THE PRICE OF COTTON SEED.

Parmers Asked to Resist Alleged Attempt to Depregiate Value of Product.

Commissioner of Agriculture S. I. Patterson has issued from his office at Raleigh the following circular letter to the farmers of the State:

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 16.—In view of the concerted efforts which it seems from the published dispatches are now being made by the leading purchasers of cotton seed of Louisiana, Mississippi and other cotton producing States to fix a market price for seed for the present price and for far below the present price, and for much less than the probable output of the present crop ought to command— especially so when the extreme shortness of the corn crop is considered—action ought to be taken by the farmers to counteract these unfair schemes and to secure for their seed product such values as conditions

I am informed that efforts along this line will be made in other Southern States, and I therefore most heartily endorse the call issued by Mr. T. B. Parker, Secretary of the North Caro-lina State Alliance, for a meeting of lina State Alliance, for a meeting of the farmers in their respective counties on Saturday, the 21st inst., to select delegates to attend a State meeting in Raleigh on Wednesday, the 25th inst. When men for selfish purposes com-bine together to "fix" prices to be paid for farm products far below the true value of such products by shutting off competition, it is time for farmers to take some action to defeat such nefarious schemes, and to "fix" themselves in such position as to be able to hold their products until the natural law of supply and demand can have its legiti-mate sway. Respectfully, S. L. PATTERSON, Commissioner of Agriculture.

HONOR DEAD RULER.

Memorial Services at the Several Churches This Morning at Eleven O'clock.

BUSINESS HOUSES TO CLOSE.

Hour of President's Funeral in Canton Today Will Plad Many is Wilmington Gathered in Sympathy-Elaborate Musical Programme.

All arrangements are complete for the memorial services in Wilmington to-day in honor of the late President of the United States. It will be in fact a day of mourning throughout the city and everywhere will be outward signs of the Nation's grief. Aside from the closing of business houses for the entire day on the wharf, the banks, both National and savings in-stitutions, the Produce Exchange, the lumber mills, the real estate offices, the Court House offices and many other places will cease operations for the whole day and with the great majority of retail houses the hours of the funeral in Canton will also be observed by the closing of doors. Summed up as a whole, the Memorial Day in Wilmington promises to be quite as elaborate, just as appropriate and just as sincere as in any city of its size in the

The greatest interest of course centres in the memorial services proper this morning at the First Baptist and St. James' Episcopal churches. At the Baptist church there will be joint exercises by representatives of all congregations except those of the Episcopal faith, who will gather in joint meeting at St. James' for divine services by the Rev. James Carmichael, D. D., rector of St. John's parish. The colored churches will also observe the funeral service generally. At St. Mark's Episcopal church, colored, a feature of the service will be a the late President by Collector of Customs Jno. C. Dancy, of this port. The tolling of bells will announce the services at the churches and the public generally is invited to attend. The joint services at the First Baptist church will begin with the funeral dirge, "Departed Comrades," (Keller) by the Second Regiment Band, which will play from the gallery over the entrance to the church. This will be followed by the singing by the congregation of "My Country! 'tis of Thee," and an invocation. "Remember Now Thy Creator" (Rhodes) will next be rendered by a special male quarteste, consisting of C. H. Cooper, first tenor; R. F. Fowler, second tenor; Jas. S. Williams, first bass, and A. S. Holden, second bass. The scripture reading will be from both the Old and New Testament by two city pastors.

A prayer will follow the reading and then will come three ten-minute addresses by three ministers of the city Upon conclusion of the addresses Miss Mattie Horne will sing the solo, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say, composed by the late E. VanLaer, or this city. This will be followed by prayer and the singing by the congre gation of the late President's favorite hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," which will immediately precede the benediction. Mr. E. H. Munson, assisted by Mr Alf. H. Yopp, will be the organist, and the choir will be composed of representative singers from all the churches. Others who can contribute to the singing are asked to occupy the seats immediately to the right and left and in front of the pulpit. Programmes containing words of the hymns will be distributed. Members of the Second Regimen Band are asked to meet at the Wil mington Light Infantry armory at fifteen minutes to 11 o'clock for the purpose of marching to the church in

UNITED STATES BUILDINGS.

Why They Are Not Draped in Mourning in Times of Great National Grief Like the Present.

The more observant have been inolined to ask for the past several days why the postoffice and other United States buildings are not draped in mourning as a mark of respect to the deceased President.

It is a very natural inquiry to those who remember the elaborote draping of buildings of like character after the death of the late Presidents Garfield and Lincoln, and Assistant Postmaster I. E. Wallace, with whom a reporter talked last night, gave the solution to what the ordinary individual would likely construe as a neglect.

It is not that the people employed in the buildings are out of harmony in the least with the great spirit of mourning of the hour, explained Mr. Wallace, but that there is an act of Congress of camparatively recent of public buildings on any account do not feel like going in the face of conditions like the present.

THE GULF STORM WAS HERE

Rainfall Yesterday Was Heavy and the Weather Much Unsettled-Wind Did Not Reach High Velocity.

Wilmington had a real touch of the Gulf storm yesterday and last night and though it was a few days late, according to the Weather Bureau schedule, its presence did not have to be proclaimed from the house-top and the average citizen was willing to concede that the real article was with us. The wind did not attain a dangerous velocity on land but what was lost in this respect was gained in amount of rainfall.

The rain began a little after 9 o'clock yesterday morning and up to noon the fall was 1.06 inches. In the afternoon, shortly before 4 o'clock, the floods came again and for a while there were remarks about "the bottom having dropped out," but the fall was not so large as in the forenoon.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for Staunton, Va., where they will spend their honeymoon, later returning to Wilmington, their home in the future. At Wilson they were joined on their wedding tour by Miss Betttie Pearsall, who accompanied them to Staunton. The Fayetteville Observer has the following account of the marriage:

"After a beautiful wedding breakfast, the party, consisting of the bride and groom, Miss Florence Pearsall, Messrs. L. E. Hall and H. Lacy Hunt,

The act, Mr. Wallace says, was evidently framed to check the custom of draping for minor officials which had become at one time, perhaps, over-burdensome and too common. It was also framed perhaps without contemplation of the great mourning that would necessarily follow the death or assassination of a president or vice president. It is expected that the law in the near future will be so changed as to meet extraordinary

Wilmington Steamboat Caught in day Afternoon.

BELIEVED TO BE LEAKING

Capt. Hewlett and Crew Rescued From Life Saving Station, Where a Cargo of Lumber and Other Material Had Been Towed.

The sturdy little) steamboat Seabright, Capt. Geo. O. Hewlett, of the Wilmington and Little River Transportation Company, went ashore early Tuesday afternoon on Bald Head Island, to the east of the light station, and is reported to her agents, Messrs. Stone, Rourk & Co., of this city, as being in a perlious position. They hop , however, on high tide this morning to float the steamer and bring her up to the city practically free from serious injury.

The Seabright left Wilmington late Monday afternoon with a tow of flats aden with lumber and other material for the new light station now being constructed on the island. She arrived all safe, - docked the flats and was waiting off shore for a discharge of the lighters, when a sharp gale came on about 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and sent the staunch little craft away up on shore. The life saving crew perceived the danger of the boat and came immediately to the rescue of Capt. Hewlett, Engineer Jno. Bell, a colored fireman and a colored cook, composing the crew. They were landed safely on the island but the steamer is still on the shoals. The wind was blowing furiously and with the very rough sea, it was exceedingly fortunate that the crew was saved. The boat had no cargo, of course, except stores. The position of the stranded steamer is about 200 yards from the channel and close upon the shore. At low tide she is almost on the island itself. It is reported that a large hole was jabbed in the hull of the vessel, but Captain Hewlett, who came up to the city yesterday to report to his owners, says he does not think material injury has been done in this respect, though the hold of the boat is pretty well filled with water.

The steamer Compton belonging to the same owners, will be taken by Capt. W. A. Sanders to the scene of the wreck very early this morning and work will immediately be commenced on flood tide to float the stranded steamer.

PRETTY HOME W+DDING.

Miss Della Maude Powell Wedded by Mi E. Clayton Moore Last Night-Reception Afterwards.

A very beautiful ceremony was performed last night at 9 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure who at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. W. E. Powell, No. 509 North Fourth street, joined in matrimony Miss Della Maud Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Powell, of Weldon, N. C., and Mr. Edward Clayton Moore, a popular and well known yours business man of this city. The wedding was quiet but exceedingly pretty and in good taste. There were present to witness the event a number of friends and relatives of the happy young people to the marriage yow. The residence was handsomely decorated and brilliantly lighted with electrics and Japanese lanterns. The parlor where the ceremony was performed was prettily decorated with ferns. The bride entered the parlor from the main hall, leaning upon the arm of the groom and the words that made them man and wife were impressively spoken by Dr. Mc-Clure. There were no attendants. The bride was handsomely costumed in a gown of organdie, trimmed with lace and white satin ribbon. She carried a lovly shower bouquet of bride roses and malden hair ferns.

After the ceremony there were many congratulations and expressions of best wishes at an elegant reception at which those who assisted in receiving were: Miss Lucy Moore, Mr. Lynn Moore, Miss Grace Smith, and Mr. Waller Williams. A course of delightful refreshments was served during the progress of the reception. Many costly and handsome bridal presents were displayed, among them being a gift to the groom of a splendid buffet by his fellow clerks at the department store of Messrs. J. H. Rehder & Co., where Mr. Moore is manager of the clothing department. Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside in the future at No. 708 Princess street.

lignor fi. DeTrafford,

Mr. J. Keener Westbrook and his company of select vaudeville artists, who will shortly begin a tour of North and South Carolina towns, have secured the services of Signor H. De-Trafford, an eminent planist of high excellence. Signor DeTrafford, though an Italian, is a graduate of the London (Eng.) Conservatory of Music, and is said to be a musician of great talent.

Damage to Streets, Superintendent of Streets J. M. Woolard was busy between showers resterday in making a tour of the city, ecting the damage by wash-outs to streets and sidewalks. He said there was no great damage by reason of the excessive rainfall, but it will take a pretty general overhauling to get the minor damages repaired.
