The programme will probably be to draw on Porto Rico for some troops to send to the Philippines in the event the war be protracted there, and probably the same course will be pursued in those of the Philippine islands which are represented to be friendly to the United States and to hate the Tagalos. This will be done to avoid the necessity of making repeated calls for troops, which goes against the grain of the war managers because of the unpopularity of the war and the tardy responses to calls for troops.

Arming the "loyal" Filipinos has been hinted at more than once, but the trouble is it isn't easy to tell who are the loyal, some of the "loyal", or "friendlies," as they are called, being given to the reprehensible habit of shooting our men in the back when they are shooting at the other fellows in the front. This little Porto Rico scheme we take to be something of an experiment in seeing how the British plan will

A black snake which had domesticated in a West Virginia church reated; a great racket while service as going on last Sunday because it became too familiar with one of the leacons and made a coil around his legs without previous notice. The deacon resented this by drawing his knife and proceeding to dissect the varmint. And then the racket and the scampering began, leaving the deacon and the snake the sole occupants of the building. The deacon riumphed and cut the snake, a sixfooter, in halves. But the congregation concluded that they had religion enough for that day, and couldn't be persuaded to return to the church.

Among the "lost" advertisements that recently appeared in the Star of Hope, the paper published by the convicts in Sing Sing (N. Like the water in the well, he didn't know the value of it until it was

A Minneapolis preacher declares that not more than seven out of a hundred church members are real Christians. We do not know whether he applied his remarks to his town particularly or made them general. But we are going on Christianizing the heathen in the Philippines allthe same, converting them with powder and shot.

CURRENT COMMENT.

- Booker Washington has never received a higher compliment than his denunciation as a "trimmer and a traitor" by some of the fool leaders of his race. - Atlanta Journal, Dem.

- Major General Merritt, after conference with President Mc-Kinley, announces that no "immediste change will be made in the chief military command in the Philippines. That is to say, General Otis will be granted further time in which to confirm the wide spread belief that his ambition is greater than his capacity as a commander .-Philadelphia, Record, Dem.

- Booker Washington has been denounced by one of the "Afro-American Councils" called to show to the world the negro's incapacity to understand his own needs. Booker Washington understands them. He knows that to build up the negro race requires the helping hand of the Southern white race generally, and he has too much good sense and good taste to denounce his benefactor .- Louisville Courier-

--- President Schurman of the Philippine commission says that the natives of the various islands lying south of Luzon would be friendly to the Americans if they dared, but are overawed by detachments of Aguilaldo's men, who march through the island and terrorize all who show any sign of murmuring at the Tagola leader's rule. Some of the new regiments intended for the Philipment can protect all who really desire to live in peace and quiet under its flag .- Chicago Netvs, Dem.

Three Rows of Human Eyes. Mrs. William E. Curtis of Chicago is the possessor of a unique necklace which she values for old times' sake. It is composed of three rows of human eyes in a perfect state of preservation, polished and mounted in gold. The eyes were procured from Peru, where the dead are buried in a sitting posture, and the hot, dry air preserves them more effectively than any embalming fluid. A whole mummy can be obtained there for about $5, and the eyes alone are much cheaper. Polished and mounted they make an odd ornament indeed.

Over the Jordan. A latticework bridge now spans the river Jordan, near the point where the children of Israel are said to have crossed into the promised land. To Relieve Tired Eyes. A Glasgow journalist claims to have discovered a novel method to relieve the strain on tired eyes. This was secured by placing several strips of different colored paper near his inkstand so that every time he reached for ink his eye fell on them. Just why looking at different colors at once rested his eyes is not explained.

THE SPORTING WORLD.

blcycles has introduced the old principle of oval cogwheel guaring. The principle has previously been used in various machine tools and finely adjusted machinery, but nowhere is the principle of greater value than in the bicycle, and the same principle has been appli to the chain and sprocket, but its application in this shape is new. Its chief value lies in the fact that the rotation is made slower when the foot power is applied and faster when there is no power exerted upon the pedals. While the pedals turn once the gearing makes two full revolutions. The long sides of the oval cogwheel are brought into play alternately as each foot comes down. The effect is, it is claimed, an increase of power of more than 50 per cent over the ordinary chain wheel or plain gearing. This will certainly appeal to the riders, as it lessens their efforts in the performance of a given task or increases the results if the same Speed of Chainless Wheels. The speed of the chainless has already been proved in at least one instance to the satisfaction of its makers and advocates, says The Cycling Gazette. The chainless holds the world's one mile record at astonishing figures, a fact that has doubtless done more than any other one agency to make wonderfully popular the style of machine on which the performance was accomplished. This particular gear, therefore, has an advantage over other gears, at least in the eyes of the general public, and other gears must therefore do something to catch the popular fancy. Records must be broken or races won. The question of superiority must be decided on the race course, and the result of contests will tell a pretty reliable story. If all riders are mounted on chainless wheels, certainly, on the average, the best gear must win. If chainless mounted men win steadily from men on chain wheels. the chainless will get the credit. But why stop to figure out the details? The safety's superiority over the ordinary was proved on the race course, as was the superiority of the pneumatic tire over the cushion, and it is now "up the chainless to demonstrate

Strength In Harmony,

To produce a winning team in any form of sport the first essential is harmony, says the New York Sun. If there is dissension among the athletes, they almost invariably face defeat. If there are dissension and utter lack of sympathy between athletes and their managers, defeat becomes even more certain. In baseball no better illustrations of the essentials required in a successful club are afforded than by the Boston and Baltimore clubs, particularly the former, and it may be said at the same time that the losing spirit and its causes are shown in an equally strong light by the New York and St. Louis clubs. The baseball developments of the week bespeak a poor future for baseball in this city, and lovers of the game will probably have to go to Brooklyn to see their favorite sport. This is rowdyism without separating itse from public support.
