THE COUNTY SCHOOLS.

State Superintendent Toon Writes Relative to Fines Imposed by Municipalities.

"CAROLINA DAY" SELECTED.

It Will be Observed This Year With Appropriate Exercises On Oct. 14th. Subject is North Carolina History Suggested for Study.

Recently the STAR published a news item to the effect that a demand would be made on the city treasurer by the county school authorities for all fines accruing from the municipal court and intimated that there would likely arise a controversy over the question of whether the law applied to fines from a violation of the city ordinances or only from breaches of the State law.
The County Board of Education still insists that the law has in contemplation all fines from the court regardless of whether municipal or State violations, and a settlement will likely be reached soon upon this basis.
The attention of Prof. Washington Catlett, the New Hanover Superintendent of Public Instruction, has been officially called to the matter by State Superintendent Toon in a particular letter as follows:
"The Supreme Court has decided that, according to the constitution, all fines and penalties imposed by any court, whether Superior, magistrate or mayor, belong to the public school fund. These fines, for years, except from towns and cities, have been paid over to the proper authorities for the school fund. In very few instances have fines from mayors' courts been turned over to the county school fund. You are therefore directed to have your county superintendent to examine the dockets of the mayors of incorporated towns and cities in your county, and ascertain the amount of fines and penalties for the last three years. The Supreme Court decides that the fines can be collected for the schools for three years prior to the demand. The town authorities should turn over this money, without any contention to the county treasurer, for it is both a constitutional and statutory requirement. But in case they refuse to do so, your board should proceed to bring suit at once, according to sections 13 and 5 of school law, to recover what is due the school fund from fines, etc. This money belongs to the children, and they are entitled to it. While it may seem a hardship, and in some instances difficult, for towns to pay over these fines for three years back, yet it is the law, and all officers have sworn to obey and execute the law."
"North Carolina Day" is Schools.
The date for the celebration of "North Carolina Day" in the public schools has been fixed by the State Superintendent for Monday, October 14th. As prescribed by the law of the State this subject for consideration on that day has been selected by State Superintendent Toon. The subject is "The First Anglo-Saxon Settlement in America."
As the law prescribes that the topic discussed must be the consideration of some event in North Carolina history it will be seen that the first Anglo-Saxon settlement in America is claimed to have been made in this State. There will be a delightful programme of songs, recitations, reading and addresses made in the public schools on "North Carolina Day."
This is now being prepared and will be announced at an early day.
The law providing for this celebration is found in chapter 164, Acts of 1901, which names the 12th day of October as "Carolina Day" unless it occurs on Saturday or Sunday. This year it comes on Saturday, and consequently it has been postponed until Monday following. The day is usually observed not only in the public schools of the county, but also in the city schools.

AMONG THE LAWYERS.

Some Have Gone to Southport; Others to Raleigh—Busy Week for Attorneys.

The average Wilmington lawyer has about all he can do this week. Besides local work, Brunswick Superior Court convened yesterday morning at Southport and many were called there. Sixth District cases were taken up in the Supreme Court at Raleigh yesterday and, of course, this will claim the attention of many of the Wilmington attorneys, for a part of the week at least. Both the Federal and Superior courts will convene here Monday week, and Bladen Superior Court meets at Elizabeth town the same days.
Judge T. A. McNeill is presiding at Southport this week, and the docket is said to be an unusually heavy one. A large number of Wilmington attorneys, witnesses, etc., went down on the steamer Wilmington yesterday morning for the term.
Among those who left for Raleigh yesterday to attend the Supreme Court were Geo. L. Paschall, Esq., and Marsden Bellamy, Jr., Esq., who will appear, respectively, in the case of Carter against the Cape Fear Lumber Company and Mrs. Strauss against the City of Wilmington. County Attorney W. B. McCoy will go up today to present the case involving the validity of the New Hanover bonds for road improvement.

IN THE LODGE REALM.

Enjoyable Meeting of Pythian Organizations Last Night With Stonewall Brethren.

ODD FELLOWS' SOCIABLE.

Good Time in Store for Wearers of Three Links Thursday Evening—Grand Reception Visited Royal Arcanum Council—Red Men.
One of the most enjoyable of the several joint meetings of the Pythians of the city since the custom was inaugurated a little less than a year ago was held last night in Castle Hall with Stonewall Lodge No. 1. The features of entertainment were of a high order, and the attendance was large and enthusiastic.
Past Chancellor W. C. Smith presided, and the lodge was opened and closed in the regular order, after which came the social session. During the regular lodge exercises, however, a special committee, composed of one member from each of the four lodges, appointed to make suitable reference in the lodge room to the memory of the late President and distinguished Pythian, reported through Capt. T. D. Meares, the chairman. In lieu of set resolutions upon the death of Mr. McKinley, Captain Meares read the order of Supreme Chancellor Ogden H. Fishers, and A. B. Danning, Esq., of the committee, read the letter sent out by the Grand Chancellor of Ohio, in which domain President McKinley held his membership with the Columbus lodge. The beautiful sentiment expressed in each communication found a responsive chord in the hearts of all present.
The social side of the session opened with a dramatic recitation truthfully interpreted by Major W. F. Robertson. The recitation is entitled "The Life Boat," a composition of Geo. R. Simms, which received a liberal encore.
"Uncle Ned's First Impressions of a Steamboat" was charmingly recited by Miss Calena Newell, of Norfolk, and Miss Norma Foster next delightfully entertained with a vocal solo.
A novel and appreciated number, was evidenced by a heavy encore, was a whistling solo by Miss Lizzie Otten, after which Miss Nora Scott sang with sweetness a "Good Night Lullaby."
A violin solo by Miss Foster closed the musical part of the programme and the large number present gathered hospitably around a bountifully laden board, where delightful refreshments were served in artistic style.
The accompanists for the musical numbers were Mrs. Mattie L. Chastan and Miss Fannie Corbett, who added much to the strength of the same.
The committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of Messrs. J. D. Kelly, W. C. Smith, J. J. Hopkins, C. D. Yarborough and A. C. Sneed.
Royal Arcanum Visitation.
Grand Regent W. F. Rountree, of the Grand Lodge, Royal Arcanum, in North Carolina, last night paid an official visit to Cornelius Harnett and Carver Councils of this city. He spoke of the great benefits and advantages of the order and the wonderful strides now being made in North Carolina by the same. His address was received with interest and profit by a large attendance of members of the local councils. Mr. Rountree was met at the station by Dr. W. C. Galloway and Mr. E. E. Bonitz and is being entertained at the homes of his Wilmington friends. The Royal Arcanum membership in Wilmington is now about two hundred.
Odd Fellows Thursday Night.
Wilmington Lodge No. 189, I. O. O. F., is preparing through a committee for a festive gathering Thursday night. All Odd Fellows of the city are cordially invited on this occasion and work in the second degree will be exemplified. At a social session afterwards, refreshments will be spread and a programme of unexcelled entertainment observed.
Whetting Their Scalping Knives.
The Chiefs, Warriors and Braves of Eyoza Tribe No. 5, Improved Order of Red Men, will appear in their war paint on the hunter's trail at their wigwag, opposite the market house, on Friday night. Several pale faces will be laid on the cooling boards and their scalps taken without mercy or favor. A band of ferocious Indians will come over from Cherokee Tribe to assist the Red Men of Eyoza.

LOCAL DOTS.

Mr. Westbrook's Company.

Mr. J. Keener Westbrook and his select company of vaudevillians started yesterday afternoon for Marion, S. C., where a performance was given last night in the Opera House. In the party were Mr. Westbrook, Mr. Jas. H. Cowan, Prof. W. L. Harvey and Mr. Alf. H. Yopp. The company has other engagements this week, at Lumberton Thursday night; Red Springs, Friday night, and probably Maxton on Saturday night.
