committee appointed to prepare cominations to fill vacancies in the Board of Trustees of the Theological Seminary, reported three names from each of the States where the vacancies existed. The report was adopted and referred to the Board of Trustees.

After several announcements the convention adjourned.

The following named committees were announced by the secretary: Order of Business. Board, and Report of Sunday School

The convention re-assembled at 8.80 . m. The report of the committee on Report of the Fereign Mission Board was read by Dr. A. P. Montague, of Columbian University. It commended warmly the report of the Sunday School Board, and was spoken to first by ex-Gov. W. J. Northern, of Georgia. He said that he had been opposed to the establishment of the Sunday School The congregation sang "Blest be the Board, but from a business standpoint it had been most success'ul. He read from the report to support his statement. He referred to the great responsibility in training the child aright,

Rev. Dr. Robertson almost sounded a note of discord in criticising the action of the Sanday School Board in placing its imprint upon Bibles and Testaments, saying that Bibles should be published by one great society. Bat Dr. William E. Hatcher, of Virginia, smoothed matters over with one of his inimitable humorous speeches.

Dr. J. B. Gambrell, of Texas, also spoke in a humorous strain. He said that Biptists are marvellously liberal in receiving and one objection to the Sunday School Board was that it corrupted the morals of the Biptis's by giving them so much.

Dr. J. C. Hiden dwelt upon the business features of the Board. It owned proud of.

Mr. N. B. Broughton, the well known layman and Sunday school worker, of North Carolina, quoted statistics to show that Baptists are not doing as are well. much as they might in Sunday school work. Among other things, he said memberships larger than their Sunday | wife. school memberships. He had noticed - The STAR enjoyed very much a had been called down upon the Sunday school teacher.

Dr. J.F. Felix, of Asheville, also spoke to the report, and referred most feelingly to the faithful and efficient services of the Secretary of the Board, Dr. J. M. Frost, who spoke next.

Synoptic reports are almost always unjust to speakers, and would be particularly in this instance. In simple, yet infinitely tender words, Dr. Frost told of his relations to the Board and the con-

At the conclusion of his remarks, the report was unanimously adopted. EVENING SESSION.

The convention assembled at 8 p. m a a mass meeting to the interest of home missions. The congregation was too large to be comfortably accommodated, so there was an overflow meeting in the lecture room, conducted by Rev. Dr. L. G. Broughton, of Virginia. It was a pleasant surprise when Vice President Northern announced that one of the speakers of the evening was an exiled Cuban, Rev. J. B. Cova, now doing mission work among the Cuban refugees in Tampa, Fia. He is a medium sized man, with swarthy Southern complexion. His English has a strong foreign accent, though his grammar is aultless. He said that he counted it a great privilege to appear before so great a body of Baptists, his brethren. He wanted to present to them that great field for missionary effort-Cuba, now given over to the horrors of a bloody warfare. "The Spanish people are the greatest enemies to our work in Cuba," he exclaimed, "but Cuba shall be free in I. armory, running to and from the cema short time." He depicted in vivid colors the desperate condition of the Cuban refugees as they arrived in Florida on every steamer. "There is not a single heart without a wound, not a single eye without a tear."

Dr. J. B. Gambrell, of Texas, spoke on "Texas as a Mission Field." He dwelt on the immense size of the Empire State, describing it with several striking illustrations. And then he spoke about the population, composed of Mexicans, Germans and negroes, all of whom present their peculiar problems. The cities, too, in Texas, are growing, and the problem of the city demands solution.

Dr. R. A. Venable, of Mississippi asked "how are we going to enlist our demonination in the great work of evangelizing the world?" The matter of concern is not so much what we are going to do as how we are to get ourselves in a condition to do something. At the conclusion of the discussion, a telegram from a committee of the student body at the Theological Seminary was read. It bore the text: "Ephesians, 6th chapter, verses 23 and 24." A resolution was adopted tendering the sympathy of the convention to delegate T. H. Stout, of Georgia, who since his arrival has received the sad news of the death of his wife.

Rev. W. B. Oliver read the announcement of services for to-day, after which the convention was adjourned with the benediction pronounced by Prof. F. H. Kerfoot, of Kentucky.

Services for to-day are announced in another column. The following programme will be observed on Monday: 9 a. m., Miscellaneous Business: 9 30 to 10.80, Report on Woman's Work; 10.80 to 1, Report of

It is almost a certainty that the Naval Reserves of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia will hold a joint encampment at Beaufort, S. C., some time in June or July. Rates for transportation will be secured, and the government will defray most of the expenses. The United States cruiser Raleigh will be stationed off the encampment while it is being held. The place selected is in an oak grove, with a hard sandy beach. The slope is abrupt, and the Raleigh will be close in shore.
