Melton, Bunting and Gilbert-Three of the Scoundrels Expelled from Wilmington at Department of Justice.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. Washington, November 14.—Three of the Wilmington, N. C., refugees have arrived in Washington and to day called at the Department of Justice and an appointment for a conference with the officials was made. They are R. H. Bunting, United States commissioner and justice of the peace; Jno. R Melton, chief of police, and C. H. Gilbert, superintendent of city carts. According to their statement they were seized without warrant and escorted to the station by an armed, jearing mob, who shouted all sorts of insults at them as they marched along. "White Nigger" appeared to be the least of the insulting names with which the crowds greeted the men every step. They were told in forcible language that if ever again they set foot in Wilmington they would be shot on sight. When their train arrived at Newbern it was boarded, they say, by former Mayor Ellis and a lawyer named Guion, and they were informed that it would not be safe for them to remain any length of time, and so they took the first boat for Norfolk. Brown, a negro from Wilmington, who did not leave at the same time with them, they had since heard. was set upon by a crowd and terribly beaten in the postoffice at Norfolk. At other points they were warned not to stop. The three men are at present staying at a hotel on Pennsylvania avenue, but what they will do or where they will go from here is a serious question with them. They say they dare not return to their homes in Wilmington, as they feel certain the threats of the mob would be carried out and they would be shot. They plead not guilty to every charge against them, and insist that they were run out of the State for the simple reason that they were Republicans, and refused, at the bidding of an irresponsible mob, to surrender their right to franchise.

WORK FOR CONGRESS.

The War Tax Will Not be Abolished There Will be No Revision of the Tariff.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, November 14.-The Washington Post will say to-morrow that the war tax will not be abolished at the coming short session of Congress, and that there will be no revision of the tariff whatever. It bases this announcement on the statement made to day by Chairman Dingley, of the Ways and Means Committee, who in an interview said: "The government will need for some time all the revenue produced by the war taxes. During the month of October the war expenditures exceeded the war revenue by $4,000,000, and this month they will be $10,000,000 in excess. There will be no changes at least this fiscal year. The war revenue act will continue in force and unchanged, except, perhaps in a few minor adminstrative features, for at least a year longer. "It is hardly necessary to add," continued Mr Dingley, "that there will be no revision of the tariff, although I have seen some statement to the effect that such a revision is contemplated. The session is limited to three months, -continued Mr. Dingley," and that short period will be mainly occupied in passing the appropriation bills, in enacting new laws for the regular army, and in deciding upon the legislation necessary for Hawaii. In addition to these important questions the usual number of routine matters will arise. From the present outlook the session will be well under way before the trea ty of peace with Spain will be laid before the Senate, and the ratification of that document may not be accomplished before the 4th of March "Will that necessitate an extra ses "It is, of course, impossible." said Mr. Diagley, "to know what will arise between the first of December and the fourth of next March, but so far as the present outlook can form a basis for judgment, I should say that no extra session will be necessary or desirable unless some new question should arise. "For my part," added Mr. Dingley, "I hope that the territory to be added will be no larger than is absolutely necessary. I realize that in some cases it may be easier to hold than it will be to let go, but at the same time I hope

A FINAL STAND.

Joint Session of the Paris Peace Commissioners Deferred Until Wednesday.

SPAIN NOT LIKELY TO YIELD.

Probability That the Spanish Commission Will Suggest a Suspension and Resumption of Negotiations Between Madrid and Washington.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

Paris, November 14.—There was no oint session of the peace commission

Secretary Moore, of the United States commission, received from Secetary Ojeda, of the Spanish commision, a note saying that the Spanish commissioners had found it impossible o prepare their memorandum for preentation to day, and asking if the United States commissioners would be inconvenienced, if owing to the late arrival from Madrid of expected data, the Spaniards should request that the next meeting be deferred until Wednesday.

Secretary Moore replied that the American commissioners were ready to accommodate the Spanish commissioners in this matter and the joint session was deferred until Wednesday Importance is attached to this delay. being regarded as indicating that the Spanish commissioners are preparing for a final stand in these negotiations, and it may now be definitely stated that they will not sign a treaty of peace which yields to Spain no more for the Philippine islands than has thus far been offered or indicated by the Americans. Should the latter announce that the United States is only willing to reimburse Spain for her pacific expenditures in the Philipine islands, the Spanish commissioners will reply that their mission is finished. Should this occur the Spaniards will also suggest a suspension of the negotiations through the commission and resumption of negotiations between Madrid and Washington.

The Spanish Position.

The attitude of the Spaniards is exlained by the fact that the members of the Spanish commission have political alliances and personal responsibilities to constituencies and the national creditors of Spain, which restrict them to certain lines, which are as far as the ministry at Madrid cares to go. It is pointed out that if the five Spanish commissioners here signed a treaty yielding the Philippine islands to the United States without lessen ing Spain's debt in an appreciable degree, they could not return home with the prospect of any political future before them, and possibly would be in danger of violence at the hands of

At the next meeting of the commissioners the Americans will learn the definite attitude of Spain on any proposition thus far made. The Spaniards, however, in this presentation, will not declare all negotiations closed. They will insist that the sovereignty of Spain over the Philippine islands is beyond question, but will announce Spain's readiness to yield that sovereignty for an adequate equivalant and will then invite negotiations under the construction of the protocol. The American commissioners may then communicate their final attitude toward Spain, but the Americans are expected, at a future meeting, to present a carefully prepared conclusion of their contention and conditions. Should these be no different from those already, presented, the timewill then have arrived hen Spain will declare her self belp less, through steadfast, and will await the next step of the United States, so whichever it may be she may be able to say to her creditors that she has done her utmost and that the issue must rest between them and the

A dispatch to the Temps from Madrid says the officials there do not believe peace negotiations will be broken off.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. CHARLESTON, November 14.-A special to the News and Courier from Greenwood, S. No particulars are obtainable except thather house was fired into by a passing crowd and one ball struck her in the abdomen. About the same time a message was received from Troy that Mr. Kennedy McCastan and a negro on his place in Abbeville county had a personal dif-ficulty in which the negro, whose name could not be learned, sho Mc Castan in the face with a shot gun and fled in the direction of Abbeville.

A little later the news came from Verderoy that Mr John Fell had woman no particulars beyond the main facts can be obtained. It is houses are organized. The Republiknown, however, that none of the lawlessness reported to day, except the shooting of the woman, has the remotest connection with the Phœnix

SUBSISTENCE OF THE ARMY. SPANISH TROOPS

Report of Commissary Eagan-Expenditures of the Department-Its Organization for War With Spain.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. WASHINGTON, November 14 - The report of Chas. P. Eagan, commissary of subsistence of the army, has been submitted to the Secretary of War. It shows an expenditure of $6,008,715. with a balance of $20,222,698 to the credit of the bureau. After detailing the condition of the commissary department and its organization for the war with Spain, General Eagan comes to the Santiago campaign, of which

"A very serious freight blockade at and in the neighborhood of Tampa in May and June, 1898, was caused by the celerity with which the troops and their supplies were concentrated in that place in preparation for the inva-sion of the island of Cuba. This block ade was a matter of grave concern to the subsistence department and it was only after the most peremptory orders of the commissary general of subsist-ence to unload the cars and to hire warehouses if necessary, that the offi cers of the department on the spot were enabled, with unflagging zeal and untiring energy, to relieve the pressure, so as to permit the taking of rations sufficient to last the command of 16,000 enlisted men for four months and the sending on June 26th, 27th and 28th, of further supplies.'

After giving in detail what supplies were sent to Cuba, Gen. Eagan says. "It will thus be seen that all due dili gence was used by the commissary general of subsistence in placing subsistence stores within reach of the troops operating against Santiago. Upon landing in Cuba these stores of the expedition were subject to the orders of the general commanding, who was in paramount control of the operations in that quarter." After quoting a number of official orders, the General says: "It is evi dent from the foregoing statements that the supplies of subsistence stores shipped for the use of the army in Cuba have been at all times in excess of immediate needs. Besides being available for our own troops, they afforded relief to the Cuban army and to the destitute people which abandoned the city of Santiago when preparations for its destruction had been made. The official returns from Cuba, showing in detail the issues made to these several classes of persons and others contemplated by law, have not been received, and there is not in this office any information throwing light on the subject of the provisioning of the transports which brought the army back to Montauk Point, further than there was abund ance of subsistence stores in Santiago

HAVANA TROOPS IN REVOLT.

Il the Foot and Mounted Regiments the Orden Publico Disbanded -The Trouble Precipitated by Gen.

Arolas, Military Governor. By Telegraph to the Morning Star. KEY WEST, FLA., Nov. 14.-Private reports from Puerto Principe and Neu itas say that 7,000 regulars mutinied, emanding their pay before embarking for Spain. About 4,000 armed soldiers, the reports add, presented themselves in front of the palace, calling on the military governor, Emilio March, for their overdue pay. Thereupon General March drew his sword and ordered them to disband. The soldiers, however, refused to obey, and some of them, armed with loaded rifles, threatened the life of General March, who returned his sword to its scabbard, crying out: "Do you wish to kill me? Well, kill me." The soldiers in reply shouted, "No, no, we only want our pay before embarking for Spain." Gen. March promised them that they would be paid and the soldiers returned to their quarters peaceably The steamer Alava left Havana four days ago with $150,000 with which to pay those soldiers who were to embark immediately for Spain The cruiser Alfonso XIII, and the gunboats Conde de Venadito and Infanta Isabella have proceeded for Neuvitas to compel the soldiers to embark, after which they will proceed to Gibara for a like purpose and will then go to Spain, unless new orders are re-

HAVANA, NOV. 13, VIA KEY WEST, ovember 14 -The mutiny of the Orden Publico forces which for two days threatened the peace of this city resulted in the dissolution of that body to day, when, after the payment of some arrears and the promise of a full liquidation, the revolting troops laid down their arms. Captain General Blanco then ordered all the foot and ounted regiments of the Orden Public to be disbanded, that organization ceasing to exist from this date.

The Havana mutiny, which started resterday, was precipitated by Gen. Arolas, the military governor of the city, whose fiery temper and brutal treatment of officers is the source of daily spreading discontent. At midnight on Wednesday Gen. Arolas, at the head of a battalion of regular in fantry, having been apprized of the intention of the troops to join in the mutiny and demand their pay, surprised the artillery outposts stationed along the Vedado road, including the Santa Clara and Reina Chorra battery, disarmed them and placed them under

The next morning (Thursday) the third company of the Orden Publico, numbering about 150 men, drew up before the Captain General's palace, in the Plaza de Armas, and demanded their overdue pay. The men were ordered to retire, but refused. Gen. Arolas who arrived on the scene almost simultaneously, in an excess of rage lifted his baton of office and savagely a tacked some of the onlookers, seriously hurting a government employe who had rushed out of the palace from curiosity.

By this time the Plaza de Armas was filled with wildly excited crowds, who loudly condemned and cursed General Arolas. They were quieted by Gen Captain General Blanco's chief of staff. The mutinous Orden Publico learned later that Gen. Arolas had called over 4.000 regulars into the suburbs. Believing Gen. Arolas meant to disarm them, the Orden Publico again left their quarters, each man with 150 rounds of ammunition in his belt, and lined up in the street opposite the armory, ready to offer resistance, if necessary. Shortly after nightfall, Gen. Arolas, at the head of the regulars, and preceded by a band of music playing national airs, arrived before the Orden Publico's headquarters, where he halted. Before him stood the mutinous Third company, grim and sullen.

Gen. Arolas, mad with rage, ordered his men to charge, but they re fused to do so. He then ordered them to fire, which they also refused to do. Gen. Arolas then realized he had lost his moral influence over the men and, after calling the officers aside and conferring with them for a few minutes, he left for the palace accompanied by his staff and seven officers. About two blocks from the scene of the mutiny Gen. Arolas' party came upon an innocent and unsuspecting member of the Orden Publico, who was unarmed. Mad with fury, Gen. Arolas drew his sword and savagely attacked the man, inflicting on him severe wounds, from which the victim of the assault died this morning. In the mix up Licut. Matta, Gen. Arolas' aide-de camp had his hand cut, supposedly by Gen. Arolas' sword as it was the only one Towards midnight most of the regi-ments of the Orden Publico, both cavalry and infrantry throughout the had mutined and turned out fully armed. Gen. Arolas, with the regulars, met them at the Calzeada del Monta, where a repetition of the earlier incidents occurred, the troops again refusing to obey orders to fire when commanded to do so. A conference then took place between the officers and the mutineers disbanded and reretired for the night.

The night passed without any further untoward incident, bringing about to day the result mentioned, namely, the disbandment of the Orden Publico forces.
