Sir Thomas is no whiner. When the thing is against him he takes his loss like a thoroughbred Irishman.

Notwithstanding that it is pretty hot down in South Africa now, they had a fall of snow in the Drakensberg mountains the other day.

So far the Columbia-Shamrock racing tilt has cost nearly $2,000,000. Sir Thomas has spent about $1,000,000 and the Americans $900,000. A dear cup that.

Alive President was such a novelty in South Dakota, which had never seen one, that 100,000 Dakotans rushed to Sioux Falls to get a glimpse of Mr. McKinley, and he was a first class specimen, either.

Mark Hanna is now playing the scare game in Ohio and threatening workmen with loss of employment if the Republican ticket is beaten in November. Mark is heavy on scares, especially when he gets scared himself.

The Supreme Court of Illinois has decided that shade trees on the street in front of a house belong to the owner of the house and that a telephone company which cut the limbs of a tree without permission was liable for damage.

R. J. Boykin, hired to watch a pool room in Denver, Col., also watched his chance and got away with $4,000. In the dawn, after closing hours, at the point of an ugly pistol he persuaded the cashier to open the safe. As Mr. Boykin had already killed two men, served a term in the penitentiary, and is a dead shot the cashier didn't wish to hold a debate with him.

Mr. Neill, the cotton prognosticator, of New Orleans, is not only a discredited discoverer of whopping big crops, but he is also a discoverer of conspiracies, and cables to Manchester that it is the "misleading" advice of New York conspirators which are making planters hold their cotton back. He cables as if he was getting his back up about it, but by the time he takes another million or so off his revised estimate he should ferret out some of those wicked "conspirators" and expose them.

VOL. LXV.--NO. 25. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1899. WHOLE NO. 10,040

LOCAL DOTS.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Wilmington now has 350 members.
About a hundred Wilmington people have attended the State Fair at Raleigh this week.
Cotton receipts yesterday were 1,163 bales, against 4,515 on the same date last year. The quotations are unchanged.
The spirits turpentine market locally continued inactive yesterday and there were no sales. Receipts only 65 casks.
Worth Bagley Council No. 87, National Union, will hold its first meeting next Tuesday night at Odd Fellows' hall.
The steamer Hurt arrived from Fayetteville last night at 11 o'clock with a big general freight. She will clear this afternoon.
Sheriff MacRae spent yesterday at Key's store in Federal Point township for the collection of taxes. He returned last evening.
The receipts of cotton at United States ports for the week ending last night were 157,347 bales less than for the same period last year.
The steamer Driver cleared late last evening for Fayetteville. The Seabright is expected up from Little River, S. C., this morning at 9 o'clock.
A number of young people went up on the Carolina Central train yesterday to attend a ball to be given at Cronly to-night by the Cronly Pleasure Club.
The STAR learns that something out of the ordinary will take place at the meeting of Jefferson Lodge No. 61, K. of P., next Wednesday night. Every member will be required to be present.
Allen Nelson, a colored stevedore at the Champion Compress, was crushed between several bales of cotton at the plant late yesterday afternoon. He was sent in a carriage to his home and medical aid was summoned.
Complaint is made that Red Cross street between Second and Third is in bad condition. Many persons who ride bicycles to and from business that way would like the street authorities to have the rough places attended to.
The enterprising little town of Clarkton now has a newspaper and a very good one, too. It is well printed and well edited, and the STAR welcomes it to the fraternity and wishes it all manner of success. Maj. Jno. D. Currie is the editor.
The correspondents of the London papers in South Africa are drawing largely on their imagination. For example, "300 Boers were killed" in one engagement (none wounded), and "1500 Boers were killed" (none wounded) by the explosion of a mine laid by the British.
The British tramp Marian, Capt. Martin, of 1,218 tons burthen, was cleared yesterday by Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son for Bremen, Germany. She carried 6,236 bales cotton, valued at $234,500, and the twelfth cargo of cotton for foreign export cleared this season.
George Kelley, colored, was committed to jail yesterday morning from Justice Jno. G. Wagner's court in Masonboro township for the larceny of a pistol. He was brought up by Deputy E. Walton and is held to answer the charge at the next term of Criminal Court.
An alarm of fire at 11:55 o'clock yesterday morning brought out the department to No. 909 South Third street, a single story frame house owned and occupied by Annie J. Davis, colored. The fire originated from a spark from the chimney and the damage was about $10.

CONDEMNED MURDERER BROUGHT TO WILMINGTON

Slayer of J. C. Herring in New Hanover County Jail for Safekeeping—Fear His Friends Would Rescue Him.

Deputy Sheriff Everett Turner, of Sampson county, arrived in Wilmington on the 5.50 train on the Atlantic Coast Line yesterday evening with Archie Kinsauls in custody. He brought Kinsauls here from Clinton and committed him to the New Han over county jail for safekeeping. It was feared that Kinsauls' friends would rescue him if he was allowed to remain in jail at Clinton. It will be remembered that soon after he was committed to jail at Clinton a year ago, his friends took him from jail by force of arms.

Kinsauls is a white man and was tried for his life and condemned to death last Wednesday in the Superior Court at Clinton for the murder of J. C. Herring, white, of Sampson county. The trial began on Friday of last week before Judge Henry R. Bryan and resulted on Wednesday in a verdict of guilty. He was sentenced to be hanged November 29th proximo. His trial created intense interest, and there was a strong fight to save Kinsauls from the gallows. He was ably defended by Col. John D. Kerr, Congressman John Fowler, and Mr. Cooper, of the Clinton bar. Solicitor Rodolph Duffy, of Wilmington, prosecuted, and was assisted by George E. Butler, Esq., and Henry E. Faizon, Esq., two well known Clinton lawyers, who were retained by the murdered man's relatives. After Judge Bryan sentenced Kinsauls to be executed, his lawyers took an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Pending the appeal to the Supreme Court the sheriff of Sampson county feared to keep Kinsauls in jail at Clinton, being apprehensive that his friends would take him from jail. During the heated political campaign last Fall Kinsauls killed Herring by hitting him with a knife at a political meeting at Beaman's Cross Roads, Sampson county, October 27th, 1898. Senator Marion Butler was one of the speakers at the meeting. Kinsauls lived near Beaman's Cross Roads, and it is learned that he made no effort to flee the county after the killing. He remained at home, and a few days after the tragedy he was arrested and committed to jail at Clinton. On the night of the 20th of December, after he had been in jail two months, a party of his friends went to the jail and by force of arms compelled the jailor to admit them. They then took Kinsauls from jail and set him at liberty. He did not leave the county but stayed around home, and after being at large nine months he was captured near his home on Sunday, the 17th of last month. He was hunted by a posse and was shot down on the highway, receiving twenty-eight buckshot in his body.

The condemned man was seen in jail last night by a STAR reporter, and he talked without reserve. He gave his age as 32 years and his weight as 120 pounds. He has been married two years and has one child. He says the man he killed weighed 195 pounds. He stated that he killed Herring in self-defense and that his conviction was a complete surprise to everybody but those grounded in prejudice. He says the evidence at the trial showed that the killing was done in self-defense.

Kinsauls told the STAR representative that politics was at the bottom of the difficulty that resulted in the killing. He states that he is a Democrat, while Herring was a dyed-in-the-wool Populist, and that with Sampson county rotten with Populism and in the hands of Populists, the jury was packed against him. His story of the killing is that in the Fall of '98, Hass Herring, a brother of the man he killed, disliked him because of his politics and drove over him with a buggy. Subsequently he met J. C. Herring and cursed his brother for running over him; that J. C. Herring, who was a powerful man physically, tried to whip him, but he ran and kept out of his way. He says that Herring threatened repeatedly that he would whip him or kill him, and that at the political meeting October 27, 1898, Herring attacked him, being armed with brass knucks, and fearing for his life, he cut him in self-defense. He states that when he was recently recaptured Herring's brothers, uncles and friends layd and shot him, firing several guns at him, after he had been shot down. Forty-two men were in the posse that recaptured him.

Kinsauls does not look like a bad man and is confident that he will ultimately be given a new trial and be acquitted. He brought with him a letter to the sheriff from Dr. John A. Stevens, of Clinton, who states that Kinsauls is a man of character, truth and honesty and requesting that good care be taken of him, as he is yet feeble from his wounds.

Mayor's Court.
Wm. Williams, colored, was fined $5 in the Mayor's Court yesterday for disorderly conduct. "Slick" Morgan, the negro who so violently resisted Policeman Guy on Market street about a week ago, is still confined in the city prison to answer the charge of shooting the negro woman, Emeline Brown. The case was postponed yesterday until Monday, as the Brown woman has not yet sufficiently recovered to appear in court.

On account of the Southern Educational Association, Memphis, Tenn., December 27th and 29th, the Seaboard Air Line will offer round trip tickets to Memphis, Tenn., on one first class fare for the round trip, plus two dollars membership fee. Tickets on sale December 24th and 25th, limited to January 8th, 1900.

ENDED HIS OWN LIFE.

Thomas Dillon, Tired of Life, Committed Suicide by Taking An Overdose of Laudanum.

Thomas Dillon, a white laborer, was found dead in bed this morning at his home in Kidder's alley, leading from Seventh street, between Church and Castle. By his side was found a four-ounce bottle of laudanum, and this, coupled with the fact that he had previously threatened to take his own life, leads his friends to believe that it is a case of suicide. Domestic troubles were assigned by him previously as the reason of his intention to commit the rash act.

Dr. Price, the coroner, early yesterday morning viewed the body and empanelled a jury, which, after hearing the evidence, rendered the verdict that the deceased came to his death some time during the night by taking an overdose of laudanum.

The jury was composed of Theodore Swann (foreman), John G. Marshall (secretary), J. L. Landing, J. D. Southland, J. S. Costin and E. W. Stokesley.

Mr. Dillon's wife testified that she knew of her husband's threat to take his life and remained awake all Wednesday night to prevent the attempt. Thursday night he told her he had destroyed the bottle of laudanum purchased for the purpose last accomplished, but in his death it developed that this statement was erroneous. The only other witness who testified was Thos. H. Price.

The body was interred yesterday afternoon at the county's expense. Dillon removed here from Norfolk, it is said, four or five years ago, and was first employed in assisting with the building of the Seashore Hotel at Wrightsville beach. He leaves a wife and several children.

THE ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

Will Begin Operating Its New Short Line Between Florence and Augusta Today—The Line Completed.

The Florence correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier under date of October 19th, writes that paper as follows regarding the Coast Line's new short line between Florence and Augusta: Beginning on Saturday, October 21, the Atlantic Coast Line will begin operating their new short line between Florence and Augusta, via Sumter, Denmark, Robbins and over the Charleston and Western Carolina Railroad enter the city of Augusta by their own route. This completion of the connecting link between Denmark and Robbins, by Barnwell Court House this week, completes the new route.

The Atlantic Coast Line has been operating the new line for several weeks as far as Barnwell Court House, by running a local freight train from Florence to Barnwell daily. Beginning on Saturday, October 21, the local freight will run through to Robbins daily. The train will be hereafter known as the "Atlantic Coast Line's Southwestern Special," and will be a through time train, and will run daily except Sunday.

The passenger service will not be established until November 1, at which time a through train from Florence to Atlanta via the Georgia Railroad will be put on. This will be a daily train and will be a "hummer." This train has already been fitted out in the Coast Line's shops at Wilmington and is now ready for service as soon as the schedule is established. It is said to be one of the handsomest trains that will run in the South. On January 1 a double daily service connecting at Florence with Coast Line trains to and from the North will be added.

COTTON RECEIPTS FALLING OFF.

Wilmington Has Same Experience As Other Cities, But Continues Fifth Port.

The following statement of the receipts of cotton and naval stores at the port of Wilmington for the week ending yesterday and past crop year to the same period, with a comparison of those of last year, will make interesting reading in view of the "short crop" speculation that is now being indulged in so widely, especially in the South: Week Ended October 20, 1899—Cotton, 11,033 bales; spirits, 624 casks; rosin, 2,667 barrels; tar, 1,170 barrels; crude, 370 barrels.

Week Ended October 20, 1898—Cotton, 24,686 bales; spirits, 458 casks; rosin, 2,117 barrels; tar, 1,073 barrels; crude, 226 barrels.

Crop year to Oct. 20, 1899—Cotton, 94,154 bales; spirits, 21,833 casks; rosin, 77,952 barrels; tar, 32,535 barrels; crude, 7,248 barrels.

Crop year to Oct. 20, 1898—Cotton, 114,553 bales; spirits, 19,813 casks; rosin, 95,799 barrels; tar, 32,541 barrels; crude, 6,779 barrels.

In this connection it is interesting to note that notwithstanding the great falling off in receipts during the past two weeks at this port, Wilmington has retained her position as fifth port in the United States, with Charleston a close competitor.

Probably Last Service.
The protracted service at the First Baptist Church will probably come to a close with the service to-morrow. The interest, however, is unabated. At the service yesterday afternoon and last night there were large congregations, and at the night service there were two professions.

LEWIS MORRISON TO-NIGHT.

Appears in His Excellent Play "Frederick The Great"—Olympia Opera Company All Next Week.

The Richmond Dispatch of yesterday has the following pleasing reference to the presentation of "Frederick the Great" by Mr. Lewis Morrison and his excellent company in that city on Thursday night: Lewis Morrison and his excellent company presented his new play, "Frederick the Great," at the Academy last night. There was a large audience, and the reception was most cordial. Mr. Morrison has long been a great favorite here. Although he has thrown aside the red mantle with which theatre-goers are so familiar, the mocking smile is still there, and the same taunting voice is heard. The production is scenic, rather than an artistic one. Florence Roberts did the best work of any in the cast, though all the players gave entire satisfaction. The performance proved very enjoyable, and Mr. Morrison was called before the curtain at the end of the act and made a few pleasant remarks.

The sale of seats for this superb attraction, which appears at the Wilmington Opera House to-night, began yesterday morning at Gerken's.

Olympia Opera Company.
Beginning Monday night, the Olympia Opera Company, which carries a troupe of forty people and their own orchestra, opens a week's engagement, the sale of seats for which will commence at Gerken's this morning.

The Raleigh Post, in speaking of a presentation of one of the leading operas of the troupe, says: The Olympia Opera Company has certainly "caught the town." Fully five hundred people were refused admittance last night at the Academy, being unable to get even "standing room." The opera sung was Boccaccio, and to say it was done well is putting it mildly. Miss Fanny Myers sang the title role, and was very acceptable. Miss Jenkins, as Fiametta, was also a favorite. Her sweet soprano voice is delightful. Mr. George Olin, the handsome baritone of the company, repeated "Because." He is probably one of the best baritones over in Raleigh. Mr. E. L. Weston, the tenor of the troupe, sang a solo in the third act, and received three encores. Mr. Whyte sang "She has no papa now," and six encores were demanded.

The company is certainly one of the best, if not the best, repertoire opera companies that has ever been South. And any city that has the good fortune to have this company booked is certainly in luck.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MOVED TO NEW QUARTERS

It Will Hereafter Occupy Quarters With the Merchants' Association—Valuable Books for Reference.

The effects of the Chamber of Commerce were removed yesterday from the rooms of the Produce Exchange to the chamber's new quarters in the rooms of the Merchants' Association in the Seaboard Air Line building. A desk and book-case, together with a quantity of books and documents, were embraced in the outfit.

Mr. W. E. Worth, the president of the chamber, also has a large lot of books sent to the chamber and they are also to be sent to the new quarters. Shelving will be put up for the books, and as many of them are valuable for reference, the members of the body will find their new home convenient when they desire to drop in and read the various publications.

The next meeting of the chamber will be held in its new quarters. Mean while they are opened every day, as Mr. P. Heinsberger, secretary of the Merchants' Association, is on hand from one day to the other, and will kindly attend to the wants of the chamber's members if they should call at any time.

Heretofore the Chamber of Commerce has been holding its meetings in the rooms of Harmony Circle, but as it was not an abiding place for the chamber, its books and records were not kept there. Now the body has a home, so to speak, even if it does keep house with the Merchants' Association.

THE MASONIC FAIR.

Enthusiastic Meeting of the Ladies of the Shriners' Booth—Donations.

The ladies who are to have charge of the Shriners' booth at the Masonic fair next month had an enthusiastic meeting last night at the parlors of The Orion. They talked over the arrangements and discussed the costumes with which they are to adorn themselves. The costumes are to be appropriately Shrineric and will be quite attractive.

Col. Noble F. Martin, the fair manager, received quite a lot of valuable donations yesterday. Among them was a beautiful cambric apron made by Mrs. Harriet Ufford, of the Masonic Home, Utica, N. Y. She is 81 years old and totally blind, but the work on the apron is done in a most astonishingly skillful manner. Another appreciated donation was twenty-four face cloths beautifully knitted by Mrs. Cain, who is 79 years of age, also an inmate of the "Home" at Utica. Mr. G. T. Hollingsworth, of Utica, sends Col. Martin a splendid specimen of inland work made with a penknife out of pieces of straw-berry baskets. He writes that he sends the specimen to show what an "old vet" can do.

The following additional donations were reported yesterday: Armour Packing Co., one case of minced meat.

W. H. Bernard, one year's subscription to the STAR.

Jackson & Bell, one year's subscription to the Messenger.

THE ROANOKE CHEMICAL COMPANY.

Sale of Its Plant and Stock Yesterday Morning by the Assignee.

Pursuant to notice of Mr. J. M. Rice, assignee, and Capt. Wilkes Morris, auctioneer, the plant and other properties of the Roanoke Chemical Company, at foot of Chesnut street, were sold at auction yesterday. The bidding was very slow and three hours were consumed in disposing of the various articles, included in which were 50,000 assorted tin cans, soda and baking powder cartons and labels, machinery, boxes, barrels and office fixtures.

The purchasers and the articles bought were so many in number that last night the total proceeds of the sale had not been footed up, but it was learned from the clerk of the sale that the amount will not aggregate over $600. The property is said to have cost $1,800.

The principal purchasers were Messrs. Col. and Sam'l Bear, B. F. Keith Co., McNair & Pearsall and S. W. Sanders. The right and title to the brands of goods manufactured, were reserved by the company and it is intimated that they are contemplating embarking into the manufacture of same in some other city.

Most of the goods were removed from the building yesterday.
