PRETTY WEDDING.

Mr. Herbert Lee Pentress and Miss Mary Worth Elliott Married at St Paul's Church Last Evening.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday evening at 6.30 o'clock, the principals being Mr. Herbert Lee Fentress and Miss Mary Worth Elliott, daughter of Mrs. Mary Frances Elliott and the late Mr. W. P. Elliott.

The altar was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and chrysanthemums. The church was crowded with the friends of the couple, and before the bridal party arrived Mrs. Mattie Chasten, presiding at the organ, rendered with rare skill Hoffmann's "Prelude Nuptiale," and a charming composition by Theo. M. Tobani, entitled "Hearts and Flowers."

When the bridal party reached the church the procession moved down the main aisle, to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus," from Lohengrin. The ushers led the way in couples as follows: Messrs. W. C. Yarborough Joe T. King, and Messra. W. R Brice and James H Taylor, Jr. Then came the maid of honor, Miss Annie McL Taylor, cousin of the bride, followed by the bride leaning on the arm of her godfather, Mr. B. G. Worth.

The groom came in from the vestry room, accompanied by his best man and nephew, Capt. Ernest F. Nadal, of Wilson, N. C. The bride was given away by Mr. Worth. The ceremony was performed in a beautiful and impressive manner by the rector, Rev. Milton A. Barber, and when the marriage had been pronounced, the bridal party departed while the inspiring Mendels sohn's wedding march pealed from the

The bride wore a very becoming ailor made travelling dress of wood brown venetian cloth, with hat of brown and tan. She carried a magnificent bouquet of Palmer violets and maidenhair fern. The maid of honor wore a charming gown of garnet cloth, trimmed with black velvet, with hat to match, and her bouquet was pink carnations and maidenhair ferns.

The bride and groom left on the ? P. M. train over the Atlantic Coast Line for Philadelphia, to take in the National Export Exposition. Thence they will go to New York, and will be back home in ten days. They will make their home at 114 North Fourth

Oa Tuesday evening the bridal party was given a reception at the home of the bride's mother, 218 South Sec ond street. There was a display of many very handsome presents from friends in Southern and Northern cities. The couple received numerous congratulatory telegrams and

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Said Pasks Presented Last Night by the Dan Packard Company to a Large Audience.

The Dan Packard Opera Company performed last night before a large audience at the Opera House. "Said Pasha" was the theme, a delightful comic opera which was sung in an excellent manner, the entire company being in good voice and surpassing in a measure any of their former efforts Miss Carlotta Gilman was in the leading role, rendering the part of Serena, the Pasha's daughter, in an artistic manner. Her rare soprano voice, combined with a wonderful ex pression and charm of manner, captivated the audience and elicited frequent applause.

Miss Josephine Kirkwood was particularly good as The Queen, the innate grace and dignity of her person making her especially adapted to this Messrs. Clayton and Walker, the fun-makers, kept the audience in a continual state of merriment. For wholesome wit and humor they are the jolliest pair heard in many a day.

The company is really of a metropolitan order and fully deserves the large patronage it receives. To night the company will render 'The Chimes of Normandy," an opera famed for its beautiful music and op portunity for histrionic talent. As Gaspard, the miser, Mr. Gilbert Clayton assumes the leading role, a part he created in New York city, where he played over three hundred nights. A particular element of to-night's performance will be the exquisite new enstumes of the entire company. Miss Josephine Kirkwood will wear dresses and pearls valued at over $5,000; her gown in the last act having been imported from Paris, made by Worth Mr. Montjoy Walker and Miss Kirkwood will introduce a burlesque society cake walk. The management announces a special bargain matinee on next Saturday afternoon; seats 25 cents, all over the house.

Last night at 8 o'clock, at the rest dence of Rev. J. J. Payseur, pastor of Brooklyn Baptist church, Miss May M. George was happily united in marriage to Mr. M. E. Guy, a popular and efficient member of the Wilming ton police force. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Payseur in the presence of only a few invited friends, immediately after which the bridal party were driven in carriages to the residence of Mr. Guy, on Harnett between Third and Fourth streets, where a reception was tendered, which was much enjoyed by those present.

CARNIVAL OF BOOKS.

Delightful Entertainment by the Missionary Workers of the First Baptist Church Last Night.

"The Carnival of Books," was the style of a charming entertainment given last night in the lecture room of the First Baptist Church by a missionary society called "Workers Together for the Lord." The entertainment was given to raise a fund with which to fill a Christmas box for the frontier mis sion of the Southern Baptist Church Mrs. W. P. Oldham was specially in charge of the affair and Miss May Muse was pianist. The programme was opened by a chorus of girls styled, 'The Choir Invisible," as the singers were hidden from the audience.

Then followed young ladies representing various books in their costumes and quotations. They took their turn upon the rostrum, and the audience was given the privilege of guessing the books and authors they represented.

The following were the characters: Study In Scarlet-Miss Eloise Taylor.

The White Company-Misses Lucy McIntire, Mabel Stanland and Jeanett MacRae.

ANNUAL INSPECTION.

Wilmington Light Infantry and Wilmington Division Naval Reserves Inspected by Col. Hobgood Last Night.

The annual inspections of the Wilmington Light Infantry and of the Wilmington Division Naval Reserves were held last night by Inspector General F. P. Hobgood, Jr., who arrived over the Seaboard Air Line at noon yesterday from Maxton, where on Tuesday he inspected the Maxton Guards.

Immediately after his arrival here Col Hobzood was received by Capt, George L. Morton, commanding the North Carolina Naval Brigade and Col. E. S Lattimer, who entertained him at the Cape Fear Club and with a drive over the city yesterday after The inspection of the Light Infantry, which is Company O of the State Guard, took place on the Armory grounds at 8:15 o'clock and that of the Naval Brigade was held at 9 o'clock on Third street oppo site the City Hall. In attendance upon the Infantry inspection were Col. Wm. A. Johnson, of the Second Regiment State Guards, and Capt. Geo. L. Morton. At the Naval Reserves inspec tion were Lieutenant Skelding, commanding; Capt. Morton, Paymaster Lattimer, Chief Engineer Furlong and Adjutant McIlhenny, commanding the First Battalion N. C. Naval Brigade.

The W. L. I. had sixty men in ranks and passed a most creditable inspection, after which a barbecue was en joyed by members on the armory grounds.

The Naval Reserves also had a fine inspection, and had on the field thirtyeight men of forty-four members of the division.

Col. Hobgood will to-day go down to Southport and inspect the Southport division of Naval Reserves, re turning to the city and leaving for his home at Oxford to spend Sunday.

- Mrs. E. M. Nadal, of Wilson, who was here to attend the wedding of her brother, Mr. Herbert L. Fen tress and Miss Mary Worth Elliott, returned home last evening.
