Morry Star. THE ELKS' CARNIVAL.

VOL: LXVIII .-- NO. 127.

Contract Signed Yesterday Afternoon for Bostock-Ferari's Famous Combination.

DATES OCTOBER 14TH-19TH.

The Antiered Tribe Are Industriously at Work and Business Men Are Asked to Co-operate-Will be Great Benefit to the City.

A reasonable financial support of the project by the business men of Wilmington, the hustling and cold cash which the Elks will give to the affair, and the carnival and street fair for this city in October is a certainty. Confiding in the merchants to make an investment which any person can see will pay a handsome dividend, it is safe to say that the fair is an absolute certainty.

Mr. Victor D. Levit, business manager of the Bostock-Ferari Corporation, spent yesterday in the city and left last evening for his home in the North. Before returning he signed a contract with the Wilmington Elks to bring his mammoth aggregation of street entertainers here from October 14th to 19th, inclusive, and with a little support now from the business men of the city, the "Best People on Earth" will be on Easy street, the fair and carnival will be held and the proceeds will go to the charity of the Elks, who are to be congratulated upon securing such a mammoth collection of artists under one management with which to feature the fair. It was the only date the Bostock people had open for the entire year and it was sheer luck that enabled it to be signed. A large guarantee had to be given, but an abiding confidence in the enterprise of the merchants of Wilmington to minimum, 73 degrees; mean, 80 subscribe and in the railroads to furnish rates that will bring the people to ell and Holder have been jailed at town, the Fair Committee felt ed in making the contract.

The Bostock corporation has headquarters in Buffalo, N. Y., and makes a feature of Elks' fairs and carniyals. It has visited all the leading cities North and South and in very many of them it is appearing this year on return engagements. It comes to Wilmington in its entirety from Richmond, Va., and goes from here to Macon, Ga. Sixteen railroad cars are required to carry its paraphernalia and it employs 200 persons. It is by far the largest enterprise of its kind on the road and the most meritorious if conscientious press notices count for anything.

It will be a fair for Wilmington by day and night and will bring thousands of people to the city. It antedates the State Fair, the Cumberland Fair, the Newbern Fair and the Charleston Exposition. It will be the whole thing and the whole people should get behind it. For the night performances, the Elks will furnish four hundred incandescent and sixteen arc lights. During the entire week there will be nine free attractions each day-bicycle and live wire act, troupe of Japanese in posturing, slide for life, barrel jumper, contortionists, trapeze performance, bulloon ascension, with monkey moving parachute descent; in fact the free attractions will alone be worth a visit to the city. Besides all these, there will be fourteen separate and distinct booth attractions, introducing fourteen lions one arena, the chrystal maze, trip to the moon, dog and pony show and many other high class aggregations of first class artists.

It is the present purpose to secure from the Aldermen a permit to use the section of Front street, between Walnut and Ann, and Market street, between Water and Fifth streets. All these sections and crosswise for a block each way will be chock-a-block with the best attractions that wealth can get together. Merchants along the street will be allowed to erect booths for the display and sale of their wares in front of their stores. This privilege alone is worth a handsome contribution by every business man along the section traversed by the

All arrangements for the carnival were completed at a meeting of the Fair Executive Committee at the Temple yesterday afternoon. The committee is composed as follows: H. J. Gerken (chairman), C. McD. Davis, S. H. Fishblate, C. T. Harper, T. B. Carroll, T. H. Wright, W. F. Robertson, W. J. Bellamy and Sam Bear, Jr.

Pictures of the notable booths to be used were procured from Business Manager Levit yesterday and may be scene at Gerken's to day.

In a few days sub-committees will be appointed and the work of canvassing, etc., begun at once.

An Office in Darham.

Mr. Charles McMillen, the architect, left yesterday for Durham, N. C., where he expects to open a branch office very soon. The business at Durham will be in charge of his son, Mr. C. G. McMillen, who left with his father yesterday.

Jordan is employed at the Summer home of Mr. B. F. King on Masonboro. Sunday, in company with Mr. Greenabaum, Mr. King and Masters Hiram, Harry and Frank King, the negro was in bathing in the Sound. Mr. Greenabaum had little Hiram King on his back amusing him in deep water, when it was seen that the negro was drowning. The boy on Mr. Greenabaum's back became excited at the cries of the negro and clutched his throat fiercely. Mr. King and the other boys saw the situation and hastened out from the bank with a boat. When little Hiram released his hold upon Mr. Greenabaum the boat had reached them and after catching his breath, he went to the rescue of the negro and took him to the boat after the drowning boy had gone down his third and last time.

It was only a negro, as an idle remark would have it, but it was a heroic act upon the part of Mr. Greenabaum and he is justly receiving commendation by his friends.

Game Champions Played Yesterday for Benefit of Raleigh's Baseball Captain.

THE SCORE: THREE TO ON+.

The King Had His Season's Earnings Stolen From Him and Wilmington Gracefully Assisted in Reimbursement-Batterles.

[Special Star Telegram.] RALEIGH, N. C., August 19.-The Giants took this afternoon's exhibition game from the Turtles by a score of three to one. The game was decidedly snappy with many sensational plays. Both batteries, Ragan and Allen for the visitors and Kelly and Sherman for the locals, did good work.

RALEIGH, N. C., 19 .- The receipts from to-day's exhibition game with Wilmington go to Manager George W. Kelly, of the Raleigh team, who had $275 in cash stolen from his trunk Friday. The amount represented Kelly's earnings for the entire season and upon the dissolution of the league Saturday night, Wilmington very gracefully offered to play a benefit for the opposing team's manager. The receipts were $101.

The course is being scraped and hardened with the most approved machinery, and Messrs. SPECIAL TERM U. S. COURT.

Judge Purnell's Contemplated Absence in November Makes It Desirable to Meet Earlier-October 7th, Date.

Judge Thomas R. Purnell has issued an order for a special term of the U 3. District and Circuit Court of Wilmington, beginning the first Monday in October.

Judge Purnell says the reason for this special term is that at the time of the regular term in November he would be in Richmond on the Circuit Court of Appeals, and the latter term would have to be postponed until January, which would keep prisoners in jail 60 days' longer. The jury commissioner will at once draw grand and petit jurors for the term.

The time for the regular term is November 4th; that for the special term October 7th. The business of both courts as far as may be will be disposed of at the special term. The regular term will at the proper time be adjourned to some future day subsequent to the Monday after the fourth Monday in October.

The sale of the Wilmington Street Railway property will take place on the first Monday of court and it is hardly expected that the sale can be confirmed or rejected at this time.

There are no cases of unusual importance for trial and the special term is solely on account of Judge Purnell's contemplated absence during the first week in November.

THE PENNANT SERIES

Will It be Played or Will It Go by Default for Lack of Arrangement?

RALEIGH FULL OF SCHEMES.

Imposes Many Conditions, Some of Which Are Acceptable and Some Are Not. Turtles Want Guarantee at Last From Association.

To play or not to play? That is the question accompanied by Raleigh and Wilmington wrestled all day vesterday in considering details of the pennant series of State League baseboli games, which are scheduled to begin this afternoon. Midnight brought no relief and when the telegraph offices closed the question would not down: "To play or not to play?"

The "same identical" question will be fired across the wires a time or two early this morning and then there may be a solution. But who knows? Saturday night the question was settled as everybody here thought and had a right to believe, but Monday morning Raleigh began to impose conditions and the imposition of these conditions was kept up with a steady fire until the wee sma' hours of the morning. At last accounts additional conditions were being named and exasperated at length, President Dick, of the local association, last night wired Manager Cowan to remain in Raleigh and await instructions early this morning. As the telegraph offices closed last night Manager Cowan was telegraphed for an exact statue of affairs. He sent the following: "RALEIGH, N. C., August 19 .- In all probability the first of the North Carolina Baseball pennant or championship games will be played here this afternoon between the Wilmingwho has been spending some time at ton and Raleigh teams. At one time to-day it looked as if Wilmington would forfeit the pennant to Raleigh or vice versa by default, as the latter, whose players are salaried for these games, refused to play the former, whose players are to divide receipts, unless the Wilmington Athletic Association would give a regular league guarantee for each game in case of rain. They wanted to treat with the Association, not the players. The Raleigh Association gives the guarantee."

> The STAR regretfully announces that there is but little probability of pennant games between Wilmington and Raleigh. After all the details were supposed to be arranged, the Raleigh managers came to the front yesterday with a proposition for changes from the plan already adopted, which they must have known would not be accepted by Wilmington. The most absurd, probably, was to play three games in Raleigh, then two in Wilmington, two in Raleigh and three in Wilmington, thus creating a very considerable and wholly unnecessary addition to the cost of transportation. They also proposed to pay the players' salaries, as in League games, and make an equal division of the gate receipts between the Wilmington and Raleigh

> Associations. It may be doubted if a single member of either team did not understand from the outset that no salaries were to be paid in the eleven games; that the players would pay their own expenses, and that the gate receipts would be divided between the teams in the proportion of sixty per cent. to the winners and forty per cent. to the

> In order to make the games interesting enough to draw large crowds it was essential for the public to know that the teams were playing for themselves. It was more important still for the players to have the strong incentive created by the fact that the winning team would receive sixty per cent. of the receipts, while the losing team would have the remaining forty per cent. The general impression here is that in trying to impose conditions totally at variance with that originally agreed on, and which they must have known. would not be accepted, the Raleigh people in charge have shown conclusively that they "have no stomach for the fight."

Under the original plan these games would be the most exciting of the season; but with the players receiving salaries, and with an equal division of the gate receipts, they would be robbed of one-half their interest and, consequently, the attendance would not be sufficient to pay expenses.

Cars Jumped the Track. Several coaches of the A. & Y train arriving in Wilmington last evening were derailed in the yards here at Eighth and Hanover streets about 7 o'clock. The train, of course, was moving at a very low rate of speed and consequently not much damage was done. The engine, tender and mail car passed over a switch at the place indicated but the baggage and one or two other coaches jumped A transfer was quickly brought into use for mail, etc., and there was little inconvenience by the mishap.

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors and members of the Young Men's Christian Association will be is a thoroughly up-to-date night school full attendance is earnestly desired.
