SMITH NOT GUILTY.

Charge of Embezzlement Against Him Not Sustained in the Superior Court.

WILL SUE FOR DAMAGES.

John Wallace, Negro Murderer, Received Second Degree Verdict and Sentenced for 30 Years-Other Cases-Today for Jail Defendants.

Two important cases were terminated in the Superior Court Thursday and yesterday while a number of minor matters were likewise cleared from the docket during odd moments intervening.

The jury Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree as to John Wallace, the defendant having been sentenced to the State penitentiary for a period of thirty years, the maximum penalty in such cases, and yesterday evening at 6 o'clock by instruction of Judge Allen the jury in the case of N. L. Smith, charged with embezzlement, returned a verdict of not guilty and the prosecuting witness, Ludden & Bates' Southern Music House, was taxed with the cost of the

The Smith case was begun Thanksgiving afternoon upon the convening of court at 3:45 o'clock. The State was represented by Solicitor Duffg, L. V. Grady, Marsden Bellamy and Herbert McClammy, Esqs., while Messrs. Bellamy & Peschau and Hon. E K. Bryan appeared for the defendant. The case was very hard fought from the beginning and the entire afternoon on Thursday was consumed in selecting a jury, which was at last empanelled as follows: W. M. Wise, S. H. Terry, J. T. Batson, O. A. Wiggins, T. J. Presson, W. B. Bowden, Bertram Quelch, T. S. Tolar, G. W. Parker, H. E. Bonitz, Wm. Konig and M. F. Costin.

while the defendant, N. L. Smith, was undergoing cross examination yesterday evening at 6 o'clock, Judge Allen brought the case to an abrupt ending by saying substantially that the further the case progressed the more he was convinced that the controversy was of a civil rather than of a criminal nature; that even if it were brought civilly, the differences between the parties were of such wide and varied scope that he would at once place the taking of testimony in the hands of a referee to save time and great expense. He asked counsel for the prosecution if they desired to say anything regarding the matter and in absence of a reply the clerk was instructed to enter a verdict of not guilty. Judge E. K. Bryan, of counsel for defence, then asked for a granting of the motion previously made to make the Ludden & Bates Southern Music House the prosecuting witness so as it could be charged up with the cost. Judge Allen stated that he was inclined to do this, but said he would hear from counsel on the other side. Messrs. McClammy, Grady and Beliamy each spoke, but at the conclusion the motion was granted except that part of it which charged maliciousness and frivolity. On those questions Judge Allen stated he would hear argument later. The court found as a fact, however, that there was not reasonable grounds for the prosecution nor did the interest of the public demand it. Only three witnesses went on the stand for the prosecution yesterday. Upon the convening of court at 9:30 A. M., Mr. C. C. Buckingham, secretary and treasurer of the Ludden & Bates Company, went on the stand. Mr. W. W. Slaton, now manager of the Wilmington branch of the company, was next witness and both testified as to the business dealings with the defendant. Mr. J. V. Grainger testified as to the individual and agency account of Mr. Smith with the Murchison National Bank, of which he is cashier. All the testimony was a mass of figures that indicate nothing the general public unless taken up

When the prosecution rested, Mr. Jaspersen Smith, brother of Mr. N. L. Smith and secretary and treasurer of the old concern, was introduced for the defence. He testified as to the contract with the defendant and numerous letters and statements were introduced in connection with his testimony, there having been a sharp legal contest over each point.

Mr. A. J. Howell, Jr., bookkeeper for the house while Mr. Smith was its agent, was the next witness. His testimony was relative to the contract, sales, commissions, etc.

Mr. J. A. Bates, of New York, for merly general manager of the Ludden & Bates company, testified as to the customs of the concern in dealing with agents, all of which was favorable the defendant.

Messrs. Henry W. Miller and W. S. Uzzell, composing the music firm of Miller & Uzzell, Goldsboro and Raleigh, were each introduced to prove the dealings of the company with its agents, of which they were one. They also testified as to unpaid commissions due them by the old company before it was reorganized as now. Mr. Smith went on the stand in hi own behalf and had finished his direct testimony. It was while undergoing a tedious cross-examination that Judge Allen put an end to the trial, as described above. As soon as the trial had been concluded, Mr. Smith's counsel had a and is a valuable acquisition to the summons issued by the Clerk of the Wilmington-Fayetteville line of stern Fresh Mullet Bos-Two pounds 15c. Superior Court calling the Ludden & wheelers.

OBSERVANCE AT SOUTHPORT.

aying of Corner Stone of Odd Pellows' New Building Was an Occasion of Much Pleasure-Oration by Dr. Mendelsohn-Other Notes.

Thanksgiving was perhaps more generally observed in Wilmington this year than in many years previous. Practically all business was suspended and especially was this noticeable in the wholesale district on the wharf, sung. where the observance is not generally so marked. In all the city churches services were held morning and evening and larger congregations than usual were reported.

At Southport the celebration partook of a more elaborate nature, the occasion being the laying of the corner stone to a handsome new building which Atlantic Lodge No. 43, I. O. O. F., of that city, are now completing. Many Wilmington Odd Fellows were present by invitation and many private individuals went down on a special trip of the ateamer Wilmington to be present upon the occasion.

The new building is centrally located, two-stories in height and covered with tin roof. The first floor is designed for a store room with lodge room above. The ceremonies attendant upon the event were according to the programme previously published and very enjoyable. Past Grand Master Marcus W. Jacobi, of Cape Fear lodge, this city, presided, with the assistance of Deputy Grand Master M. C. Guthrie, Atlantic Lodge No. 3, of Southport. The procession moved from the old lodge room to the new building to the inspiring strains of music by the Southport and Fort Caswell cornet bands combined. A select choir of dered a number of pleasing and very appropriate selections at intervals during the exercises. The oration was by the Rev. Dr. S. Mendelsohn, of this city, and was a most pleasing and eloquent one. He spoke of the order in general and the solid principles behind it with complimentary reference to the local lodges and the evidences of prosperity which the people were then assembled to witness.

The corner-stone bears the following inscription: "Atlantic Lodge No. 43, I. O. O. F." On one end is the date "April 24th, 1894," the time when it was first laid, so soon followed by a storm that destroyed the structure. On the opposite end is the date "November 28th, 1901."

Among the articles placed in the corner-stone were copies of the three daily papers of Wilmington, Odd Fellows' Orphan Home, Odd Fellows' Herald, Southport Standard, history of Atlantic Lodge No. 43, coins, Confederate money and the customary

There were fully 500 people in at tendance upon the exercises and all of them seemed to join heartily in the spirit of the occasion, whether members of the order or not. The ladies of Southport served delicious lunches. oysters, etc., for the benefit of the building fund and were largely pat-

The people of Southport generally and the Odd Fellows especially, did themselves great honor in their Thanksgiving celebration of 1901.

SEWERAGE MEN ARRESTED.

Contractors' Representatives Charged With Violating an Ordinance Regulating Street Excavations.

Superintendent E. F. Kitson and Foreman G. W. Mooney, of Wm. Mc-Lean & Co., the sewerage contractors, were arrested yesterday morning by Officers Ward and Woebse, acting under orders of Chief of Police Furlong, who prefers charges against them for violating a city ordinance passed at the October meeting of the Board of Aldermen and prohibiting excavations being made on more than one side of a street at once and for not providing the system of temporary bridges for facilitating travel as required under the ordinance.

The alleged violation took place a Third and Market streets and the penalty attached is $20 for each offence. Kitson and Mooney were recognized for their personal appearance in the police court Monday morning at 9 o'clock, to which time they asked that the case be continued, Messrs. Bellamy & Peachau and Hon. E. K. Bryan being engaged in the Superior Court. The case will be heard by Mayor of the Corporation Commission and ex officio chairman of the State Tax Commission, spent yesterday in the city in conference with members of the Board of County Commissioners, who just now find themselves fighting an unpleasant injunction granted by udge Allen against the Sheriff and restraining him from collecting the taxes against the Wilmington Underwriters' Insurance Company, which were recently specially ordered levied upon the real estate of the corporation and for which the insurance company claims it is not liable.

INSURANCE COMPANY'S TAX.

Injunction Upon the Sheriff Restraining Collection of Revenue From Wilming-

George Rountree and Eugene S. Martin, Esqs., will likely be associated with the County Attorney in fighting the injunction which will be heard by Judge Allen, Monday, Dec. 9th. The amount involved is only the Sanders. tax claimed for the county on $4,900 real estate at 38 cents per hundred. The insurance company says through its counsel, Hon. E. K. Bryan, that it is not liable for the amount under the revenue act. The Carolina Insurance Company will await the result of the
