The Wilmington base ball sports were on the "knock" yesterday, and they knocked in great shape, and it seems, with some degree of provocation.

Mr. J. D. Doshier has purchased of Mr. Jas. H. Chadbourne, Jr., the house and lot on Third between Harnett and Davis streets. The purchase price was $500.

The store No. 108 Market street, next east of the S. & B. Solomon dry goods store, is being overhauled and repainted by its owner, Mr. B. H. J. Ahrens.

With three good men already on the staff of pitchers of the Wilmington base ball nine, and with only one game out of a series of three won from Newport News, Vorhees, whom every body believed had been released from the team, or at least given notice that he would be released, was substituted for Foreman, and the game lost by a score of five to one.

Although telegraphic advice from Newport News last night said that Vorhees struck out eight men in one, two, three, order and pitched a "manly game," there was little conciliation with the general run of "fans," and they continued to "knock" with dexterity. They set up the claim that it was Foreman's game and Foreman should have pitched it.

The following telegram was received by the STAR last night:

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., May 1.—Two out of three from Wilmington. If the Shipbuilders continue to climb the ladder as they are going now and if the Norfolk Skippers will kindly drop a couple of games, Newport News will be at the top.

Wilmington's only run was made in the first, in this afternoon. Cranston, after getting his base on ball, going to second on a wild pitch and to third on Deisel's error, scored when Crockett was put out at first. Vorhees pitched a manly game but had hard luck. He struck out eight men in one, two, three, order.

Some General Bgll Notes.

From yesterday's summary at Newport News it is believed that in view of the fact that Cranston was substituted for Thackara, that the last named had further trouble with his injured finger. Thackara never allows passed balls when he is in shape behind the bat, and unless something had happened the management would never have substituted him, though Cranston is the finest in the league, except Thackara himself.

Umpire Clark, who officiated with such general satisfaction here, appears to have been "hoo dood" in Norfolk. The people here are, however, on the side of Clark, though the following appeared in yesterday's Norfolk Landmark in connection with the game in that city Tuesday:

"At the Park yesterday there was a slugging match, in which two pitchers and an umpire suffered—the former professionally and the latter physically. The slugging was done by the Richmond and Norfolk ball teams with their bats, and First Baseman Armstrong, of Norfolk, with his fists. The spectators were very much interested in the former, but had rather not have seen the latter, for it is just such exhibitions of temper that tends to kill all the excitement and fun to be derived from seeing two well-matched teams play the national game. No matter what the justification, there should be no fighting on the ball field. If an umpire is incompetent and does not

ANNUAL PILGRIMAGE.

Trip to Old Brunswick Immensely Enjoyed by Colonial Dames and Their Friends.

ABLE HISTORICAL PAPERS.

Were Read by Mr. James Sprunt and Col. A. M. Waddell—Devotional Services by Bishop Cheshire, of Charlotte. Event a Great Success.

In the annals of Wilmington it would be a far stretch of memory to recall a day more glorious, more satisfactory or happier than the first of May of the first year of the twentieth century. The occasion was the second annual pilgrimage of the North Carolina Chapter of Colonial Dames to the colonial ruins of old St. Philip's Church at the historic grounds at Old Brunswick. Always a pleasure to visit this charming place, it was made doubly so being under the auspices of those charming ladies, whose care was to see that all were rendered safe and happy. It was an outing never to be forgotten.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning Captain Harper rang the gong for the steamer Wilmington to move from her dock. A lovely crowd of maids and maidens, wives and widows, men and youths, and the irrepressible boy, filled her decks and cabins to the number of 420. All happy and careless, many looking for a pleasant holiday and the more thoughtful having in anticipation a rare literary and historical treat. With wind and tide against it, the steamer reached the dock at Old Brunswick at 11:30 o'clock, and it was an interesting sight to watch the disembarkation of the human freight. Off jumped quickly the liveliest boys and the sprightliest maidens, followed soon by the maturer of both sexes, no less intent upon gaining and giving pleasure.

A short walk through the ruins of Fort Anderson, (and many stopped to contemplate the enormous and wondrous structure built during the war for Southern independence, brought all to the ruins of St. Philip's church, the Mecca of the journey. After a short rest, silently and devoutly the pilgrims and their numerous friends gathered in the historic ruins of St. Philip's church.

Asked to be quiet, Rt. Rev. Bishop Cheshire, of the Diocese of North Carolina, began the devotional exercises by reading the eighth Psalm from the Book of Common Prayer, a part, and an appropriate part, of the Psalter for the day. The recitation of the Apostles' Creed and afterward the Lord's Prayer, both led by the Bishop, were heartily made by the large congregation. The Bishop then read the prayers for "Peace and Concord," for "Defence," for "Deliverance" and for "Acknowledgment of Mercies." Following the benediction the choir sang the hymn, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," in which the congregation joined and during the whole ceremony every one stood, the men uncovered.

Col. Waddell at the request of the Dames announced that Mr. James Sprunt would read an address upon the life and work of Spencer Compton, Earl of Wilmington, after whom this city was called.

Mr. Sprunt gave an interesting and most instructive sketch of Compton's noble lineage and of his distinguished services—his regard, most disinterested, for the young colony, and his appointment in 1730 as Governor of the Province of Gabriel Johnston—our first colonial chief. In 1739 the name of the town, which had been first New Liverpool, next Newton (after a prominent merchant), was changed as a compliment to Wilmington. The Earl of Wilmington died in 1748, full of honors, highly respected and greatly regretted.

The address further contained allusions as to the object of the formation of the Society of Colonial Dames; among them to perpetuate the memories of colonial men, to gather facts and preserve records, restore ruins and locate points of interest, verifying traditions, obliterating errors and demonstrating facts.

Mr. Sprunt spoke of the first instance of organized armed resistance to Great Britain in any of the colonies being at Old Brunswick. His address was warmly applauded and his tribute to the Dames for their work was highly appreciated and he received the thanks of many.

The whole congregation then stood and sang the hymn, which, thank God, no other State can claim nor can any other claim so grand a hymn as "The Old North State."

Col. Waddell then addressed the Dames and audience on the subject of the Early Settlers of the Cape Fear. He spoke of the stimulant that the formation and work of historical societies give to the preservation of the memories of the past. A few years ago little was known of North Carolina history, but research and study had brought to light facts and demonstrated that the Carolinians eminently deserved the title they assumed in 1770 of "Sons of Liberty."

He spoke of the abandonment of the only settlement; the return a few years after; the efforts of Sir John Yeomans to effect a permanent colony, his careful nursing of the same; the persecution by his enemies, the vindication of history.

After Sir John Yeomans he spoke of Surgeon Woodward, who was an explorer in the wilds of the Carolinas and afterwards settled at Port Royal, and one of his descendants was present on the grounds. Old Town was settled first and in 1685, being then known his business there is a remedy—he should be replaced. That is the only remedy that the general public will stand for, and the sooner this is known the better for the promoters of the game. These gentlemen, neither in Norfolk nor in any other of the cities of the League, are in sympathy with such disturbances, and not only does the local management regret the affair, but will prevent its repetition, and the fight between Armstrong and Umpire Clark lasted but a very few minutes, but in that time the former had blacked both of the eyes of the latter and so hurt him as to render him unfit to continue the game. His place was taken by two players. The scrap occurred as Norfolk was about to take her half of the fifth inning. Armstrong made a remark which Clark thought was addressed to him and he called the first baseman down. More words were passed when the umpire imposed a fine on Armstrong. He was words and another fine and the six policemen was put out of the game. This was more than he could stand and he punched Clark good and hard. When the men were separated Clark's eyes were bleeding and his ears were badly discolored. Armstrong's face was scratched.

Clayton made another error at Newport News yesterday, but that doesn't keep the people of Wilmington from knowing that he is the very "finest" in the League.

The game between Wilmington and Norfolk will be received by plays at the office of Murphy & Co., in the Sternberger building, to day, beginning at 4 P. M. The enterprise is in charge of Messrs. P. G. White and Louis Keen, and will no doubt be liberally patronized. The admission is only 25 cents.

The games on other diamonds yesterday were as follows:

CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING.

Pleasant Event Last Night at Home of Dr. and Mrs. Kingsbury.

Dr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Kingsbury charmingly celebrated their golden wedding, the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, at the family residence, No. 211 South Fifth Street, last night from 8 to 12 o'clock.

The hospitable home was profusely decorated and brilliantly lighted and during the evening hundreds of warm friends in Wilmington and elsewhere, called and extended happiest congratulations and rejoiced with the hosts in the happy event which marked such a pleasurable event in the history of their lives.

Many congratulatory letters and telegrams were received from distinguished friends residing at other points, one among the number being a very sincere message from the Rev. Dr. Peyton H. Hoge, pastor of Warren Memorial church, Louisville, Ky.

At the Produce Exchange.

Visitors to the Produce Exchange yesterday were gratified to note from the boards that the enterprising management had arranged to receive the Chicago grain and provision market daily, each half hour. These quotations were received by the Exchange some time ago three times a day, but now they are posted every thirty minutes and this feature should be a strong inducement for the wholesale grocers and others on the wharf to hand in their applications for membership.

Saw Mill Property Sold.

Mr. H. Peyton Gray, of Pulaski, Va., and Mr. M. M. Caldwell, of Wytheville, Va., as commissioners of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Western District of Virginia, yesterday sold at auction at the court house the saw mill property and about 1,100 acres of timber land, belonging to the late O. W. Pike Lumber Company, which operated a plant about a mile and a half from Wilmington up the Cape Fear river. It was bid in by Mr. Thos. H. Wright for $4,115.

To Attend Lutheran Synod.

Rev. A. G. Voigt, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, and Mr. J. H. Rehder, a lay delegate from that congregation, left yesterday evening to attend the annual meeting of the North Carolina Synod, which will be convened this morning at a Lutheran church near Gibsonville, Guilford county, N. C. Rev. Dr. G. D. Bernheim, of St. Matthew's English Lutheran church, will leave this morning.

Game for South Carolina Negro.

Mr. J. N. Clinton, a deputy of Sheriff G. P. Scarborough, of Darlington county, S. C., arrived yesterday on the W. C. & A. train, and in the afternoon took back with him the negro Joe Jordan, who was recently arrested here on a warrant from Darlington, charging him with assault with intent to kill upon two colored women in the vicinity of that city. There appears little doubt as to the identity of the man.

The Sanitary Sewerage.

Major Chauncey Ives, Col. J. E. Lewis and another consulting engineer in the employ of the Sanitary Sewerage Company, left last night for Raleigh to appear before the State Board of Health at a meeting to be held to day, relative to the new system which is proposed to be established by that corporation in Wilmington. Capt. J. M. McRee, the city engineer, accompanied them.

called Charles town and the river Charles, now called Cape Fear. Alluding to the settlement of the town of Brunswick he stated that Col. Maurice Moore, a grandson of Sir John Yeomans, established a colony there in 1726. It soon grew in importance, because it was the residence of the Governor and the meeting place of the council. But space prevents giving any further idea of his interesting address, which it to be continued next year.

The dispersing audience were suddenly stopped by hearing the voice of Mr. Geo. Kidder who, in his courtly manner, and in beautiful language, presented the Colonial Dames a basket of the most beautiful carnations and other flowers; an act gracefully conceived, gracefully expressed and gracefully rendered as a deserved tribute.

Dispersing, the large crowd prepared for and partook of an elegant lunch. All were invited and none forgotten. Merry parties scattered around might have brought to mind the merry days when the beautiful Rebecca Dwyer was the merriest belle of all the beautiful maids of Brunswick.

The whistle of the steamer was coming soon, but a cry came from the reading of that gem of romances, "The Bride of St. Philip's." It commanded the attention of young and old, and faithful to history, records the fact that the marriage of this charming maid was the only marriage service ever performed in St. Philip's.

The call for departure by the steamer soon came, and the crowd, winding their weary way to the wharf, soon reached home, bringing with them recollections of a happy day filled with instruction to old and young.

The STAR cannot fail to note the great pleasure felt by all at having Bishop Cheshire and wife as guests of the Colonial Dames at the pilgrimage yesterday. Mrs. Cheshire is a descendant of the Compton family, of which the Earl of Wilmington was once the head, thus adding greater pleasure to her presence.

The Bishop and wife are guests of Mr. Jas. Sprunt.

Dispersing, the large crowd prepared for and partook of an elegant lunch. All were invited and none forgotten. Merry parties scattered around might have brought to mind the merry days when the beautiful Rebecca Dwyer was the merriest belle of all the beautiful maids of Brunswick.

The whistle of the steamer was coming soon, but a cry came from the reading of that gem of romances, "The Bride of St. Philip's." It commanded the attention of young and old, and faithful to history, records the fact that the marriage of this charming maid was the only marriage service ever performed in St. Philip's.

The call for departure by the steamer soon came, and the crowd, winding their weary way to the wharf, soon reached home, bringing with them recollections of a happy day filled with instruction to old and young.

The STAR cannot fail to note the great pleasure felt by all at having Bishop Cheshire and wife as guests of the Colonial Dames at the pilgrimage yesterday. Mrs. Cheshire is a descendant of the Compton family, of which the Earl of Wilmington was once the head, thus adding greater pleasure to her presence.
