We are under obligations to Mr. Alfred B. Shepperson, of New York, for a copy of "Cotton Facts," an exceedingly interesting and valuable publication for those interested in cotton production and in the cotton movement. It contains a vast amount of information, compactly and conveniently arranged for reference, and covers about all that the person interested in cotton would care to know, and is rightly regarded as a reliable authority on this question.

Dr. Schlatter, of Zurich, Switzerland, has recently performed a marvelous piece of surgery by entirely removing the stomach of a woman 55 years of age. The removal of the stomach isn't so remarkable as that the woman is alive and at work several weeks after the operation and seems to be getting along quite well, minus that organ which was supposed to be a vital one.

A lucky Kentucky editor had wild goose for his Christmas dinner, and he didn't have to go out and hunt it either. It flew down his chimney. But it isn't every editor who is fortunate enough to have a chimney, nor every one that has lucky enough to have geese come along at the right time and drop into 'em.

The heirs of the late Dr. Evans, the Paris dentist, who accumulated about $8,000,000 by having the pull on the royalty, etc., over on the other side, are not satisfied with the bill he made and would like to have a pull at the millions he set aside for other purposes.

A Swiss doctor contends that the stomach is not a vital organ and that people could get along very well without it. We don't know about that, but we are sure that there are people who would be fortunate if they didn't have any.

Senator Hanna doesn't think it would comport with his dignity to talk on his prospects at this time. Perhaps he doesn't know just what it will be safe to say.

It takes some money to run the Santa Claus business in this country, estimated at $120,000,000 a year.

A milk Trust being incubated in New York. Chalk it down for watered stock.

LOCAL DOTS.
Items of Interest Gathered Here and There and Briefly Noted.
—The receipts of cotton at this port yesterday were 9,818 bales, against 9,818 bales the day before.
—Superintendent of Streets L. H. Bryant is temporarily patching up Princeton street between Front and Second with ballast.
—The British steamship Morven arrived in port yesterday and took a berth at the Champion wharf.
—The Christmas german of L'Agile Cottino Club takes place this evening at Germania Hall. Mr. Warren Johnson will lead.

—Rev. H. W. Lewis will conduct services to night at 7:30 o'clock at the Union Baptist church, corner Eighth and Dawson streets.
—The old custom in this city of "wishing the old year out and the new one in" will be observed by a number of the churches next Friday night.
—Col. K. M. Murchison brought down on yesterday while hunting on Onco plantation, a very large eagle. It measured seven feet from tip to tip.
—The condition of J. N. McDuffie, colored, who was dangerously stabbed with a knife Christmas afternoon, was much improved yesterday.

—The schooner Ira B. Ellem, from New York, and Fred. B. Beland, from St. John's Porto Rico, arrived in port yesterday and are consigned to Geo. Harris, Son & Co.
—At the Masonic installation Monday the 27th instant in this city, there was a visitor present from Virginia who was made a Mason on St. John's day fifty-six years ago.
—The Star has received from the Equitable Life Assurance Society, through Mr. Edwin P. Parker, Special Agent, one of the handsomest calendars of the season. It is a work of art.

—Mr. W. J. Sutton and Miss Emma Bice, of Bladen county, were married last Thursday. Everybody hereabouts knows "Bill" Sutton, and they all congratulate him on his good luck.
—Notice is given by Mr. Donald MacRae, treasurer, that a dividend of 8 per cent has been declared on the preferred stock of the Wilmington Cotton Mills, and will be payable on January 1st, 1898.

—The Sunday school of the First Baptist church will give a Christmas entertainment to-night and all parents and friends are invited to attend. The entertainment will take place in the Sunday school building.
—Mr. Robert L. Lorentz, advance agent of "The Merry Makers," paid the Star office a visit yesterday. Mr. Lorentz has a force of men, clad in white suits, around the city putting bills announcing that his company will appear at the Opera House next week.

—The case against Chief of Police Jas. R. Matton and policemen C. O. Knox, Rowan G. Dean and F. P. Tomer (colored) charged with committing an assault and battery upon the person of Deputy Sheriff Galois, colored, is set for trial in Justice McGowan's court at 11 o'clock this morning.
—Decorating display windows is all the go now. Mercer & Evans have had reproduced in colors on their window the engine boat and train of cars which appear on their stationery and wrapping paper. The effect is very good. The cut was first used by the firm of Evans & Vogelsong.

UNIVERSITY DIVISIONS.
The University of North Carolina Dramatic Club will be at the attraction at the Opera House on Friday night, December 31st, and no doubt the friends of the University and lovers of red-lead comedy will be out in full force. The piece selected is an especially strong one—"London Assurance"—and the performers convince us it is of high order. The piece was first presented this season at the University on December 31st, and the boys were the recipients of many congratulations. Mr. G. S. Myers of this city, takes one of the lead characters, and Mr. Arthur W. Baiden, is stage manager. A german will be tendered the Chapel Hillians immediately after the performance. Sale of seats will commence at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning. Admission fifty cents. No extra charge for reserve seats.

BEFORE JUSTICE.
Squire G. W. Borenman disposed of several cases yesterday.
D. D. George was before him charged with assault and battery on Z. K. Siskelley, and also on Binz' Trunk. In both cases the defendant submitted, and judgment was suspended upon payment of costs.
Jade Hill also submitted to the charge of assault and battery, and after paying the costs he was let off without further punishment.

Monday Night at Rocky Point.
A gay party of young people went up to Rocky Point Monday night to participate in the Christmas festivities of that town. The town hall was thronged and there was dancing until a late hour. The Wilmington people who attended returned yesterday morning.

"AGES OF TRANSITION."
A good friend and appreciative audience greeted Rabbi David Marx of Atlanta, Ga., at the Temple of Israel last night at 8 o'clock. He was introduced by Rev. Dr. S. Mendelsohn, who said that it was a pleasure to introduce a speaker who was a minister in one of the largest churches of the "Chicago of the South," and that it was a double pleasure to introduce him when the charitable promptings which brought him hither were considered.
Dr. Marx is a speaker of unusual ability. He has a good delivery and a fine, clear voice. The entire discourse last night bore the stamp of scholarly study and investigation. His subject, as previously announced, was "Ages of Transition," and it was treated in a masterly way, the two eras which he compared being the sixteenth century and the present one. The troublous times through which we are passing now, Dr. Marx does not construe as portents of disruption—they are merely the throes of a rebirth, and the coming era will be far nobler and grander and truer than our boasted Nineteenth century. Then the gifted speaker reviewed the different grounds upon which this hope in the future is based. He spoke nearly an hour and kept the audience hanging on his words from beginning to end.

The lecture was given under the auspices of the Sunday school and for the benefit of the Atlanta Orphan Home. It was preceded by a splendid vocal solo, "Consider the Lilies of the Field," rendered by Mrs. James Calder to organ accompaniment by Mr. Alf. Yopp.

L'AROSE GERMAN.
Christmas Dance Given by the Club Last Night—The Participants—Vivacious Laughs and Goodtimes.
The Christmas festive dances were inaugurated last evening in brilliant style by that grand old german club, L'Arrose. The dance was participated in not only by many of Wilmington's fairest daughters and most gallant sons, but by many of grace and beauty of foreign climes; and graciously and skillfully, too, did these ladies and gentlemen execute different pretty figures of the german, under the direction of Mr. Harry McIlheny, assisted by Mrs. W. M. Atkinson, and Kealy dance the two-step, and enchantingly participate in the dream waltz. About midnight each of the lady attendants was presented with a handsome hat brush, sterling silver back upon which the monogram of the club was artistically engraved, as a souvenir of the delightful occasion. Haywood's superb orchestra, of Raleigh, furnished the music.

Those who were there were as follows: Mr. W. M. Atkinson, Miss Armstrong; Mr. S. M. Burdette, Miss Annie Lee; Mr. Richard Bradley, Miss Sue McQueen; Mr. E. K. Calder, Miss Sue McQueen; Mr. E. D. Crow, Miss Elizabeth Bellamy; Mr. G. P. Collier, Jr., Miss Lola Martin, Dr. G. K. Collier, Miss Jessie Cotchett; Mr. W. S. Johnson, Miss McCallister; Mr. E. H. Mueson, Miss Martha Williams; Mr. H. P. Mason, Miss Mary Calder; Mr. J. T. Moore, Miss Sallie Kanan; Mr. G. L. Paschall, Miss Carey Davis; Mr. J. M. Stevenson, Miss Hattie Bellamy; Mr. E. P. Willard, Miss Mary West; Mr. Thos. W. Davis, Miss Mary West; Mr. T. M. Turrentine, Miss Bessie Gibson; Mr. W. E. Young, Miss Mary J. Bellamy; Mr. W. J. Moore, Miss Lilla Young; Mr. Walter Daggert, Miss Lilla Daggert; Mr. Chas. Elliott, Miss Bessie Henderson; Mr. P. J. Thomas, Miss Bessie Mary Lilly Kanan; Mr. M. G. Elliott, Miss Jessie Strang; Mr. J. M. Fleming, Mrs. Harry Boatwright; Mr. Joe Norwood, Miss Rhea Daggert; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dick, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Thorpe; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Parker; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Waddell, Jr.

The visiting ladies present were Miss Armstrong, Dallas, Texas; Miss Dumas, St. Augustine, Fla.; Miss McKeese, Athens, Ga.; Mrs. Harry Boatwright, Portsmouth, Va.; Miss Myers, Washington, D. C.; Miss M. C. McCallister, Washington, D. C.; Miss Young, Winston; Miss Henderson, Salisbury.

The visiting gentlemen present were Mr. J. M. Fleming, Savannah, Ga.; Mr. Joe Norwood, Newberry, S. C.; Mr. E. Young, Winston; Mr. W. G. Moore, Fayetteville.

RALEIGH NEWS BUDGET.
School Superintendents Association—The Railway Commission Cases—Agricultural Board—M. W. Borne's Impression of Penitentiary Terms.
[Special Star Correspondence.]

RALEIGH, N. C., December 28.
The Association of the Superintendents of the City Graded Schools in the State meets to-day at Greensboro. Prof. Logan D. Howell, of the Centennial School here, left to-day to be present. This is a great week with North Carolina educators. In addition to the convention of the Association of Academies which is in session here to-day, the County Superintendents meet next Thursday.

The Supreme Court of the United States should decide in favor of the two Wilsons in the Railway Commission cases. Father Worth, our good Treasurer, would be somewhat embarrassed. He or his bondsmen would have to return $1,000, which amount was paid out to Caldwell and Pearson last week.

J. W. Graham must have relief. He is one of the few original reformers who has not yet been hit with a spoon of credit. The Agricultural Board, it is said, proposes to create a new office for him. The office is to be known as Commissioner of Immigration.

The new metallic ceiling will be put in the Supreme Court room at once. Yesterday work was begun in cleaning and renovating the room.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.
Miss Corinne Humphrey Struck and Killed by a Train on the Wilmington & Weldon.

Yesterday morning about 10:30 o'clock an outgoing train on the Wilmington & Weldon railroad ran over a maiden lady, Miss Corinne Humphrey, four miles south of Scott's Hill about eight miles from this city, killing her instantly.

It seems that Miss Humphrey was walking on the track and the engineer on the train seeing her, blew the whistle of the engine, supposing, of course, that she would hear the alarm and get out of danger; but Miss Humphrey being deaf did not hear the signal. The engineer seeing that the alarm given was not heeded, endeavored to stop the train, but it was too late, and the train struck the unfortunate lady, killing her instantly.

The train was immediately brought to a stop and the remains were taken on board and carried to Scott's Hill, where they were turned over to relatives.
Miss Humphrey was about 45 years of age, and was a sister of Mrs. E. H. Batsford, of this city.

Funeral of the Late Frank W. Bridgers.
