The police kept the matter of the negro's scape very quiet for the time being with a hope of recapturing him, but thus far all efforts in that direction have been in vain.

ment is Assured. To-morrow.

The occasion, of course, is the Labor Day celebration and with good weather the crowd will no doubt be large and the enthusiasm great. Wilmington will have no celebration of her own and many will depend for their desires in the way of celebration upon the wide a-wake people of their neigh bor city. The programme prepared by them is very elaborate and a day full of interest and amusement is assured. For the occasion the steamers Wilmington and Compton will run a double schedule-two trips erch way-at hours admirably suited to the wishes of the public. The Wilmington will leave on her first trip at 9 A. M. and the last at 6 P. M. The return trips will be at 2 P. M. and 9:30 P. M. On the evening boat the Second Regiment Band of this city will go down and give an open air concert in Frank-In Square at Southport. The Compton will leave for her first trip at 8:30 A. M., and the last at 2 P. M. Returning from Southport, she expects to leave at 8:30 P. M. The fare on both boats will be twenty-five cents for the round

Mr. C. Ed. Taylor, of Southport, who was in the city yesterday was very enthusiastic over the proposed celebration and invited the people of Wilmington generally to come down and spend the day. The day's exercises will begin with a street parade at 11 A. M., which will be formed on the "Garrison." The march will be to Franklin Square, headed by the Southport Cornet Band. After selections by the band, at 11:20 there will be scripture reading and ly scene. Everybody concedes that prayer by the Rev. E. J. Old Crop Year Closed Yesterday

Owing to Shortness of Production There is a Falling Off of About 24,000 Bales-First Tramp Steamer Arrived Yesterday.

The cotton crop iyear for 1900-1901 closed yesterday and the new season ton for the past fiscal year were 258,554 bales against 282,360 in the year immediately preceding. It is seen, therefore, that there is a falling off in the number of pales handled here by nearly 24,000, but this does not indicate a decrease in the cotton business of the city. The crop for the season just ended was a very short one and doubt-Wilmington's territory. The port has received a larger percentage of the yield in the country contiguous than on the year previous when there was a more abundant production.

Wilmington means a rejuvenation of business in all lines and it is always hailed with delight by everybody. The first new crop cotton of the year came in yesterday from over the W., C. & to ten bales, but from now on they will be on the steady increase and the compresses in the city will present a livebeen cut off. Last September when at 9 cents for middling and this year September 1st, finds the quotations on a basis of 81 cents.

The first tramp steamship for a cargo of cotton for the foreign trade camelin yesterday. She is the Torgorm and will perhaps take the first cargo from a South Atlantic port. She is now at quarantine down the Cape Fear, but will likely come up to the city to-day or to-morrow.

He says "Let us foster and strengthen that confidence between those we em ploy and those who work which is essential to the peace of the State and the best interest of everybody."

One of the little fellow's legs was broken by the kick of the mule, and before the driver could stop the animal the cart passed over the boy's body, severely bruising one of his hips. Dr. W. J. H. Bellamy is attending the wounded lad.

Maxton vs. Red Springs.

The Maxton "Red Shirts" defeated Red Springs in a game of baseball on Friday by a score of 12 to 1. The batteries were McCaskiss and Weatherly for Maxton: Block, McKinnon, Brown and Williams for Red Springs. A correspondent writes that McCaskiss struck out twenty men, while McKinnon struck out nine. The umpire was Mr. H. P. Beston; scorers, Messrs. E. Purcell and D. Freezeland.

A VERY SAD FUNERAL.

Remains of Little Marion Murchison Sprunt Tenderly Laid to Rest in Oakdale Yesterday--Great Bereavement.

The remanis of little Marion Murchison Sprunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sprunt, whose very sad death of scarlet fever at Asheville, N. C., was chronicled in these columns yesterday morning, reached Wilmington at 7:40 o'clock last night via the A. & Y. railroad and were immediately taken to Oakdale cemetery and laid to rest in Col. Murchison's mausoleum.

The remains were accompanied to the city by the little girl's grandfather, Col. K. M. Murchison, Mr. Fred Kidder and Mr. J. W. Murchison, the last named having joined the party at the disease with which the little one died, the utmost precautions to the public health were taken, all details of the very stringent laws having been scrupulously complied with. The hermetically sealed casket was taken from the cars at the Ninth street crossing of the railroad and accompanied by members of the family and a few friends it was borne tenderly to Oakdale. Here a word of prayer was very briefly spoken at nightfall by the Rev. Dr. Alexander Sprunt, of Charleston, S. C., who arrived yesterday on account of the very deep bereavement visited upon the family. The funeral, while very simple, was extremely touching. At 9 o'clock last night telegrams from Mr. James Sprunt to his brother, Mr. W. H. Sprunt reported that the condition of little Lawrence, brother of the little sister who had just been laid to rest, was unchanged, but all were hopeful. His physicians say he is seriously ill but there is hope of recovery. Of course his condition would not admit of Mr. and Mrs. Sprunt's accompanying the remains of their little daughter home. There are attending little Lawrence, Drs. F. H. Russell and E. J. Wood, of this city, and Dr. Battle, a prominent physician of Asheville. Three trained nurses are also exercising their tenderest care toward the little fellow's welfare.
