The British steamship Torr Head, - See fourth page for other new which went aground on Frying-Pan Shoals at 7.50 a. m. Friday, was floated yesterday morning by the tuge of the Cape Fear Towing and Transportation Company, assisted by the Isabel, a small tog owned by Mr. John L. Grim, of Philadelphia, the contractor for the fortifications at Caswell. The officials of the Towing Company say that their boats have never falled to float strauded vessels that they have pulled on, and they are justly proud of the floating of > the Torr Head. The Torr Head (as stated in the STAR resterday) is a big vessel, registering according to one authority 8,888 tons and drawing twenty-five feet water. She was loaded with a general cargo of cot ton, molasses, staves and flour for Bellast, Ireland, having sailed from New-Orleans on the 20th.

Shortly after she went ashore the tugs Jacob S. Brandow and Blancke were on their way to her relief and began pulling on her at 11 o'clock Friday. They were joined later by the Isabel. At high tide in the afternoon the Torr Head was moved from her position, but was not gotten finally off.

Friday night the vessel jettlsoned between two and three hundred tons of freight, consisting of molasses and staves. At a quarter to 5 o'clock vesterday morning she was floated and proceeded on her course to Belfast, Al G. Field's Minstrels Will Appear To-M rrow Night.

Trouble is something that every one has and whenever an opportunity is afforded to make one forget his sorrow. If only for a short while, it is generally embraced. In the performance to morrow evening at the Opera House, Al G. Field's Merry Minstrels, embracing over sixty of Europe and America's best barn t cork artist and vaudeville stars, we have an entertainment that has never yet failed to drown trouble with mirth ; not of the vulgar, tiresome kind, but reseason has a truly wonderful company, which gives a truly wonderful production of modern and refined minstrelsy. After devoting nearly a column praising the merits of Field's Minstrels the Lexington (Ky.) Arganout says:

The company numbers sixty star performers, among them being the only Al Field, Doc Qaigley, Tommy Donnelly, Billy Van, the Cornellas, Eddie Fox and a host of other celebrities. One particular feature of the Field show is its cleanliness, and the people of the South have been educated to going to these entertainments, knowing that everything produced is chaste and reficed. In past years it was a hard matter to have ladies attend minstrel per formances, but since Al Field and his splendid company have played the South the audiences are composed of the most refined ladies of the com-

Southern Lumber Journal.

Wilmington is pretty well supplied with publications, but there would seem the school cordially invite all the mem- to be a good opening for a first class journal such as Mr. Z. W. Whitehead, late of the Government printing office, Wash ington, D. C., will establish, under the title of the Southern Lumber Journal. It will be published weekly, and will be magazine shape, about the size of the Manufacturers' Record.

Mr. Whitehead has already purchased his printing plant, and will decide shortly on a location. He has rented a house and will reside here. Wilmington is the center of large and numerous lumber interests, and a periodical, such as the Journal, ought not only to command a liberal patronage but also to be of great service to the commerce of Wilmington and this section of country generally. And there is a good field for a lumber journal, the only other weekly paper of the kind Orleans.

Mr. Whitehead, who will be the editor, is a journalist of wide experience, having edited successfully the Fayetteville Gasette, and the Fayetteville Observer. For four years he has been engaged in the Government Printing Office in Washington City.

The STAR wishes the Lumber Journal abundant success.

Louisville at Cleveland.

Cincinnati at St. Louis.

Won. Lost. Cent. Baltimore 88 Boston..... New York 81 Cincinnati..... 78 Cleveland Brooklya 60 Washington Pittsburg 56

Louisville 51 St. Louis..... To-morrow's game, if victorious to either Baltimore or Boston, will in all probability decide the now exciting question of which club is entitled to the pennant. As it stands now, the Orioles lead by one point, but if they lose tomorrow's game then Boston will lead by seven points, and the Orioles can then only tie for the pennant by taking three games from Washington and three postponed games, which will make ninetyfour games won and thirty-eight lost, making a percentage of .713, which will exactly stand off Boston, whose percentage will be the same; of course conceding that the Beancaters will win three straights from Brooklyn. However, if Baltimore wiss to-morrow's game her lead will be such that she can afford to lose one of the future games without fear of losing the pennant; but more than one lost, with Boston coming out victorious, would meas ruis. It is now stated on good authority, though not officially, that Baltimore will finish with only a hundred and thirty games, two below Boston, as it will be impossible to play any of the three postponed games, except one with Washington, which will make the Ocioles have to fight the Senators four battles. Looking at the future work of the two leading clubs from this standpoint to-morrow's game is almost obliged to decide the ownership of the pengant, for if Boston wins it will bring Baltimore's losses equal to hers, which will compal Baltimore to admit deleat, as her games won cannot equal Boston's for the reason that her total number of games played will be less Bat if Baltimore wins, and does not meet with any adversities afterwards, which has not been conceded in the foregoing, she will win the pennant by ten points, her losses being two games less than her opponent's. If the Orioles beat to-morrow Boston will surely insist on the Orioles playing the regular number of games scheduled, 183, claiming that these games will materially affect the ending, which they will, for the Orioles will have to play energetic and skillful ball to beat six out of six, and yet Boston will have to do likewise to defest Brooklya three out of three, when the Bridegrooms last week insisted that Boston was not entitled to the first game and knocked "Kid" Nichols out the box. If the Orioles meet defeat to morrow, they will halloo to be allowed to play the regular number of games scheduled, for by beating six straights they will tie Boston, even though that the Beancaters whip Brooklyn three times. All the theories now being advanced generally, grant that Brooklyn will prove an easy victim to the wrath of the Beanaters and Washington will be made sick by Baltimore. Now, while a man could feel kinder safe in giving odds to that effect, yet the Bridegrooms and the Senators might fool us all, and likewise the two leaders. Boston commences to ply Brooklyn Wednesday and finishes October 2nd, the order of the Board of Health not alwhile the Orioles get to work on the Senators at the same time, and finish along with Boston.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. BALTIMORE, September 25 .- It is again "nip and tuck" between the Champions and the Bostonians in the pennant race, with the Champions a scant nose in the lead by virtue of having won to-day's game. With the finish in sight and but four games left to play by the one club and five for the other, a misplay of any kind from this time on will probably cost the maker of it the distinction of being a member of the best base ball team on earth and cause him to get a smaller, instead of a larger share of the "temple cap" money. With this fact in view, it is no wonder that the players on both teams are straining every nerve to win and that the outcome of the contest is of vital importance to them and of intense interest to their partisans. Two of the most exciting games in the history of base ball have resulted from this condition during the present series and Monday promises to bring another. Yesterday's was a nerve destroyer, and it brought joy to the hearts of Boston's followers. Today's was another, and although the same function for team No. 9. home players were never headed, not a soul on the grounds felt that the result was beyond doubt until the last man in the ninth inning had been retired. More than 18,000 people saw it, and not one of that number would have missed it for a farm. All but about 150 of them, who came from Boston, are supremely happy to-night; and each and every lover of the game in Baltimore is prepared to swear that there never was such a pitcher in the world as Hoffer, for it was mainly by the su-perb work of the "wizard" that the victory rests with Baltimore. He batted well, fielded splendidly and pitched magnificently, as the score will show. So did Klobedanz, for that matter, and not a man of the eighteen played badly, the game being practically without errors, that of McGraw being excusable, while the stick work was uniformly good. Two plays which do not however, and one of them probably lost the game for Boston. This was an effort upon the part of Collins to field a nice little bunt, by McGraw down toward third base. It might have rolled foul, but Collins accidentally kicked it while or so into fool territory and Doyle and Hoffer scored on it. The other was a very excusable muff by Reitz of Long's chop hit to short centre, filling the bases and giving Duffy a chance to score on the ensuing play. On the other hand, both Collins and Reitz did brilliant work at critical time, Doyle and Robinson cut off a run tu the seventh in this wise: Lowe, with Hamilton on third, was caught between first and second. While Doyle and Reitz were running him down Hamilton sprinted for home, but quick as thought Doyle returned the ball to the plate. It was a fine throw and a fine catch, and the captain of the Champions sat down good and hard upon the sliding Bostonian almost crushing him with his two hun-

Death of Mrs. Sam'i W. Skinner. The STAR announces with profound sorrow the death of Mrs. Emily 1. Skinner, wite of Capt. Samuel W. Skinner She passed away last night at 10 45 o'clock at the family residence, 611 Orange street, after an illness of two weeks duration. It had been evident for a day or two that the end could not be long deferred, but this fact does not render the sorrow of the bereaved husband and family any the less crushing, or the announcement that she is no more any the less painful to the wide circle of people who knew and loved the de-

dred and fifty pounds of solid flesh

Mrs. Skinner was a member of St Andrew's Presbyterian church, and to the principles of her religion she was strictly and faithfully true. She performed the duty that lay nearest to her and those who have lived by her for years bless her memory for the many kind words that she uttered and the many kindly acts which the goodness of the heart prompted her to perform. In her death the husband and children lose devoted wife and mother, and the community is deprived of a lovely Christian character.

- Charlotte Observer: Mr. Otten. of Wilmington, who, with Mr. Grimes. of the same city, is to open a shoe store in the Savings Bank building, is here. The work of fitting up the interior was begun yesterday. Messrs Otten and Grimes will bend every energy to an early opening.

- Mr. Geo. A. Letford, representing H. E. Bucklen & Co., of Chicago, manufacturers of several standard remedies, was in the city yesterday and called at this office to renew his firm's contract for advertising. Mesars. Bucklen & Co. are persistent advertisers, as are almost all successful concerns.

The Dixie Oil Company.

The Dixie Oil Company, of which Mr, S. P. Shotter, of Savannah, is President. has established a branch agency in this city. A quantity of the Dixie oils has already been received and is stored on the property near the "Water Land Depot" of Messis, Hall & Pearsall. Mr. M. J. Heyer, who returned from Virginia yesterday, purchased while there a heavy mule, which will be one of the team to draw the Dixie's tank wagon.

The Dixie Oil Company is a big concern and has agencies in several cities. Of course in all places where the Standard Oil Company begins a warfare on prices, the new company meets them, and the result is, as is always the case the consumer profits from the competition. Since the Dixie Oil Company began business in Savannah, Ga., the price of oil has gone down there from 91/2 cents per gallon to 81/2 cents.

SESSION WILL BEGIN NEXT MONDAY,
September 17th. The course of study is varied and comprehensive, leading with carefully graded steps through the studies of the Primary, Intermediate and High Sebool, thus furnishing an opportunity for laying the basis for profitable work in higher institutions of learning, or for a successful business life. The attention of the public is directed and patronage solicited to our School, and both Board of Education and teachers pledge satisfactory work. This pledge has far its justification the eqripment of the School; a magnificent building, leasant surroundings, modern appliances, and teachers devoted to teaching.
