IMPEACHMENT TRIAL.

The Prolonged Cross Examination of Chief Justices Furches Concluded.

JUDGE DOUGLAS ON THE STAND

A Number of Witnesses as to Character Testify—Supreme Court Decisions. The Martin Defalcation—No Further Discrepancies.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

RALEIGH, N. C., March 19.—The examination of the books of the State Treasurer and their comparison with the books of the State's prison with a view to ascertaining the amount of the defalcations of Major W. H. Martin, institutional clerk under ex-State Treasurer W. H. Worth, will commence to-day. The examination will be by the special legislative committee consisting of Senator Arrington and Representatives Winston and Shanahan.

Treasurer Worth told me this morning that no further discrepancies in the books have been found since the arrest of Martin last week. Mr. Lacy and his clerks made some further investigation yesterday. He does not think the defalcation will amount to very much if any, more than has already been discovered, about $4,000. That is the difference apparent in the State's prison accounts in the treasurer's office and those at the prison. There is no other institution that would offer the opportunity for tampering with accounts, and the State's prison does, for the reason that no other institution has fluctuating accounts like the prison, there being a constant income from the institution as well as a standing appropriation, thereby complicating accounts so that the clerk would have an opportunity to cover up his embezzlements with a careful and detailed investigation is made. None of the other institutions have fluctuating accounts, and the records show at a glance what the financial standing of the institutions are as compared with the appropriations in the hands of the treasurer.

[Special Star Telegram.]

The Impeachment Trial.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 19.—During today's session of the Court of Impeachment the cross-examination of Chief Justice Furches was concluded and the testimony of Associate Justice Douglas was taken. The cross-examination of Judge Furches, as on yesterday, was conducted by James H. Poul. It involved principally the course of the case in the famous office-holding cases and the soundness of the doctrine that a person appointed to office has a property right vested in both the office and the duties thereof, and could not be divested of the right as long as the office existed, except for misconduct.

Chief Justice Furches had a ready answer for every question, and cited precedents through a course of sixty years for justification of his position.

At the conclusion of Judge Furches' testimony Major W. M. Robbins, J. B. Holman, J. H. Hoffman and Dr. W. S. Stephenson were introduced as witnesses to prove Judge Furches' character. All gave him the highest possible standing. Holman said Judge Furches was a strong partisan, but did not think that would sway him in judicial decisions. Major Robbins shed tears in testifying; he had loved Furches all his life as a man, and hated his politics.

Watson was cross-examining, and Robbins, in answer to a question, said Furches was no more a partisan in his politics than he (Robbins) and Watson were in theirs.

Associate Justice Douglas' direct testimony was very similar to that of Furches. His cross-examination by Watson was very rigid, involving all manner of questions of law. The only notable feature was that Douglas admitted that according to his ruling in White's case the Legislature could elect a man to an office for forty years or life, and he would have a vested right that could only be annulled by abolishing the office and its duties.

To-morrow Associate Justice Montgomery will take the witness stand. Supreme Court.

Cases in the Seventh district were disposed of by the Supreme Court today:

Koch vs. Porter, certiorari issued and case continued; Lebew vs. Hewitt, case to be submitted under rule 12, if counsel desire; Carter vs. W. & W. Railroad Company, argued by Barrett vs. McCrimmon, argued by Seawell and Burns for plaintiff; Knight vs. Hatfield, continued; Broadfoot vs. Fayetteville (two appeals), put at end of docket by consent; McDougald vs. Town of Lumberton, motion to affirm judgment argued; Dunham vs. Andrews, put at end of docket.

EXHIBITION GAME SATURDAY.

Delegates to Y. M. C. A. Convention Will Be Treated to Basket Ball Contest.

The basket ball game at the City Hall last night between the Young Men's and Boys' Brigade teams resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 25 to 13. Following is a line up of the teams.

Young Men's—Davis, E., Davis, L., Sweeney, Hopkins and Gore.
Boys' Brigade—Doshier, A., Irving, Loughlin, Doshier, W., and Peck.

The regular officials, with Dr. Wetzel as referee, were present.

Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the City Hall an exhibition game will be played between the Naval Reserves and Boys' Brigade. The game will be complimentary to the delegates to the Y. M. C. A. convention and no admission fee will be charged. The public is cordially invited.

Don't fail to visit Rehder's Thursday and Friday.

BRUNSWICK SUPERIOR COURT.

Term Adjourned Yesterday Afternoon—No Suits of Importance Were Heard.

Brunswick Superior Court adjourned yesterday after a two day's session, Judge Fred Moore presiding. Messrs. Herbert McClammy, L. V. Grady, R. G. Grady, A. J. Marshall and John H. Gore, Jr., Esqs., and Solicitor C. M. McLean came up to the city on the steamer Wilmington yesterday afternoon.

There were no important cases tried at this term, and the proceedings were totally devoid of interest. At the beginning of the term there was not a single prisoner in the jail, and all important civil suits were continued. Among the latter were the famous Green Swamp cases, involving about 10,000 acres of real estate, and the case of F. M. Moore vs. Navassa Guano Company, the continuance of which was heard in chambers here Saturday night.

Judge Moore and the Wilmington attorneys in attendance upon the court are expected to come up to the city to-day.

THE JOINT MEETING OF PYTHIANS.

Preparations Complete for Most Enjoyable Lodge Facion This Evening.

Pythian interest in Wilmington is centered to-day in the joint meeting of the four lodges of the city as the special guests to-night of Jefferson Lodge, No. 61. This event will be the second of the series of monthly meetings recently arranged and promises to be one fraught with much pleasure and overflowing with good fellowship.

Mr. E. H. Munson will be master of ceremonies and Mr. G. W. Branch assistant. The committee of arrangements consists of Capt. J. C. Morrison, Col. W. J. Woodward, Dr. J. N. Johnson, Messrs. A. S. Holden, R. S. Collins and H. E. Bonitz.

The address of the evening will be delivered by Dr. J. N. Johnson and another feature of the occasion will be a visit to the lodge by Mr. J. Robert Jordan, State organizer and an impersonator of splendid ability. He arrived last evening and will accompany Col. W. J. Woodward and his team for the institution of the new lodge at Clarkton Thursday.

N C TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY.

Prof. C. H. Mebane and J. A. Holt Will Be Here To-day.

Professors C. H. Mebane and J. A. Holt, both prominent officials and members of the executive committee of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, which it is hoped will hold its annual meeting at Wrightsville Beach this Summer, will arrive in Wilmington on the Seaboard Air Line train to-day at noon and will be taken to the beach to look over the field and ascertain the relative desirability of the place for the convention with other points that are making efforts for the best gathering.

Mr. Jos. H. Hinton, proprietor of the Seashore Hotel, which is now undergoing enlargement and material improvement, will take the visitors in charge and will do all he can in the way of influencing these prominent educators to bring the teachers here.

In this effort he should have the heartiest support of every citizen interested in Wilmington and its favorite seaside resorts.

CAPTAIN WILLEY HAS RETURNED.

Arrived Last Evening and Will Go in Command of His Ship To-day.

Capt. Owen S. Willey, in command of the U. S. revenue cutter Albatross stationed at this port, arrived in the city last evening from Washington, D. C., where he has been spending several months under treatment by specialists for an affection of the ear which gave him great trouble during the last weeks spent in Wilmington immediately preceding his departure.

The friends of Capt. Willey were rejoiced to see him again much improved and in good spirits. He will go aboard his ship to-day and will accompany her on its cruise.

Capt. Howison, of the revenue cutter Boutwell stationed at Newbern, who has been in command of the Albatross during Capt. Willey's absence, will likely return to his regular post to-day. He has made many friends here, who will note his departure with regret.

THE LAST SAD RITES

Performed Over the Remains of the Late Mrs. Oscar Pearsall Yesterday.

The obsequies of the lamented Mrs. Oscar Pearsall, whose sad death occurred Monday morning at her late home at Fernside, in East Wilmington, were held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was a faithful member. Rev. A. D. McClure conducted the services. The remains were tenderly laid to rest in Oakdale cemetery and the mound was covered with beautiful flowers which bore testimony of the high regard and esteem in which she was held by all who knew her.

The following gentlemen were pall bearers: Honorary, Drs. D. W. Bullock and W. J. Love, and Messrs. B. G. Worth and R. J. Jones; active, Capt. R. W. Price, Messrs. G. Y. Boney, W. H. Price, R. W. Hicks, J. C. Stevenson and J. E. Crow.

Beautiful hats, sweet music, lovely decorations at Rehder's Thursday and Friday.

THE SECOND PRIMARY

Contest Royal Between Mayorality Candidates is Promised for the Morrow.

A FIFTH WARD PROTEST.

Decided Last Night Adversely to Contestant—Saloons Will Close This Evening at 7 O'clock—Appointive Officers on the Qui Vive.

If anything, interest centered about the municipal campaign is even more pronounced and intense just now than before the contest at the first primary on day before yesterday. Everybody confidently predicts that there will be a much more lively contest, though only a few officers
