The Hartford Courant is 136 years old, but is still nimble. It is a Republican paper, which shows that age and experience do not always bring wisdom.

The Albatros, which has been taking soundings in the Pacific, struck one place where the sea was five miles deep. That's about where Hanna would like to have the Philippines drop.

With the present population of this country, on the present basis of apportionment, the House of Representatives will number 382 members, instead of 357, as at present, North Carolina will gain one member.

Mark Hanna had the candor to acknowledge in a speech in Chicago a few nights ago that he had done "some political work and had profited by it." That's what he is in it for, and he insists on big dividends, too.

The strain of this campaign has been too much for Mark Hanna. In his recent stumping tour through Indiana he devoted himself almost exclusively to denunciations of Bryan and talked with the incoherence of an insane man. He is badly off mental balance.

The Gould family have had to interfere to prevent Castellane from running Anna to the poor house. In four years he has gotten away with $7,000,000 of her money. Her brother George has had himself States. It is from a correspondent of made her trustee by the French courts, to save what was left.

ELECTION TUESDAY.

Arrangements Are Complete for Battle of Ballots in New Hanover County.

SENATORIAL POLLHOLDERS.

They Were Appointed by Executive Committee Last Night-Polling Places and Election Officials for the National Contest.

Next Tueday night will bring the close to one of the most interesting national and Congressional elections, perhaps, in the recollection of the 'oldest inhabitant." While the result in North Carolina is attended by no uncertainties as to the triumph of the Democratic ticket, vet outside States and the general result will be watched with eager solicitude.

And in North Carolina and in this county, the general election will have a ginger about it by reason of the senatorial primary that will make it of exceedingly local interest. The dwindling down to two candidates for senatorial honors has brought forth a heated campaign by friends of both Mr. Simmons and General Carr and the fact that both sides are claiming the State by large majorities insures a heated day at the polls. The partisans of each gentleman in the race are aggressive and wide-awake, and to predict that any apathy will exist upon the part of the Democrats on Tuesday, is to betray the conditions as they really exist at the closing week of the campaign.

New Hanover is now practically in readiness for the battle of ballots. Yesterday the boxes, of which there will be three at each polling place, were placed in readiness and a number of them were taken to the several polling places There will be one for presidential electors; one for the Congressional nominees, and one for the senatorial candidates.

The polls open at the several polling aces at sunrise, which is 6:27 A. M. and continue open until sunset, o'clock P. M., according to Turner's N. C. almanac. The same rule gov erns the senatorial primary.

The following is a list of the polling places, registrars and judges of election for the national election; also the pollholders, one of each senatorial persuasion [for the several wards which were appointed last night by the Democratic County Executive

An Erroneous Impression. There seems to be an impression that the box for the Senatorial primary to be held next Tuesday must be fifty feet from the Presidential and Congressional boxes. This is erroneous. Section 1 of the plan adopted by the State Executive Committee is as fol-

Closed a Most Successful Week's Engagement at the Opera House Last Night.

The Una Clayton Company closed a most successful week's engagement at the Opera House last evening, pre senting in artistic style the comedy drama, "Fanchon," to a house which would have been much larger but for the very inclement weather. At the matinee yesterday afternoon the company repeated Wednesday evening's bill, "A Sultan's Daughter," to a thoroughly delighted audience. The watch presented by Miss Clayton to the person guessing nearest the hour at which it stopped after being wound up was given to Miss Carrie Ortmann, she having guessed nearest the lucky number-something after 12 o'clock. Mr. Morey, the manager, after the performance last evening, promised Wilmington a return engagement this season, and it goe; without saying that theatre-goers who have attended this week's performances will have for the entire company a warm welcome.

Comic opera is the most popular amusement of the day, as it gives the theatre-going public good music. beautiful stage pictures, a chorus and magnificent costumes which the public demands and which opera gives. The management has taken great care in selecting the artists for this attraction and the several solos throughout their repertoire that they will present will be rendered in a manner that we are promised will demonstrate the worth of the principals of this organization. And from the many good re ports that have preceeded them we are prone to believe that there are in store for those who see their productions an engagement rich in enjoyment and artistic merit in the quality of the music that will be leard. The comedy is an important factor in light opera and the many comedy roles will be interpreted by comedians that are refined and artistically humorous in

The Fatal Accident at Clinton.

Parties, who came down from Clinton yesterday, brought particulars of the accidental shooting at Clinton a few nights since, in which young Howard Peterson lost his life. He was in the armory of the Sampson Light Infantry at a band practice which was about to begin. As the young man had picked up an instrument, Luke Moore, janitor of the building and first corporal of the company, was cleaning in another part of the building an old army pistol which accidentally fired the ball taking effect in Peterson's groin, causing, it is thought, lockjaw, from which he died a few hours later in a physician's office, whither he had been taken for treatment. The young man was a son of Mrs. Julia N. Lewis, of Clinton, by a former marriage.

City subscribers are earnestly re quested to report promptly at the STAR office every failure of the carriers to GEN. CARR IN THE CITY.

Arrived Last Evening and Is Being Most Cordially Received by His Friends in Wilmington.

Gen. Julian S. Carr, candidate for the United States Senate, arrived in the city last evening from Warsaw, where he spoke yesterday, and is receiving a most enthusiastic and cordial we'come by his numerous friends and supporters. He is a guest at The Orton, and last night from 8 until 11 o'clock he received many of his friends in the lobby of the hotel, all of whom were enthusiastic in their belief that their candidate would win many other friends by his visit to the city. Gen. Carr received all who called very hos pitably and spoke sanguinely of his prospects day after to morrow. He has borne up remarkably well under his arduous campaigning during the past several weeks, and his friends were delighted to see him looking so

At the station yesterday afternoon he was met by a committee of gentlemen, composed of Messrs. Marsden Bellamy, Jno. H. Beery, W. B. Cooper, W. P. Gafford, Col. F. W. Kerchner, Capt. W. P. Oldham and Capt. R. P. Paddison of Point Caswell. From the station they were driven to The Orton.

General Carr made no speech in Wilmington, in deference to his competitor, the Hon. F. M. Simmons, who upon the occasion of his visit here last week spoke only of national issues in his address to the voters at the Court House Thursday night. General Carr will spend to day in

The crowd would have been much larger except for a steady downpour of rain. It is conceded by all parties that his speech was one of the ablest political speeches ever delivered in North Carolina. Mr. Simmons was enthusiastically received and it is admitted that he will carry Robeson county by at least 1,500 majority and very probably two thousand. The recent ill advised attacks upon Mr. Simmons as representative of the "machine" have aroused our people and they resent them as attacks upon the entire Democracy of North Carolina. If the other counties in the State do their duty to our great leader as fully as Robeson will, on next Tuesday his majority in the State will be as large as was given the Constitutional Amend.
