CHURCHES SUNDAY.

At Which Distinguished Divines and Scholars Preached and Lectured.

SPLENDID SPECIAL MUSIC.

Each Service Was Largely Attended and Greatly Enjoyed—Brilliant Sermons and Able Addresses Were Delivered by the Visitors.

Sunday possessed more than passing interest to church-goers, as many of the Teachers' Assembly's most prominent members, who are among the Old North State's brightest sons, filled the city pulpits. The attendance at each service was very large and several of the churches had special music for the occasion.

Especially attractive were the services at the First Baptist Church, where in the morning Rev. R. T. Vann, D. D., president of the Baptist Female University, Raleigh, delivered the sermon and Prof. E. Walter Sykes, Ph. D., of Wake Forest College, spoke at night. At the evening service there was special music by a select quartette—Mrs. F. H. Muse, Miss Nellie Platt and Messrs. Lonnie Williford and A. S. Holden.

Dr. Sykes' lecture was a literary gem, being a discourse on "The Battle of Life," while of special interest were the remarks of Dr. Vann, who spoke of the great work the Baptists of the State are doing this year for their North Carolina colleges. He laid particular stress upon the movement afoot to raise $100,000 to endow their colleges, and of which amount half is to go to the university at Raleigh.

Upon conclusion of Dr. Vann's remarks a subscription was called for in order to complete the First Baptist Church's apportionment of the endowment fund, $480. The amount was raised in a very short time.

At the Brooklyn Baptist Church Drs. Vann and Sykes again officiated, the former at night and the latter in the morning. There, too, Dr. Vann confined his remarks to the "Education of the Baptists of North Carolina" and succeeded in arousing great interest in his subject. Dr. Sykes' sermon was a very strong one, being delivered on the theme, "The Church Militant." In his introductory remarks he showed that life is one great battle and has to be fought industrially, politically, intellectually and spiritually.

The two sermons by visiting ministers at Grace M. E. Church were exceedingly able ones. Prof. J. F. Bivins, D. D., of Trinity Park High School, Durham, preached at 11 A. M. Rev. T. N. Ivey, editor of Raleigh Christian Advocate, preached at night. Their sermons were true utterances of great truths of the Scriptures, and were appreciated by the large congregations that heard them. It is rare that two more delightful sermons are heard in our city. The vocal solo by Miss Ella Newman, of Knoxville, at the morning service was highly enjoyable.

The morning and evening services at Fifth street M. E. Church were also conducted by Dr. Bivins and Ivey, the latter delivering a powerful sermon on the "Temptation of Jesus," and the former delivering one equally as strong on the "Christian Interview with Simon Peter after Jesus' Resurrection."

The music at both services was of a high order, and especially delightful was a solo by Mrs. Parker.

At St. John's Episcopal Church, Rev. Theodore D. Bratton, D. D., rector of St. Mary's Church, preached an exceptionally interesting and able sermon, selecting his text, "The Testimony of Nature Based on a God," from Acts, 14th chapter, 17th verse.

The men's meeting at the Young Men's Christian Association, which was largely attended, was conducted by Prof. Sykes, who made an excellent and logical address.

The religious exercises at Wrightsville Beach were also very attractive. In the morning, Rev. A. Marshall, D. D., of Raleigh, one of our most distinguished visitors, preached to quite a large and appreciative congregation and in the afternoon a sacred concert was given at the Seashore Hotel by the hotel's superb orchestra.

Opening of the Oceanic Hotel.

To-morrow night the Oceanic Hotel at Carolina Beach will open in all its glory. The opening will be an enjoyable affair as there is going to be a big dance and many other forms of amusement.

The steamer Wilmington will make a delightful moonlight trip to the beach, leaving the city at 7:30 o'clock in the evening and returning at midnight.

Death of a Little One.

The STAR sympathizes with Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Reeves in the death of their infant son, Harry L., which occurred yesterday morning at 11:50 o'clock. The funeral will take place here in the family residence, corner Eighth and Dawson streets, at 9 o'clock this afternoon.

LOCAL DOTS.

The revenue cutter Algonquin is now in port.

The barque Albatross arrived from London yesterday.

A large crowd enjoyed the trip down the river Sunday on the steamer Compton.

The joint Pythian meeting to-night with Clarendon Lodge is going to be a festive affair.

Tax listing is progressing lively. About half of the polls have already been listed.

Justice Fowler tried and discharged Thos. Kibber, colored, yesterday on a charge of slander.

Henry Wright yesterday conveyed to Mr. Martin Rathjen 23 acres of land situated in Cape Fear township.

A traveller from up the Wilmington and Weldon railroad tells the STAR the matrimonial fever is epidemic along that line.

On account of the election all saloons closed at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon and will remain closed until the same hour to-morrow morning.

The Wilmington Sewerage Company yesterday purchased from Mr. Walter G. MacRae a small tract of land near Burnt Creek. The price paid was $300.

Geo. Peschan, Esq., yesterday noon sold at public auction at the court house two houses and lots, corner Ninth and Wooster streets, to Mr. Harrowe Taylor for $450.

The STAR regrets to announce the death of Mrs. Hattie V. D. Scott, of Long Creek, Pender county, which occurred last Thursday. The deceased was in the forty first year of her age.

Nearly all the teachers have returned to their respective homes, though some yet remain in the city and at the beach. The STAR hears nothing but praise for Wilmington's treatment of the Assembly.

Messrs. Malcolm McKinney and Henry Watson, two young wheelmen of Princeton, N. C., left on their return trip home yesterday. They made the trip here on their bikes and are making it back the same way.

The mayor yesterday, in the police court, ordered a disreputable white woman, Emma Thompson, to leave the city, and sent Jim Howe, colored, up to the higher court to answer the charge of carrying a concealed deadly weapon.

Since the base ball fever assumed an epidemic form here, it has been necessary for the STAR to employ a telephone editor to answer the calls between 6 P. M. and midnight. It beats a Presidential election all to smash. Our friends are assured, however, that it is a pleasure to us to give them the news.

A GAME OF FREEZE OUT.

Alderman Bailey Can't Even Obtain Newbern Ice.

It looks as though the "ice-man" is trying to freeze the aldermen out for sure; at least one particular alderman, Mr. E. P. Bailey. The trouble that Mr. Bailey and other aldermen have experienced in getting, or rather not getting, ice has already been told our readers, but yesterday there was another turn of the wheel. Mr. Bailey was refused ice from the ice factory at Newbern, but why the refusal, he does not know. It happened in this wise: Friday Mr. Bailey sent a mail order to Newbern for one hundred pounds of ice, enclosing sixty cents in stamps, the price asked for the amount of ice desired. Yesterday he received a letter from the factory, stating that they could not supply him and returning the stamps. No reason was assigned for the action. Inference can be drawn if desired.

The early part of last week Mr. Bailey obtained ice from Newbern, but it was through another party.

New Hats for the Reliablys.

Our "finest," if the weather be fair, for of course we can't christen new raincoat unobtrusively, will make their appearance to-day decked out in brand new hats, made especially for them and of the best quality possible by the French Police Supply House, of New York city. The hats, which are beautiful and quite stylish, arrived yesterday. The officers will sport caps of a dark blue, while the privates will all look "handsome" in black felt hats, attractively set off by small gold cord bands and tassels.

A. & M. Examination Next Month.

Young men who wish to stand the entrance examination for the Agricultural and Mechanical College need no longer go to Raleigh to do so, but can save all expense by being examined here. Such has been the notice received by Prof. Washington Catlett, superintendent of public instruction, from Dr. Geo. C. Winston, president of the college.

Prof. Catlett has already received the examination papers and will give all applicants a trial the 11th of next month.

Complimentary Words.

Prof. J. A. Hall, of Oak Ridge Institute, says: "Wrightsville Beach has proved the best place at which we have ever met." He also complimented very highly Manager Hinton and the clerks of the Seashore Hotel. The Teachers' Assembly passed the following: "Resolved, That it gives us pleasure to express our obligations to the management of the Seashore Hotel for liberal rates, excellent service and kind treatment."

OLD MAN MURDERED.

Mr. Gaston Price Found Dying in His Store Not Far From the City.

WITH HIS HEAD CRUSHED.

Robbery Supposed to be the Motive of the Crime—A Chest in Which He Kept His Money Found Broken Open and Plundered—No Clue.

One of the foulest deeds in the annals of crime in North Carolina was committed Sunday night at Navassa, the site of the Navassa Guano Company's large plant, about four miles from the city and situated in Brunswick county. The crime, horrible both in preparation and execution, was a two-fold one, burglary and murder, and in both instances Mr. Gaston Price, who has been numbered among our best citizens for many years, was the victim.

The story of the diabolical deed is as follows: Mr. Price for a number of years, up to about the 28th of February, was in the employ of the Navassa Guano Company. Subsequently, being well and favorably known at Navassa, he opened up a refreshment stand there, for that purpose the front room of his residence, which contains three rooms and is the third house from the Cape Fear river bridge. Sunday Mr. Price was at his residence and was seen all and hearty about 8 o'clock that night. However, a negro, Henry Moore, passed the house several hours later, about 10:30 o'clock, and had his attention arrested by hearing Mr. Price groaning, but not noticing anything suspicious and thinking that the old gentleman was either groaning in his sleep or slightly ill, continued on his way.

Yesterday morning the colored cook, Caroline Waddell, reported at the Price residence for duty, but could not get in. Upon hearing her employer groaning she at once became frightened and gave the alarm at the Navassa factory. Messrs. L. L. Boone, J. C. McCachern and C. W. Stewart went immediately to the house and upon finding the doors and windows locked and hearing Mr. Price groaning broke in the front door and discovered the ghastly crime.

Mr. Price was lying on his back a few feet from the door, unconscious, his face bathed in blood, and his skull cracked in at several points, while on the floor not far away was a bloody axe and a hoe handle about four feet long, the assassins' weapons. The motive for the terrible deed was plainly apparent, as everything in the house was in a chest and a trunk, both being broken open and rifled.

The three gentlemen acted promptly in the matter and notified the coroner of this county, Dr. G. D. Bell, who had the injured man brought to the city and conveyed to the City Hospital, where he and Dr. A. H. Harris did all in their power to save life, but their efforts were of no avail and at 4:10 o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Price passed away without for one moment regaining consciousness.

The remains were prepared for burial and then conveyed to Mr. J. F. Woolvin's undertaker's establishment, where, at 10 o'clock this morning, Coroner Bell will interment a jury and hold the necessary inquest.

The funeral will be held at 8:30 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of Mr. C. W. Stewart, 420 Red Cross street, and all members of Cape Fear Lodge No. 2, of which the deceased was a member, his membership dating back to 1879, are ordered to attend in a body.

Mr. Price was well known and highly thought of here. He came to Wilmington about 1869 on the revenue cutter Moccasin and has lived here or hereabouts ever since. His birth place is Johnston county this state, and this month he celebrated his 65 birthday. He was a step-father of our well known townsman, Mr. C. W. Stewart, and of Mr. Walter Stewart, of Philadelphia.

The motive for the murder was conclusively robbery and was, no doubt, planned carefully and in a cold blooded manner. From all indications Mr. Price was just getting ready to retire when the assassins knocked on the front door of the house and quite stylishly, arrived yesterday. The officers will sport caps of a dark blue, while the privates will all look "handsome" in black felt hats, attractively set off by small gold cord bands and tassels.

Turning, he must have started to lead the way into the store when the assassins' blows fell, for he was found only a few feet from the door. The assassins then commenced their work of plunder, but first coolly shutting and locking the door, while the stricken man struggled in agony on the floor, for the manner in which he turned himself over and around was plainly evident. After accomplishing their two-fold diabolical object the assassins departed, locking the door after going out of the house and throwing the key away in the back yard, where it was found yesterday morning.

Just what the robbery amounts to is not definitely known, as it is not known how much money Mr. Price had in the store at the time, but it is certain he had changed to the amount of about $15. He also sold a piece of property about the 1st instant to Jas. B. Elkin and wife for $400, but whether or not he had this amount in the house is not known.

It is said that a short while ago Mr. Price was waylaid and robbed on the Navassa road of a sum of money.

There is yet no clue to the crime, but tracks were discovered around the house.

Mr. Price's skull was crushed at several places and the entire length of the base.

SEABOARD TRAIN DELAYED.

Heavy Rain Caused Several Washouts Along the Line Yesterday.

The heavy rain played havoc with the Seaboard Air Line yesterday between here and Wadesboro. The through train from Charlotte, due to arrive about noon yesterday did not reach the city until this morning about 12:30 o'clock. This train was delayed at several places along the line on account of washouts and the track being awash. The first obstacle it encountered was at Sand Hill, near Hamlet, where it had to remain for a number of hours on account of a washout. After getting passage over this part of the road, another stop was necessary near Phoenix, where a washout occurred late in the afternoon. Luckily the west-bound train yesterday afternoon escaped this last washout.

The rain was exceedingly heavy all along the line and at some points the track is said to have been under water for more than 200 feet.

About a score of passengers were aboard the belated train, among whom were A. W. McLean, Lumbering; T. B. Gibson, McColl, S. C.; J. J. Gledhill, Chicago; Archie Palmer, Baltimore; C. S. McCall, G. M. Weatherly, J. M. Jackson and D. D. McColl, Bennettsville, S. C.

Another washout occurred near Wadesboro and delayed the Atlanta special.

Died Sunday Morning.

Mrs. Annie Matthews, wife of Mr. D. E. Matthews, of near Wilson, died Sunday morning at the city hospital. She was married several years ago and leaves a husband and a little boy, besides many other relatives, among whom are Mrs. M. E. Keasley, Mrs. Wm. Best and Mrs. Stien, of this city.

Mrs. Matthews was Miss Annie Glisson before her marriage. She was postmistress at Magnolia for eight years.

The remains were carried to Magnolia yesterday morning where they were interred, Rev. Calvin S. Blackwell officiating.

The following gentlemen were pall bearers here: Messrs. Jno. R. Hanby, William Hooper, Wallace Alderman, E. S. Lathrop and Sam Burt. Several relatives from here accompanied the remains to their last resting place.

NO GAMES YESTERDAY.

On Account of the Rains, Which Were Here, There and Everywhere.

LUCK MAY BE BETTER TO-DAY.

And Perhaps We'll Have Several Two-Baggers—Rain or No Rain the Horse Editor Has a Few Remarks to Make to the Ball Cranks.

WHERE THEY PLAY TO-DAY.

Raleigh at Newport News.
Wilmington at Portsmouth.
Richmond at Norfolk.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

Club	Won	Lost	Per cent
Wilmington	32	22	.593
Newport News	30	24	.556
Norfolk	28	24	.538
Raleigh	27	27	.500
Portsmouth	24	29	.452
Richmond	17	34	.333

The heavy rains throughout North Carolina and Virginia cut the base ball games off all round yesterday and the teams had nothing to do all day but rest on their oars.

There is nothing new in local circles. It was rumored on the street yesterday that Wilmington was to get another pitcher to make a quartette of twirlers, but inquiry of the officials got a denial of the report. The directors state that there will not be an addition to our present trio of box performers. A Good Day for Washouts.

But Bad for Baseball.

If the Giants take four of the six games with Portsmouth and Norfolk this week they will be doing well.

Umpire Uphurch, who has been on leave of absence, has been ordered to be in readiness to report for duty.

The snake editor of the Raleigh Post doesn't like "lobsters." He is content to gorge himself with mock Turtle soup.

No team is well equipped with less than four pitchers. The Giants have but three. Emergencies must be provided for.

High, the champion pitcher of Newport News, has been "traded" to the Crescent team, of New Orleans for $500. Good pitchers come high.

Yesterday was a great day for the Turtles at Newport News. They couldn't play ball, but they had a splendid opportunity to take a bath.

Rain "shut out" the game between Portsmouth and Wilmington yesterday. With good weather they may play a two-bagger to-day or to-morrow.

The Giants will meet a hard proposition at Norfolk the last three days of this week. The Skippers have strengthened their team materially since they played in Wilmington.

Stanley's most valuable man the Turtles have. He pitches twice a week and plays in center field four times a week. His fine work at the bat is thus utilized in every game.

With the encampment at Wrightsville from July 10th, to August 10th, and several excursions over the railroads to this city, there should be large crowds to see many of the games at Hilton Park.

The ornithological of the Raleigh Post, after noting that Person struck out nine men here Saturday and yet lost the game, says: "Strike-outs do not win games and cut a very small figure in the result, though some of our contemporaries incline to think otherwise."

The horse editor grieves over the attenuated appearance of the baseball department this morning. Last night when he ascertained there would be no news from Portsmouth except "game postponed," he began bellowing the old song "I'm lonely to night, love, without you."

The Financial Feature.

The Richmond Times: The Richmond club is now on a sound financial basis, and under the business direction of Captain C. H. Phillips promises to go through the season with credit. Manager Kain will have exclusive charge of the players and has already set about strengthening the team.

From the outlook at this time there seems to be no doubt, that the league will make some money this season. There will be no large sums made. The North Carolina clubs will probably lead in this respect, with Richmond next, Newport News and Norfolk will hold their own and Portsmouth will probably come out even.

Campbell Encampment Elected Officers.

Campbell Encampment No. 1, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, had a big time last night. The Royal Purple Degree was conferred on six candidates, after which refreshments were served and all present, of course, had a good time.

The following officers were also elected, to be installed next month: C. P.—H. W. Smith.
H. P.—W. L. Smith.
S. W.—O. C. Chabourn.
J. W.—J. E. Wood.
Treas.—N. Jacob.
Scribe.—W. H. Howell.

Incendiary Fire This Morning.

About 1:30 o'clock this morning a telephone fire alarm was sent in and was occasioned by fire being discovered in a small one-story frame house on Second street, opposite Cowan's livery stables, and which is used as a restaurant. The fire, which was of incendiary origin, was discovered by Mr. J. W. Brown, of the stables, and for his prompt action would have resulted seriously. He broke in the front door of the house, and with the aid of the stable hands quickly extinguished the flames. But little damage was done.

Formal Opening Probably Friday Night.

It is very probable that the formal opening of the Atlantic Yacht Club will take place Friday night. If this be so, a rare treat can be looked forward to, for the Atlantic Club has an enviable reputation for the delightfulness of its entertainments, especially the openings. Of course, as of yore, there will be a big dance and members of the other clubs will be present to swell the fun.

An Alleged Deserter Arrested.

Corporal James Harcliman, U. S. A., came down to the city this morning on the belated Seaboard Air Line train, bringing with him Luther Fink, an alleged deserter from the army in Cuba.
