The Morning Star. SOUTH'S DAUGHTERS

D. C., Called to Order Yesterday Morning.

DELIGHTFUL SOCIAL SESSION.

Jefferson Davis Monument Association— Delegates Continue to Arrive-Reception at the Orton-General Notes of the Gathering.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy, the most representative body of the South's womanhood that ever gathered in Wilmington, assembled in its eighth annual convention in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, this city, yesterday morning at 10:40 o'clock, Mrs. Edwin Gardner Weed, of Jacksonville, Fla., presiding, and more than 200 delegates and visitors, representing every Southern State, and many of the North, being in at-

Two sessions were held during the day, one in the morning, at which the Daughters were formally welcomed as guests of Cape Fear Chapter, of this city, as guests of Wilmington and as guests of the State, and another in the afternoon, which was principally taken up in the matter of arranging credentials.

The convention was formally called to order by Mrs. Weed, who expressed pleasure at having the eighth annual meeting in Wilmington and at the very creditable number of representatives present. This was followed by the rendition of "Our Southland," a composition of Miss Dunnovant, of Texas, by the following ladies of Wilming- o'clock. ton, Mrs. A. M. Waddell presiding at the organ: Mesdames Bryan, Watters, Smith, Waddell, Carmichael, Misses Hart, Foster, Adrian and Horne. The entire convention joined in the chorus with splendid effect.

A very fervent prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. James Carmichael, very appropriate and highly befitting the beautiful sentiment which prompted the gift. rebel yell, so famous in history and so discordant to their foe in battle. Mrs. Jackson gracefully acknowledged the

Just prior to Mrs. Weed's address, Mrs. E. K. Bryan, of this city, was introduced as a grand daughter of the distinguished Confederate, Maj. James Reilly, and she sang with great effect and much sweetness, "A Southern Girl's Lament" with piano accompanilightful rendition of "Annie Laurie"by people helped him out of his trouble a double quartette consisting of Mesbeating tom-toms, gongs, burn-dames Bryan, Smith, Watters, Waddell, Carmichael; Misses Hart, Foster and Adrian.

Upon the conclusion of this number, Miss Mary F. Meares, of Wilmington, corresponding secretary of the U. D. C., introduced North Carolina's distinguished Governor Chas. B. Aycock who responded in a happy speech in which he said it was an unexpected delight for him to address the Daughters but he welcomed them to the "Old North State" and among a people who were loyal to the Confederacy and the sentiment which actuated the distinguished body before him. Governor Aycock's speech was in an exceedingly happy rein and was received with great attention and

an excellent one, and by one of the most gifted and most active members of the U. D. C.-Miss Adelia | bury. A. Dunnovant, historian of the Texas Division. Her subject was "Principles in Their Relation to Human Action," and her address as a whole was an able defence of the secession of the States from the Union. Is was well received by the convention and was concluded amid much applause.

Just before the close of the session Mrs. W. H. Overman, president of the North Carolina Division, was presented and made a few remarks which were received with applause and as a cordial greeting from the State she so ably represents.

A number of announcements were then read by Miss Meares, among the number being an invitation from the Colonial Dames to visit their rooms in the Masonic Temple and from the Elks extending the courtesies of their Temple to the visitors.

The Afternoon Business Session. It was expected that the convention would be organized for business at the afternoon session, which was called to order by the president at 3:30 o'clock, but such was not the case. A number of Divisions were tardy in presenting their credentials to the committee and a controversy arose among several of the delegations as to the representation to which they were entitled by number of members in convention. A discussion as to the merits of the several controversies whiled away the entire afternoon and the convention at length adjourned to receive the full report of the Credentials Committee this morning at 9:30

Davis Monument Association.

One of the principal matters to engage the sessions to-day is a report from the Jefferson Davis Monument Association, of which Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, of Richmond, is secretary. The Association has now legally be- of Jacksonville; Mrs. T. J. Jarvis, of come an organization of the U. D. Pickney Smith, Louisiana; Mrs. Albert Akers, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. W. J. Behan, of the Confederate Southern Memorial Association, of New Orleans. A director from West Virginia is yet to be selected.

At a meeting of the association yesterday afternoon the election of the officers was confirmed, and reports were heard from each State. They were all encouraging, and members promised faithful work during the ensuing year. The amount already in hand is about $38,000, and the association hopes to raise $75,000. The central committee, which has a large part of the immediate work to accomplish, is composed of Mrs. Randolph (chairman), Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. B. A. Blenner, all of Richmond.

At the convention to-day each one of the States will be asked to name an artist to make a design for the monument. Another meeting of the committee will be held at 9 o'clock this morning for the purpose of arranging preliminaries prior to the meeting of the convention half an hour later.

Social Function Last Evening. The visiting Daughters were the guests of Cape Fear Chapter, of Wilmington, at a delightful reception last night at The Orton from 9 to 12 o'clock. The reception was held in the parlors of the hotel, which were profusely decorated and brilliantly lighted for the occasion. The receiving party was composed of the officers of the United Daughters, officers of . Cape Fear Chapter and Mrs. Stonewall Jackson.

Excellent music was furnished during the progress of the reception by Hollowbush's Orchestra and refreshments were served in the large dining room of the holstery to several hundred guests.

Among the distinguished guests of the occasion was Governor Aycock, who attended with Mr. and Mrs. George Rountree.

There were also present as guests of honor the Wilmington Light Infantry, in Confederate grey uniform, with white helmets. The members of Cape Fear Camp, U. C. V., were also guests of honor, and attended in uniform. They received many charming attentions from the local and visiting RESPONSE BY MRS. WEED.

From the Cape Fear-Wilmington and the South.

Among the splendid addresses delivered yesterday upon the opening of the eighth annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in this city, none was received with more marked. attention or greeted with warmer applause than that of Col. A. M. Waddell in welcoming the Daughters to Wilmington and that of Mrs. Edwin Gardner Weed, president of the U. D. C., in response. The addresses were as follows:

"MADAME PRESIDENT AND LADIES -I esteem it an honor and a privilege to welcome you, on behalf of the good people of Wilmington, to the hospitalities of this city.

"You are on ground as historic as any in America, although, by a strange fate, the facts which make it so have been generally unknown to the people of the othr States. Among these facts, which have long been established beyond the possibility of controversy, are these: "Sixteen miles below Wilmington on the West bank of the Cape Fear river where the ruins of St. Philip's Church still stand on the site of the colonial town of Brunswick, the first armed resistance to British oppression on this continent occurred on the 28th November, 1765, when the Stamp Act was killed by men with guns in their hands This was more than ten years before the Boston Tea Party. "Eighteen miles above Wilmington the first victory of the American Revolution, (and a most important one) was won at Moore's Creek Bridge on the 27th February, 1776. And yet a year ago when an appropriation was asked from Congress to commemorate the event, so distinguished a New Englander as Senator Hoar of Massachusetis, declared that he had never so much as heard of Moore's Creek us the pleasant memories of Wilming-

"Twenty miles below Wilmington. on the opposite side of the river from Old Brunswick, and just one hundred years after the Stamp Act affair there, the most terrific bombardment since the invention of gunpowder occurred when Fort Fisher fell, and the last hope of the Confederacy perished. I myself heard an English naval officer, who was at the siege of Sebastopol and also at Fort Fisher, say that the artillery fire at Sebastopol was the greatest in the history of the world up to that time, but that it was child's play compared to Fort Fisher.

eracy I reverently salute you the wives, and sisters, and daughters of my comrades, the noblest army of heroines and patriots that ever trod the earth. As a North Carolinian I greet you with honest pride in the fact (which is sometimes forgotten) that North Carolina, although but one of eleven seceding States and by no means the largest of them, contributed about one-fifth of the soldiers of the Confederate army-that she lost about one-fourth of those killed in battle, more than one fourth of those who died of wounds, and one-third of those who died of disease—that one of her regiments bore the flag farthest into the enemy's territory; that one of her sons commanded the only ship that carried it around the world, and that when the end came, both at Appomattox and at Greensboro, she stacked more rifles than any other State of the Confederacy. We, therefore, have certainly as much interest in everything pertaining to the Confederacy as others, and may claim it without injustice to them or to the truth of "Your organization is unique in human annals, as was the struggle whose memories you seek to preserve The dreamer and sentimentalist may fold his hands, and, with a sigh exclaim that History will do justice between the parties to that struggle, but experience has shown that History. like Providence, helps those only who help themselves, and will honor only those who help her to record the truth. There is not one of you who will not readily admit that if the Southern people had remained silent, and had used no printer's ink after war, they would have been pilloried in history as rebels and traitors who had, causelessly and without the shadow of excuse, drenched the the land with the blood of unoffending patriots. But the Southern people did not remain silent; they pubshed in a thousand forms the truth. both as to the causes which impelled them to assert their rights, and as to the battles in which they maintained them, and have thus made a partial unjust, and one-sided history impossible. In this work the Memorial Association first, and after them the United Daughters of the Confederay, have been most helpful and devoted and they may justly claim a large share of the credit for successfully vindicating before the world the cause in which their Southern countrymen engaged, and in which thousands of them sacrificed their lives.

"In pursuance of this work you have honored this city by your presour people. You can find no commuand no community, therefore, where heartfelt sympathy. Here and there in the South may be found one who an organization like yours, but he will true soldier is always ready to uncover head and heart in the presence of such unswerving constancy and devotion as yours. Would that I could frame a fitting tribute to it, but the attempt would be vain. It has been the theme of countless tongues more

And now again in behalf of our people I bid you a hearty welcome and an earnest God speed in your pious work." Mrs. Weed said in reply:

"We, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, delegates and visiting members, thank you for your cordial words of welcome. We are an overwhelmingly large body to take possession of your beautiful city, but we come in love and well assured of the hospitality that never fails. In the homes of North Carolina, from time immemorial, the stranger within the gates has ever been the honored and favored guest. It was that lovely home life in the bistory of the Old South, where kindness was the law of the household. and where lessons of love and tenderness and honesty and courage were the daily teachings that made our men the heroes and giants of the great four years' struggle. From these homes of North Carolina came the men who made for her this glorious record. The first at Bethel, the last at Appomattox. You all know the story, but we glory in it and love to tell it. In the great charge at Balaklava, at which Tennyson said 'all the world wondered,' England lost 371/2 per cent. of her men; in the charge of the North Carolina division at Gettysburg, 85 per cent. of her men were left apon the field of battle. It was the home life in the old North State that gave these men the courage to do and dare all for the principles they had learned at their mother's side. To these homes we have come thankfully, accepting your gracious invitation. The same law of loving kindness rules the home life, and so the past and present are graciously linked in charming hospitality. We, the women of the South. the United Daughters of the Confederacy, with a grateful appreciation of that hospitality, and a realizing sense of the courtesy and cordiality extended to us, would thank each one of the charming entertainers to whom we are so indebted. To each one, your gallant Governor, and Mayor, your charming women and brave men. we would express the gratitude and appreciation we feel for all you have done for us. Time can never_take from

"BLIND TOM" TO-NIGHT.

Eminent Colored Planist Will Be Seen at the Opera House.

There is probably no other pianist living to day so well known as the wonderful "Blind Tom." He has travelled not only in every State in the Union but has been heard in nearly every civilized country and has been pronounced by all nations and tongues the most wonderful musical prodigy ever born.

Although totally blind and without musical education he performs the most difficult compositions known to pianists, his memory being nothing short of marvellous. Prominent musicians will be invited to play for him after which he will repeat note for note. Seats are now obtainable at Gerken's, 50 cents being the highest price. A matinee and evening concert will also be given to-morrow.
