Appeal for Revision of the Rennes Trial Will be Withdrawn-Pardon Will Then be Granted.

By Cable to the Morning Star. LONDON, September 16.-M. de Blowitz, the Paris correspondent of the Times says: "I learn that Captain Dreyfus will shortly withdraw his appeal for the revision of the Rennes trial, which will leave the ground clear for the government to take immediate steps to pardon him. This pardon will not annul the civil and military consequences of the verdict, and he will, therefore, no longer belong to the "There is nothing, however, to prevent him from applying to the Court of Cassation to quash the Rennes trial whenever the new fact required by law is produced. When liberated he will settle in the south of France, as the members of his family do not wish to expose him to such demonstrations of sympathy abroad as might be used against him by his adversaries at The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail says the premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, has promised definitely to propose a pardon for Dreyfus at next Tuesday's cabinet council.

FIGHT FOR THE FARMERS.

Columbia (S. C.) Record

The farmers of Marlboro county do not intend to allow themselves to be caught napping. They are alive to their interests, are determined to protect them, and invite the farmers of other sections to join them in the battle. Cotton is the main money crop of the Southern farmer. It is true, he has not realized much from it in recent years, but he has hope that its price will again rise to a remunerative point. But, if the round bale trust succeeds in carrying out its plans, it can absolutely dominate the cotton market. The price of cotton will not be fixed in Liverpool, but in the office of that trust. There is but one way to defeat this new and gi gantic trust, and that way has been pointed out by the Marlboro farmers in a series of resolutions which are published in to-day's Record. The farmers of the South must stick to the square bale and stand like a stone wall against the round bale trust. That is their only hope. They must not only stick to the square bale, but they must make all their bales of the standard size, 24 by 54 inches, recommended by the cotton exchanges, ginners, compress men generally In this way only can they protect them-The newspapers of the South, the public leaders and the farmers' organizations should take up this fight and make it to a finishsuch a finish as will teach greedy capitalists that they can never control the cotton crop and pluck the Southern farmers. The newspapers can perform a great public service by pointing out the evils which will folow establishment of round bale plants throughout this section and the benefits which will follow by sticking to the standard square bale. If they are derelict in performance of this duty they will suffer from the blight which will inevitably follow control of the cotton crop by the round bale

COAL MINERS STRIKE.

Demand An Advance Which the Operators Are Unwilling to Concede.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star. CHARLESTON, W. VA., Sept. 15 .-Practically the New River mining district is now idle. Three fourths of the miners have suspended entirely and the rest are at work with only a small force. The miners demand an advance of five cents per ton and the operators claim they have contracts to furnish coal for both Eastern and Western trade at a figure which will not admit of any increase in wages. A joint meeting has been called for Monday to endeavor to reach a settlement.

Kruger Will Dispatch Three Thousand Men to the Transvaal Border Immediately After the Reply is Sent-British Troops Arrive.

By Cable to the Morning Star. LONDON, September 15 .- A blue book containing the last Transvasl dispatch of the secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Chamberlain, relating to the matters which led up to the dispatch being sent, was issued to day. The text of Mr. Chamberlain's note is identical with the dispatch cabled to the Associated Press September 13th. The only important feature revealed is a telegram from the British high commissioner, Sir Alfred Milner, dated August 31st, referring to the commercial distress and saying: "I am receiving representations from many quarters to urge the imperial government to terminate the suspense. British South Africa is prepared for extreme measures, and is ready to suffer much more in order to see the vindication of British authority. It is the prolongation of the negotiations, endless and indecisive that is dreaded. I fear seriously that there will be a strong reaction of feeling against the policy of the im-perial government if matters drag. WASHINGTON, September 15. - Some time ago Admiral Schley applied to the Navy Department for sea service. At present he is head of the retiring board. The Navy Department has now granted the request and has notified him to hold himself in readiness for sea. He has been assigned to com mand the South Atlantic station, and the department is about to take steps to make the command commensurate with his rank by increasing considerably the number of vessels on the station. The Cincinnati probably will go there; the Detroit is already on her way to join, and the Marblehead is likely to be attached. Altogether there will be about five or six ships on the station when the quota is filled It is said at the department that with a threatened war in South Africa, which is part of the station, and the disturbed conditions in South and Central America, the South Atlantic command is likely to become an important one in the service in the near future.

A majority of the there been any other suspicious case speakers vigorously opposed industrial, financial and transportation combinations. The problem in its relation to the workingman was discussed in all in its phases. The morning session drew a large audience, but the programme was overshadowed by the announcement that in the evening W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, and W. Bourke Cochran, of New York, would speak from the same platform. The political prominence of the two orators gave rise to a general feeling that the night session would be more of political than of economic interest.

Strong resolutions were drafted today for presentation at a future session of the conference. It is claimed the resolutions represent the sentiment of the anti-trust delegates to the conference, who, according to their own claims preponderate in numbers over the conservatives and pro-trust men. The resolutions will be referred to the committee on resolutions with-

The Resolutions.

WHEREAS, trusts and industrial combinations have been formed for the purpose of gratifying the greed of their promoters at the expense of the general public; they destroy competition, nullify the operation of the economic laws of supply and demand and deprive the young men of the country of opportunity to advance; take away all incentive to invention and improvement and hold out inducements to deterioration and base imitation. Inspired by no other or higher motive than the insatiable greed of their promoters, they hold the small merchant. the wage earner and consumer sub. ject to their arbitrary dictates. They are the evil of the hour, and their suppression is of momentous importance to the American people; therefore Resolved, First, that we are unalterably opposed to all trusts and monopolies as in derogation of the common right.

Second, that we demand of the sev eral States and cities that they take such action as will lead to the public ownership of all public utilities, and we demand of the Federal and State governments such legislation as will effectually control the railways and prevent extortion and discrimination. Third, that we demand of Congress and the legislatures of the several States that they abolish all special privileges and take whatever action is required to destroy monopoly.

Fourth, that in our judgment, no candidate for public office is entitled to the suffrages of his fellow-citizens who does not earnestly declare his hostility to all combinations in restraint of trade or the further granting of any special privileges and openly avow his purpose to favor such legislation as will suppress them.

Fifth, that it is the duty of the people by organized effort to secure nominations by the political parties of the opponents of trusts and who have the integrity, courage and ability to defend the rights of the people against impending industrial slavery.

Sixth, that the growth of private ndustrial corporations under the general laws of the several States and the advantages given to persons by such laws, threaten the extinction of all natural persons as competitors with them in every line of business.

We, therefore recommend that the several States take immediate action to limit the purposes for which such corporations may be formed, and discourage their further formation by the adoption of such measures as their wisdom may advise."

No Joint Debate.

The exciting joint debate looked for to-night between William J. Bryan and Bourke Cochran on trusts did not take place. Central Music Hall was packed with an eager audience, but the people had to content themselves without the oratory of the famous Nebraskan, who, however, occupied a seat on the platform. Mr. Bryan reached Central Music Hall early in the evening and was greeted by Chairman Franklin Head, Congressman Gaines, Ralph M. Easley and other members of the programme committee of the Civic Federation Conference on Trusts.

Mr. Bryan surprised the committee by declining to speak at the night session with W. Bourke Cochran, in accordance with the programme previously arranged. Mr. Bryan explained that he did not wish to let the impression go out that he was to enter into a debate with Mr. Cochran. For that reason he said he would not speak with Cochran at the same session. Mr. Bryan will speak at to morrow's

The actions of many people in regard to the use of Glasses would lead the informed to believe that their eyes are located in the back of their heads, because they never look into the future. In eye use and abuse they go year after year with never a look ahead or a thought for the ills neglect will bring. They cling to the old, foolish, erroneous idea that it is best to put off the use of Glasses until forced to put them on. They wait until their vision is so deteriorated that even proper Glasses cannot entirely restore it to former acuteness, when, if taken in time, Glasses would give the same easy, restful vision enjoyed in younger days.
