at a cost of $4,150, from the Wilmington Savings and Trust Company, the large three-story brick building on north side of Princess street, between the Allen building and Wilmington National Bank.

The lot has a frontage of 47 feet on Princess street and runs back parallel with Front street 66 feet.

It is at present occupied by Mr. J. M. Meyland as bar and restaurant on the first floor and apon the second and third stories there are offices and sleeping apartments.

Another Successful Entertainment

At the First Baptist Church last night after prayer meeting which was very largely attended, the ladies of the United Workers continued their entertainment with marked success. Miss Nellie Platt in splendid voice sang twice "All for Love," and "For Old Time Sake," and was enthusiatically applauded. Miss Kate Barden recited two pieces: "Biddy's Troubles." and "The Old Maid's Prayer." Miss Barden has become quite a favorite at reciting and her variety is refreshing. Miss Carrie White rendered in superb finish, two vocal solos to the delight of the large aundience. Miss Elizabeth Divine Burtt was the accomplished accompanist.

Suit for $5,000 Damages. The complaint in the case of Emelin Mask vs. the City of Wilmington was filed yesterday with the Clerk of the Superior Court. The complaint sets forth the fact that the plaintiff while driving along Seventh street on April 3rd, 1900, about 8 o'clock P. M., was thrown into an excavation made by the city street force at Brunswick street. The plaintiff claims that no lights or other precautions against danger were in evidence. The suit is Sternberger vs. I. Shrier and wife, brought to recover $5,000 damages. The plaintiff's attorneys are Wm J. Bellamy and Bellamy & Bellamy. The case will come up for a hearing at the April term of the Superior Court.

Carr, Esq., for the plaintiff, who spoke about an hour, contending that the defendant had been negligent in causing the injury and touching comprehensively upon the other allegations in the complaint. Mr. Carr was followed by Junius Davis, Esq., for the defendant. He spoke for about an hour and a half and at 12.45 P. M. a recess was taken for dinner until 2 45 o'clock in the afternoon, when the court again assembled and remained in continuous session until the hour indicated above. Mr. Davis contended that as the train which did the alleged injury was upon a track of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company and as this company enjoys immunity from the city ordinance regulating the slow rate of speed of trains passing over the same, that a violation of the ordinance would not apply in this case; that, if it does, it is unreasonable and void; that there was no evidence that defendant could have averted the accident; that the trainmen very natu rally thought the vehicle in which plaintiff was riding would conform to the usual custom of stopping just before it reached the track; that there was no law or legal authority to keep a flagman at the crossing; that there was no evidence but that the plaintiff, with proper care, could have seen the approaching locomotive. Mr. Davis also reviewed the evidence of issues in honesty of purpose and without prejudice. In the afternoon, George Rountree, E.q., opened the argument for the plaintiff and spoke for about an hour and a half in a clear and forcible presentation of the law and evidence in the premises. MR. HICK'S VINEGARS.

State Chemist Commends Product of Wilmington's Factory in Highest Terms. The first report of the inspection nd analysis of food products has been issued in the form of "a bulletin of the North Carolina State Board of Agriculture, Raleigh, N. C.

The various kinds of foods and drinks have been analyzed by the State Chemist and arranged in tables which show at a glance food supplies that are adulterated.

Looking at the analysis of the various vinegars, the STAR quotes the State's chemist as follows: "The cheapest kind of vinegar is that made from various diluted alcoholic solutions, and known as 'spirits' vinegar. Of the twenty-two samples examined, sixteen were sold as cider vinegar, the analysis indicating that only three were true to name -Numbers 585, 392 and 192, (Fowler, Hickory; Davis, Wake Co., and R W. Hicks, Wilmington) and two of these (Fowler and Moses Davis) were weak. This leaves the vinegar manufacared by R. W. Hicks, Wilmington. N. C., as the only one that comes up to the standard, that is free from chemical matters, coloring and low vinegar solids, indicating that it is produced from the expressed juice of apples, without dilution, with sufficient apple solids and acidity to class it as the best vinegar produced. The others are either colored, or made out of spirits, or both.

Population of Towns and Villages. Cesus Bulletin, No. 39, gives the population of some of the North Carolina towns and villages as follows: Boardman, 604: Burgaw, 387: Carthage, 605; Chadbourn, 243; Clinton, 958; Cronly, 78; Dunn, 1,072; Elizabethtown, 144; Fair Bluff, 328; Fayetteville, 4,670; Fremont, 435; Hamlet, 639; Ingold, 86; Jacksonville, 309; Kenausville, 271; Laurinburg, 1,334; Lilesvi''-, 213; Lumber Bridge, 181; Lumberton, 849; Magnolia, 454; Maxton, 9:5; Monroe, 2,427; Morehead City, 1,379; Morven, 447; Mt. Members of Col. Cook's Family Thought to Have Varioloid-Statement of Situation by Authorities.

The Fayetteville Observer of yesterday afternoon prints an "official statement" of the small pox situation there in view of the alarming reports which it says have gained circulation about the exact situation and which to some extent were repeated in Wilmington vesterday.

The statement is signed by Dr. Mc-Gougan, city physician; C. B. Mc-Millan, Mayor pro tem, and A. B. Williams, chairman of the County Commissioners. It recites pointedly that three cases of the disease in mild form appeared in the negro quarter of the city three weeks ago; that experts from the State Board of Health pro nounced it mild; that all the cases were removed to a pest house 4 miles from the city, that all these patients and a suspect, who subsequently contracted the disease, are convalescent and have been discharged; that last week the daughter of a washwoman of Col. W. S. Cook's family contracted the disease and was sent to the pest house; that on Friday a member of Col. Cook's family was found to have something like varioloid and as a matter of precaution he moved his family to the country. Mrs. Cook and niece are now ill but physicians have not officially declared the disease as varioloid. Both are apparently doing well and are about the house. Col. Cook, who is mayor of the city, and all members of his household will remain away until all possible danger has passed.

There is not a case of the disease in Fayetteville, says the statement; the schools are going on and there is no interruption of business. With the observance of the usual precautions the physicians say there is no danger. Col. Cook and members of his famly are are very well known in Wilmington and friends will wish for them an early deliverance from the temporary inconvenience. Col. Cook

Death of Mrs. Mary Hodges. Mrs. Mary Hodges, relict of the late Joseph Hodges, died last night about 11 o'clock at her home, No. 609 South Fifth street, in the 69th year of her age. She had been feeble for some time, and while it was known that her death was not far in the future, it nevertheless came as a great shock to her relatives and those who knew her. She is survived by two sons, Mr. T. H. Hodges, an employe of the A. C. L. shops, and Mr. Jeffie Hodges; also two daughters, Misses Mary R. and Martha E. Hodges, all of this city. The funeral will be from the Fifth Street M. E. Church this afternoon at 4 o'clock, with interment in Oakdale will be expended in the improvement.

Died Saturday at Rose Hill.

Information has reached the city of day of Mr. R B. Carr, which occurred at the home of his father, Mr. G. T. Carr, after a lingering illness. He was about 32 years of age and for some time had been a resident of Atlanta, Ga. He came home sick some time ago and never rallied. He is an uncle of Messrs. L. V. and R. G. Grady, of this MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., January city, and is spoken of as an exemplary young man in ever respect.
