FROST WILL BE WELCOME.

People Would Be Glad to See a Frost-I May Come When the Present Bainy Westher Terminates.

There was hardly ever a time when the people of the South were more anxious to see a frost than right now. when the vellow fever is working its deadly mission. While Wilmington has felt all along that with the exercise of proper precaution the dangerous disease could be warded off, our people will nevertheless welcome the time when all possibility of the breaking out of yellow lever is precluded by a killing frost. The average date on which the first killing frost occurs in Autumn is shown from the Weather Bureau's records for the past 26 years to be November 8 So that if it comes on average time this year, its beneficial effects will be felt in a little over a week. The earliest frost of any kind in the past 26 years was October 9, 1889. The latest frost of any kind in the same period fell on the Chadbourn, were among yesterday's 33rd of November, 1871. There is a good chance for a frost of some kind when the present rainy spell breaks up.

List evening from 8 80 to 10.80 o'clock a reception was given at the Bonitz House in honor of the young couple, and the large number of friends who were present attested fully the popularity of the contracting parties in the solemn ceremony which will be celebrated this afternoon. The parlors and halls of the Bonitz were gaily attired in evergreens and all the surroundings bespoke the byousness of the occasion. The ushers, who will also act at the

Mr. Lewis W. Howard, one of the well known and highly respected citizens of Pender county, died of hemorrhagic fever yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, at his residence near Hampstead. He had been in bad health for two weeks, but the disease which resulted in his death did not seize him until Sunday last. The deceased was between 60 and 65 years of age. log-Says He is Innocent.

Deputy Sheriff J. P. Cameron, of Richmond county, arrived in the city vesterday afternoon at 12 05 o'clock, via the Seaboard Air Line, in charge of John Reid, the negro captured about noon last Saturday in Maxton, charged previous to his arrest. Reid was brought | ing. here for safe keeping, and after he had had a few minutes conversation with Deputy Cameron, and was informed that Reid and the other negro, John Flake, arrested at Monroe Cole again yesterday morning, but she was unable to recognize absolutely either one of the negroes as her assailant, although she was rather inclined to be- preciated. ieve that Reid was the right man. Consequently Flake was turned loose and Reid was ordered brought to this city for safe keeping, and left Rockingham later under guard of the Maxton military company, which company disembarked at Maxton, waile the accused, in charge of journey. Deputy Cameron further stated most certain of Reid's guilt, but that a search is still being made for other par-

At 8 20 o'clock yesterday afternoon Deputy Cameron left on his return trip to Rockingham.

About 4 o'clock in the afternoon i STAR representative, accompanied by Chief of Police John R. Melton, called artists of marked ability. at the jail to interview the prisoner. Reid said that he could prove an alibi. and made the following statement, viz: "I was born in Wise county, West Virginia. My parents are dead, and I have been staying in North Carolina several years, spending most of that time in Winston. About two weeks ago I went to Rockingham and after spending a week in that place I went to Hamlet and stayed there about two days in the employ of a patent medicine doctor, Will Bianton, white. Early last Friday night beat a blind baggage and went to Rockogham, but returned the same night at 11 20 o'clock to Hamlet on a vestibule rain. I spent that night in company with some cotton compress hands and left the next morning for Maxton, where was arrested and where I heard for the first time of the crime committed at Rockingham. When the crime was committed at 6 o'clock I was at the railroad depot at Hamlet, and I can get many witnesses who will testify to that fact. never committed the crime charged against me, and knew nothing about it until I was arrested in Maxton. Saturday night and a part of Sunday I spent in the jail at Bennettsville, S. C. place where the crime was committed." Reid positively asserts his innocence, and seems confident that he can clearly establish an alibi. He is a man of medium stature, bright mulatto, with no hair whatever on his face, and says that he is only 19 years of age. He appears to be a kind of "rolling stone," and states that he has lived in many places in the State. [Special Star Telegram.] ROCKINGHAM, N. C. Oct. 26 -Early this morning the two prisoners, John Reid and John Flake, both colored, accompanied by the Maxton Guards, were taken before Miss Cole and her sisters, who were with her on the morning of the assault. They were unable to identify John Flake and he was immediately discharged. John Reid was neither acquitted nor identified, and for this reason and other circumstantial evidence, which is very much against him, it was thought safest to hold him until further investigation could be made. He was accordingly taken to New Hanover county jail for safe-keeping while awaitng other developments.

There is very little excitement here now: but though seemingly quiet, the authorities still seek for the guilty villain who outraged one of the ladies of our town and are as vigilant and enthusiastic in bringing the guilty one to punishment as upon the day on which the assault occurred, and we hope to advise you soon of the capture and punishment of the guilty party.

The county now offers a reward $200 for the arrest of the brute.

There was nothing to disturb the usual repose of the town last night, and shortly after 12 o'clock the streets were about deserted. River Navigation Resumed.

Exciting Bulaway on Princers Street. The corner of Third and Chesnut streets was the scene of an incident both exciting and unusual yesterday afternoon, a little after 3 o'clock. The occurrence was the ruuning away of a horse attached to a hearse. The procession was passing up Princess and the hearse was about half a block ahead of last Congressional convention; on the the first carriage, when the animal that | contrary; Hargett was one of his most was drawing the hearse quickened his pace and as if stimulated to greater activity by the efforts of the driver to check him was soon in a sweeping gallop. When he got to Third his speed had slacked down to a very fast trot and if he had been kept straight ahead a catastrophe might have been avoided. But he made a short turn up Third street, the hearse careened over on two wheels, and the offside went higher and higher until the vehicle turned over with a crash of broken glass that brought everybody in the vicinity to their doors and windows to find out what on earth was the matter. The hearse was dragged a few feet before the horse stopped. The two colored boys who were driving were thrown to the ground, but escaped uninjured. Fortunately the hearse was empty. The

Alex. Fuller, a colored hackman, Saturday night, when Fuller attempted to drive his carriage under the freight shed at the C. F. & Y. V. Railroad which at the time was in charge of Venus and after he had been warned not to do so, was arraigned for trial before Justice Banting vesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Over a score of witnesses were introduced and their testimony was the same as the account of the occurrence published in the STAR of last Sunday, except that Watchman Venus testified that he fired to frighten Fuller and not to injure him. Jao. D. Bellamy, Esq., represented the defendant, and argued that Venus was justified in his action, as he was in charge of the freight shed, and that Fuller had no right to disobey him when he was ordered not to drive under the shed. Justice Bunting reserved his decision until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, at which time he decided that the force used by Venus to eject Fuller was excessive and unnecessary, and placed the defendant under $50 bond, which he gave, for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court. Runsway Horses

Princess street had its share of runaway horses yesterday afternoon. About 2.80 o'clock a horse got loose from the stables of H. L. Fennell and, knocking his heels together, ran up and down the street in quite a lively manner, but was finally captured. Later, about 5.80 o'clock, near Water street, a lanky looking horse attached to a dray became joyous, and commenced to kick, rear and rock the dray over the cobble stones in a truly startling manner; but he, too, after about everybody in town had gathered around to see the fun, was subdued and led meekly away.

MAXTON'S FAIR. Special Trains-Fakirs and Shows Arriving in Force-Fine Exhibits-Tourgament and Base Ball.

[Special Star Telegram] MAXTON, N. C., October 96 -The special trains to the Maxton Fair Thursday and Friday will reach Pembroke twenty minutes later than advertised, to make connection with A. C. L. trains

The fakirs and shows are here in force, and the Fair ground looks like a circus.

Fast horses are here. The exhibits will be fine, and everything indicates the best Fair of the eight. If the weather clears, a tournament will be the extra feature Thursday and base ball Friday. Skilled Japanese women will entertain the crowd before the grand'stand twice each day.

The Maxton Guards have returned from Rockingham, and excitement over the outrage there has somewhat abated.
