Chested Out of Five Dollars by Two Negro Sharpers.

Now that Christmas is near at hand and the bustle in business circles is consequently greater, the sharpers in the city have commenced to ply their unlawful trade in an energetic manner.

Thursday morning several white countrymen arrived in the city from Daplin county, and in the afternoon, after they had disposed of nearly all their produce-from the sale of which a neat little sum of money had been realized-they stopped at the cart house Swing, and one of the countrymen offered for sale a dressed hog to a crowd of bystanders. A negro man who was in the crowd, asked to be shown the hog, which was done. The hog wis weighed and thoroughly inspected, another negro min pat in an appearance and palling a watch-charm, a diminutive locket, from his pocket, offered it to the other negro to give to the countryman as pir: payment for the hog. This, however, the pretended purchaser said he would not do, because, he did not b:lieve the charm was in good condition and that the lock could be opened. This statement the new arrival refuted, and turning to the countryman he requested the loan of five dollars to Guon caused much excitement in court | bet the other man that he could open the lock, remarking aside to the countryman that he would win the money "dead easy" and that they would divide the winnings. The countryman handed out the five dollars, and as he did so the intended purchaser called his attention to the hog, and the negro man in possession of the five dollars quietly slipped out of the cart house unobserved. When it was discovered that the negro man and the money had disappeared the intended purchaser became highly indignant and went to look for him. It was the last seen of either

IS A DOG PROPERTY?

Interesting Case at Darham-Mr. Brook Emple a Party to the Suit. The Darham Herald gives the following particulars of a suit for the ownership of a bird dog in which Mr. B. G. Empie, of Wilmington, was plaintiff: At Durham yesterday there was a suit for the ownership of a bird dog. Mr. B.

G. Empie, a University law student, gave Mr. Oakey, of Durham, possession of the dog; the plaintiff regarding it as a temporary loan, while the defendant considered it an absolute gift, with the condition that Emple could borrow him for hunting purposes. Empie tried to get the dog. Oakey demurred to the complaint on the ground that a dog was not property and moved to dismiss the action, but claim that the dog was his rightful groperty and filed a counter claim for the training, care and board of the dog in the event the court should adjudge Empie entitled to its possession. The court found Empie was entitled to the dog, but that Oakey was entilled to $60 for care and board, to be off-set by the amount of the earnings of the dog during two hunting seasons, which was ascertained to be $50. Oakey appealed to the Superior Court, and gave band for the passession of the dog while the appeal is pending. The Herald says this was over ruled. He then set up the famous dog case. CAPE FEAR AND YADKIN,
