It is said that the Mormons want the South. If there is anything else they want let them ask for it and see how they won't get it.

There is also a rise in the price of raw wool, and woollen goods will go up, too. Between the trusts and the tariff the American folks may pay or shiver.

With a full persimmon crop, a prospectively fair 'possum crop, a large sweet potato crop, and cotton up there is no reason why the average Georgian should feel gloomy.

A Brooklyn minister says there are 700,000 people in that city who do not go to church, from which it may be inferred that the churches of that town are not as attractive as the beer gardens, etc.

Last year lightning in the State of New York killed six men, eighteen horses, twenty cows and one sheep, and struck fifty nine barns, twelve houses, two churches and one mill. That's about as bad as "Jersey lightning."

There isn't, we are told any political pulls in army appointments these days, but the son of Senator Sewell, of New Jersey, has pulled a captainey in the regular army just resigned by a son of Senator Quay. Senators' sons must be provided for even if it does make army men fracture the decalogue.

Ex-Consul Wildman says General Otis is too old for the business he has on hand. It isn't age that is the matter with Otis, for he is not very old. It is the lack of head equipment commensurate with the size of the job he has been assigned to. There are two or three men under him much more competent to fill his his place than he is.

DESPERATE ENCOUNTER

WITH AN UNRULY NEGRO.

Policeman Guy Had An Experience That He'll Not Soon Forget - Displayed Commendable Pluck in Arrest.

Policeman M. E. Guy had a terrible encounter with a drunken and unruly negro about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, whom he arrested at Thirteenth and Market streets for promiscuously firing a pistol along the highway, cursing and swearing in a loud and boisterous voice and rendering himself generally obnoxious to the community through which he passed. As a result of his struggle with the ruffian, Officer Guy sustained an ugly gash under the left cheek dangerously near the jugular vein and a slight cut on the left leg just above the knee joint.

Acting under orders of Lieutenant

Skipper, Policeman Guy left his beat on Market street and went to Tenth and Mulberry streets, in a disreputable locality known as "Bull Neck," where a telephone message reported that a negro row was in progress. He arrived on the scene in time to find that a negro woman, Emiline Brown, had been shot in the thigh and painfully but not seriously wounded by the promiscuous firing of a negro named Jim Morgan, alias 'Stick," and that he with two pals had gone up the Seacoast railroad toward Market street. Officer Guy, who was on his bicycle, immediately set out in pursuit and by their general disorder easily traced them up Market to Thirteenth street where he overhauled them coming out of a saloon. He placed Morgan under arrest and secured his right hand with his nippers. He made a hasty search of the negro's person for weapons but finding nothing, he started to the station house with his prisoner. The negro was disposed to resist all along, but on reaching Tenth street, with his left hand he secured from his pocket a knife with a sharp two and one half inch blade and began to slash at Officer Guy right and left. The policeman was forced by his fierce attack to relinquish his hold and set upon the negro with his club, which he did, finally beating him over the head into insensibility, but not before receiving the severe wounds already mentioned. Officer Guy had his vest and coat near the heart slashed to the under clothing and a large puff tie which he wore was cut almost entirely in twain. His coat sleeves were also gashed in several places and upon the whole it was a narrow escape. The officer's pluck was fully tested and it is proved conclusively that Officer Guy is made of the "right stuff." Immediately after Morgan's arrest, the second of the group of disorderly negroes, Lewis Clinton, who had followed the officer with his prisoner, came up from behind and made some threatening remark, whereupon Mr. W. F. Brittain, driver of the Wilmington Steam Laundry's delivery wagon. came to Mr. Guy's assistance, placed him under arrest and the prisoners were loaded into a city cart and brought to the station house, where they are now incarcerated awaiting a hearing before the Mayor. The third of the group, who is known to the police, was not arrested. Morgan was beat about the head very severaly by Officer Guy, but Dr. Richard J. Price, who made an examination of the wounds after the negro was placed in the guard house, said that he did not think they were serious. Officer Guy would have used his pistol but the hammer in withdrawing the weapon from his pocket, stuck through the cloth and he did not have time to loose it. Dr. Price also dressed the officer's injuries which, while they will incapacitate him for duty for several days, will not confine him to his room.

The negro woman who was shot in the negro fracas, was sent to the City Hospital, but after her wounds were dressed she was sent to her home. The experience of Policeman Guy in this instance greatly emphasizes the need by the police department of a patrol wagon and it is hoped the proper authorities will take hold of the matter and act at once. It was merely the courage and bravery of the officer that saved his life.

Tried for Larceny.

John Kelly, colored, was tried in Justice Price's court yesterday morning for the larceny of a bicycle from Mary Williams, also colored. Kelly boarded at the house of the Williams woman, and upon the occasion of a recent excursion to Charlotte, when all members of the family were absent, the house was broken into and the wheel stolen. Upon the return of the family, Kelly was "saddled" with the offence, though it was shown that he exercised the greatest efforts to recover the machine, when he returned to the house after his day's work and discovered the burglary. The case was promptly dismissed at the county's Postponed Extension of Call.

It was decided at a congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian Church Sunday, to postpone indefinitely the calling of a pastor to succeed Rev. Dr. Peyton H. Hoge, whose resignation to accept the pastorate of Warren Memorial Church, of Louisville, Ky., went into effect some time ago. Rev. Hay Watson Smith, the eloquent young Presbyterian minister of Greensboro, will continue to supply the pulpit of the First church, until permanent arrangements are made. Sunday's meeting of the congregation was held pursuant to a conference of the church members more than a month ago.

FIFTY YEARS OF A SUCCESSFUL MINISTRY.

Rev. Dr. G. D. Bernheim, Pastor of St. Matthew's English Lutheran Church. to Retire Prom Active Ministry.

Rev. G. D. Bernheim, D. D., for eight years past the beloved pastor of St. Matthew's Eaglish Lutheran Church of this city and a prominent and eloquent divine of his church in North Carolina, at a meeting of his church council held Sunday last, tendered his resignation as pastor of St. Matthews' the same to be acted upon by the congregation on the first Sunday in November.

Dr. Bernbiem in his letter of resignation assigns as his reason for thus retiring from the active ministry, the infirmities of age, he having for fifty successive years been engaged in pastoral duties in Wilmington, Char lotte, Mount Pleasant, N. C., Charleston, S. C., and Philipsburg, New Jersey: Dr. Bernheim further stated that for the reasons given in his letter he could not promise to continue longer than the close of his pastoral year, April 30th, 1900, at which time the resignation goes into effect. The period elapsing between now and that time will allow the congregation ample time to make arrangements for and to elect Rev. Dr. Bernheim's suc-

It will be with genuine regret that the retiring pastor's friends in Wilmington and in the State will learn that he is compelled by reason of his declining years to give up an active work, which has been so signally successful for such a long number of

Dr. Bernheim came to Wilmington in January, 1870, and was up to the Fall of 1882 pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church. After a twelve years' successful ministry in this field he resigned to accept the presidency of the North Carolina College at Mt. Pleasant, N. C., the leading denominational institution of the Lutheran church in the State. He continued there only one scholastic year and the intervening nine years of his life to the time returned to Wilmington, May 1st, 1892, Dr. Bernheim was pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, of Philipsburg, New Jersey. Since that time and until the present he has been pas tor of St. Matthew's English Lutheran Church, this city.

The earlier days of his ministry were spent in pastoral duties in Charlotte and Charleston, as before stated.

Dr. Bernheim, his many friends will learn with regret, is thinking, upon the expiration of his pastoral year, of returning to New Jersey, where he has a comfortable home and happy envi ronments. This point, however, he has not as yet fully decided.

His congregation, during the Winer as in Summer, in kind consideration of his feeble health, have relieved him of the night services.

Government Dredge Ajax.

The government dredge Ajax, which has been at work dredging Wilmington shoal, opposite the Champion Compress, for the past two weeks, finished up its work there yesterday morning and will resume operations in Town Creek. In order to enable boats to pass up this stream without going around Big Island, the North and South cut will be cut out to a navigable depth.

The work on the Wilmington shoals consisted of deepening and widening the channel to such an extent that the big cotton steamers will in the future be able to turn round without danger of being "stuck" at low water and hav ing to wait for high tide. The improvements made are valuable to the port in no little degree.

Womens' Auxilary to Reorganize.

The Womens' Auxiliary to th Young Men's Christian Association, which formerly rendered valuable assistance in the work, will reorganize after having been disbanded for two years. A meeting of ladies for that purpose will be held at the Y. M. C. A. rooms to morrow at 11 A M. It is hoped that all the former members, some forty or fifty, will be present, and that all other ladies who are interested will attend.

At the meeting on to-morrow the ladies will make arrangements to take charge of the banquet to be given Thursday night by the Association to its members—the new ones and the old ones. The association now has about 350 members.

The Maxton Herald.

Mr. C. A. Brown, a newspaper man with thirty years experience, has bought the Scottish Chief and changed the name to the Maxton Herald. His first issue, although gotten out under difficulties, gives evidence of the fact that Mr. Brown will publish a paper that will be a credit to the thriving town of Maxton, His advertising columns should be liberally patronized by the business men of the town. Among the needs of Maxton a firstthe list.

Theatrical. Wilmington is soon to be favored with two leading attractions which are now en tour. Lewis Morrison appears next Saturday in his new play "Frederick the Great," and "The Great Star Triumvirate," Louis James, Kathryn Kidder and Chas. Hanford, will be here on Saturday, November 4th. The Triumvirate is now accepted as the greatest legitimate aggregation since the days of Booth and Barrett. The play to be given is Shakespeare's beautiful pastoral comedy the "Winter's Tale."

MYSTIC SHRINERS AND SAHYBI, SACRED CAMEL.

Oasis Temple Will Head the Cloven Pooted Animal This Way for Shriners' Night of Masonic Fair-Feast of Oga.

Saturday night, November 18th, has been set aside as Shriners' Night at the Masonic Fair. The protocol has been signed, sealed and delivered, and the edict has gone forth that the extreme penalty of oblivion will be inflicted on all hot sanders of Oasis Temple, Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, who are not here to bend the knee to Sahybi, the Sacred Camel. All of the faithful who return from their wanderings in North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia where they groan under the burdens of toil, will be absolved and led to the Feast of Oga at the "witching time of night when church-yards yawn," on the date above named. The STAR has been requested to serve notice in this high horse language, or to use the vernacular of the chief mauddler, if necessary, that all Shriners are expected here on the suspicious night of November 18th. The Feast of Oga will be celebrated on Shriners' night with a banquet to be given to the visiting mystics by the exalted bamboozlers of the A A. O. N. M. S., of Wilmington.

For Shriners' night, the following committee on camels has been appointed: Illustrious Nobles Jas. W. Monroe (chairman), Charles McMillen, H. H. Munson, W. E. Storm, E.

S. Latimer. Illustrious Nobles M. S. Willard, R. H. Grant, E. P. Bailey and J. M. Horne have been appointed to decorate the shrine. The following ladies have been appointed to manage the Shriners' booth: Mrs. Geo. A. Craft (chairman), Mrs. A. D. McClure, Mrs. S. A. Schloss, Mrs. Louise Korb, Mrs. Jas. E. Willson, Mrs. J. B. Cranmer. Misses Carrie S. White, Annie Adrian, Mamie Steljes, Minnie Glameyer, Hannah Shrier, Katie Stolter. The following donations to the Masonic Fair were reported yesterday: Through C. W. Yates & Co.: O. H. Ditson, music; Marcus W. Wolf & Co., three dozen assistant papesteres; the Baker & Taylor Co., four albums of art engravings.

Wilmington Presbytery.

There will be a called meeting of Wilmington Presbytery at Immanuel Presbyterian Church to morrow evening at 8:30 o'clock for the purpose of ordaining Rev. Edward E. Lane as an evangelist of the Presbytery. Mr. Lane has recently accepted the pastorate of Immanuel Church, and is now in charge. Mr. B. G. Worth was elected Sunday a delegate from the First Church to this session and Capt. W. S. Warrock, alternate. Mr. J. B. Hand, who represented St. Andrew's Church at the regular session of the Presbytery, will in all probability be present in that capacity at the called meeting to-morrow evening.

street, near the Wilmington Seacoast Railroad, was entered Sunday before day. Mr. Gore securely fastened the doors and windows when he closed up Saturday night and when he returned to the store at 11 o'clock Sunday to look after some rat-traps which he had set, he discovered that one of the rear windows was open. An investigation showed that the hinges of the shutters had been taken off with a screw-driver and the shutters removed, giving easy ingress to the store, as the sash had been left up. He missed no merchandise, but the cash register which was kept on top of an iron safe was gone. The spring in the back of the register which throws the drawer out had been removed and was left on the safe. Mr. Gore instituted search for the register, and while looking for it he met Josh Williams, colored, who informed him that he had seen something of the description broken up alongside the Wilmington Seacoast Railroad about a mile below the depot. Mr. Gore went to the place indicated and found that the register had been totally destroyed. It contained $8 or $10 in nickles and pennies, and, of course, the money was taken. The register cost $42.50. Mr. Gore thinks the store was entered about 1 o'clock Sunday morning and that the deed was done by two men. There is no clue as to the robber.

When Mr. W. M. Hankins, who resides on Ann street, between Third and Fourth streets, arose yesterday morning, he missed his pants from a chair, on which he had left them upon retiring Sunday night. The pants were found at another place, and it was discovered that a purse containing several dollars had been taken from the pockets. Upon going down stairs it was found that the burglar had made a raid on the pantry and relieved it of a quantity of preserves and cake, An investigation showed that the thief had gained entrance through back door, which had been left unlocked, and that he got into the hall through another door, which had not been locked. Yesterday morning two doylies and some cake which the burglar had dropped were found in the yard. Mr. Hankins does not know who robbed him, but a neighbor in-
