AN ARTILLERY DRILL.

Naval Reserves Imparted a War-Like Aspect to the City Last Night.

The booming of cannon, the tramp f soldiery, the jarring rattle of field pieces moving over pavements and the loud commands of commanding officers imparted to Wilmington quite a warlike aspect last night. The occasion was an artillery drill by the Wilmington Division Naval Reserves. The boys were out in very good force, and the drill was quite creditable. Lieut, H. H. McIlhenny was in command

The drill was executed on the green back of the postoffice. However, it is probable that drills of this kind will be held on some other grounds in the future. Application will be made for the use of the grounds of the O. A. N. club.

The objection to the postoffice green s that there is not room to execute the manœuvres. It is expected that another drill of this character will be called for one day next week.
