Tennessee has a baby which runs a weather bureau of its own. It is an original sort of a baby, too, for it came into the world with a full beard, and went into the weather and talking business at the early age of three days, when it predicted that there would be no more rain for seven years. It was doubtless a girl baby although the full beard is rather | cine.

One peculiarity about the Klondike nuggets is that no matter how big they are the chap who finds them has no difficulty in toting them around. A fellow who has just returned to Columbus, Ohio, brought one in his pocket, for a friend, worth $10,000. This was a small one which weighed only 53 pounds.

A correspondent of Harper's Warkly does not seem to have been favorably impressed with Skagaway pass, leading to the Klondike gol t fields, when he wrote: "After four or five miles of good road bell begins." Yet the general impression has been that up there things have a decidedly Arctic tinge.

Gen. Castillo, Maj Myares and Col Andrez Hernandez were encamped in the Carmen hills. Col. Rotger, with 1 800 men, appeared before the rebels position early in the morning. He was expected and the insurgents had occupied three positions, Gen. Castillo commanding the center. He had two rapid-fire guns, Myares' command was the first to open fire as the Spanish charged up the hill. Castillo's guas did great execution, and the Spaniards retired in confusion. After rallying his men Rotger ordered another charge. In the second attack Rotger fell wounded and his men lost heart and retired. The Spaniards lost forty-six killed and sixty wounded, including their commander and seven officers. Gen Castillo still holds his position. Rebels under command of Col. Lizo attacked the town of Cangre, in Pinar del Rio, before sunrise on October 6, and after sacking several stores and setting fire to the place the insurgents hanged two volunteers and four Cubans who had acted as guides to the Spanish troops. TWO FINE ATTRACTIONS

At the Opera House This Week-Joshua Simpkins and A Puritan Romance. Two fine attractions are offered by much interested these days in increas- the management of the Opera House TO NIGHT'S PERFORMANCE.

This evening the humorous rural comedy drama, "Joshua Simpkins," will be presented by a caste of competent artists. It is a rural play in four acts bound together by an interesting plot and produced with special scenery carried by the company. In the third act a realistic saw mill scene is introduced when a real buzz saw is seen cutting through a real log at terrific speed, upon which a human being has been helplessly bound by his enemies and left to an evident death. There is an abundance of comedy in the play, while there are many fine singing and dancing specialties incidentally introduced.

Seats can be obtained at Gerken's. A PURITAN ROMANCE. "A Puritan Romance," a new omantic comedy written by Estelle Clayton, inspired by Augusta Campbell Watson's novel, "Dorothy, the Paritan," will be presented in this city for the first time next Thursday evening at the Opera House. This will be one of the most beautiful and entertaining dramatic productions ever seen in this city. The story is a fascinating one, and is splendidly told in a bright style, in which comedy interests predominate. The leading characters will be protrayed by the beautiful actress, Miss Isabelle Evesson, and her handsome and talented sister, Miss Estelle Clayton, the author. Tney will be supported by a very strong company, which includes such well known New York favorites as W. H. Elwood. Chas. W. Macdonald, A. C. Deltwyn, John Palmer, Myron Calice, Grace Huntington, Virginia Buchanan, mogene Eberle, Augusta Dargin and Fannie Hunt. This play is an idyllic tmospheric piece, and will be magnificently staged with elaborate special scenery by Physioc and electrical effects by King of the Garrick Theatre, beautiful incidental music by William Furst, and costumed by Herrman. Advance sale of seats commences tomorrow morning at Gerken's.

Shortly before 1 o'clock this morning Mr. Joe Cumber, night watchman in the carpenter department of the Atlantic Coast Line shops, discovered fire in a portion of the building under his care, and immediately had an alarm of fire ent in from box 34, Front and Red Cross streets. Before the arrival of the fire department, Mr. George Dew, watchman in the machinery department, with assistance, put out all the fire (which was located in large stack of shavings) with a hose connecting with a water hydrant in the yard of the building. Nothing was burned but the shavings, which are supposed to have caught fire from the heat of a furnace.

The first and second base ball teams of the Hemenway School met yesterday aftersoon to decide a long standing dispute between the two clubs as to which was and which wasn't the best of the two. Yesterday's game at Baltimore, which ended so disastrously for the Beancaters, out an end to the agony; and this news brings joy to many, not alone because the winner has been decided on, but because the uninteresting and tiresome games, attended by a handful of nonenthusiastics, which have been played during the past week is at an end, and so all royal lovers of base ball now blend their tears of happiness together. Under the rules the victors are entitled to sixty-five per cent. of the gate receipts of each of the five Temple Cup games played, but it is believed that the victors and vanquished agreed beforehand to have an equal division of the spoils. The crowd in attendance at yesterday's game was under the 1,000 mark, and it is estimated that the rooters, etc., only numbered 750; but there is no getting at the exact figures, as the management absolutely refused to give the number of people in attendance. Both the Baltimore and Boston teams disbanded yesterday, and most of the players are now on their way home. Jennings and Kelley have gone to Philadelphia.

The following portrays the sad story as related on the ball diamond, viz: BALTIMORE.

Minatrel Performance. A largely attended meeting of the O. A. N. Society was held last night to hear the report of the committee appointed to see shout getting up a theatrical entertainment for the benefit of the society. and upon the report of the committee it was decided to have a minstrel performance. If there is anything in the theatrical line that Wilmington does excel in it is minstrel talent, such as vocalists, musicians, acrobats, dancers, comedians, etc., all of which will be used in the proposed performance, to be given about the latter part of next month.

The "pig-skin" chasers were out last night, although slightly handicapped by the inclemency of the weather, and owing to the above mentioned fact, very little in the way of "lining up" practice could be accomplished. They promise, however, to have a strong practice at the O. A. N. park to-night, by which time the lights will be up ready for use. Every member is requested to be at the O. A. N. hall at 8.00 p. m. sharp. Capt. Hatch will be in charge and a thorough practice is anticipated.

MONEY ORDER SYSTEM. A Policy of General Extension of Money Order System Adopted.

[Washington Post. The Post-office Department has adopted a policy of general extension of the money order system. First Assistant Post-master General Heath believes that any post-office wanting money order facilities should be given them. Complaints have been constantly filed by business houses that their correspondents at villages are unable to send money orders because their post-offices have no such facilities. During the past fiscal year almost 27,000,000 money orders were issued amounting to a little less than $200,000.000. The international money orders issued during the year, purchased principally by workmen sending money to friends or relations in foreign countries, amounted to $15,000, 000, while the amounts drawn on the United States by foreign countries did not exceed $5 000,000.
