HERALD SQUARE OPERA COMPANY.

At the Opera House Here Next Saturday, Matinee and Night.

The Herald Square Opera Company comes to the Wilmington theatre Saturday for two performances, present ing at a matinee at 3 P. M., "The Vil lage Bride" and at night "The Circus Girl." Of this attraction the Raleigh Post of October 22d. savs: With snap and dash, new costumes, really pretty girls with good voices and a sextette male chorus, our old friends the Herald Square Opera certainly made an auspicious opening. The company is larger and stronger than has been here in many a year, and added a host of new admirers at the Academy last night.

Several new members have strength ened the cast since last season, fore most among them is Laura Clement, a prima donna new to the South. She ably sustained her recognized reputation, as did Harry Nelson. George MacFarlane, the possessor of a magnificent baritone voice instantly installed himself a favorite and respond ed to several recalls. Harry Lane as Rocco and jolly Tom Callahan the Prince, fired incessant volleys of jokes and quibs, to the intense amusement of both parquet and gallery. As Fiametta, Katherine Powers resplendent in a Parisian gown of recent importation , was every inch a princess.

The Football Outlook.

Candidates for the football team to contest against the North Carolina Military Academy, of Red Springs, in the game at Wilmington on Thanksgiving, are requested by Manager Hatch to meet to night at 8 o'clock, at Fifth and Market streets, for the purpose of repairing to suitable grounds for practice. Manager Hatch says the game will be the best of the year here, and will lose no time in getting the men in tip top shape to meet the cadets from Red Springs who have a very formidable team this season.

Fishblate's Slaughter Sale.

The inaugural day of the great slaughter sale now in progress at the store of the Fishblate Clothing Company was one fraught with much buying and selling yesterday. The sale continues to-day, and so great was the rush yesterday that Mr. Fishblate says he will employ extra help, so that no visitors to the store will be slighted. Yesterday there were many who could not be waited upon. To day Mr. Fishblate says he will have extra help.
