OUR PATRIOTIC DAY.

Glorious Fourth on Tapis For Both Wrightsville and Carolina Beach.

PREPARATIONS IN PROGRESS.

For a Big Celebration Everywhere—Red Men Will Have Charge at Carolina Beach—Splendid Observance at Southport.

Probably the most current, at any rate apropos question is: "Where are you going on the Fourth?" Of course, some can answer definitely and others cannot. There are going to be big times all around and many attractions to demand a close decision.
 At Wrightsville Beach the day as of yore will be gloriously observed. The Seashore Hotel and both yacht clubs will give big dances. At the hotel it will be a day of constant enjoyment, while both the Atlantic and Carolina Clubs will furnish entire day's programmes of almost incessant amusement.
 There will, of course, be boat racing, etc., and the Seacoast road will also offer special attractions. Indications are for almost an overflow of visitors from afar, while the usual large crowd will go down from town. The hotels, Seashore and Ocean View, will amply accommodate the former, while the Seacoast will look after the latter in their usual careful and quick style.
 A schedule for the running of trains at all hours and on schedule time is now being made up.
 The Fourth this year at popular Carolina Beach will be a memorable one. All kinds of sport and fun are to be dished out. The observance will be under the auspices of Eyo-la Tribe No. 5, Improved Order of Red Men, of this city, and that alone is a sufficient guarantee of a big time. There will be dancing all day at the pavilion and Sedgeley Hall and music on the boats playing between the city and the beach. Of course, Hanover Seaside Club will have their usual splendid celebration.
 Captain John W. Harper, the clever commander of the steamer Wilmington, has arranged a splendid schedule as follows:
 Boats leave the city at 8:00 and 10:30 A. M., and 2:00 and 7:30 P. M.
 Leave the beach at 9:00 and 11:00 A. M., and 3:00, 5:00 and 10:00 P. M.
 The day too at Southport will be a big one. In fact, one of the most appropriate and extensive Fourth celebrations of years will take place there. A fine programme of speaking, music, etc., has been mapped out.
 The Boys' Brigade will be at camp at Southport then, and will participate in the patriotic observance.

SALOON SCREEN LAW.
Will Not Be Enforced Until the Aldermen Pass on It.
 Together with several other aldermen doing the resurrected law of prohibiting saloons the use of screens found discussion on the streets yesterday, both pro and con. The ordinance is at present in a state of rest and will remain so at least until next Monday night when the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held.
 The ordinance is really an absolute one, and dates back many, many years. In fact, its existence was not generally known until Mayor Waddell informed the Aldermen Wednesday afternoon.
 The Mayor has not given orders to have it enforced and will not do so until the board acts upon it Monday night. It will either have to be repealed or enforced.

CONSERVATORY CLOSING.

With a Charming Recital Miss Hamme's School Terminated its Sessions Last Night.
 A delightful piano recital last night marked the close of a highly successful season at Miss Hamme's Conservatory of Music. The recital was largely attended and greatly enjoyed.
 Before the recital commenced Prof. Washington Cattlet, county superintendent of public instruction, read an entertaining report of the rapid progress made by Miss Hamme's pupils the past season and the large amount of work that had been accomplished.
 The recital programme was as follows:
 "Serenata," (Moszkowski)—Miss Anna Wooten.
 "Favorite Rondos," (Chopin)—Miss Lina DeRoset.
 (a) "Funeral March," (Chopin); (b) "Impromptu," (Chopin)—Miss Sarah Cattlet.

 The installation will take place Thursday, July 11.
Entered a Quarantined House.
 Police Sergeant Burnett this morning, about 1 o'clock, arrested a white man, B. Lane, on a warrant charging him with violation of the quarantine law. It is alleged that Lane entered a house on Queen street, between Sixth and Seventh, which was under quarantine for scarlet fever. The quarantine placard was posted in plain view. He will be tried in the police court this morning.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

Champions Once Again Yesterday Afternoon Scored a Nice Little Victory.

TARTARS GO DOWN IN DEFEAT.

It Was a Rattling Good Game—Mostly a Twirlers' Battle With "Cy" Leading. A Hot Home Coming Expected This Afternoon.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.

The stars must have foretold a victory, for if ever a feeling of a home team's mastery prevailed the very atmosphere it was yesterday. Notwithstanding the strong opposing Tartars and the close scores, never an anxious moment of breath holding spell occurred. For some unexplainable reason every body knew the champions were going to win—and they did. Yet it was a splendid game. It was really a pitcher's battle with Voorhes leading at critical stages.
 The Champions never appeared to better advantage. They were lively, "kiergly" and perfect, save for two errors that cost nothing. They appeared to thoroughly enjoy the neck and neck race until the home stretch was reached, when they "won out," though it would only have been by a nose if Ashenback's frisky frivolities hadn't led him into a damaging duo of rapid consecutive errors.
 Tarboro was not in the best form, and was unfortunate in widely separating their hits, except in the ninth inning, but Voorhes' strong work asserted itself.
 The only plays bordering on sensationalism was a stop by Crockett, a long throw by Sebring from left field home, and two beautiful stops by Gettign in the box.
 The game opened up with the Tartars at the rubber, which netted nothing except a harmless single by Wedge, after Deisel had fanned. Foster made a neat sacrifice, but Ashenback thrashed the air. The Giants were luckier, due probably to Gettign's temporary wildness. Both Clayton and Devin, the first up, were "dead-headed" to first and then moved up a peg on Crockett's sacrifice. Stafford gained first on a skyscraper just back of third, but which was not sufficient for a score. Sebring flew out to right and permitted Clayton to score. Cranston fanned.
 The Tartars were fruitless for both, as the second only had one more to reach first, and he was given a pass, and the Giants only got a hot single by McGinnis.
 The third started out gloriously for the visitors, as Gettign lined out a two-bagger at the very start and obtained second on Deisel's hit to "Davy." But on the third bag he remained, as Cy was invincible, fanning Wedge and permitting Foster at first to fly to Crockett. Our half was not as good and decidedly not as lengthy. It was one to three out, with Devin driving out to deep center, Crockett out to "Little Ash," and Stafford fanning.
 In the fourth inning more good eggs materialized, the only man getting on was Clayton. Cranston on Wedge's error and a subsequent steal of second.
 The fifth was almost a repetition with the positions reversed, as the only man who got to first was Gettign, whose arm came in contact with the ball.
 The sixth inning was in evidence with the Tartars were in evidence with a score. Wedge singled and Foster followed with a timely sacrifice. Ashenback flew out to left, but Curtis scored Wedge on a pretty single. Gwainey fanned. For the Champions Sebring obtained a single, but as Crockett and Stafford had both previously registered goose eggs, hit to short center the latter to see Devin fly, and as Cranston followed the single with a fly to third, it availed "nait."
 Neither the seventh or the eighth gave the Tartars a living chance, though Pennington got a pretty single. Again the Champions were fortunate in the eighth. Clayton singled, went to second on Deisel's sacrifice and scored on Crockett's single. "Davy" got second on Foster's error of his single, but was forced out at third by Sebring's hit to the box. In the meantime Stafford had walked to first and Sebring's chance put him on second. Cranston hit to second and Ash erred. Then to cap the climax he made a most unearthly throw home and Stafford and Sebring scored. Cranston was put out at third while trying to make the rounds on the wild throw.
 After two men had been retired in the ninth Gettign hit a difficult one to Crockett who made an extraordinary stop but it didn't reach first. In time in rapid succession Curtis and Wedge singled, thereby filling up the bases. But "Al's" well that ends well!
 Gettign pitched a fine game. The fielding of Sebring and Pennington was also all.

But It Increased Our Percentage.

The Tartars crawled backward yesterday.
 The Turtles crawled into a Hornets' nest about right.
 The Giants are now tied with, but, thanks awfully, not to the Tartars.
 Lipp, a fine pitcher, is now with the Hornets and will make his presence felt.
 "Our Bob Gwainey wore the inflated pad for the Tartars and did his work well.
 It was not a sensational game. In fact the ginger provided for the occasion was very much diluted.
 Promoters of excursions during the Encampment should select days when there will be base ball games here.
 Strangers who went to the Park and asked what the big tent outside was for, were told that it was for Ashenback's circus.
 Without knowing how the gate people figured it, the STAR is satisfied that the number of people on the grounds was at least 675.
 Capt. John Cotton was a conspicuous rider for the Tartars. As Tarboro is John's native town, his preference was not a surprise.
 It was close enough up to the eighth inning, each team having scored one run. Then the Champions made three runs, and that settled it.
 The horse editor of the STAR congratulates the snake editor of the Charlotte Observer on the ease with which the Hornets turned the Turtles on their backs.
 During the Encampment at Wrightsville there will be fifteen games played in Wilmington, giving the Guardians a fine opportunity to enjoy life sport.
 A fair comment on the result of the game is that the Tartars were in a somewhat crippled condition, and that the Giants did not play up to their usual standard.
 "Good for Tarboro," said the ornithological of the Post, of Wednesday. As reciprocity is a good thing, we say, as we look at the score of yesterday's good for Charlotte.
 Manager Bryan and Captain Ashenback say they were unpledged out of the game yesterday, and the latter said to a STAR representative that the Tartars would not play today unless some one other than Staley umpires the game.
 Richmond Times: "Treasurer Phillips, of the Richmond Base Ball Club, burned the wires yesterday in his efforts to secure players to strengthen the local team. Pastor, the new short stop, who is said to be a wonder, both in the field and at the bat, will report to-day, and Drauby, the best first baseman in the Atlantic League, will probably join in a few days.
 The STAR of Tuesday said: "The sting of the Hornets may strike the Turtles in a tender spot to-day—say, in the region of the narrative." This did not occur to-day, that day, the ornithological oracle of the Post, said that that very thing did occur at Charlotte yesterday, the Hornets' winnings by a score of 9 to 5.
 Here is richness for you from the Norfolk Landmark: "The fight among the clubs for the pennant in this league, which is going on equally as determined, Wilmington papers give Norfolk the credit of winning the best half of the season, while our papers confer the honor upon Wilmington. It is very probable that there will be any contest between the two for the honor, as Manager Cunningham seems to be willing that the Old North State boys shall have the honor. He expects to win the second half, and afterwards defeat Wilmington for the pennant for the season.
