ROANOKE RIVER RAGING.

Floods Cause Delay of A. C. L. Train From North-Caledonia Parm Flooded.

Atlantic Coast Line passenger train No. 49 from the north, due to arrive here at 6 P. M., was labout four hours late Sunday night on account of having to transfer passengers at the bridge over Roanoke river near Weldon, which was considered unsafe for a train to cross on account of the tearing away of two girders under the same by reason of the floods of water in all upe country streams. The trouble now has, however, been remedied and it is expected that there will be no further delay.

Passengers who came in on the belated train Sunday night, say that much of the Caledonia farm, belonging to the State Penitentiary, has been flooded on account of the giving away of dykes built to keep the water off the lowlands. There are about 1,200 acres of cotton on the farm and it is said that much of this has been flooded. The expense of building the dykes will also figure extensively in an estimation of the losses.

THE STRAWBERRY IS PASSING.

End of Season is Approaching and Prices

Are Beginning to Droop. The day of the luscious strawberry for this season, at least, is about over, that stage having about approached when it is no longer profitable to ship them North. The markets are flooded. it is said, and the prices are now very low-not high enough in many instances to pay much more than transportation charges. Several commission houses have already advised no further shipments and the decline of the season is evidenced by the car loads of pickers that are returning each day from up the Wilmington and Weldon railroad. This week will wind up the crop. which though short, has been fairly remunerative to the grower. 'Yesterday the shipments showed a decided falling off from the days of the week Munroe & Kelly-New style go-cart. | previous.

"Enough to make a horse laugh" is an old saw, but the result of Wilmington's game yesterday, combined with the defeat of Raleigh by the "Crew of the Mary Jane" was just enough to cause a smile to play all over the serene physiognomy of the STAR's "Hoss Editor." He made a few disfigurations of the percentage column as it appeared in Sunday's paper, perceived in truth that Wilmington had popped up to a little higher plane over the "Red Birds," exchanged compliments of the season with the boys, exultantly indited a few lines to the religious editor of the News and Observer and retired for the

With good weather this afternoon. however, there's no telling how the P. C. column will stand after the afternoon games.

The following special telegram was received last night by the STAR: "RICHMOND, VA., May 27 .- Wilmington found Richmond this afternoon in rather a broken up condition and the grounds in terrible shape. The game was played in a soft mud. It was featureless, save for the steady hitting of Wilmington and the poor work in general of the Richmond team. DEATH OF MRS. DeROSSET.

She Passed Peacefully Away Sunday More ing at the Family Residence in This City-The Funeral To-day.

The many friends in Wilmington and elsewhere will hear or have already heard of the sad death of Mrs. that she is safely at the top of column | Tallulah Low DeRosset, wife of Capt. Armand L. DeRosset, which occurred at the family home, No. 113 South Second street, this city, at 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning.

Mrs. DeRosset had been in ill health for some time with an affection of the heart, but for the past several weeks she had rallied to some extent from her recent very severe attack and her friends were very hopeful of her ultiwas, however, only temporary and she peacefully passed away into the great beyond at the hour named. Mrs. DeRosset was a daughter of the late James H. Low, of New Or leans. She was born in the month of June, 1845, at Savannah, Ga., and was married to Capt. DeRosset, who survives her, on May 17, 1866. Since that time, she had resided in Wilmington Davis and Gabriel Holmes. These, and had drawn about her hundreds offriends, who received with unfeigned sorrow the news of her sad demise on Sunday morning. She is survived besides the sorrowing husband by two wood, S. P. McNair, H. B. Short, W. sons and four daughters: Mr. James E. Springer, H. L. Vollers, C. W. L. DeRosset, who is prominently Worth, J. L. Coker and George R. identified with the banking business French. of New York. Mr. Armand L. De-Rosset, Jr., of Atlanta; Mrs. J. W. Harris, of Cartersville, Ga., and Misses Louise, Tallulah and Madelaide De-Rosset, of this city. She is also survived by an only sister, Mrs. Bessie L. Kidder, of New Orleans, and three brothers, Mr. Edwin H. Low, of New York, Mr. Clarence S. Low, of New Orleans and Mr. Jas. H. Low, of Cincinnati. Mrs. DeRosset was a woman of the highest Christian character and a devoted member of St. James' Episcopal church. Her disposition was lovable and kind and her admirable traits were very many. None knew her but to love her and the recollection of many a charitable deed, a kind word, or thoughtful act will linger in the memories of those who knew her best.

Judge and Mrs. J. W. Harris, of Cartersville, Ga., and Mr. A. L. De-Rosset, Jr., arrived yesterday via the S. A. L. and Mr. James L. DeRosset at six o'clock last evening via the A. C. L. Mrs. Bessie L. Kidder is ex pected to-day at noon.

The funeral will be held from St. James this afternoon at 5 o'clock with interment in Oakdale.

Suit Against the City. Mr. Jno. S. Harriss, the well known produce merchant at Front street market house, has announced his purpose to enter suit against the city of Wilmington for $5,000 damages. He states that he will allege in his complaint that he obtained license to sell produce from his store and that he was arrested by a policeman for a refusal to move a cart from in front of his place. He was carried before the suit for false arrest and injury to his business.

The Floods Are General.

Mr. R. R. Stone, who got home Sun. day from Memphis, says the floods by rain appear to be general from here to Chattanooga, Tenn. The whole face of the earth, he says, is covered by water and the damage to cotton and other crops is appalling. The farmers are very much discouraged and are necessarily badly "in the grass." Mr. Stone is a very observant man when it comes to growing crops and his opinion that there has been much damage carries with it much weight

Death of Mr. Theodore Sessoms.

The STAR regrets to learn from s correspondent at Klondyke, N. CONSOLIDATED BANK

Plan by Which Atlantic and Wilmington Nationals Were Joined Is Perfected.

HE OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

Elected in Conformity to Outlines Previ ously Given in These Columns-A Strong Institution With Able Business Men at the fielm.

The final details of the consolidation of the National Bank of Wilmington and the Atlantic National Bank were consummated at special meetings of the stockholders of both institutions ves terday morning. The virtual consolidation took place by mutual consent of a majority of the stockholders interested on Tuesday, May 7th, but not until yesterday was the formal action taken.

The first meeting was at 11 A M and was of the stockholders of the National Bank of Wilmington, Mr. John S. Armstrong presided and Mr. W. E. Worth was requested to act as secretary. It was ascertained that a majority of the stock was represented in person and by proxy and the formal steps were taken to liquidate the affairs of the institution for the purpose of entering into the consolidation as outlined in these columns several days ago.

After a session of twenty minutes the meeting adjourned and the Atlantic National Bank stockholders were called together. Mr. Jno. R. Morris, of Goldsboro, was requested to preside and Mr. W. E. Worth to act as secre-

A committee on proxies, consisting of Messrs. C. W. Yates and D. L. Gore, reported that 890 out of 1250 shares of stock were represented in person, whereupon the chairman declared the meeting ready for business. In accordance with the terms of consolidation it was unanimously agreed to increase the number of directors from eleven to nineteen and to elect all of the present directors of the National Bank of Wilmington as directors in the Atlantic mate restoration to health. The rally until the next annual meeting in January, every stockholder in the Wilmington National having purchased stock in the new bank from non resident stockholders of the Atlantic. This policy was pursued in the election of Messrs. Jno. S. Armstrong, Wm. Calded James H. Chad bourn, Jr., C. W. Yates, J. G. L. Gieschen, W. E. Worth, Junius with the present Atlantic Bank directors, fill out the complement as follows: Messrs. P. L Bridgers, J. W. Norwood, D. L. Gore, G. A. Nor-

The consolidation already taken place was then ratified and the stock holders' meeting adjourned. At a subsequent meeting of the new board of directors, Mr. D. L. Gore resigned as vice president of the bank and Mr. Jno. S. Armstrong was unanimously elected in his stead. Each member of the board expressed appreciation of Mr. Gore's valuable services as vice president in the past and grati fication that he would remain with the new institution as a director and large shareholder. The directors then adjourned after a session marked by perfect harmony. At present Mr. Norwood says the officers of the bank and the clerical force will be as follows: Cashier-Andrew Moreland.

Assistant Cashiers-Jos. W. Yates and F. J. Haywood, Jr. Teller-W. P. Price. General Bookkeepers-J. L. Wyatt.

H. M. Croswell, J. F. Smith and W. C. Armstrong. Individual Bookkeepers-W. A.

Willson, Jr., W. L. Williams, Palmer Rosomond and "Jack" Bellamy. Collecting Department-M. F. Alen, B. P. Harrison, Alva Ward and

Fred Banck. The Atlantic National Bank has been in business nine years and has a paid in capital of $125,000, with a surplus account of exceeding $175 .-000. The National Bank of Wilmington has accumulated a surplus of exceeding thirty per cent., and the consolidated deposits amount to approximately $1,300,000.

City Street Improvement. A meeting of the Streets and Mayor and dismissed, hence the Wharves Committee of the Board of Aldermen was held last night in the Mayor's office for the purpose of considering the question of whether or not the city can continue its system of permanent street improvement otherwise than by contract. Mr. Bailey chairman of the committee, submitted a report by City Attorney Bellamy in which he held that under the charter of 1876, now in force, the work could only be done under contract and he advised that bids for same be called for in the formal way. The question was fully discussed and a report made up for submission to the Aldermen at their regular meeting next Monday. It is also learned that a minority report will be handed in. Present at the meeting besides Mr. Bailey were members Maunder and Johnson and Alderman West.

City Subscribers.

City subscribers are earnestly requested to report promptly at the STAR office every failure of the carriers to deliver their papers. In all such cases months and 23 days. The funeral steps will be taken to insure promp and regular delivery.
