BAD NAVASSA NEGRO.

He Was Bound Over to Superior Court by Mayor Waddell Yesterday-Cartridges Found On Street.

Isaac Jones, the bad negro from Navassa, who terrorized the down town territory of Wilmington night before last with an empty pistol which he invariably brandished in the face of fifteen or twenty pursuers, was held for the Superior Court by Mayor Waddell yesterday morning in the sum of $150 justified bond, failing to give which he went

The negro Howard declined to say positively that Jones is the negro who shot him, but he said that Jones was in a crowd of three, one of whom fired upon him. A gentleman walking across the Second and Princess street crossing yesterday morning found three 38 calibre cartridges, which were evi dently dropped out of the negro's weapon as he ran or were dropped by him in attempting to load the re-

THE COMING THEATRICAL SEASON.

Engagement of Rudolph and Adolph Last Night Cancelled-Adverse Criticism. The theatre season at Wilmington for the Fall and Winter did not open last night as was scheduled. Mason & Mason, as co-stars in the farcical play "Rudolph and Adolph" were advertised as the opening attraction but Manager Schloss, who arrived Thursday night from Greensboro, says that the company cancelled its engagement here in order to reach Charleston in time to play to-night.

Judging from the criticism of the show in yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer is is perhaps as well that the date here was cancelled. Among other things the News and Observer

There was a real good German medley of popular songs, some laughable situations, with now and then a witty line; but somehow the entirely-new musical play part got cut out.'

Since the cancellation of the "Rudolph and Adolph" engagement, the opening attraction now will be Alvin Joslin, the comedian, who will be seen at the Opera House Sept. 16th.

Rev. Dr. Graham Will Preach.

The Rev. A. T. Graham, D. D., of Davidson College, will preach in the First Presbyterian Church Sunday. The morning service will be at 11 o'clock, and the evening service at 6 o'clock. Dr. Graham is an interesting talker, deep in thought and entertaining to a degree seldom attained. A large congregation should be present at each service.

BASEBALL PENNANT.

"Plain, Unvarnished Statement" From Wilmington Athletic Association About Matter.

Wilmington Was Refused Guarantee and Not Allowed to Maintain Contract, -Says the Management-Other Notes and Comments.

The Wilmington Baseball Association's reply to the aspersions of the Raleigh Athletic Association cast upon the Wilmington team through a press telegram sent out by President Wm. J. Andrews, of the Raleigh Athletic Association, on the 26th day of August:

The unkind treatment received by the Wilmington baseball team on its last visit to Raleigh must seem so patent to the general public that but for the attempted subterfuge of an excuse sent out by telegram from Ra-leigh on the 26th inst., signed "Wm. J. Andrews, President Raleigh Ath-letic Association," we should not at-tempt anything further than what has already been said on the subject through the press. The statements made in this telegram are so unjust to Wilmington, and so many patent facts have been omitted by Mr. Andrews in his argument for Raleigh's action, that we beg to ask the following ques-tions of the Raleigh Athletic Associa-

1st. Will they deny that the management of their ball team had agreed with the management of the Wilmington ball team that they would together go to the city of Newbern on Monday, August 26th, and there on that date play one of the pennant series games of ball, and that Raleigh, acting for the two ball teams, had made satis factory arrangements with the Newbern people for the playing of this game of ball there on that date, and had notified the said Newbern people that the two teams would be there on that date to play? 2nd. Do they attempt on other than purely technical grounds to affirm that the Wilmington team was obliged to remain in Raleigh longer than Saturday, August 24th, after having been -one of which was ordered played over by the President of the National League, and another postponed on account of rain-for the purpose of play ing these two deferred games? And that had the Wilmington team become willing party with the Raleigh team in breaking faith with the Newbern people, as Raleigh tried to force them to do, will they further attempt to af-firm that the Wilmington team should have done so except upon a guarantee from Raleigh of the sum of $80.00—

$40.00 per game for the two deferred games? 3rd. Will they attempt to deny, except upon technical grounds again, that when the Wilmington management requested of their Association. on the evening of the 24th of August the guarantee of $40.00 per game for the five days, as mentioned in question second, the same was not justly due and that it should not have been paid promptly on demand?

4th. Will they attempt to deny that after failure of the Wilmington management to collect the guarantees, as recited in question third, the Raleigh Athletic Association refused to pay one-half of the gross gate receipts of the pennant games played during the week, to which Wilmington was rightfully and legally due, and that the Wilmington team thereby was tem porarily stranded and embarrassed to such extent that they were compelled to leave Raleigh without being able to settle for their hotel expenses, and without sufficient funds of their own with which to pay their transportation 5th. Will they attempt to deny that had the circumstances been reversed, whereby Raleigh had been playing in Wilmington that week with similar dverse weather conditions, the Raeigh team would have demanded from Wilmington the agreed daily guarantee of $40.00 for the five games cheduled for that week. 6th. Will they attempt to claim, with their knowledge of baseball manners and customs, that they did not know "the first five games in Raleigh" clause of the agreement, on which they lay so much stress, meant the first five days of the schedule named for the pennant series games? And did they deem it a just course to try and compel the Wilmington team to remain two additional days in Raleigh, at their own expense, to play the postponed games, with the proffer of the usual per game guarantee? 7th. As in their telegram they admit that the action of the Raleigh Athletic Association was purely to force Wilmington to remain and play there Monday, will they now deny that such action was totally unwarranted, under any conditions; that the failure to pay the money rightfully due was not only discourteous, but that it carried with it an implied breach of faith; that it forced upon the Wilmington team and its manager certain humiliations and hardships for the time being; and that any payment of money at this time does not expiate for or excuse the rash act? So much in reply to this telegram. And now for the facts in the matter as the Wilmington Base Ball Association has them. They admit that the contract entered into between the two teams for the playing of the Pen nant Series calls for "first five games in Raleigh," but they feel convinced these first five days, without the usual guarantee for their expenses, for the purpose of playing the postponed games. As evidence of this having been the general understanding by all concerned the following quotation from letter of Mr. President Higgs of the League to Mr. Pre-sident Dick of the Wilmington Association, under date of August 22nd, will show. He says, "Answering your esteemed favor of August 21st, 1901, beg to state that the schedule for the pennant series is for the first five games to be played in Raleigh this week." This would seem to entirely break the force of Raleigh's technical contention in not paying Wilmington the guarantees, coming as it does from the President of the League, and should show beyond doubt that Raleigh was attempting intimidation and bluff to first to break faith in the matter. Wilmington finally agreed to make the guarantees, and had the five games scheduled for here failed under any circumstances to net for Raleigh as much as the guarantees for the five Will Participate. days included in the schedule, the guarantees would have been paid. Had Raleigh gone to Newbern on Monday and thence to Wilmington for the balance of the week to have played to the contrary notwithstanding. Her claim that the Wilmington team would not have done so, and that the team intended disbanding after play ing the first game here, is based wholy upon imagination, and is without correctness in the whole cloth. If the statement that Wilmington had "quit cold" on its team means that it would not pay its players beyond the 17th inst., the date the League disbanded and salary obligations ceased, then the statement is correct, but in this Wilmington was attending strictly to its own business, and we submit that it is a matter in which Raleigh had no concern. The statement that Wilming-

> tion after they felt that they were being chiseled out of that they had honestly earned, coupled with umpire-assault and bleachery-threatenings. If the facts as above recited are not sufficient for public opinion to award the pennant to Wilmington by Raleigh's breach of contract, certain we are that it will not be awarded to Raleigh. Far be it from Wilmington to wish it on a "fluke." even though the 'fluke" be at the hands of Raleigh, but she is unwilling to submit that

Wilmington will see its last game of baseball this season in which its professional club will participate at Hilton Park this afternoon at 4 o'clock. It is safe to predict that the grand stand and bleachers will be full to overflowing. The game is for the benefit of the players individually and with a promise of good, snappy ball, the "faithful" should be out with full ranks.
